WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, October 25, 1813.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an extract, has been this day received at Lord Bathurst's Office, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-Governor Hamilton, dated Heligoland, October 21, 1813.

IT is with great satisfaction, that I have the honour of making your Lordship acquainted that a Gentleman has arrived here from the Weser, bearing dispatches from General Baron De Tettenborn, at Bremen, which place surrendered by capitulation on the 15th instant; the Commandant of the garrison, Colonel Thuilliers, having been killed.

I have the honour to transmit a copy of General Baron De Tettenborn's letter to me.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that I entered yesterday morning with my troops, the town of Bremen, which I had closely attacked for two days, and which the French Commandant has at length agreed to surrender by capitulation, in order to spare to the inhabitants, the civil authorities, and its garrison, the horrors of an assault, for which every preparation had been made. The garrison returns to France under the condition of not serving against the Allies during the period of one year. All the military stores, a great quantity of ammunition, fourteen pieces of cannon, and two mortars, magazines of every description, and very considerable sums of public money have fallen into our power, together with more than three hundred prisoners, who had been taken on the preceding days at the close of a brilliant attack made by the Cossacks upon the enemy's sharpshooters. The cavalry are to make over their horses to us, and to set out on foot. This expedition has been executed with such rapidity, that, having passed the Elbe on the 9th October near Boitzenburg, I penetrated on the 13th by bye roads and forced marches to the Weser, and the following day I was at the gates of Bremen, without the enemy's being in the least informed of it.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) BARON DE TETTENBORN,
General.

Bremen, October 16, 1813.

To Lieutenant-Governor Hamilton, Heligoland.

WILL. OSB. HAMILTON, Lieutenant-Governor.

Admiralty-Office, October 26, 1813.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Sir Christopher Cole, of His Majesty's Ship the Rippon, addressed to Admiral Lord Keith, K. B. and transmitted by his Lordship to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Rippon, off Abrevack,
MY LORD, October 21, 1813.

I HAVE great satisfaction in reporting the capture of Le Weser, a French frigate of the large class, mounting forty-four guns, and having three hundred and forty men, commanded by the Captain de Vaisseau Cantzlaat, Chevalier de L'ordre Imperiale de la Reunion, by His Majesty's ship under my command, in company with the Scylla and Royalist brigs.

She left the Texel on the last day of September, and had captured two Swedish vessels in the North Sea, and lost her main and mizen-masts in a gale on the 16th of this month.

Captain Maconald's letter, which I have the honour to transmit, will acquaint your Lordship with the perseverance with which he had watched this frigate, which he fell in with four days ago, sixty leagues to the west of Ushant, and of a gallant joint attack made by the Scylla and Royalist on the frigate yesterday, in sight of the Rippon, and upon her weather-beam.

The judicious measures taken by Captains M'Donald and Bremer, enabled the latter officer to join me at three o'clock this morning, with intelligence of the enemy's force, whilst the Scylla watched their antagonist; and at daylight, the breeze springing up, gave us an opportunity of closing with the enemy.

About ten, the frigate bore up towards the Rippon and struck her colours, having exchanged two broadsides with the Scylla, and just as the Rippon and Royalist were within reach.

Being near the French coast, and the prize in a most crippled and unmanageable state, I have deemed it necessary to take on board the greater number of the prisoners, and to tow her into port.

Enclosed are the lists of killed and wounded on board the Scylla and Royalist. The enemy had four killed and fifteen wounded.

I am, &c.

(Signed) CHRISTOPHER COLE.

Right Hon. Lord Keith, &c. &c. &c.

His Majesty's Sloop Scylla, at Sea,
October 21, 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that, at one A. M. the 18th instant, in longitude 9 deg. 10 min. West, and latitude 47 deg. 30 min. N. I fell in with a French national frigate, under jury main and mizen-masts, apparently making the best of her way for Brest, and judging it not prudent to attack such superior force, as (in the event of our being crippled) I should not have been able to have kept sight of her, from the severity of the weather, I had the good fortune, on the 20th instant, to meet with His Majesty's sloop Royalist, when Captain Bremer, in the handsomest manner, volunteered to join me in attacking her. At half past three P. M. we bore up in close order, the Scylla on her quarter, and the Royalist on her bow, and commenced the action nearly at the same time, which continued for an hour and a half, when our sails and rigging being very much cut, and main-mast severely wounded, the Royalist nearly in the same predicament, we hauled off to repair the damages, the weather being very squally, so as to endanger our masts. A man of war appearing to the northward, I ordered the Royalist to apprise her of our situation; at daylight this morning, I observed a large ship to leeward, which proved to be His Majesty's ship, Rippon, and as you, Sir, were an eye-witness of our proceeding this morning, I beg leave to refer to you for the subsequent events.

Any encomium I can bestow on Captain Bremer would, I am convinced, fall very short of his deserts; and I beg leave to return him, his officers, and ship's company, my warmest thanks for the gallant support they afforded us during the action. To the officers and ship's company of this sloop, I shall ever feel indebted for their gallant and persevering conduct in the action, and during the time we kept sight of the enemy, in the severest weather I almost ever experienced; and beg to recommend Mr. William Speck, Senior Lieutenant of this sloop, also Mr. Thomas G. Cooper, Master's-Mate. Captain Bremer speaks in the highest terms of his officers and ship's company.

I am happy to say, that we have only two seamen slightly wounded; the Royalist, I am sorry to add, was not so fortunate, having two killed and nine wounded. Enclosed are the returns of killed and wounded on board the two sloops.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. MACDONALD, Commander.
To Sir Christopher Cole, Bart. Captain of
His Majesty's Ship Rippon, &c. &c. &c.
