

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1814.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of this United Kingdom.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and affectionate subjects, the Clergy, Gentry, Merchants, and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Leeds, in the County of York, in public meeting this day assembled, beg leave again to address your Royal Highness, in terms of congratulation, on the happy close of the long and awful struggle for the maintenance of our national independence, and the recovery of the liberties of Europe.

We acknowledge, with humble gratitude, the goodness of the Almighty, who has preserved our land from revolution and anarchy, nor suffered the sword to go through it; who has inspired our rulers with the spirit of wisdom and counsel, our armies with valour and strength for the combat, our people with patience and perseverance, under the sufferings and privations attending a state of war, and who at length blesses us with the prospect of lasting prosperity, and of the permanent continuance of the relations of peace and amity, amongst nations too long disaffected by the iron hand of tyranny.

Our cordial thanks are due to your Royal Highness for the firmness and energy of those councils which have saved Britain, restored the Bourbons to the throne of their ancestors, and delivered Europe: Oh! be still the friend of the oppressed; plead the cause of the poor Africans with your august Allies; break their chains, that Africa's sons may also behold and rejoice in the day of liberty.

May the Almighty bless and comfort our beloved afflicted Sovereign; prosper His Royal House; preserve your Royal Highness, the defender of our holy Protestant Faith, and glorious Constitution, and grant your Royal Highness long to reign over a free, happy, and affectionate people.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

W. Greenwood, Mayor.

Leeds, May 6, 1814.

[Presented by Lord Milton and Mr. Lascelles.]

To His Royal Highness George Augustus Frederick Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bailiff, Justice, Aldermen, and Common Council of the ancient Borough of Kidderminster assembled, while we lament with your Royal Highness the continued indisposition of His Majesty, beg leave to congratulate your Royal Highness upon the signal victories of the Peninsular army, the revived state of the Continent, and the flattering prospect thereby afforded to Europe of permanent peace and increased prosperity.

Admiring as we do the spirit, wisdom, and skill displayed by the Allied Powers in conquering their independence, we feel proud, as Britons, in believing that that spirit has in a great measure been excited, and that vigour sustained, by the splendid achievements of a British army, and the wise and energetic measures which have characterised the councils of your Royal Highness.

And while we congratulate your Royal Highness upon the glorious events which have happened, we cannot but express our hope that the flame of patriotism, kindled by Great Britain, which has burst forth on the Continent and dissolved the chains of the common oppressor, may speedily extend its influence to that unhappy country which has so long been shackled by the fetters of tyranny, and conduct her into the paths of equity and peace.

It is likewise our fervent prayer, that your Royal Highness may live to witness these happy results, and long be preserved the ornament and protector of our excellent Constitution, and the promoter of peace, security, and rational liberty throughout the world.