SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1814.

Foreign-Office, February 26, 1814.

THE Right Honourable Frederick Robinson has arrived at this office with dispatches, of which the following are copies, and an extract.

Dispatch from the Honourable Sir Charles Stewart, dated Chatillon, February 17, 1814.

My Lord,

I HAVE the honour to enclose for your Lordship's information, several reports which I have received from Colonel Lowe, of the operations of Marshal Blücher's army.

I have the honour to be, &c.

CHARLES STEWART, Lieut. Gen.
The Viscount Castlereagh, &c. &c. &c.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Headquarters, Army of Silesia, Sandrön, February 6, 1814.

SIR,

AN Aid-de-Camp of General D'York has just arrived here, and brought to Marshal Blücher the keys of the town of Chalons and Vitri, with the eagle and banner, &c. the national guard of the department of the Marne.

General D'York attacked Chalons yesterday, and after some firing on both sides, sent in an officer with a summons to surrender. Marshal M'Donald, who commanded the enemy's troops in the town, wished him to negotiate with the magistrates, but on this being declined, entered himself into a capitulation, by which it was agreed that the town should be delivered up, the French troops evacuating it, leaving every thing as it stood, and the stores and magazines untouched. It appeared, however, that the principle of these conditions was not very scrupulously observed by the French Marshal, as the bridge over the Marne was found to be blown up, and the casks which had held brandy in the stores all leaked out.

Marshal M'Donald took the direction of Meaux. He has with him besides his own corps, (the 11th) the corps of Generals Sebastiani and Arrighi.

Accounts have been received that General Kleist is arrived at St. Dizier, and that General Kapsiewicz, of General Count Langeron's corps, is soon expected there also, with a principal division of that corps, so that Field-Marshal Blücher is now in direct communication with all the corps of his army.

Part of them have been left opposite Urdun and other fortresses, but the corps of the Prince of Coburg will undertake the blockade of the several fortresses left in the rear of the Prussian army.

Sezannes and Vertus are probably both occupied by the Marshal's troops at this time, but he does not move his head-quarters forward until to-morrow.

Sixty-four powder waggons were taken from the enemy in the affair of last night.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE, Colonel.

Lieut. Gen. the Honourable Sir Charles Stewart, K. B. &c. &c. &c.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Vertus, February 8, 1814.

SIR,

FIELD-Marshal Blücher moves his head-quarters to-day to Etoges: General Baron Sacken is at Montmirail, with his advanced parties about two leagues in front. General D'York is supposed to be at Chateau Thierry: General Kleist is at Chalons, and General Kapsiewicz, with the divisions of Count Langeron's corps, is fast coming up. Marshal M'Donald has been heard of, retiring with about an hundred pieces of artillery, drawn principally by peasant horses, and some hopes are entertained of coming up with them. General Wintzingerode, who was heard of, advancing, in this direction, a few days since, has turned off again towards Brabant; possibly from orders to form his junction with the Prince Royal of Sweden, who, by the last Frankfort papers, must be moving down on the Rhine.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE, Colonel.

Lieut. General the Hon. Sir Charles Stewart, K. B.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Vertus, February 9, 1814.

SIR,

MY last to you was sent by Mr. Swinnie, of the Russian embassy in London, who was the bearer of some dispatches to you from England. Field-Marshal Blücher moved his head-quarters immediately afterwards to Etoges; but about seven o'clock in the evening a report arrived from Baye, of the enemy having advanced against a Russian regiment, which had halted there, in force four or five squadrons of cavalry, and two guns; but having been resisted, had not pushed on any further. As it was totally uncertain what might be the object of this movement, the Field-Marshal moved back his head-quarters for the night to this place. The corps of General-Kapsiewitz had just arrived here, and General Kleist was close in the vicinity at Chalons.

General Baron Sacken was at Montmirail, and General D'Yorck at Dormant, both having their advanced guards pushed on two or three leagues in front at or near La Ferte sous Joarre and Château Thierry. It is now eleven a. m., and no further information has been received of the enemy's movement. In the mean time, accounts are arrived of the grand army being at Troyes; so that there is no reason to speculate on any significant movement of the enemy in this transverse direction. It is supposed the corps pushed forward must have come from Sezannes, and have belonged to Marmont. General Kleist is arriving here to-day. General Baron Sacken and General D'Yorck will probably remain in their present position until the whole of the corps unite.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE, Colonel.

Stewart, K. B.*

*Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Bergeres,
February 11, 1814.*

SIR,

I AM concerned to acquaint you, that the Russian division of General Alsuéfi suffered very considerably on yesterday afternoon, by an attack of the enemy. My report of yesterday will have mentioned the information that had been received of Buonaparte being at Sezanne. General Alsuéfi had his division, consisting of about three thousand five hundred infantry, posted at Champaubert. He was attacked by a very superior corps of the enemy, five or six thousand of which were cavalry, and though he formed squares, and resisted most obstinately for a long time, the enemy finally succeeded in compelling him to fall back, after suffering a very considerable loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners. He had twenty-four pieces of cannon with him, of which fifteen were saved, and nine fell into the hands of the enemy. Fifteen hundred men are announced to have got off unmolested; the remainder must have suffered or been dispersed, but great hopes are entertained that many of the latter will have been enabled to regain their corps. There has been no time as yet for any information regarding them.

General D'Yorck is at Château Thierry. General Baron Sacken at Ferte sous Joarre. General Kleist, who with General Kapsiewitz had moved on yesterday to Ferte Champenoise, is now in position at this place. Field-Marshal Blücher is with them. Further intelligence is expected of the enemy's movements to decide his. The last accounts are, that he had shewn two squadrons of cavalry a little on this side of Etoges.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE, Colonel.

Lieutenant-General the Honourable Sir

Charles Stewart, K. B. &c. &c.

My report of yesterday, which I hope you will have received, mentioned that General Vasilichoff had been attacked by the enemy near Ferte sous Joarre, but he repulsed him and took three pieces of artillery and two tumbrils.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Bergeres, February 12, 1814.

SIR,

A VERY heavy cannonading was heard during the whole of the afternoon of yesterday, in the direction of Montmirail. By a report just received from General D'Yorck, it appears that his corps and that of General Baron Sacken had marched in that direction, and attacked the enemy, who was advancing against him. The corps of General Baron Sacken, and three brigades of that of General D'Yorck, were engaged, and after an action of several hours, both armies remained on the ground, in the same positions they had occupied at the commencement. Six pieces of cannon were at one time taken by General Baron Sacken, but the sewere left, from the difficulty of the roads, as well as four pieces of his own, which he had advanced in the attack and could not again withdraw. The force opposed was the old guard and other detached corps, amounting to about thirty thousand men, commanded by Buonaparte in person. General Baron Sacken attacked the enemy in the village of Marchais, which was taken and retaken three times. The enemy made a movement on his right flank, which compelled him to fall back on General D'Yorck. The enemy attacked again but could make no impression, night leaving both him and the allied troops in the same position. General Baron Sacken had his head-quarters this morning at Château Thierry, and General D'Yorck at Biffert. Buonaparte was to have returned to Montmirail last night, but bivouacked on the ground.

Marshal Marmont, with the 6th corps; is at Etoges.

Field-Marshal Blücher, with the corps of General Kleist and General Kapsiewitz, is in position at this place. Marshal Marmont sent in an officer with a flag of truce this morning, with a letter to the Field-Marshal, which he was directed to deliver personally, but he was not received.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE, Colonel.

Lieutenant-General the Hon. Sir Charles

Stewart, K. B. &c. &c.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Headquarters, Army of Silesia, Champaubert, February 13, 1814.

SIR,

FIELD-MARSHAL Blücher having remained in his position at Bergères for two days without any movement being undertaken by the enemy at Etoges, resolved on marching to attack Marshal Marmont in his position at the latter place.

The advanced guard of the corps of General Kleist, under the command of General Zieten, was sent forward to commence the attack. The enemy occupied the village of Etoges, and a woody height on the left of it: he shewed a large body of cavalry and several columns of infantry. His force supposed to be about nine or ten thousand men. As the advanced guard approached he gradually retired, maintaining, however, a very brisk fire, and giving occasion for some very bold and successful attacks on his rear, principally by the Cossacks, who displayed the greatest intrepidity, and experienced some loss. The pursuit continued from Etoges to beyond the village of Champaubert, where the Field-Marshal has halted for the night.

The enemy has bivouacked in front of Fromentieres, and will be attacked again tomorrow, should he remain in that vicinity.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. LOWE.

Lieutenant-General the Hon. Sir Charles Stewart, K. B. &c. &c. &c.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Headquarters, Army of Silesia, Chalons, 15th February 1814.

SIR,

FIELD-MARSHAL Blücher has had to sustain another and most obstinate contest against a superior force of the enemy, under the command of Buonaparte in person.

After having driven Marshal Marmont from the position of Etoges on the 13th, he there learnt that Buonaparte had marched with his guards on the preceding day to Chateau Thierry; General D'York and General Baron Sacken having previously quitted that town, and retired behind the Marne.

Yesterday morning, Marshal Marmont was announced to be in retreat from the village of Fromentieres, Field-Marshal Blücher, who had bivouacked the night preceding at Champaubert, resolved on pursuing him. He had under his orders only the corps of General Kleist and General Kap-siewicz's division of General Count Langeron's corps.

The enemy retired until he came near the village of Janvilliers, where a considerable body of cavalry was observed to be collected.

In the ardour of pursuit, six guns, which had been carried forward, were suddenly rushed upon and seized by them. The Prussian cavalry, under Gen. Zieten and Col. Blücher, son of the Field-Marshal, immediately charged, and retook them. Several prisoners fell into his hands, and from them it was learnt that Buonaparte was on the ground, having just arrived, with the whole of his guards, and a large body of cavalry. They had made a forced march during the night from Chateau Thierry.

The infantry of Field-Marshal Blücher was at this time advancing in columns of battalions on the open grounds on each side of the chaussée leading through the village.

The cavalry, which was observed to be increasing, suddenly came forward in a large mass, broke through the cavalry of the advanced guard, divided itself, and attacked with the greatest fury the columns of infantry on the plain. The movement was observed. The columns formed into squares, which remained firm on their ground, and commenced a heavy fire from their front, flanks, and rear. In a large field on the right of the village six squares were attacked at the same time; all succeeded in repelling the enemy, the cavalry of the advanced guard in the mean time retiring in the intervals, foraging in the rear, and advancing again to charge the enemy's cavalry, after it had been thrown into disorder, and compelled to retire from the destructive fire of the squares. The enemy's numbers, however, increased, and large bodies of cavalry were seen to be moving round on either flank. Two battalions of infantry of the advanced guard, which had entered the village, could not form in time, and suffered considerably. Field-Marshal Blücher, who had little cavalry with him, resolved on withdrawing his force from a position where such an unequal contest must be waged.

The infantry were directed to retire in columns and squares, with artillery in the intervals, covered on the flanks and rear by skirmishers and cavalry. The enemy lost no time in making the boldest and most direct attacks. The country through which the line of retreat lay, was generally open, without inclosures, but with small woods and copses, which enabled the enemy's cavalry to conceal its movements. The infantry avoided in general entangling themselves in them, and were thus the better enabled to preserve their perfect formation, and hold the enemy in greater respect. From the village of Janvilliers to about half way between Champaubert and Etoges, a distance of nearly four leagues, it was one incessant retiring combat, not a single column or square of infantry that was not either charged by or exposed to the fire of the enemy, whilst a constant fire was kept up by them without any interruption of their march, firing and loading as they moved on, and still preserving the most perfect order. It frequently happened that the enemy's cavalry were intermixed with the squares, and always, in such case, compelled to retire with great loss. Various charges were attempted without any effect.

At sun-set it was observed, that the corps of cavalry which had been seen to take a circuit round the flanks had thrown themselves into the line of our retreat, about half way between Champaubert and Etoges, and formed themselves into a solid mass on the chaussée and on each side of it, with the evident determination to bar the passage. At this moment Field-Marshal Blücher found himself surrounded on every side. His decision was as prompt as the resolution determined to execute it—to continue his march, and break through the obstacle opposed to it.

The columns and squares, assailed now on every side, moved on in the most firm and perfect order. The artillery opened a heavy fire on the cavalry that had planted itself on the chaussée, which was succeeded by volleys of musquetry from the advancing columns of infantry. The enemy's cavalry could not stand against such determination. They were forced to quit the chaussée, and leave the passages on each side of it open, and to limit their further attacks solely to the flanks and rear. The columns and squares on the flanks and rear were equally assailed, and not a single one during the whole of the time was broken, or lost its order. As night came on, the infantry attacks succeeded to those of the cavalry. As the troops were entering the village of Etoges, they were assailed by volleys of musquetry from a body of infantry that had penetrated by bye-roads on both flanks of their march. Generals Kleist and Kapsiewitz, with their respective corps; however, again broke through the obstacles opposed to them, forced their way through the village, though with considerable loss, and brought in their corps, without further attack or molestation, to the position of Bergeres, where they bivouaqued for the night.

The loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners, during this long and arduous struggle, is estimated at about three thousand five hundred men, with seven pieces of artillery. The enemy evidently contemplated the destruction of the whole corps. His force must have been double; his cavalry in more than a treble proportion, probably eight thousand horses. Field-Marshal Blücher's artillery was more numerous and better served. The enemy's loss from its fire, and from the constant repulses of his cavalry by the fire of the squares, must have been excessive.

I want words to express my admiration of the intrepidity and discipline of the troops. The example of Field Marshal Blücher himself, who was every where, and in the most exposed situations; of Generals Kleist and Kapsiewitz; of General Gniesenau, who directed the movement on the chaussée; of General Zieten, and Prince Augustus of Prussia, always at the head of his brigade, animating it to the most heroic efforts, could not fail to inspire the soldiers with a resolution that must have even struck the enemy with admiration and surprise.

The position of Chalons presenting the advantage of forming a junction of the different corps of his army, Field Marshal Blücher resolved on marching thither, having received reports during the battle, that Generals D'Yorck and Sacken had arrived at Rheims, and that General Wintzingerode was within one or two days march of it. The whole of the Army of Silesia will thus soon be united, and be enabled to advance against the enemy with that confidence of success which numbers and union affords.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Lieut.-Gen. the Hon. Sir C. Stewart, K. B.

P. S. Your Aid-de-camp, Captain Harris, has been constantly with the advance or rear guards, as occasion has pointed out. He accompanied the Prussian cavalry in their charge in the morning, and I am much indebted to him for his assistance and reports.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Headquarters, Army of Silesia, Chalons, February 16, 1814.

SIR,

I AM happy to inform you, Field-Marshal Blücher has just received accounts, that General Wintzingerode attacked the town of Soissons, carried it by assault, made prisoners three generals and about three thousand men, and took thirteen pieces of cannon. General D'Yorck has just arrived here. His corps is following, and, with that of General Baron Sacken, will arrive here this evening. General Wintzingerode is marching upon Eprenay. Field-Marshal Blücher will thus be speedily enabled to form a junction of the whole of his force. This union, with General Wintzingerode's success, present the prospect of a full compensation for any losses that have been sustained. Buonaparte was at Etoges yesterday afternoon at four o'clock.

Field-Marshal Blücher's head-quarters will remain here to-day.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed)

H. LOWE.

Lieut.-Gen. the Honourable Sir Charles Stewart, K. B. &c. &c. &c.

P. S. The account of General Wintzingerode's affair is from a Russian Colonel, who left him before the attack commenced, but was joined on the road to Rheims, by an officer from General Wintzingerode, who brought him the information. It is regarded here as certain.

Military Report from Colonel Lowe, dated Headquarters of the Army of Silesia, Chalons, February 17, 1814.

SIR,

ACCOUNTS have been received of General Wintzingerode's arrival at Rheims. He will march to and form his junction with Field-Marshal Blücher at this place; the official detail of the affair at Soissons has not been yet received, but the news is confirmed through a variety of channels, with the sole difference of their having been two instead of three Generals made prisoners.

I have just spoken to an Aid-de-Camp of General Count Langeron, who acquaints me he is on his march hither. General Count St. Priest was expected soon to follow. The advanced guard of the troops under General Count Langeron, was at St. Dizier on yesterday.

Field-Marshal Blücher's head-quarters remain here this day. His army has been speedily refitting with every thing that is necessary.

Dispatch from Lord Burghersh, dated Troyes, Feb. 13, 1814.

MY LORD,

THE army under the immediate orders of Prince Schwartzenberg has continued the movement, the details of which I had the honour of transmitting to you in the last dispatch.

The Prince Royal of Wirtemberg summoned the commandant of Sens on the 11th to surrender; upon the refusal of that officer, the barricades of the place were forced, and after considerable resistance the town was taken.

The Prince Royal afterwards directed his force on Pont-Sur-Yonne, from whence he has marched upon Bray.

On the 9th, at night, a report was received from General Wittgenstein, at Mery, that Villenox was occupied by a considerable force of French, and that Buonaparte was there in person. Prince Schwartzberg proceeded himself the next day to reconnoitre Nogent, and make a movement upon it calculated to attract the attention of the enemy.

On the 9th General Count Hardegg had attacked the rear-guard of the enemy, in a position between Romilly and St. Hilaire, and had driven it with some loss towards Nogent. Prince Schwartzberg upon his arrival near that town, directed another attack to be made upon this rear-guard, which occupied a position between Marnay, St. Aubin, and Macon. General Hardegg attacked upon the road towards St. Aubin, the advance of General Wittgenstein upon the road to Marnay. The enemy was driven from his position, and forced to retire into Nogent. Count Hardegg pursued him into that town, and established himself on the 10th in a part of the place.

General Wittgenstein was ordered to assemble his corps near Pont-sur-Seine; General Wrede to advance from Nogent towards Bray.

In consequence of these movements, the enemy abandoned the left of the Seine, and destroyed the bridges over that river.

In pursuance of Prince Schwartzberg's directions, General Wittgenstein has already crossed the Seine, near Pont. General Wrede has re-established the bridge at Bray, has passed a part of his force on the right bank of that river, and has directed it towards Provins.

General Bianchi is marching upon Montereau; General Gyulay will support him; the remainder of Prince Schwartzberg's army will be assembled on the left of the Seine.

Your Lordship will already have been informed that Buonaparte marched with a considerable portion of his army against the corps under the orders of Marshal Blücher. You will be acquainted with the result of his operations. I fear they have been, to a certain degree, unfavourable to the Allies. The separation of the army of Silesia from that under the orders of Prince Schwartzberg, is likely to follow from the efforts of Buonaparte.

With a view, however, of stopping the pursuit of any advantages he may have gained, Prince Schwartzberg has determined to carry the corps of Generals Wrede and Wittgenstein, and of the Prince Royal of Wirtemberg, to Provins and Villenox. The corps of Russian reserves will be placed between Mery and Nogent, and the whole army will stand in position, the right at Mery, the left at Montereau, with the corps at Provins and Villenox ready to push forward, if necessary, upon the rear of Buonaparte's present line of operations, or within reach to protect the movements of Prince Schwartzberg's army along the left of the Seine, towards Fontainebleau.

Prince Lubomirsky, with a corps of cavalry, occupies Sezanne. Planay is occupied by a detachment from the corps of reserve.

I have the honour to be, &c.

BURGHESH, Lieut.-Col. 63d Regt.

The Right Hon. the Viscount Castlereagh,
&c. &c. &c.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lord Burghesh, dated Nogent, February 10, 1814,

SINCE I had the honour of addressing you last night, a report has been received by Prince Schwartzberg from General Debitch, containing the satisfactory intelligence that Marshal Blücher had repulsed the enemy that was moving against him beyond Etoges.

General Debitch was already in communication with Marshal Blücher, and at the time his dispatch was dated, entertained no doubt of the enemy's retreat.

In consequence of this information, Prince Schwartzberg has suspended the operation, the detail of which I transmitted to your Lordship in my last dispatch, and will resume the offensive movement, before in progress.

The head-quarters will this day be removed to Bray.

The corps of Generals Wrede and Wittgenstein will advance by Nangis towards Melun. General Bianchi will push upon the road towards Fontainebleau.

Copy of a Dispatch from the Right Honourable Frederick Robinson to Earl Bathurst, dated London, February 24, 1814.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint your Lordship, that I left Chatillon on the night of the 18th inst. on my way to England. Having been detained for some hours at Troyes on the 19th, I there received information of some events which had occurred, of a date later than that of the dispatches of which I was the bearer. It appeared that on the 16th or 17th (I believe the latter), the corps of Count Hardegg, and Count Thurn (Austrians); and the Cossacks under Count Platow, had succeeded in capturing Fontainebleau, where they took one General, some cannon, and several prisoners. On the 17th, Buonaparte (who, upon the advance of Prince Schwartzberg across the Seine, had desisted from his operations against Marshal Blücher) fell, with a very considerable body of cavalry, upon the advanced guard of Count Wittgenstein's corps at Nanges, under the command of Count Pahlen. This advanced guard, which consisted of several regiments of cavalry, was driven back, with considerable loss both of men and artillery, and Prince Schwartzberg determined to withdraw the greater part of his army across the Seine. He still, however, occupied the bridges over that river at Montereau, Bray, and Nogent. In the morning of the 18th the two former posts were attacked with considerable vigour, but without effect; and the Prince Royal of Wirtemberg, who commanded at Montereau, not only repulsed three attacks made upon him, but took both prisoners and cannon. Late, however, in the evening, the attack was renewed, with increased force, and the enemy finally succeeded in driving the Prince Royal across the river, and pressed him so severely that he had not time to destroy the bridge. He retired in the direction of Bray, and it was understood that the enemy passed a considerable part of his army across the river. The result of this affair induced Prince Schwartzberg to withdraw the grand army from their advanced position upon the Seine, and I understood that his head-quarters were to be established at Troyes in the night of the 19th.

I have the satisfaction of acquainting your Lordship, that on the morning of the 20th, I had an opportunity of seeing the whole of Marshal Blücher's army reunited, and on its march from Chalons to join the grand army. It was moving upon the high road to Troyes; and the head of the column was near Arcis-sur-Aube, between eighteen and twenty English miles from Prince Schwartzberg's head-quarters. After the severe action in which this incomparable army had recently been engaged, it was a matter of infinite gratification to me to observe the admirable condition of the troops composing it, who amounted to nearly sixty thousand men.

I have the honour to be, &c.

F. ROBINSON.

COLONIAL DEPARTMENT.

Downing-Street, February 24, 1814.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been this day received by Earl Bathurst, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. commanding His Majesty's forces in North America.

Head-Quarters, Quebec, December

My Lord, 27, 1813.

I DO myself the honour to acquaint your Lordship, that, since my dispatch of the 22d instant, I have received a communication from Lieutenant-General Drummond, containing a supplementary report from Colonel Murray, dated at Fort George the 13th December, correcting his statement of the preceding day, respecting the enemy having passed over the river all his cannon and stores, having since discovered, in the ditch of the fortification, one long eighteen-pounder, four twelve, and several nine-pounders; together with a large supply of shot; some of the temporary magazines, with a proportion of fixed ammunition, have been saved; a camp equipage for fifteen hundred men, has fallen into our possession.

The new barracks, erected in the vicinity of Fort George and at Chippawa, have, from the precipitancy of the enemy's flight, escaped being burned.

I have, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE PREVOST.

The Right Honourable Earl Bathurst,
&c. &c. &c.

My Lord, Head-Quarters, Quebec, January 6, 1814.

HAVING ascertained the enemy's force at Forts George and Niagara, and on that frontier, to have been considerably reduced for the purpose of strengthening the division of the American army, commanded by Major-General Wilkinson, now acting against Lower Canada, I directed Lieutenant-General Drummond, on the 3d of last month, to hold the right division of the army in the Canadas, placed under the immediate command of Major-General Rial, in so perfect a state of preparation as to be enabled to act with promptitude when required to take advantage of the weakness or negligence of the enemy; and I feel a high satisfaction in having the honour of transmitting to your Lordship the Lieutenant-General's letters, containing the reports of the capture of Fort Niagara, on the morning of the 19th December, and of the flight of the enemy's force from Lewistown, on the approach of the corps commanded by Major-General Rial.

The arrangements of Lieutenant-General Drummond, and the brilliant manner in which they were executed, have excited my warmest applause, and afford me infinite satisfaction in the communication I now make to your Lordship. I request to call the gracious consideration of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, to the various officers who have distinguished themselves on the occasion, more especially to Colonel Murray, who has availed himself of this favourable opportunity fully to confirm my opinion of his zeal, intelligence, and military talents.

After the dispersion of the enemy's force at Lewistown, and the destruction of that village, Major-General Rial's brigade pressed forward towards Black Rock and Buffalo, and on its march obtained possession, after a feeble resistance, of the Mills and Rope Walk of General Porter, one of the principal contractors for supplying the American army, which were destroyed. On this occasion an American officer and a few men were killed, and one officer and eleven privates taken prisoners, but not a British soldier suffered.

The bridge over the Tonawanto Creek having been destroyed by the enemy, the progress of Major-General Rial's brigade has been impeded until the arrival of a sufficient number of boats at Chippawa, to enable the troops intended to co-operate with it on the destruction of the vessels and stores at Buffalo, to cross the river. When the last accounts left Fort George, the weather had not then become too severe to render the movement impracticable, I therefore hope to be able to report its success to your Lordship by the next opportunity, as the enemy appears in great consternation, and without plan, or organization for defence.

Having been under the necessity of employing the western Indians who had retreated with General Proctor from Amherstburg, as well as those inhabiting near the Niagara frontier, in conjunction with the force acting under Major-General Rial, I have not failed strongly to enjoin upon Lieutenant-General Drummond, to restrain by every means in his power any excesses or cruelties on their part, which might give just cause of complaint to the American Government, or attach disgrace to His Majesty's arms. The enemy set an example in his retreat from Fort George, by burning the town of Newark, that has produced calamitous consequences to himself since the theatre of war has been transferred into his own territory. Painful is such a retribution to those who execute it—I have felt the authority most repugnant, and I sincerely hope it may not again be excited.

I have sent my Aid-de-Camp Captain Cochrane overland to Halifax, as the bearer of my dispatches to your Lordship; he carries with him a stand of colours taken in the fort of Niagara, to be laid at the feet of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, and I beg leave to refer your Lordship to him for such information as you may require respecting this command.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEORGE PREVOST.

To Earl Bathurst, &c. &c. &c.

SIR, Fort Niagara, December 20, 1813.

CONCEIVING the possession of Fort Niagara to be of the highest importance in every point of view to the tranquillity and security of this frontier, immediately on my arrival at St. Davids, I determined upon its reduction, if practicable, without too great a sacrifice. There being however but two batteaux at this side of the water, I did not think proper to make the attempt until a sufficient number should be brought from Burlington, at this season of the year a most difficult undertaking. But by the indefatigable exertions of Captain Elliot, Deputy-Assistant-Quarter-Master-General, every difficulty, particularly in the carriage of the batteaux by land for several miles, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather (the ground being covered with snow, and the frost severe,) was overcome; they were again launched; and the troops, consisting of a small detachment of Royal artillery; the grenadier company of the royal scots; the flank companies of the 41st and the 100th regiments; amounting in the whole to about five hundred and fifty, which I had placed under the immediate orders of Colonel Murray, Inspecting Field-Officer, were embarked. The inclosed report of that most zealous and judicious officer, will point out to you the detail of their further proceedings.

At five o'clock A. M. the fort was attacked by assault, at the point of the bayonet; two picquets, posted at the distance of a mile, and of a mile and a half from the works, having previously been destroyed to a man by the same weapon, and at half an hour afterwards this important place was completely in our possession. By this gallant achievement twenty-seven pieces of ordnance (mounted on the several defences), three thousand stand of arms, a number of rifles, a quantity of ammunition, blankets, clothing, several thousand pairs of shoes, &c. have fallen into our hands, besides fourteen officers and three hundred and thirty other prisoners, and eight respectable inhabitants of this part of the country, who had been dragged from the peaceful enjoyment of their property to a most unwarrantable confinement, were released, together with some Indian warriors of the Cooknawaga and Six Nation tribes. The enemy's loss amounted to sixty-five in killed, and to but twelve in wounded, which clearly proves how irresistible a weapon the bayonet is in the hands of British soldiers. Our loss was only five killed and three wounded. I have to regret the death of a very promising young officer, Lieutenant Nolan, of the 100th regiment.

I beg leave to bear the highest testimony of the anxious, active, and meritorious exertions of Colonel Murray, who, I regret to say, received a severe, though not dangerous wound in the wrist, which, I hope, will not at this critical period deprive me for any great length of time of his valuable services; and to Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, of the 100th regiment, and the officers, non-commissioned officers, and soldiers, who so gallantly achieved this most daring and brilliant enterprise.

The militia came forward with alacrity, and assisted much in landing and transporting the batteaux across the river, in a very rapid current, for which service they are deserving of the highest praise.

Captain Norton, the Indian Chief, volunteered his services, and accompanied the troops. And I beg to recommend in the strongest terms to the favour and protection of his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, Captain Elliot of the 103d regiment, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master General, whose conduct on this, as on every other occasion, has been so distinguished; as also Lieutenant Dawson, of the 100th regiment, who commanded the forlorn hope; Captain Fawcett, of the same regiment, who immediately supported him with the grenadiers; and Captain Martin, who with three companies, gallantly stormed the eastern demi-bastion.

My best acknowledgements are due to Major-Generals Riall and Vincent, for the cordial and zealous assistance I received from them in making the arrangements; to Lieutenant-Colonel Harvey, Deputy-Adjutant-General, and to the officers of my personal staff.

I have the honour to forward to your Excellency the American colours taken on this occasion, by Captain Foster, my Aide-de-Camp, who being in my fullest confidence, will give your Excellency such further information as you may require.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR,

Fort Niagara, 19th Dec. 1813.

IN obedience to your Honour's commands, directing me to attack Fort Niagara, with the advance of the army of the right, I resolved upon attempting a surprise. The embarkation commenced on the 18th, at night, and the whole of the troops were landed three miles from the fort early on the following morning, in the following order of attack:—Advanced guard, one subaltern and twenty rank and file; grenadiers 100th regiment; Royal Artillery, with grenades; five companies 100th regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, to assault the main gate, and escalate the works adjacent; three companies of the 100th regiment, under Captain Martin, to storm the eastern demi bastion; Captain Bailey, with the grenadiers Royal Scots, was directed to attack the salient angle of the fortification; and the flank companies of the 41st regiment were ordered to support the principal attack.—Each party was provided with scaling ladders and axes. I have great satisfaction in acquainting your Honour, that the fortress was carried by assault in the most resolute and gallant manner, after a short but spirited resistance.

The highly gratifying but difficult duty remains, of endeavouring to do justice to the bravery, intrepidity, and devotion of the 100th regiment to the service of their country, under that gallant officer Lieutenant-Colonel Hamilton, to whom I feel highly indebted for his cordial assistance. Captain Martin, 100th regiment, who executed the task allotted to him in the most intrepid manner, merits the greatest praise; I have to express my admiration of the valour of the Royals, grenadiers, under Captain Bailey, whose zeal and gallantry were very conspicuous. The just tribute of my applause is equally due to the flank companies of the 41st regiment, under Lieutenant Bullock, who advanced to the attack with great spirit. The Royal Artillery under Lieutenant Charlton, deserve my particular notice. To Captain Elliot, Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General, who conducted one of the columns of attack and superintended the embarkation, I feel highly obliged. I cannot pass over the brilliant services of Lieutenant Dawson and Captain Fawcett, 100th, in command of the advance and grenadiers, who gallantly executed the orders entrusted to them, by entirely cutting off two of the enemy's picquets, and surprising the sentries on the Glacis and at the gate, by which means the watchword was obtained, and the entrance into the fort greatly facilitated, to which may be attributed in a great degree our trifling loss. I beg leave to recommend these meritorious officers to your honour's protection. The scientific knowledge of Lieutenant Gengruben, Royal Engineers, in suggesting arrangements previous to the attack, and for securing the fort afterwards, I cannot too highly appreciate. The unwearied exertions of acting Quarter-Master Pilkington, 100th regiment, in bringing forward the materials requisite for the attack, demand my acknowledgements.

Captain Kirby, Lieutenants Ball, Seroos, and Hamilton, of the different provincial corps, deserve my thanks; my Staff-Adjutant, Mr. Brampton, will have the honour of presenting this dispatch, and the standard of the American garrison; to his intelligence, valour, and friendly assistance, not only on this trying occasion, but on many former, I feel most grateful.

Our force consisted of about five hundred rank and file.—Annexed is a return of our casualties, and the enemy's loss in killed, wounded, and prisoners.

The ordnance and commissariat stores are so immense that it is totally out of my power to forward to you a correct statement for some days, but twenty-seven pieces of cannon, of different calibres, are on the works, and upwards of three thousand stand of arms and many rifles in the arsenal. The store-houses are full of clothing and camp equipage of every description.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR,

Queenstown, December 20, 1813.

THE enemy having established a force, and erected some batteries at Lewistown, with the avowed intention of destroying the town of Queens-town, situated immediately opposite, I determined to dislodge them from thence; and, with that view, the 1st battalion of the Royal Scots, and the 41st regiment, with the whole body of the Western Indians, were crossed to the American frontier, under the command of Major-General Riall, in batteaux; immediately after landing the force under Colonel

Murray, the enemy retired on the approach of our troops, and permitted thereby two guns, a twelve and six pounder, to fall into our hands.

From Major-General Riall's report of the good conduct of the troops employed on this service, I am convinced that if an opportunity had offered, they would have equally distinguished themselves with those at Niagara.

Head-Quarters, Quebec, January

My Lord, 12, 1814.

I HAVE great satisfaction in transmitting herewith to your Lordship, the copy of a letter I have just received from Lieutenant-General Drummond, containing a report of a successful attack made on the enemy's positions of Black Rock and Buffalo, by a brigade of His Majesty's troops under the command of Major-General Riall, on the 30th ult.

In this brilliant affair, as in that of the capture of Fort Niagara, the officers and men engaged have acquitted themselves with determined bravery, and are distinguished by their devotion to the service of His Majesty, under various hardships and privations. Eight pieces of ordnance, and one hundred and thirty prisoners have fallen into our possession; and the towns of Black Rock and Buffalo have been totally destroyed, the inhabitants having previously abandoned those places.

Four of the enemy's armed sloops and schooners have also been burnt. I beg your Lordship's indulgence in submitting to the gracious consideration of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, the officers who are particularly mentioned by the Lieutenant-General, as having acted with great gallantry upon this occasion.

Captain Robinson, who commanded the King's regiment after Lieutenant-Colonel Ogilvie was disabled, and to whose judicious and prompt execution of a flank movement, much merit and great advantage have been ascribed; Captain Fawcett, of the 100th regiment, who was wounded; Captain Jervoise Aid-de-Camp to Lieutenant-General Drummond, and Captain Holland Aid-de-Camp to Major-General Riall, appear to have been very forward in a zealous performance of their respective duties, and present themselves as objects entitled to my commendation.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Niagara Frontier, near Fort Erie,

2d January, 1814.

SIR,

HAVING pushed forward the troops as nearly opposite the head of Grand Island as I could, without discovering them to the enemy, I moved my head-quarters to Chippawa on the 28th, and on the following day to within two miles of Fort Erie, when, having reconnoitred the enemy's position at Black Rock, I determined to attack him that night. The boats were accordingly moved up from Chippawa Creek on the evening of the 29th, and Major-General Riall proceeded to execute the instructions with which I had previously furnished him. As soon as the troops destined under the immediate direction of Major-General Riall to advance upon Black Rock from below, had been passed across the river, the boats were tracked up as high as the foot of the Rapids, immediately below Fort Erie. In doing this, which cost much time and labour, it was necessary to observe considerable caution, and the greatest silence, as the river there narrows very much, and the point in particular to which the boats were brought, and from whence the troops were to embark, was immediately under the point blank fire of the enemy's heaviest batteries.

Owing to the boats having been brought in the dark to a part of the beach which was shoal and full of rocks, and on which they had grounded before any thing was ready for pushing off, the day appeared, and at the same moment the attack on the enemy's out-posts was commenced by the troops under Major-General Riall.

By the uncommon exertion of all, the boats were got off, and the Royals, after being exposed to a galling fire of musketry, in their passage across, (notwithstanding the well directed fire of five field pieces, with which I had directed the old batteries to be occupied) reached the opposite shore in time to co-operate with the troops under Major-General Riall, in the defeat of the enemy. I beg to refer your Excellency to the Major-General's report for a detailed account of the operations of the troops, of whose gallantry and exertion he speaks in terms of the highest praise.

To the Major-General himself I feel greatly indebted for the very gallant and able manner in which he has executed the service with which I have entrusted him. Of the conduct of the officers and troops too much cannot be said.

The patience and fortitude with which they have borne the privation of almost every comfort, and the severity of a most rigorous climate at this advanced season of the year, reflects the highest credit on all. Nothing, in fact, can more strongly evince their anxious desire to meet the enemy. Their conduct when he was met, the result of the action, as well as the report of the gallant officer by whom they were led, sufficiently prove.

The conduct of Captain Robinson, of the King's regiment, and of Captain Holland, Aide-de-Camp to Major-General Riall, were particularly conspicuous; and I beg leave to recommend these officers to the favourable notice of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent.

All the objects proposed in my letter of the 27th ult., and in fact all that are at this moment attainable, having thus been completely accomplished, by the destruction of the whole of the cover on the opposite frontier, and by the infliction of a severe retaliation for the burning of the town of Niagara, the justice of which the enemy himself most fully admits, the troops have been placed in cantonments along the frontier, in the manner which appears to me best calculated to insure its security, and their comfort and repose.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Harvey, Deputy Adjutant-General, I am much indebted, for the able assistance he has afforded me through this arduous service. The exertions of Captain Elliott, Deputy-Assistant Quarter-Master-General, in directing the preparations of the boats, and in assisting at the embarkation of the troops, were unremitted.

To Captain Bridge, Lieutenants Armstrong and Charlton, of the Royal Artillery, and Captain Cameron, of the militia artillery, whose zeal and exertions in transporting the heavy ordnance were very conspicuous, great praise is due.

Lieutenant-Colonel Baby, Assistant Quarter-Master-General of Militia, and Major Simons of the incorporated militia, were useful and indefatigable in embarking the troops.

Lieutenants Putman, Davis, and Anderson, and several other officers of the militia, very handsomely volunteered in piloting the boats across the river, a service of considerable difficulty and importance, owing to the great rapidity of the current.

I beg leave also to mention the great assistance I received from the officers of my personal staff.

This dispatch will be delivered to you by Captain Jervoise, my Aid-de-Camp, who was in the action, and particularly distinguished himself. I beg to recommend him to the favourable notice of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; he is perfectly qualified to give your Excellency every further information you may require.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Excellency Sir George Prevost, &c. &c. &c.

Niagara Frontier, Fort Erie,
January 1, 1814.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that agreeably to the instructions contained in your letter of the 29th ultimo, and your general order of that day, to pass the River Niagara, for the purpose of attacking the enemy's force, collected at Black Rock and Buffalo; and carrying into execution the other objects therein mentioned, I crossed the river in the following night, with four companies of the King's regiment, and the light company of the 89th, under Lieutenant-Colonel Ogilvy; two hundred and fifty men of the 41st regiment, and the grenadiers of the 100th, under Major Frend; together with about fifty militia volunteers and a body of Indian warriors. The troops completed their landing about twelve of the clock, nearly two miles below Black Rock; the light infantry of the 89th being in advance, surprised and captured the greater part of a picket of the enemy, and secured the bridge over the Congrichity Creek, the boards of which had been loosened, and were ready to be carried off had there been time given for it.

I immediately established the 41st and 100th grenadiers, in position beyond the bridge, for the purpose of perfectly securing its passage: the enemy made some attempts during the night upon this advanced position, but were repulsed with loss.

* Royals 370; King's reg. 240; 41st foot, 250; 89th foot, (light infantry) 55; 100th foot, (grenadiers) 50; militia, 50; Indians, 400.

At daybreak I moved forward, the King's regiment and light company of the 89th leading, the 41st and grenadiers of the 100th being in reserve. The enemy had by this time opened a very heavy fire of cannon and musketry on the Royal Scots, under Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, who were destined to land above Black Rock, for the purpose of turning his position, while he should be attacked in front by the troops who landed below: several of the boats having grounded, I am sorry to say this regiment suffered some loss, and was not able to effect its landing in sufficient time to fully accomplish the object intended, though covered by the whole of our field-guns, under Captain Bridge, which were placed on the opposite bank of the river.

The King's and 89th having in the mean time gained the town, commenced a very spirited attack upon the enemy, who were in great force, and very strongly posted. The reserve being arrived on the ground, the whole were shortly engaged. The enemy maintained his position with very considerable obstinacy for some time; but such was the spirited and determined advance of our troops, that he was at length compelled to give way, was driven through his batteries, in which were a twenty-four-pounder, three twelve-pounders, and one nine-pounder, and pursued to the town of Buffalo, about two miles distant; he here shewed a large body of infantry and cavalry, and attempted to oppose our advance by the fire of a field-piece, posted on a height, which commanded the road; but finding this ineffectual, he fled in all directions, and betaking himself to the woods, further pursuit was useless. He left behind him one six-pounder brass field-piece, and one iron eighteen, and one iron six-pounder, which fell into our hands.

I then proceeded to execute the ulterior object of the expedition, and detached Captain Robinson, of the King's, with two companies, to destroy the two schooners and sloop (part of the enemy's lake squadron) that were on shore a little below the town, with the stores they had on board, which he effectually completed.

The town itself (the inhabitants having previously left it) and the whole of the public stores, containing considerable quantities of clothing, spirits, and flour, which I had not the means of conveying away, were then set on fire, and totally consumed; as was also the village of Black Rock, on the evening it was evacuated. In obedience to your further instructions, I have directed Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon to move down the river to Fort Niagara, with a party of the 19th Light Dragoons, under Major Lisle, a detachment of the Royal Scots, and the 89th light company, and destroy the remaining cover of the enemy upon his frontier, which he has reported to have been effectually done.

From every account I have been able to collect, the enemy's force opposed to us was not less than from two thousand to two thousand five hundred men; their loss in killed and wounded I should judge from three to four hundred; but from the nature of the country, being mostly covered with wood, it is difficult to ascertain it precisely: the same reason will account for our not having been able to make a greater number of prisoners than one hundred and thirty.

I have great satisfaction in stating to you the good conduct of the whole of the regular troops and volunteer militia; but I must particularly mention the steadiness and bravery of the King's regiment and 89th light infantry. They were most gallantly led to the attack by Lieutenant-Colonel Ogilvy, of the King's, who I am sorry to say received a severe wound, which will for a time deprive the service of a very brave and intelligent officer. After Lieutenant-Colonel Ogilvy was wounded, the command of the regiment devolved on Captain Robinson, who, by a very judicious movement to his right, with the three battalion companies, made a considerable impression on the left of the enemy's position.

I have every reason to be satisfied with Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, in the command of the Royal Scots, and have much to regret that the accidental grounding of his boats deprived me of the full benefit of his service; and I have also to mention my approbation of the conduct of Major Friend, commanding the 41st, as well as of that of Captain Fawcett of the 100th grenadiers, who was unfortunately wounded. Captain Barden, of the 89th, and Captain Brunter of the King's light infantry companies, conducted themselves in the most exemplary manner. Lieutenant-Colonel Elliott in this, as well as on other occasions, is entitled to my highest commendations for his zeal and activity as superintendent of the Indian Department; and I am happy to add, that through his exertions, and that of his officers, no act of cruelty, as far as I could learn, was committed by the Indians towards any of their prisoners.

I cannot close this report without mentioning, in terms of the warmest praise, the good conduct of my Aide-de-Camp, Captain Holland, from whom I received the most able assistance throughout the whole of these operations. Nor can I omit mentioning my obligations to you for acceding to the request of your Aide-de-Camp, Captain Jervoise, to accompany me. He was extremely active and zealous, and rendered me very essential service.

I inclose a report of the killed, wounded, and missing, and of the ordnance captured at Black Rock and Buffalo.

I have the honour to be, &c.

SIR,

Lewiston, December 19, 1813.

ACCORDING to your instructions I crossed the river this morning, immediately after the advance, under Colonel Murray, had passed over with the Royal Scots and 41st regiments, accompanied by a large body of Indians, and marched upon Lewiston, which the enemy had, however, abandoned upon our approach, leaving behind him a twelve and six-pounder gun, with travelling carriages, and every thing complete. I found in the place a considerable number of small arms, some ammunition, nine barrels of powder, and also a quantity of flour, amounting, I believe, to two hundred barrels.

I regret the troops had not the opportunity of coming in contact with the enemy, as I am convinced they would have acquired your fullest approbation.

COPIES of three letters received at this office, from Rear-Admiral Durham, Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's ships and vessels at the Leeward Islands, addressed to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

SIR, Venerable, at Sea, Dec. 31, 1813.

I HAVE to acquaint you, for their Lordships information, that in the execution of my orders, the Venerable this day captured the French letter of marque brig Le Jason, of two hundred and sixty-four tons, pierced for twenty-two guns, but mounting only fourteen, twelve of which had been thrown overboard in the chase. She left Bourdeaux five days since, bound for New York, with a cargo composed of silks, wines, and other articles of merchandise: sixty-four persons were found on board, ten of whom are passengers; this is the first time of her having been at sea. She is a fine new vessel, copper-bottomed, and sails so well that I take her under protection to Barbadoes, for adjudication.

I have the honour to be, &c.

P. C. DURHAM, Rear-Admiral.

J. W. Croker, Esq.

SIR, Venerable, at Sea, Jan. 16, 1814.

I HAVE the satisfaction of stating, that this day, at nine, A.M. the Cyane made the signal for two strangers in the north-east, which were immediately given chase to, and owing to the very superior sailing of the Venerable, I was enabled to come up within gun-shot of them at the close of the day, leaving the Cyane far astern. On ranging up with the leewardmost, (the night was too dark to distinguish her colours) desirous of saving her the consequences of so unequal a contest, I hailed her twice to surrender, but the evasive answer returned, obliged me to order the guns to be opened, as they would bear; upon this the enemy immediately put his helm up, and, under all sail, laid us on board, for which temerity he has suffered most severely.

The promptitude with which Captain Worth repelled the attempt to board, was not less conspicuous than the celerity with which he passed his men into the enemy's frigate, and hauled down her ensign. I have much pleasure in naming the petty officers who distinguished themselves on this occasion, Messrs. Maltman, Walker, and Kuevill, master's mates, and Mr. Grèy, midshipman.

This ship proves to be the Alcmene, a beautiful French frigate of forty-four guns, having a complement, at the commencement of the action, of three hundred and nineteen men, commanded by Captain Ducrest de Villeneuve, an officer of much merit, and who was wounded at the time of boarding.

To his determined resistance, aided by the darkness of the night, the other frigate for the present gives her escape, but I have every hope that the Cyane will be enabled to observe her until I have shifted the prisoners, and repaired the trifling injury done to the rigging, during the period of the enemy being on board.

Our loss consists of two seamen killed and four wounded; that of the enemy two petty officers and thirty seamen killed, and fifty wounded.

Lieutenant George Luce, whom I have placed in the frigate, is an old and very deserving officer, who has served twenty years under my command.

I have, &c.

P. C. DURHAM, Rear-Admiral.

J. W. Croker, Esq.

SIR, Venerable, at Sea, Jan. 20, 1814.

IT affords me much pleasure to communicate to you, for their Lordships information, the capture of the French frigate that escaped on Sunday night.

The vigilance of Captain Forrest enabled him to keep sight of her during the night, and two following days, when, having run one hundred and fifty-three miles, in the direction I judged the enemy had taken, the Venerable's superior sailing gave me the opportunity of again discovering the fugitive, and, after an anxious chase of nineteen hours, to come up with and capture.

She is named the Iphigènia, a frigate of the largest class, commanded by Captain Emerie, having a complement of three hundred and twenty-five men, and, like her consort the Alcmene, perfectly new.

Every means to effect her escape were resorted to, the anchors being cut away, and her boats thrown overboard.

On our coming up we had run the Cyane out of sight from the mast-head.

These frigates sailed in company from Cherbouurg on the 20th October last, and were to cruise for six months.

It becomes me now to notice the very meritorious conduct of Captain Forrest, not only in assiduously keeping sight, but repeatedly offering battle to a force so superior; nor less deserving of my warmest approbation is Captain Worth of this ship, whose indefatigable attention during the many manoeuvres attempted by the enemy in this long and arduous chase, was equalled only by the exemplary behaviour of every officer and man under his command.

I have the honour to be, &c.
