SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1814.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, June 4, 1814.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Her Majesty will hold a Drawing-Room at the Queen's-Palace, on Thursday the 16th instant, at two o'clock.

The doors will be opened for the reception of the company at one o'clock.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 30th of May 1814.

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

IT is this day ordered by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that the prohibition, under the Order in Council of the twenty-first of January last, against the exportation of sheet copper, be, and the said prohibition is, hereby taken off. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Jas. Buller.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principals and Masters of the University of St. Andrew's, participating in the universal joy which pervades the nation, beg leave to offer our cordial congratulations on the present auspicious state of public affairs.

Recalling to our remembrance the portentous aspect of the fortunes of Europe, at the period when the sovereign power of this country was delegated to your Royal Highness, we cannot fail to be delighted with the contract between the days of perplexity which have passed away, and the dawn of better times now opening on the world. The energetic measures, originating in the councils of your Royal Highness, have exhibited Britain in the noble attitude of scattering blessings over other lands, redressing the violated rights of humanity, combating the despotism which desolated the fairest portions of the globe, and furnishing injured states, hitherto our rivals and our foes, with the means of surmounting their disasters and establishing their independence: and the blessing of Heaven has rewarded the firmness and magnanimity of your Royal Highness, the wisdom, ability and honour of your Government, and the spirit and perseverance of a generous people, by conducting those mighty and arduous enterprises to a termination, which the sagacity of the most enlightened statesmen could scarcely have ventured to anticipate.

Nor have we less reason to be grateful to your Royal Highness, for the choice of those illustrious commanders, who have so often led His Majesty's forces to triumph, and who, by their consummate skill and bravery, have not only unrolled the brightest pages in the annals of British glory, but by their animating example, awakened the energies of virtuous liberty in minds inured to bondage, and diffused the flame of patriotism over numerous territories, which for a season appeared to be doomed to hopeless degradation.

Having ever endeavoured to inculcate and exemplify those principles of attachment to our King, our laws, and our liberties, which we imbibed from our fathers, we have witnessed, with heartfelt satisfaction, the practical refutation of those revolutionary schemes, which, although promising to meliorate the condition of mankind, have, when weighed in the balance of experience, been found wanting; and it is with feelings of unspeakable exultation, that we see those pernicious systems, after various gradations of anarchy, misrule, and tyranny, yielding at last to a better order of things, and their former admirers doing homage at the shrine of our matchless Constitution, and wishing to adopt it as the best existing model of a government fitted to secure the freedom, the dignity, and the happiness of the subjects.

While we unite with the whole civilized world in giving thanks to the Almighty Ruler, for the re-establishment of hereditary thrones, the restoration of the ancient landmarks of kingdoms, and the auspicious commencement of peaceful times, we joyfully seize this occasion, to renew our assurances of unshaken loyalty to the venerable Monarch, who, during a long reign of unexampled difficulty, has ever been studiously alive to the improvement and happiness of his subjects, and who, we earnestly hope, will yet receive the fulfilment of his heart's desire, in beholding the confirmed tranquillity of Europe, and the increasing prosperity of the land which gave him birth.

Signed by our appointment, this 16th day of May 1814. James Playfair, Rector.

[Transmitted by Lord Melville, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Carlton-House, May 30, 1814.

This day the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of the King, was pleased to invest George Earl of Galloway with the ensigns of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle.

The Prince Regent having signed the several instruments for that purpose, which were presented to His Royal Highness on the 23d instant by Robert Quarrie, Esq. Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod, in the absence of the Secretary, the Earl of Galloway was called into the Royal Presence, being preceded by the Dukes of Atholl and Buccleuch, two of the Knights Brethren of the Order, and supported by the Duke of Gordon and the Earl Poulett, the two Senior Knights present. Upon entering into the Royal Presence, with the usual reverences, the Earl of Galloway was presented by the said two Senior Knights, and, kneeling down, His Lordship was knighted by the Prince Regent with the sword of state; the Earl having kissed His Royal Highness's hand, rose up, when the Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod administered the oath to His Lordship, then Green Rod kneeling, presented the ensigns of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion to the Prince Regent, who put the ribbon over the Earl's left shoulder; and His Lordship, having again had the honour of kissing His Royal Highness's hand, withdrew, in the same manner in which he had entered.

The ceremony was performed in His Royal Highness's closet, several of the Great Officers of State and of the Court being present.

Queen's-House, June 1, 1814.

This day Count St. Martin D'Agliè, Minister Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the King of Sardinia, Monsieur de Pfeffel, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the King of Bavaria, and Count de Beroldingen, General Major, Aide-de-Camp-General, Chamberlain, and Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the King of Wurtemberg, had their first private audiences of Her Majesty; to which they were respectively introduced by the Earl of Morton, Her Majesty's Lord Chamberlain, and conducted by Robert Chester, Esq. Assistant Master of the Ceremonies.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent having been pleased, by a warrant bearing date the 25th day of August 1812, to grant unto Arthur Marquess of Wellington, now Duke of Wellington, and Knight Companion of the Most Noble Order of the Garter, His Majesty's royal licence and authority that he and his descendants may bear, as a lasting memorial of his glorious and transcendent achievements, an honourable augmentation to the arms of Wellesley, that is to say, "in the dexter quarter an escocheon charged with the crosses of St. George, St. Andrew, and St. Patrick, being the union badge of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland;" and it being proper that the arms of COWLEY should be borne quarterly with those of WELLESLEY; and that the same should be so displayed upon the banner and engraven on the garter-plate of the said Duke, which, in pursuance of His Majesty's letters patent dispensing with the ceremonies of installation; His Royal Highness has commanded Garter Principal King of Arms to place in the Royal Chapel of St. George at Windsor; His Royal Highness has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, by another warrant bearing date the 24th day of May last, to grant unto the said Arthur Duke of Wellington, His Majesty's royal licence and authority that the said honourable augmentation, viz. an escocheon charged with the cross of Saint George, and the crosses saltires of Saint Andrew and Saint Patrick conjoined, being the union badge of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland without the Imperial Crown, may be borne by him and his descendants UPON THE FAMILY ARMS OF WELLESLEY AND COWLEY QUARTERLY, AND IN THE CHIEF POINT OF THE SHIELD; the same being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Heralds' Office:

And also to command, that the said royal concession and especial mark of His Majesty's royal favour be registered in His College of Arms.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent hath been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to give and grant unto James Lyon, Esq. Lieutenant-Colonel of our 97th (or Queen's Own) regiment of foot, and a Colonel in the Army, serving as a Major-General on the Continent of Europe, His Majesty's royal licence and permission, that he may accept and wear the insignia of a Knight of the Royal Swedish Military Order of the Sword, with which His Majesty the King of Sweden hath been pleased to honour him, in testimony of the high sense that ~~S~~ His Majesty entertains of his great merit and services; provided, nevertheless, that His Majesty's said ~~honour~~ permission doth not authorise, and shall also be deemed or construed to authorise, the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining unto a Knight Bachelor of these realms.

And His Royal Highness hath been further pleased to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered, together with the relative documents, in His Majesty's College of Arms.

JUSTICE

The Prince of Wales has been pleased to appoint Henry Boisragon, of Cheltenham, M. D. to be one of His Royal Highness's Physicians Extraordinary.
