SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1813

St. James's, November 4, 1813.

HIS Royal Highness the Prince Regent went this day in state to the House of Peers, and opened the present Session of Parliament with the following most gracious speech from the Throne :

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is with the deepest regret that I am again obliged to announce to you the continuance of His Majesty's lamented indisposition.

The great and splendid success with which it has pleased Divine Providence to bless His Majesty's arms, and those of His allies, in the course of the present campaign, has been productive of the most important consequences to Europe.

In Spain the glorious and decisive victory obtained near Vittoria, has been followed by the advance of the Allied Forces to the Pyrenees—by the repulse of the enemy in every attempt to regain the ground he had been compelled to abandon—by the reduction of the fortress of St. Sebastian—and finally by the establishment of the Allied Army on the Frontier of France.

In this series of brilliant operations, you will have observed with the highest satisfaction the consummate skill and ability of the great commander Field-Marshal the Marquess of Wellington, and the steadiness and unconquerable spirit which have been equally displayed by the troops of the three nations united under his command.

The termination of the armistice in the North of Europe, and the declaration of war by the Emperor of Austria against France, have been most happily accompanied by a system of cordial union and concert amongst the Allied Powers.

The effects of this union have even surpassed those expectations which it was calculated to excite.

By the signal victories obtained over the French armies in Silesia, at Culm, and at Dennevitz, the efforts of the enemy to penetrate into the heart of the Austrian and Prussian territories, were completely frustrated.

These successes have been followed by a course of operations, combined with so much judgment, and executed with such consummate prudence, vigour, and ability, as to have led in their result not only to the discomfiture of all those projects which the Ruler of France had so presumptuously announced on the renewal of the contest, but to the capture and destruction of the greater part of the army under his immediate command.

The annals of Europe afford no example of victories more splendid and decisive than those which have been recently achieved in Saxony.

Whilst the perseverance and gallantry displayed by the allied forces of every description engaged in this conflict have exalted to the highest pitch of glory their military character, you will, I am persuaded, agree with Me in rendering the full tribute of applause to those Sovereigns and Princes, who in this sacred cause of national independence have so eminently distinguished themselves as the leaders of the armies of their respective nations.

With such a prospect before you, I am satisfied that I may rely with the fullest confidence on your disposition to enable Me to afford the necessary assistance, in support of a system of alliance, which, originating chiefly in the magnanimous, and disinterested views of the Emperor of Russia, and followed up as it has been with corresponding energy by the other Allied Powers, has produced a change the most momentous in the affairs of the continent.

I shall direct copies of the several conventions, which I have concluded with the Northern Powers to be laid before you as soon as the ratifications of them shall have been duly exchanged.

I have further to acquaint you, that I have concluded a Treaty of Alliance and Concert with the Emperor of Austria, and that the powerful league already formed has received an important addition of force, by the declaration of Bararia against France.

I am confident you will view with particular satisfaction the renewal of the ancient connection with the Austrian Government, and that justly appreciating all the value of the accession of that great Power to the common cause, you will be prepared, as far as circumstances may permit, to enable Me to support His Imperial Majesty in the vigorous prosecution of the contest.

The war between this Country and the United States of America still continues, but I have the satisfaction to inform you, that the measures adopted by the Government of the United States for the conquest of Canada, have been frustrated by the valour of His Majesty's troops and by the zeal and loyalty of His American subjects.

Whilst Great Britain in conjunction with Her Allies, is exerting Her utmost strength against the common enemy of independant nations, it must be matter of deep regret to find an additional enemy in the government of a country, whose real interest in the issue of this great contest, must be the same as our own.

It is known to the world, that this Country was not the aggressor in this war.

I have not, hitherto, seen any disposition on the part of the Government of the United States to close it, of which I could avail myself, consistently with a due attention to the interests of His Majesty's subjects.

I am at all times ready to enter into discussion with that Government, for a conciliatory adjustment of the differences between the two Countries, upon principles of perfect reciprocity, not inconsistent with the established maxims of public law, and with the maritime rights of the British Empire.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed the estimates for the services of the ensuing year to be laid before you.

I regret the necessity of so large an expenditure, which I am confident however you will judge to be unavoidable, when the extent and nature of our military exertions are considered.

I entertain no doubt of your readiness to furnish such supplies as the public service may require.

I congratulate you on the improved and flourishing state of our commerce, and I trust that the abundant harvest which we have received from the bountiful hand of Providence during the present year, will afford material relief to His Majesty's people, and produce a considerable augmentation in many branches of the revenue.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I congratulate you on the decided conviction which now happily prevails throughout so large a portion of Europe, that the war in which the Allied Powers are engaged against the Ruler of France is a war of necessity, and that his views of universal dominion can only be defeated by combined and determined resistance.

The public spirit and national enthusiasm which have successively accomplished the deliverance of the Kingdoms of Spain and Portugal, and of the Russian Empire, now equally animate the German people; and we may justly entertain the fullest confidence, that the same perseverance on their part will ultimately lead to the same glorious result.

I cannot but deplore most deeply the continuance of this extended warfare, and of all those miseries which the insatiable ambition of the Ruler of France has so long inflicted upon Europe.

No disposition to require from France sacrifices of any description inconsistent with her honour or just pretensions as a nation, will ever be on My part, or on that of His Majesty's Allies, an obstacle to peace.

The restoration of that great blessing, upon principles of justice and equality, has never ceased to be My anxious wish; but I am fully convinced, that it can only be obtained by a continuance of those efforts which have already delivered so large a part of Europe from the power of the enemy.

To the firmness and perseverance of this Country, these advantages may, in a great degree, be ascribed. Let this consideration animate us to new exertions, and we shall thus, I trust, be enabled to bring this long and arduous contest to a conclusion, which will be consistent with the independence of all the Nations engaged in it; and with the general security of Europe.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday next the 11th instant, at two o'clock.

YESTERDAY the yawl of His Majesty's ship under my command, manned and armed with a carronade, under the direction of Mr. Goullete, Master's Mate, supported by the boats of His Majesty's sloop Curlew, captured, after a chase of eight hours, with little wind, the letter of marque Paragon, a schooner of one hundred and fifty-seven tons, pierced for sixteen guns (mounting two twelve-pounders and two nine-pounders), with a complement of twenty men.

His Majesty's Ship Valiant, off New London, September 12, 1813.

IBEG leave to acquaint you that I detached the Acasta and Atalante up Long Island Sound, on the evening of the 6th, to endeavour to annoy the enemy; they returned yesterday, after having taken and destroyed fifteen sail of small vessels: the greater part of them being without cargoes, were burnt.

Extract of a Letter from Admiral the Right Honourable Sir John Borlase Warren, Bart. and K. B. to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated at Halifax, September 23, 1813..

IREQUEST you will inform my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that, previous to the squadron leaving the upper part of the Chesapeake, the troops under Sir Sidney Beckwith were landed at the point, opposite Poplar Island, on the continent; and having put to flight the enemy's force, and disarmed and received the paroles of the militia in that neighbourhood, and destroyed a building yard, burnt two or three large schooners, intended for the service of the Bay, the troops were re-embarked.

Admiralty-Office, November 6, 1813.

ADAMIRAL Sir Richard Bickerton, Bart. has transmitted to John Wilson Croker, Esq. a letter from Captain Dashwood, of His Majesty's sloop Snap, dated Spithead, the 4th instant, stating that, on the morning of the 1st, St. Vallery bearing S. S. E. five miles, he had discovered five of the enemy's luggers, three in the N. W. close to windward, and two considerably to leeward; he wore and closed with the former, and brought them to action, but had the mortification soon after to witness their separation and escape, from superior sailing; he bore up at nine after the leeward vessels, and, after using various deceptions, enticed one alongside, when, after a resistance of about ten minutes, she surrendered, and proved to be Le Lion, French lugger privateer, of Boulogne (two days from Dieppe, and had not made any capture), mounting sixteen guns, with a complement of sixty-nine men, five of whom, including her Captain, were killed, and six severely wounded. Captain Dashwood commends the conduct of the First Lieutenant, the Purser, and the rest of the Officers and man under his command on this occasion: no man on board the Snap suffered, nor has the sloop, except the having her rigging much cut.

ON the 16th instant, a few miles off Cape Raw, His Majesty's ship under my command, captured the American privateer schooner Elbredge Gerry, pierced for fourteen guns, with a complement of sixty-six men; is coppered, and copper-fastened, sails remarkably fast, and capable of doing much mischief.

Admiralty-Office, November 6, 1813.

REAR-ADMIRAL Moore has transmitted to J. W. Croker, Esq. a letter from Lieutenant Morgan, commanding His Majesty's schooner Barbara, dated Hawke Roads, the 16th of last month, and addressed to Captain Rye, of His Majesty's ship Ceylon, giving an account of the capture of the Aalberg Danish privateer, and a ship her prize, on the preceding day, after an obstinate resistance, and under a heavy fire from three gun-boats and ten privateers, by two gigs from the Hawke privateer cutter, commanded by Mr. Phillips, her Commander; and whose gallant and meritorious conduct on this occasion is highly commended.
