VICE-ADMIRAL Sir Edward Pellew, Bart, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's ships and vessels in the Mediterranean, has transmitted to J. W. Croker, Esq. dispatches of which the following are copies.

Elizabeth, off the River Po, April 29, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you the boats of the Eagle and Elizabeth fell in, off Goro, with a convoy of seven armed merchant vessels, laden with oil. Four of them were captured, and the other three ran on shore into a tremendous surf, under the protection of a two-gun battery, two schooners, and three settee gun-boats, who opened a most galling fire.

Notwithstanding all these difficulties, one of the vessels was brought off, and another destroyed, much to the credit of Lieutenants Roberts and Greenway, Senior Lieutenants of the Elizabeth and Eagle, under whose directions this arduous service was performed. They speak highly of Lieutenant Holbrook, of the Eagle, who was also there, and of all the petty officers and men employed on this service, and I am happy to add no person was hurt.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Bacchante, Karlebago, May 15, 1813.

SIR,

HAVING received information on the 11th inst. that a convoy of enemy's vessels were lying in the channel of Karlebago, I proceeded there without loss of time, but, from contrary winds and a strong current, did not arrive till this morning. The convoy having had notice of our approach, had sailed. The port of Karlebago offers such excellent shelter for the enemy's convoys, that I thought it an object to destroy the works which defend it. The Governor refusing to accede to the terms I sent him, I anchored within pistol-shot of the batteries, and after a good deal of firing, a truce was hung out, and the place surrendered at discretion. The marines and a detachment of seamen were landed, under the command of Lieutenant Hood, and took possession. No time was lost in embarking the guns and destroying the public works; and having blown up the castle, the party were reembarked.

The place was commanded by Monsieur de Zergollen, who is a prisoner on board, with his aid-de-camp, and a French commissary of the marines. The castle mounted four nine-pounders, in the south east battery two twelve-pounders, and in the north battery two brass sixes.

I am sorry to add we had four seamen severely wounded in this affair, two of them their left arms shot off. I have only now, Sir, to express my approbation of every one employed in the service.

I have, &c.

W. HOSTE, Captain.

John M'Evoy, seaman, severely.

His Majesty's Sloop Nautilus, off Alicata, May 24, 1813.

SIR,

I BEG leave to acquaint you His Majesty's sloop under my command, this day captured the French privateer Xebec Le Colombe, mounting four guns, with a complement of forty men. She had been a month from Genoa, and made one capture, which was the same vessel this sloop recaptured on the 15th instant off Maritima.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR, Milford, off Ragusa, May 25, 1813.

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that yesterday a convoy from Stagus to Cattaro, was perceived by us inside the islands, and that the Weazle and Haughty, were immediately sent in pursuit of them. From Captain Black's report, I learn that the whole, consisting of six sail laden, with grain, were taken or destroyed without any loss. I am sorry to say the master of the Haughty is slightly wounded.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR, Milford, off Ragusa, June 2, 1813.
 I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, that by the report of vessels captured and destroyed, from Captain Tritton, of His Majesty's sloop Kingsfisher, dated 27th ultimo, it appears that "at Port Slano, he took six vessels and destroyed three, laden with grain and wine for Ragusa."

I have the honour, &c.

Commander in Chief.

SIR, His Majesty's Sloop Pilot, off the Escurques, June 4, 1813.
 I HAVE the honour to report to you, that His Majesty's sloop, under my command, has just captured, after the third long and anxious chase, the French armed brig Hart, (late the well-known privateer of that name) laden with a valuable cargo from Marseilles to Tunis. She is pierced for fourteen guns, but had only six mounted on this voyage, and which were thrown overboard during our first day's pursuit.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR, Milford, St. George's Harbour, Lissa, June 13th, 1813.
 I HAVE the honour to enclose a letter from Captain Taylor, and two from Captain Garth, dated the 18th and 30th ultimo, acquainting me with the capture of two gun boats and part of the convoy from Otranto, bound to Corfu, by the boats of the Apollo and Cerberus.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew, Bart.
 &c. &c. &c.

SIR, His Majesty's Ship Apollo, off Corfu, May 30, 1813.
 I HAVE the honour of enclosing two letters from Captain Garth, relating brilliant exploits performed by two boats of the Cerberus, under Lieutenant John William Montagu, with the barge and first gig of the Apollo, under Lieutenant William Henry Nares, which I had left with him to assist in the blockade, during the absence of the Apollo to the southward, watering.

Mr. Hutchison, Master's-Mate, had but seven men on board the gig he was in, with which he not only captured a gun-boat, but also took three other vessels.

The Apollo returning, captured five more of the convoy, with grain, under Ottoman colours, which the Cerberus was chasing, and the boats had prevented getting into Corfu.

I have the honour to be, &c.
 B. W. TAYLOR.
To T. F. Fremantle, Esq. Rear-Admiral of the White, &c. &c. &c.

SIR, His Majesty's Ship Cerberus, off Otranto, May 18, 1813.

ON the 17th instant, while cruising according to your orders, I observed an enemy's vessel close to the shore, a little to the southward of Brindisi, which, upon our giving chase to, ran aground under a martello tower to prevent our capturing her. I immediately dispatched three boats from this ship, under Lieutenant Montagu, accompanied by Lieutenant Nares, of the Apollo, in your barge and gig, when, after receiving the vessel's fire, on their approach, they brought her out in the usual style, having driven some of the enemy's troops, who came down to her protection, a considerable way up the country. She was armed with a six-pounder in the bow, and swivel, from Otranto, bound to Ancona; the boats also brought off this morning a gun, from a martello tower, a little further to the southward.

I have the honour to be, &c.
 (Signed) THOS. GARTH.
B. W. Taylor, Esq. Captain of His Majesty's Ship Apollo, Senior Officer off Corfu.

SIR, His Majesty's Ship Cerberus, at Sea, May 30, 1813.

HAVING reconnoitred the port of Otranto on the 27th ultimo, and observing a convoy collected, which I thought would make a push for Corfu the first N. W. wind, I took a station off the island of Fano on the following morning, to endeavour to intercept them; and sent the barge and gig you were good enough to leave with me, under Lieutenant William H. Nares, of the Apollo, and the barge and pinnace of this ship, under Lieutenant John William Montagu, close in shore, when, as was expected, about one A. M. they came over, protected by eight gun-boats. Notwithstanding this strong force, aided by three more gun-boats from Fano, and the cliffs covered with French troops, they were attacked in the most determined and gallant manner by the boats above mentioned. Lieutenant Nares, in the Apollo's barge, boarded and carried one gun-boat, and Mr. Hutchison, in your gig, actually boarded and carried another before our barge could get alongside. Both the Lieutenants speak in the highest terms of the bravery and good conduct of all the officers and men under them.

It is with the deepest regret I am now to inform you, that Mr. Suett, master's mate of the Cerberus, was shot through the heart in boarding another gun-boat; in him the service has to lament the loss of a most gallant young man; one seaman also killed, and a marine dangerously wounded, belonging to this ship, is the amount of our loss.

The gun-boats taken had each a nine-pounder in their bow, and two four-pounders abaft, commanded by an Ufficiale di Vascello, with troops for Corfu. Four of the convoy were also taken; and had they been further off shore, I have no doubt but the greatest part of them would have been captured. I have, &c.

THOS. GARTH.

B. W. Taylor, Esq. Captain of His Majesty's Ship Apollo, Senior Officer off Corfu.

His Majesty's Ship Bacchante, at anchor SIR, off Guila Nova, June 12, 1813.

AT daylight this morning, an enemy's convoy were discovered under the town of Gala Nova, on the coast of Abruzzza; as I was six or seven miles to leeward of them, with a light breeze and a current against me, I thought it best to detach the boats, with discretionary orders, to the First Lieutenant, Hood, either to attack them or wait till I arrived. He found the enemy much stronger than was expected, consisting of seven large gun-boats, each mounting one eighteen pounder in the bow, three smaller gun-vessels with a four pounder in the bow, and fourteen sail of merchant vessels under their convoy, four of which had guns in the bow also. The shore astern of the vessels was lined with troops, entrenched on the beach, with two field-pieces with them. This was the force opposed to a frigate's boats; but no disparity of numbers could check the spirit of the brave officers and men employed on this service. The attack was determined on instantly, and executed with all the gallantry and spirit which men accustomed to danger and to despise it, have so frequently shown, and never was there a finer display of it than on this occasion. The boats as they advanced were exposed to a heavy fire of grape and musketry, and it was not till they were fairly alongside that the enemy slackened their fire, and were driven from their vessels with great loss.

The troops on the beach, which the French officers mention as amounting to upwards of one hundred men, fled on the first fire, and the field-pieces were destroyed by our marines. Our boats were now in possession of the convoy, many of which were aground, and our men were exposed to a scattered fire of musketry, whilst employed in getting them afloat.

I beg leave to recommend Lieutenant Hood to the notice of the Commander in Chief, in the strongest manner. I am unable to do justice to his merit: he speaks in the highest possible terms of Lieutenant F. Gosling, Second Lieutenant; Lieutenant Webb, (acting) who distinguished himself so much in the Bacchante's boats in January last, with the Corfu flotilla; Lieutenants Holmes and Haig, royal marines; Messrs. Rees, Rove, Hoste, Farewell, Waldegrave, Langton, M'Kean, and Richardson, and every seaman and marine employed.

I regret to say we have suffered severely, though not so much as might have been expected from the superiority of force, and the obstinacy of the contest. Two seamen and one marine killed, five seamen and one marine wounded.

There was a Neapolitan flotilla from Ancona, bound to Barletta, under the direction of French Officers, and commanded by a Lieutenant de Vaisseau, Knight of the Order of the Two Sicilies, who is a prisoner on board, with several other officers and men.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Apollo, Channel of Corfu, June 15, 1813.

SIR,

AT daylight last Thursday morning, at the north end of Corfu, suspecting four vessels to be bound there from Barletta, with grain, and prevented getting in by the position of the Apollo; I, previous to hauling out to examine them, detached our barge, launch, first gig, and jolly-boat, under Lieutenant W. H. Nares, Lieutenant Collin Campbell, royal marines; Messrs. Hutchison, Lancaster, and Brand, Midshipmen, to watch them at the south end.

They were, as I anticipated, met going in. One ran on shore under Cape Bianco and was scuttled; the others would have been captured, had the attention of the barge, gig, and jolly-boat not been drawn off by a French gun-boat, which they took after some resistance. She mounted two long guns, a twelve and a six-pounder. Nine of the enemy were badly wounded, among whom was the Commander and a Captain of Engineers; Mons. Baudrand, Colonel and Chief of Engineers of Corfu, (reported of very great abilities), was also in her, having been to Parga and Pado to improve the fortifications.

The Laurel was detached to St. Maura with the gun-boat, and the wounded landed at Corfu, under a truce.

The delay of the latter caused our other boats to remain near Morto, in Albania, and at daylight the following morning were attacked by six gun-boats, a felucca, and smaller row-boat, all full of troops. Mr. Nares finding they came up fast with a breeze, ran the barge and jolly-boat on shore upon the border of the French territory of Parga; he then with the few men he had, with muskets, prevented this great force from landing, until his ammunition was expended.

The enemy must have suffered much, as he retreated four times from the beach. Our loss is only one man, taken from the shore, William Robertson. The boats being destroyed, they only carried off pieces of the wreck.

I have the honour to be, &c.

B. W. TAYLOR.
