GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS it has pleased Almighty God, in His great goodness, to put an end to the long, extended, and bloody warfare in which We were engaged against France and her Allies; We, therefore, adoring the Divine goodness, and duly considering, that the great and public blessings of

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of this United Kingdom.

The humble Address of the Keeper, Commissioners, and Society of Clerks to His Majesty's Signet in Scotland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Keeper, Commissioners, and Society of Clerks to His Majesty's Signet in Scotland, desire to unite with our fellow-subjects throughout the empire, in offering to your Royal Highness our cordial congratulations on occasion of those magnificent and unparalleled events, which, by the blessing of God, have terminated the calamities of Europe, and have opened a prospect of permanent repose, security, and happiness to the nations of the world.

We contemplate with peculiar delight, the large share in the general joy which belongs to our country. It has been her glorious lot to withstand, with unshaken constancy, the oppressor of mankind; and while many an ancient dynasty was overthrown, to preserve her throne and her altars from all the storms which have assailed them. It has been reserved for Britain to evince what may be achieved by genuine patriotism, and how vain must be every attempt to subdue a nation which knows how to prize liberty, and how to defend it.

The fortitude with which our countrymen have endured the sufferings and privations incident to so protracted and tremendous a contest, is scarcely less honourable to the national character, than the triumphs of our arms; and the example of Britain has taught the world how those calamities may be supported, which are inflicted by injustice and oppression, and which are endured for our country.

Of all these efforts and sacrifices we are now to reap the fruits. It was by the example of Britain that the nations of the Continent were at length animated to those exertions, which have been crowned by so glorious a result; and it is, under Providence, to Britain, that the grateful voice of every civilized nation now ascribes the deliverance of Europe. In their gratitude, we have the happiest assurance of the stability of that peace, which has been the end and aim of all our efforts.

We desire to offer to your Royal Highness the tribute of our most fervent thanks, for the wisdom and firmness with which your Royal Highness has conducted the late arduous contest to its close; and which have so happily combined, with the magnanimity and moderation of His Majesty's illustrious Allies, in producing the liberation of France, and the restitution of tranquillity throughout Europe.

That it may yet please the Father of Mercies to restore our beloved and revered Sovereign to His people, and that your Royal Highness may be long preserved to walk in His steps, and, like Him, to enjoy the most precious reward of a Sovereign's virtue, in the affections of a free, a grateful, and a loyal people, is our most earnest prayer.

Signed, in name and by appointment of a general meeting of the Society of Clerks to His Majesty's Signet in Scotland, held at Edinburgh this 27th day of May 1814, by Hugh Warrender, Deputy Keeper.

[Transmitted by Viscount Melville, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

NEW FOREST INCLOSURE.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for the increase and preservation of timber in the New Forest, in the county of Southampton," it was required that one thousand acres, part of the waste lands of the said forest, should be inclosed and kept in severalty for the growth and preservation of timber, for the supply of His Majesty's royal navy, forthwith after the passing of the said Act, and that in the year following one thousand acres more, part of the said waste lands, should be in like manner enclosed, and that two hundred acres more, part also of the said waste lands, should yearly and every year, for the term or space of twenty years from and after the time that the several enclosures of the two thousand acres above mentioned should be made and completed, be in like manner inclosed and kept in severalty as aforesaid, in the actual possession of the Crown, freed and discharged of and from all manner of right, title, and pretence whatever, and should be called, made, and kept as a nursery for wood and timber only: And whereas it was also directed by the said Act, that whensoever the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Lord High Treasurer of England, or Chancellor of the Exchequer, for the time being, should be satisfied and should determine that the woods and trees which should be growing on the said two thousand acres, or any part thereof, or within the enclosures which should afterwards be made as aforesaid, were become past danger of browsing of deer cattle or other prejudice, and should think fit to lay the same, or any part thereof, open and in common, and should cause the same so to be done, that then and so often it should and might be lawful to and for His Majesty, His heirs and successors, from time to time, to inclose out of the said forest, in lieu of so much as should be so laid open of the said two thousand acres, or of the said number of acres authorized to be inclosed as aforesaid, the like quantity out of any other part of the residue of the said wastes to be hollen, inclosed, freed and discharged of and from all manner of common herbage and pannage, or other rights, for so long time as the same should remain and continue inclosed and to be a nursery for timber as aforesaid, instead of as much as should be laid open as aforesaid: And whereas certain enclosures called and known by the names of Furzy Lawn Enclosure, Wilverley Enclosure, Rhinifield Sandy Enclosure, Aldridge Hill Enclosure, Ocknell Enclosure, Pitt's Enclosure, Slodon Enclosure, Ravens Nest Enclosure, Coppice of Linwood Enclosure, and Long Beech Enclosure, were at different times made within the wastes of the said forest, under and by virtue of commissions issued to John Pitt, Esq. Surveyor-General of His Majesty's Woods and Forests, and others, to the extent in the whole of two thousand and forty-four acres, or thereabouts: And whereas by an Act passed in the forty-eighth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the increase and preservation of timber in Dean and New Forests," it was enacted, that the said several above mentioned enclosures should respectively be deemed and taken, and the same were thereby declared, to have been duly and legally made under the said Act of the ninth and tenth of William the Third, and it was thereby further enacted, that all such parts of the said enclosures, as should have any timber growing thereon fit to be preserved, or which should be deemed fit for the growth of timber, and which were not then inclosed, might and should be inclosed for the growth and preservation of such timber under the provisions of the said Acts of the ninth and tenth of William the third and forty-eighth of George the Third, and that all such enclosures then remaining, or which should be so made after the passing of the said last mentioned Act, should be held to be effectually inclosed and severed from the waste, and to be vested in His Majesty for the purposes in the said Act specified, freed and discharged from all rights of common and other right directed to be extinguished in enclosures during the period of the same remaining so inclosed for the preservation of the timber thereof, according to the true intent and meaning of the said recited Acts: And whereas it has been represented to the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, upon the certificate of Robert Turner, Deputy Surveyor of the said Forest; John Mumford, Purveyor of the Navy Board; Richard Nightingale, junior, Deputy Woodward; and Joseph Mortimer, Richard Nightingale, senior, John Aug. Newell, and John Roblin, Regardsers of the said Forest, that the woods and trees growing on four of the said enclosures, called and known by the names of Ocknell Enclosure, Pitts Enclosure, Long Beech Enclosure, and Slodon Enclosure, containing together the quantity of seven hundred and sixty-five acres, or thereabouts, part of the said above mentioned two thousand and forty-four acres, are become past danger from browsing of deer or cattle or other prejudice; we, three of the said Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, being satisfied that whatever woods and trees are growing and being within and upon the said abovenamed enclosures, consisting together of seven hundred and sixty-five acres, or thereabouts, as aforesaid, are become past danger from the browsing of deer, cattle, or other prejudice, think fit to lay the same open and in common; and we do hereby declare and make known, that the said enclosures are laid open and in common accordingly, to the intent that an equal quantity of other lands, part of the waste of the said forest, may be inclosed in lieu thereof, pursuant to the directions and provisions of the said Acts of the ninth and tenth of William the Third, and forty-eighth of His present Majesty; and for the purposes therein mentioned.

Given under our hands, at the Treasury-Chambers, Whitehall, this 8th day of December 1813,
