SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1814.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 14th of January 1814,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council,

WHEREAS, in consequence of the successes which have attended His Majesty's arms, divers ports and places in France have been, and may be, placed in the military occupation, or under the protection, of His Majesty; and it is expedient that the same be open to the trade of all Nations, not being at war with His Majesty or any of the Allied Powers; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent is pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that all such ports and places as aforesaid, after the same shall have been declared by the Commander of His Majesty's forces in those parts to be so far under the protection of His Majesty, as that British subjects may safely trade thereat, shall be forthwith released from the restrictions of blockade heretofore imposed thereon as parts of France; and that it shall be lawful for His Majesty's subjects, and other persons as aforesaid, to trade thereat, subject to such regulations as shall be imposed thereon by His Majesty, or by the Commander of His Majesty's forces in those parts.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and the Judge of the High Court of Admiralty, and the Judges of the Courts of Vice-Admiralty, are to take the necessary measures herein as to them may respectively appertain.

WAR DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, January 20, 1814.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is an extract, has been this day received by Earl Bathurst, addressed to his Lordship by Field-Marshal the Marquess of Wellington, dated

St. Jean de Luz, January 9, 1814.

THE enemy collected a considerable force on the Gave in the beginning of the week, and on the 3d instant drove in the cavalry picquets between the Joyeuse and Bidouze rivers, and attacked the post of Major-General Buchan's Portuguese brigade on the Joyeuse, near La Bastide, and those of the 3d division in Baulon. They turned the right of Major-General Buchan's brigade on the height of La Costa, and obliged him to retire towards Briscons; and they established two divisions of infantry on the height, and in La Bastide, with the remainder of the army on the Bidouze and the Gave.

Our center and right were immediately concentrated and prepared to move; and having reconnoitred the enemy on the 4th, I intended to have attacked them on the 5th instant, but was obliged to defer the attack till the 6th, owing to the badness of the weather, and the swelling of the rivulets. The attack was made on that day by the 3d and 4th divisions, under the command of Lieutenant-General Sir Thomas Picton and Lieutenant-General Sir Lowry Cole, supported by Major-General Buchan's Portuguese brigade of General Le Cor's division, and the cavalry, under the command of Major-General Fane; and the enemy were forthwith dislodged, without loss on our side, and our posts replaced where they had been.

My last reports from Catalonia are of the 24th ultimo; nothing extraordinary had occurred.

Admiralty-Office, January 22, 1814.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Pellew, Bart. to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

dated on board His Majesty's Ship Caledonia, at Port Mahon, the 24th December 1813.

SIR,

THE enclosed narrative will convey to their Lordships, the details of a gallant enterprize, very ably directed by Captain Sir Josias Rowley, and most zealously executed by the force under his command, in co-operation with the battalion of Colonel Cataneelli, who made a descent on the coast of Italy, under a hope of surprising Leghorn.

The loss sustained in this affair has been inconsiderable, when compared with that of the enemy. I am sure their Lordships will do ample justice to the merits of Sir Josias, and the captains, officers, seamen, and marines, engaged in this spirited service.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed)

EDWARD PELLEW.

His Majesty's ship America, off Leghorn, 15th Dec. 1813.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you, that in pursuance of my preceding communication to you from Palermo, I sailed thence on the 29th ult. in company with the Termagant, and anchored at Melazzo on the following night, where having joined the ships named in the margin*, and embarked on board them on the following day the troops of the Italian Levy, amounting to about one thousand men, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Cataneelli, we sailed the same evening, and arrived on the coast of Italy, off Via Reggio, on the 9th instant: having fallen in with the Armada and Imperieuse off the north of Corsica, I detained them to assist us in getting the troops on shore. Having anchored with the squadron off the town, the troops and field pieces were immediately landed; a small party of the enemy having evacuated the place on a summons that had been sent in, and possession was taken of two eighteen and one twelve-pounder guns, which defended the entrance of the river.—The Lieutenant-Colonel proceeded immediately to Lucca, which place was surrendered to him at twelve the same night. The following day a detachment of forty royal marines from this ship, under Captain Ren, was sent to a signal station to the northward, which on his threatening to storm, surrendered to him, and eleven men who defended it were made prisoners: he found it to be a castle of considerable size and strength, walled and ditched, and capable of containing near one thousand men. On receiving this report, I sent Mr. Bazalgette, senior lieutenant of the America, who with a few barrels of powder completely destroyed it, bringing off a brass nine-pounder gun, which was mounted in the castle. Parties from the Imperieuse and Furieuse also brought off two other brass guns from the beach to the northward and southward of the town, those at the landing place having also been embarked.

The Lieutenant-Colonel not judging it advisable to continue at Lucca, had given me notice of his intended return to Via Reggio, where he arrived on the morning of the 12th, and signified his intention to proceed in another direction.

* Edinburgh, Furieuse, Mermaid.

Not conceiving my stay with this ship any longer necessary, I had made arrangements for leaving the Edinburgh, Furieuse, and Termagant, under the orders of Captain Dundas, to keep up (if practicable) a communication with the troops, and purposed sailing to rejoin your flag as soon as it was dark, when towards sunset we perceived a firing at the town, and found that the troops were attacked by a force of about six hundred cavalry and infantry, with a howitzer and two field-pieces. They consisted of a detachment from the garrison of Leghorn, which had been joined on its march by some troops at Pisa; the Lieutenant-Colonel completely routed them, with the loss of their guns and howitzer, and a considerable number of killed, wounded, and prisoners; the remainder retreated in much confusion towards Pisa. Information having been obtained from the prisoners of the weak state of the garrison at Leghorn, the Lieutenant-Colonel proposed to me to intercept the return of the routed troops, by proceeding immediately off Leghorn, in the hopes that by shewing ourselves in as much force as possible, the inhabitants, who, it was supposed, were inclined to receive us, might make some movement in our favour, and that we might avail ourselves of any practicable opening to force our way into the place.

I acceded to this proposal, and the troops were immediately embarked in a number of country vessels, which were towed off by the boats of the squadron, and the whole being taken in tow by the ships, we proceeded the same night for Leghorn Roads, where we anchored about three o'clock on the following day, to the northward of the town. The Imperieuse having previously reconnoitred the best spot for landing, the vessels were immediately towed in shore, and the troops and field-pieces landed without opposition. The boats then proceeded to land the marines; but the weather, which had been hitherto favourable, in the course of the evening became so bad, that only a part could be got on shore; and I regret to state that the pinnacle of the America was swamped, and Lieutenant Moody, (a most valuable officer) and two seamen were drowned. Early in the morning the remainder were landed, and proceeded to the positions assigned them.

The corps of the enemy which had been defeated at Via Reggio, was a second time reinforced at Pisa, and at this period made an attack on our marines without the tower. I beg to refer you to Captain Dundas's report, for the particulars of their defeat. The Lieutenant-Colonel suggested, as a proper time after this advantage, to summons the Commandant, which was accordingly done, but an answer returned that he would defend himself.

The gates of the town had been closely examined during this day and the preceding night, to ascertain the practicability of forcing an entrance, but that or any other means of immediate attack not being considered practicable against a place so strong and regularly fortified, and there not appearing any movement of the inhabitants in our favour, the precarious and threatening state of the weather, a change of which would have prevented all communication with the ships, rendered it expedient to reembark the whole without delay: by very great exertions this was effected in the best order during the night, and early the following morning, in very severe weather, without any molestation from the enemy.

On returning from the shore to the America at sunset, I found a deputation from the Mayor and Inhabitants of the town, who had been permitted by the Commandant to come off with a flag of truce, to petition us to cease our fire from the houses, he having threatened to dislodge us by setting fire to the suburbs; as arrangements were already made for embarking, I consented to a cessation of firing on both sides till eight the next morning; a favourable circumstance for us, the troops on their march to the boats being exposed to a fire from the ramparts.

I have very great satisfaction in reporting to you the zeal and good conduct of all the officers, seamen, and marines employed on the above-mentioned services.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Catanelli every praise is due for his able and indefatigable exertions, and I feel thankful for his cordial co-operation. The conduct of the troops of the Italian Levy, both for bravery and discipline in the field, and the cheerfulness with which they endured the constant exposure in boats in the most severe weather, excited our admiration.

I am much indebted to Captain Grant for his able advice and assistance; to the Honourable Captain Dundas, who undertook the direction of the marines and seamen; and to Captain Hamilton, who volunteered his services on shore, my thanks are particularly due, for the gallant manner in which they conducted them; and I feel much indebted to the Honourable Captain Duncan for the ready and useful assistance he afforded me on every occasion. Captain Monsey, when the landing was effected, had moved with the Furieuse and Termagant to watch the motions of three brigs of war, lying in the outer mole, but which afterwards moved into the inner one, the crews having landed to assist in the defence of the place.

Captain Dunn was indefatigable in his exertions at the landing place, and I feel called upon to notice the good conduct of the officers and crews of the boats through a continued and most fatiguing service.

I beg that I may be permitted to mention the assistance I received from Lieutenant Bazalgette, senior of this ship, a most deserving officer; and to notice the conduct of Mr. Bromley, the surgeon, who volunteered his services on shore with the troops.

I herewith enclose a list of the killed and wounded, and am happy to say our loss is much smaller than might have been expected. I have no account of that of the Italian levy, but I believe it is not considerable. There have been no correct returns of prisoners, but Captain Dundas informs me, that above three hundred have been taken in the two affairs.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Edinburgh, off
SIR
Leghorn, Dec. 15, 1813.
IN obedience to your directions, Captain Hamil ton and myself landed on the evening of the 13th, with the marines of His Majesty's ships named in the margin,* to co-operate with Lieutenant-Colonel Catanelli. We pushed on that evening with the advance of the marines and Italian levy, and got possession of the suburbs of the town of Leghorn. The extreme darkness of the night, and the road being nearly impassable, prevented the body of the troops joining until the morning; the moment a sufficient number had come up, in compliance with the Lieutenant-Colonel's arrangements, the Italians occupied the suburbs, and buildings close to the ramparts; the marines occupied a position on the Pisa road; as soon after day-light as possible, we reconnoitred the town; just as we had finished, and were returning from the southern part of the town, a firing was heard in the direction of the Pisa road, where we proceeded instantly, and found the marines were at that moment attacked by a considerable body of the enemy's troops, consisting of at least seven hundred men, cavalry and infantry, supported by two field pieces; the charge of the cavalry was received with great coolness by the marines, they opened and allowed them to pass, killing all but about fourteen, who, with two officers succeeded in getting through, but who were all killed or wounded, excepting one officer, by a small detachment of the Italian levy, that was formed at the entrance of the suburbs of the town. After the charge of the cavalry, the marines instantly closed and charged the enemy's infantry, and put them entirely to the rout; they lost in this affair the officers commanding their cavalry and infantry, with about from two hundred and fifty to three hundred killed, wounded, and prisoners; the remainder retreated in the greatest disorder to Pisa.

In this affair my most particular thanks are due to Captain Hamilton, who I am sorry to say is slightly wounded, as well as to Captain Beale, of the Armada, who commanded the marines, as also to Captains Réa and Mitchell, of the America and Edinburgh; to the other officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates, all possible credit is due for repelling the attack, and putting to rout the enemy, who were certainly double their force; the marines lost on this occasion, one killed and seven wounded.

The Italian levy who were on the houses close round the ramparts, as well as those in the advance, were indefatigable in their exertions, and their bravery was truly conspicuous on all occasions. The enemy suffered by the destructive fire they kept up on the ramparts, killing or wounding those who attempted to come near the guns.

It being arranged between you and the Lieutenant-Colonel, that we should re-embark, the wounded and prisoners, with our two field guns and ammunition, were embarked at twelve o'clock last night, marched off in the best possible order, through bad roads, and incessant rain.

I beg to offer my thanks to Lieutenant-Colonel Catanelli, for his attention in pointing out what he wished to be done by us to forward his plan. My thanks are due to Captain Dunn, of the Mermaid, for forwarding every thing from the beach to us in advance; as well as to Lieutenants Mason, of the

* America, Armada, Edinburgh, Imperieuse, Furieuse, Rainbow, Termagant, and Mermaid.

America, and Mapleton and Leach of this ship, and Travers, of the Imperieuse; and to the midshipmen, and small arm men, and those stationed to a howitzer, for their steady good conduct.

I have the honour to be, &c.

of His Majesty's Ship America.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent;
which Address His Royal Highness was pleased
to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, of the Borough of King's Lynn, in the County of Norfolk, in Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, the Aldermen, and the Common Council of King's Lynn, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of attachment to His Majesty and His august Family, and with our sincere and cordial congratulations to your Royal Highness on the circumstances of the closing year.

The momentous occurrences of the late campaign,
awhile the object of our deep solicitude, have by the blessing of Divine Providence, become the source of the most heartfelt joy. The glorious successes which have immortalized the arms of His Majesty and his Allies, have rescued a brave and loyal people from the grasp of inordinate ambition;
promised emancipation to an almost subjugated Continent, and opened the cheering prospect of returning peace to a distracted world.

It is, we humbly trust, with no unpardonable pride that we survey the arduous part which our country has sustained amid the shocks of kingdoms and of empires. Undismayed by the boundless ravages of universal oppression, England has never
for a moment forgotten the sacred duty of resistance to the oppressor. Amidst the dark horrors which have enveloped affrighted Europe, calmly
and serenely she has continued her undeviating
course, a guardian star to guide surrounding nations
to prosperity and peace.

Such, most gracious Prince, is the blissful consummation to which we at length dare to lift our eyes, such the precious fruits we presume to anticipate from that admirable skill, and invincible valour which have characterised the arms of His Majesty and his Allies. Happy are we indeed that the expression of this glowing hope is but a faint echo of that with which your Royal Highness has gladdened the hearts of a loyal people—of a people who, while they regard a just and equal peace as one of the most valuable of earthly blessings, would deem it the most unjustifiable distrust of your Royal Highness's Councils, the basest treachery to their country, prematurely to shrink from the prosecution of such measures as may be deemed necessary for attaining that desirable object.

Given under our common seal, at our Guildhall, the 20th day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1813.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Cr. ord, High Steward,
and Sir Martin Browne Folkes, Bart. Representative in Parliament for King's Lynn, and presented by the Right Honourable Viscount Sidmouth.]
