AS the Quarter Sessions for the several Counties are about to commence, and the shortness of the time rendering it impossible for the Commissioner of the Court for Relief of Insolvent Debtors to enter into any correspondence with the Magistrates of the different Counties, respecting prisoners who may apply to the Court for relief under the late Insolvent Act; it is requested that the Magistrates of the several Counties will make adjournments of their Quarter Sessions from time to time, to enable the Commissioner to make such orders for the examination by them of prisoners taking relief under the said Act, as shall from time to time be necessary.

BANKERS' LICENCES.

Stamp-Office, London, September 18, 1813.

NOTICE is hereby given, that by the Stamp Act, 48 Geo. 3, c. 149, all licences granted to Bankers or others, to issue promissory notes, payable to the bearer on demand, and allowed to be re-issued, will expire on the 10th of October next, and that they must be renewed within one month from that day, or penalties will be incurred.

That a separate licence must be taken out for every place where the notes shall be issued, unless the persons to be licensed had issued their notes at several places before the 2d July 1808, and originally obtained one licence for all such places; in which case only, they will be again included in one licence.

That every licence must specify the names and places of abode of the persons to be licensed, and the name of the place or places where, and the name of the bank, firm, or title, under which the notes are to be issued; and licences to persons in partnership must specify the names, and places of abode, of all the persons concerned in the partnership, whether all their names appear in the notes or not; and in default thereof the licences will be void. With these particulars, a specimen of the notes must also be left at this Office, by persons applying for such licences.

That a penalty of £100 for every offence, is imposed on the issuing of promissory notes, of the description aforesaid, without a licence, or at any other place, or under any other firm or title, than is specified in the licence; and a penalty of £50 for every offence, is imposed on the issuing of promissory notes, of any description, or bills of exchange, not duly stamped, and on the re-issuing of promissory notes, not allowed to be re-issued, as well as on the re-issuing of notes, allowed to be re-issued, after the period fixed for that purpose.

That by the above-mentioned Act, promissory notes for more than £2 2s. and not exceeding £100, cannot at present be re-issued after three years from the date thereof; and from the 10th October next, the period allowed for the re-issuing of smaller notes, in England, is also limited by an Act of the last session of Parliament, to three years from the date thereof.

The Commissioners of Stamps having had occasion to prosecute several country Bankers, for the penalties incurred by their disregard of the provisions of the first mentioned Act, this notice is given that all persons concerned may in future conform to the law, and avoid the penalties for which they will otherwise be prosecuted; and that persons, applying for licences, may come prepared with all the requisite particulars to be inserted therein, without which the licences cannot be filled up, so as to protect the parties against penalties.

By order of the Commissioners,
Wm. Kappen, Secretary.
