Foreign-Office, December 4, 1813.

HIS Serene Highness the Prince of Orange, accompanied by his Excellency the Earl of Clancarty, landed at Scheveling, from His Majesty's ship Warrior, Captain Lord Viscount Torrington, on Tuesday the 30th ultimo, at four o'clock in the afternoon, amidst the enthusiastic acclamations of a numerous concourse of people assembled to receive him.

His Serene Highness immediately proceeded to the Hague, and received the congratulations of the public Authorities at that place. His Serene Highness intended to proceed to Amsterdam on the 2d.

By the latest accounts received at the Hague, on the 2d instant, it was known that the enemy had evacuated Utrecht, and was retreating upon Gorcum and Nimeguen.

The Russian General Benkendorf had reached Amsterdam on the 1st, with 2500 men, and immediately issued the following Proclamation.

Muyden had been taken by assault, with a loss on the part of the enemy of four hundred men, twelve officers, and one gun.

His Majesty's ship Jason had anchored off Scheveling the morning of the 2d, with Major-General Taylor, and a part of the arms destined for the service of Holland.

Intelligence had been received on the same day, of the Brille having declared in favour of His Serene Highness the Prince of Orange.

Translation of a Proclamation of the Russian General de Benkendorff, at his entry into Amsterdam.

The Russian General de Benkendorff has just lauded at Amsterdam, with two thousand five hundred infantry: his regular cavalry and artillery will be to-morrow evening at Amersfoort: his regiments of cavalry, under the orders of General Staal, and Colonel Nariskin, are at Utrecht, and scour the country. Every Russian is animated with the noble desire of co-operating in the deliverance of Holland. They enter your country as friends. Hollanders, fly to arms—let one spirit animate you, that of becoming again a Nation, and of your being worthy of your ancestors. The hour is come;—the enemy will see what an united people can effect, when all dissensions are extinguished by the spirit of vengeance, and of the purest patriotism.

Translation of a Letter from General de Benkendorff to His Excellency the General Kragenoff, Commandant of the City of Amsterdam.

GENERAL, I have the honour to acquaint you,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, that a detachment of my troops has entered Muyden, has taken one gun, and that the whole garrison, composed of four hundred men and twelve officers, have fallen into our hands. The Hollanders have particularly distinguished themselves, fighting by the side of the Cossacks. At this moment a heavy firing is heard towards Naarden.

I hasten to communicate to you this important intelligence, and request you to publish it without delay at Amsterdam, and also to forward it to the Government at the Hague.

I have the honour to be, &c.

A. BENKENDORFF.
