By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty.

A PROCLAMATION

For a General Thanksgiving.

GEORGE, P. R.

WE do most devoutly and thankfully acknowledge the great goodness and mercy of Almighty God, who, in addition to the manifold and inestimable benefits which this Kingdom has received at His Hands, has continued to us His protection and assistance in the war in which, for the common safety of His Majesty's Dominions, and for disappointing the boundless ambition of France, We are now engaged, and has given to the arms of His Majesty, and to those of His Allies, a series of signal and glorious victories over the forces of the enemy; and, therefore, duly considering that such great and public blessings call for public and solemn acknowledgments, We have thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to issue this Proclamation, hereby appointing and commanding that a General Thanksgiving to Almighty God, for these His mercies, be observed throughout those parts of the United Kingdom called England and Ireland, on Thursday the thirteenth day of January next; and for the better and more orderly solemnizing the same, We have given directions to the Most Reverend the Archbishops, and Right Reverend the Bishops of England, to compose a Form of Prayer suitable to the occasion, to be used in all churches and chapels, and other places of public worship; and to take care for the timely dispersing of the same throughout their respective dioceses. And We do strictly charge and command, that the said Public Day of Thanksgiving be religiously observed by all His Majesty's loving subjects, as they tender the favour of Almighty God, and upon pain of suffering such punishment, as may be justly inflicted upon all such who shall contemn or neglect the same.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the seventh day of December, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, in the fifty-fourth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty.

Carlton-House, December 17, 1813.

THIS day the Address of the University of Cambridge, congratulating His Royal Highness the Prince Regent on the brilliant victories which have been obtained over the common enemy by the forces of His Majesty and of His Allies, was presented by the following Gentlemen, Delegates from the University: The Caput—the Reverend W. Chafy, D. D., Master of Sidney Sussex College, Vice-Chancellor; the Reverend Philip Douglas, D. D., Master of Benet College; the Reverend Daniel Clarke, LL. D., Professor of Mineralogy, Jesus College; T. Ingle, M. D., Fellow of Peterhouse; the Reverend M. Home, B. D., Senior Non-Regent, Fellow of Emmanuel College; the Reverend M. Hustler, M. A., Senior Regent, Fellow of Trinity College; the Reverend W. A. Pemberton, B. D., Registrar, Fellow of Emmanuel College; John Beverley, M. A. and H. Gunning, M. A. Esqrs. Bedells.

There was also a numerous attendance of Noblemen and Gentlemen, educated at the University; amongst whom were, His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Earl of Westmorland, the Bishops of Salisbury and Chester, Viscount Lowther; Viscount Palmerston, and J. H. Smith, Esq. Representatives in Parliament for the University; the Right Honourable Charles Manners Sutton, Judge Advocate; the Right Honourable Lord Massy; the Honourable J. Shore; John Beckett, Esq. Under Secretary of State; Edward Christian, M. A. Professor of the Common Law of England; accompanied by the Earl of Liverpool, Viscount Sidmouth, the Right Honourable O. B. Bathurst, and other Noblemen and Gentlemen, amounting to upwards of one hundred.

His Royal Highness received them in the most gracious manner, and the Delegates had the honour to kiss His Royal Highness's hand.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars, of the University of Cambridge, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with sincere and heartfelt congratulations on the late signal victories, which have been obtained by the arms of His Majesty and his august Allies.

The Ruler of France, under the seducing and deceitful pretence of giving freedom to mankind, and supported by the resources of a powerful nation, had subjected states and kingdoms in rapid succession, and tyrannised over them with unexampled severity. Great Britain alone, under the protection of Divine Providence, and directed by your Royal Highness's wise and vigorous councils, opposed with resolution and perseverance the projects of his insatiable ambition. She has destroyed his fleets, subdued his colonies, and defeated his armies; and by this illustrious example, has taught the nations of the Continent to assert their independence, to frustrate his projects, and cause him to feel those calamities, which he has so long wantonly inflicted on mankind!

The exertions of your Royal Highness, and the illustrious Sovereigns, united in the same sacred cause, have been attended with a success, to which history affords no parallel! You have revived in nations and individuals the almost expiring hope, that every man may live to enjoy the fruits of his own industry, in security and peace: We particularly rejoice to see His Majesty's Hanoverian subjects, after so many years of sufferings, delivered from the grasp of the invader, and restored to liberty and the blessings of His Majesty's paternal Government!

The doctrine of false political principles is now dispelled; these principles, false in theory, have been found by fatal experience, to be productive, in practice, only of misery and destruction.

Fully sensible that it is our duty, we desire to assure your Royal Highness, that it shall always be our especial care, to instil far other principles into the minds of those, with whose education we are entrusted,—principles of loyalty to the Throne, and veneration for the British Constitution.

Given under our common seal, this ninth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen.

To which Address His Royal Highness was graciously pleased to return the following answer:

"I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

"It is with the utmost satisfaction, that I receive your congratulations on the late signal victories, with which it has pleased Divine Providence to bless the arms of His Majesty and those of His Allies.

"We may now justly indulge the most sanguine hopes, that, by a steady perseverance in the combined and vigorous exertions, of which these victories are the result, the independence of Europe will be ultimately established upon a solid and lasting foundation.

"I have the fullest confidence in your assurances, that it will be your constant care to instil into the minds of those, with whose education you are entrusted, such principles as are best calculated to ensure their firm attachment to the ecclesiastical and civil establishments of their country.

Done, 20th die Decembris, 1813.

GALWAY RIGHT OF ELECTION PETITION.

WHEREAS John Joyce, John French Meadden, John Moore, and Thomas Bleakney, did on the 16th day of November last, present their petition to the House of Commons, setting forth:

That, on the 15th day of June last, the Select Committee appointed to try and determine the merits of the petition of Valentine Blake, of Menlo, in the county of the town of Galway, Esquire, and of the petition of John Joyce, Patrick McEynan, John Lynch, Alexander Nicholas Browne, James Finn, and John French Meadden, complaining of an undue election and return for the said town, reported to the House, that it appeared to the Committee, that the merits of the petitions did in part depend upon the right of election, and therefore the Committee required the Counsel for the several parties to deliver to the Clerk of the Committee statements in writing of the right of election for which they respectively contended; and that, in consequence thereof, the Counsel for the petitioner Valentine Blake, Esquire, and also for the several other petitioners delivered in a statement as follows: "That the right of election is and for the town and county of the town of Galway is in the freeholders of the said town and county of the town of Galway, and in the burgesses and freemen thereof, such freemen having been resident in the said town and county of the town, or the liberties thereof, at the time of their election to their freedom, and also at the time of their voting;" and that the Counsel for the sitting member, the Honourable Frederick Ponsonby, delivered in a statement as follows: "That the right of election in and for the town and county of the town of Galway is in the freeholders of the said town and county of the town of Galway, and in the freemen of the Corporation of the said town;" and that, upon the statement delivered in by the Counsel for the said several petitioners, the Committee had determined that the right of election, as set forth in the said statement, is not the right of election for the town and county of the town of Galway, and that, upon the statement delivered in by the Counsel for the sitting member, the Committee had determined that the right of election, as set forth in the said statement, is the right of election for the said town and county of the town of Galway; and that the petitioners are advised that the right of election, so determined by the said Select Committee, is not the right of election for the said borough; and that the petitioners are prepared to prove that no person is intitled to vote in the election of a Member to serve in Parliament for the said town of Galway, as a free burgess or freeman thereof, who was not bond fide a resident in the said town and county of the town, or the liberties thereof, at the time of their election to their freedom of the said town; and that the right of election of a Member to serve in Parliament in and for the said town of Galway is in the freeholders of the said town and county of the town of Galway, and in the free burgesses and freemen thereof, such freemen having been resident in the town and county of the town, or liberties thereof, at the time of their election to their freedom; and that the petitioners, therefore, are not satisfied with the resolution of the said Select Committee, and are desirous of having the benefit of the several statutes in that case made and provided, for the purpose of preventing the judgment of the said Select Committee from becoming final and conclusive against the interests of the petitioners, which will be materially affected thereby, inasmuch as persons having no right to become freemen of the said town of Galway, or to vote in the election of a Member to serve in Parliament for the said town of Galway and county of the said town, will, under the resolution of the said Select Committee, claim to have a right to vote in such election to the great prejudice of the freeholders of the county of the said town, and of the free burgesses and freemen legally elected, and having a right to vote in such elections.

And the House having this day resolved to take the said petition into consideration upon Thursday the 10th day of March next, at three of the clock in the afternoon; notice is hereby given, that the House will at that time take the said petition into consideration.

Given under my hand the 20th day of December 1813.
Chas. Abbot, Speaker.

Whitehall, December 18, 1813.

Whereas it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that on the morning of Wednesday the 8th instant, about four o'clock, some persons having got into the premises adjoining the house of Misses Compertz, at Vauxhall, in the parish of Lambeth, effected the taking down of the outside shutter of the kitchen window, and, after taking out a pane of glass, attempted an entrance into the house: the footman, named Moses Merry, who slept in an adjoining room, hearing the noise, repaired to the window, when one of the persons immediately fired at, and killed the said Moses Merry;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned therein, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of the offenders (except the person who actually committed the said murder), who shall discover his or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

COLONIAL DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, December 21, 1813.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are copies and extracts, have been this day received by Earl Bathurst from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart.

Head-Quarters, Montreal,
October 30, 1813.

MY LORD,
ON the 8th instant, I had the honour to report to your Lordship that Major-General Hampton had occupied, with a considerable force of regulars and militia, a position on the Chateauguay River, near the settlement of the Four Corners.

Early on the 21st the American army crossed the line of separation between Lower Canada and the United States, surprised a small party of Indian warriors, and drove in a picquet of Sedentary Militia, posted at the junction of the Outard and Chateauguay Rivers, where it encamped, and proceeded in establishing a road of communication with its last position, for the purpose of bringing forward its artillery.

Major-General Hampton having completed his arrangements on the 24th, commenced on the following day his operations against my advanced posts: at about eleven o'clock in the forenoon of the 26th, his cavalry and light troops were discovered advancing on both banks of the Chateauguay, by a detachment covering a working party of habitués employed in felling timber, for the purpose of constructing abatis. Lieut.-Col. De Salaberry who had the command of the advanced picquets, composed of the light infantry company of the Canadian Fencibles, and two companies of Voltigeurs, on the north side of the river, made so excellent a disposition of his little band, that he checked the advance of the enemy's principal column, led by Major-General Hampton in person, and accompanied by Brigadier-General Izard; whilst the American light brigade, under Colonel M'Carty, was in like manner repulsed in its progress on the south side of the river, by the spirited advance of the right flank company of the third battalion of the embodied militia, under Captain Daly, supported by Captain Bruyer's company of Chateauguay chasseurs; Captains Daly and Bruyers being both wounded, and their companies having sustained some loss, their position was immediately taken up by a flank company of the first battalion of embodied militia; the enemy rallied and repeatedly returned to the attack, which terminated only with the day, in his complete disgrace and defeat; being forced at all points by a handful of men, who by their determined bravery maintained their position, and screened from insult the working parties, who continued their labours unconcerned.

Having fortunately arrived at the scene of action shortly after its commencement, I witnessed the conduct of the troops on this glorious occasion, and it was a great satisfaction to me to render on the spot that praise which had become so justly their due. I thanked Major-General De Watteville for the wise measures taken by him for the defence of his position, the advance, and Lieutenant-Colonel De Salaberry, for the judgment displayed by him in the choice of his ground, and the bravery and skill with which he maintained it; I acknowledged the highest praise to belong to the officers and men engaged that morning, for their gallantry and steadiness, and I called upon all the troops in advance for a continuance of that zeal, steadiness, and discipline, as for that patient endurance of hardships and privations which they have hitherto evinced; and I particularly noticed the able support Lieutenant-Colonel De Salaberry received from Captain Ferguson, in command of the light company of the Canadian Fencibles, and from Captain J. B. Duchesnay, and Captain J. Duchesnay, and Adjutant Hebdén, of the voltigeurs, and also from Adjutant O'Sullivan, of the Sedentary Militia, and from Captain La Motte, belonging to the Indian warriors.

Almost the whole of the British troops being pushed forward for the defence of Upper Canada, that of the lower province must depend, in a great degree, on the valour and continued exertions of its incorporated battalions and its sedentary militia, until the 70th regiment and the two battalions of marines, daily expected, arrive. It is, therefore, highly satisfactory to state to your Lordship, that there appears a determination among all classes of His Majesty's Canadian subjects, to persevere in a loyal and honourable line of conduct.

By the report of prisoners taken from the enemy in the affair on the Chateauguay, the American force is stated at 7,000 infantry and 200 cavalry, with ten field-pieces. The British advanced force, actually engaged, did not exceed 300. The enemy suffered severely from our fire, and from their own; some detached corps in the woods fired upon each other.

I have the honour to transmit to your Lordship, a return of the killed and wounded on the 26th.—I avail myself of this opportunity humbly to solicit from His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, as a mark of his gracious approbation of the conduct of the embodied battalion of the Canadian militia, five pair of colours for the 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, and 5th battalions.

I have the honour to be, &c.

GEORGE PREVOST.

My Lord, October 30, 1813.

SINCE I had the honour of addressing your Lordship in my dispatch of the 22d of September last, I have received the enclosed communication from Major-General Proctor. I have however been informed from other quarters, that he commenced his retreat from Sandwich on the 24th of that month, having previously dismantled the posts of Amherstburg and Detroit, and totally destroyed the public buildings and stores of every description.

That on the 5th of October following, when within a few miles of a strong position, which it was his intention to take up at the Moravian village on the river Thames, he was attacked by so overwhelming a force, under Major-General Harrison, that the small numbers he had with him, consisting of not more than four hundred and fifty regular troops, were unable to withstand it, and consequently compelled to disperse; that he had afterwards rallied the remains of his division, and retired upon Ancaster, on the Grand River, without being pursued by the enemy, and where he had collected the scattered remains of his force, amounting to about two hundred men, and had with it, subsequently, reached Burlington-heights, the head-quarters of Major-General Vincent. Tecumseth, at the head of twelve hundred Indian warriors, accompanied our little army on its retreat from Sandwich, and the Prophet, as well as his brother Tecumseth, were of the most essential service, in arresting the further progress of the Americans; but as to the extent of our loss on this occasion, or the particulars of this disastrous affair, I am, as yet, ignorant; Major-General Proctor, having signified to Major-General De Rottenberg, commanding in the Upper Provinces, that he had sent a flag of truce to General Harrison, to ascertain the fate of the officers and soldiers who were missing, and requesting his indulgence for a few days until its return, in order to make his official report. I also understand, that the enemy, so far from attempting to improve the advantage they had gained, by pursuing our troops on their retreat to the Grand River, had retired to Sandwich, followed by Tecumseth and his warriors, who had much harassed them on their march. Five or six hundred Indians, belonging to the Eighth Division, are reported to have joined the centre.

I regret to say, that I am still without any official account of Captain Barclay's action on Lake Erie, the result of which has led to our relinquishment of the Michigan territory, excepting Michilimackinac, and our abandonment of the posts in Upper Canada beyond the Grand River.

I have the honour to be, &c.

GEORGE PREVOST.

Extract of a Report from Major-General Proctor, to Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, dated Sandwich, September 21, 1813.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint your Excellency, that the enemy have been reconnoitred at and in the vicinity of the islands, by an officer of the Indian department, in a birch canoe, who has seen seven vessels, some of them large, standing into Carrying Bay, situated between those of Sandusky and Miami, and soon after heard a salute fired of fifteen guns. He also discovered in Put-in Bay, four large vessels with their lower masts in, and two rigged vessels, one of which, a gun-boat, came out, and chased the canoe. We must expect the enemy soon with their increased naval force, which we most unfortunately have not the means of opposing with effect. Your Excellency will perceive that the enemy, having the command of the waters, would be able to cut off my supplies, and my retreat, were

I to remain in my present extensive position. I have therefore determined to fall back, and to make a stand on the Thames. I have succeeded in bringing the Indians; I am in expectation that the principal part of them will accompany us. Many are arrived at this side of the Strait with their families. The enemy is on the advance, and in very considerable force, accompanied by their small vessels and gun-boats. It would be too hazardous to fight them on the other side, as our retreat might be cut off so easily.

MY LORD—I have the honour to announce to your Lordship the arrival in the River St. Lawrence, of the troop-ships named in the margin, having on board the two battalions of Royal Marines, and the two companies of Marine Artillery attached to them, from Halifax, in consequence of a representation which I had made to Admiral Sir J. B. Warren, requiring this reinforcement on account of the disaster that had befallen our fleet on Lake Erie, and the danger to which the right division of the army in Upper Canada was exposed by that circumstance.

By the latest accounts from Major-General De Rottenburg, dated at Kingston on the 28th inst. I am informed that the enemy still menaced that post, but no attack had actually taken place.

The American Armada, under Major-General Wilkinson and Commodore Chauncey, was at Grenadier Island on the 28th, within eighteen miles of Kingston, where it had collected, after having been dispersed in its first attempt from Sackett's Harbour to pass over to Kingston.

The state of the weather prevented the attack of Major-General Hampton on the lower province, and that of Major-General Wilkinson on Kingston, from being simultaneous, as was expected. I have reason to hope their enterprise against Kingston will experience a similar fate to that against Lower Canada.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEO. PREVOST.

Right Honourable Earl Bathurst.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. to Earl Bathurst, dated Montreal, November 4, 1813.

THE loss of our fleet on Lake Erie, which I had the honour of reporting to your Lordship, in my dispatch of the date of 22d September last, together with the increasing sickness among the troops of the centre division, and the diminution of the force in Upper Canada, by the different actions which had taken place, induced me to send an officer express to Halifax, with directions for the embarkation of the second battalion of marines, and the artillery company attached to it, which sailing from thence with a fair wind, and being much favoured by the weather, arrived in the St. Laurence at the same time with the other battalion, as I have already had the honour of reporting to your Lordship.

I have now the honour of acquainting your Lordship, that both battalions, together with the two companies of artillery and a rocket company, having been disembarked at Quebec, proceeded to this place, where part of them have already arrived.

I have the satisfaction to report to your Lordship the arrival at Quebec of the Eolus, with three hundred seamen, and my intention of having them immediately forwarded from thence in the steamboat, that I may, if possible, get them to Kingston before the navigation of the river closes. I have also received a report of a part of the 70th regiment being in the St. Lawrence, together with a fleet, having on board the remainder, which I cannot but consider as a peculiarly fortunate circumstance.

In my former dispatch I communicated to your Lordship the movement and disposition of the enemy's flotilla and force, upon their quitting Sackett's Harbour, on the 18th ultimo, and of their being on Grenadier-island, on the 28th; I have now to inform you, that on the 29th, a part of this force was sent to Gravelly-point, where it was observed, on the 30th, to be employed in constructing huts; but it is not improbable it may have had some other object in view, perhaps to proceed down the river, and by landing at Gananoqui, to aid in a combined attack on Kingston, which Major-General De Rottenberg still thought on the 30th, the date of his last dispatches, was likely to take place. General Hampton's army has altogether quitted the Lower Province, and from the reports of the different parties hanging on its rear, is retiring to its former encampment at the Four-Corners.)

I am happy to tell your Lordship, that the sickness amongst the troops is diminishing, and the convalescents numerous. The Lake fever has been the most prevalent disorder, and has affected the officers more than the privates.
