

bank of the Maine threw their fire in flank.

The Austrian loss is not considerable; but several officers are much regretted.

The Prince Marshal has ordered the heights above Cassel to be fortified; until the works are completed, the corps engaged yesterday will occupy the ground.

The sight of the Austrian flag, again waving victorious over the Rhine, and of the enemy's great military depôt, whence issued those armies that have caused so much desolation and misery in Germany, excited an interest in yesterday's operations which every individual felt; and which was finally expressed by peals of enthusiastic acclamation as the Prince Marshal passed.

Dispatch from Lieut.-General the Honourable Sir Charles Stewart, K.B. dated Hanover, Nov. 16, 1813.

MY LORD,

IT is with sincere satisfaction I have the honour to acquaint your Lordship, that accounts were received this morning at this place by his Royal Highness the Crown Prince of Sweden, from General Thielman, commanding the Saxon troops on the Elbe, which state, that General Gouvion St. Cyr, and the French garrison of Dresden (consisting of near sixteen thousand men) after ineffectually attempting to obtain a capitulation, surrendered as prisoners of war to General Kleinau, commanding the allied forces before the place. I congratulate your Lordship on this good intelligence, and have the honour to be, &c.

CHARLES STEWART,
Lieut.-General.

To Viscount Castlereagh.

Extract of a Dispatch from Edward Thornton, Esq. dated Bremen, 19th November, 1813.

I HAVE the honour of informing your Lordship, that I arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, the Prince Royal having reached it early in the morning of the preceding day. I found here the Messenger Daniels, whom Sir Charles Stewart dispatched from Hanover, and who after having made an unsuccessful attempt to go down the Weser, returned to this place. He proceeds again to-day. He gives me the opportunity of informing your Lordship, that the Prince Royal has received information that the Russian troops belonging to the corps of Gen. Winzingerode, are in possession of Groeningen and have advanced as far as the Yssel, where they occupy Zwol, Zutphen, and are in the neighbourhood of Deventer. The corps d'armée, under the command of General Bulow, is marching upon Arnheim; but the fatiguing marches which it has had to sustain have rendered it necessary to give the troops a few days repose, between Munster and that place.

This intelligence appears to have determined His Royal Highness to proceed in person to Holland, at the head of the Russian and Prussian troops, leaving the conduct of the affairs in the North, Davoust and the recapture of Hamburg, to Gen. Barq Adlercrentz, with the Swedish troops, and the corps of Count Walmoden, and the Russian troops under the command of General Bennigsen.
