A PROCLAMATION,

For recalling and prohibiting His Majesty's natural-born Subjects from serving in the Sea or Land Forces of the United States of America.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS by the ancient law of this realm, founded upon the principles of general law, the natural-born subjects of His Majesty cannot, either by swearing allegiance to other Princes or States, or by any other their own acts, or by the acts of any foreign Princes or States, either alone or concurring with their own, discharge themselves, or be discharged, from the natural allegiance which, from their birth, they owe to His Majesty, His heirs and successors, which natural allegiance being antecedent and paramount to any other claim of allegiance whatsoever, cannot, by these or any other such acts, be withdrawn or cancelled: And whereas it hath been represented to Us, that divers of the natural-born subjects of His Majesty have accepted letters of naturalization, or certificates of citizenship, from the United States of America, and have sworn allegiance to the said States, and professed to renounce the natural allegiance which they owe, and must continue to owe, to His Majesty, His heirs and successors, and have, in violation of such natural allegiance, engaged by sea and land, in hostile and traitorous acts against His Majesty: And whereas some of the said natural-born subjects of His Majesty may have been induced so to act, from an erroneous persuasion and belief, which they may have been led to entertain, that their duty of natural allegiance was capable of being dissolved or withdrawn from His Majesty, His heirs and successors; We have, therefore, thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to issue this Proclamation, hereby warning all the natural-born subjects of His Majesty, that the natural allegiance which they owe, and of right ought to bear and pay, to His Majesty, His heirs and successors, cannot, either by their own acts, or by the acts of any foreign Princes or States, either alone, or concurrent with their own, be dissolved or withdrawn from His Majesty, His heirs or successors: And We have further thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice aforesaid, in consideration that some of the said natural-born subjects of His Majesty, may, through delusion or error, have so acted as aforesaid, by this Proclamation to publish and declare, that all such the said natural-born subjects of His Majesty who, having so acted, shall, within four months from the date hereof, withdraw themselves from the service of the said United States, shall receive His Majesty's free and gracious pardon: And We do, moreover, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice aforesaid, hereby also publish and declare, that all natural-born subjects of His Majesty who shall hereafter voluntarily enter, or, having entered, shall voluntarily continue to serve in the land forces, or on board any of the ships or vessels of war, of the said United States of America, or in the private ships or vessels of war belonging to the citizens of the said States at enmity with His Majesty, being thereby guilty of high treason, shall be punished with the utmost severity of the law.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twenty-third day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, in the fifty-fourth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 23d. of July 1814,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the twenty-first day of January last, for prohibiting the exportation out of this kingdom, or carrying coastwise, gunpowder or salt petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, will expire on the eighth day of August next; and whereas it is judged expedient for His Majesty's service, and the safety of this kingdom, that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months, to commence from the eighth day of August next, presume to transport into any parts out of this kingdom, or carry coastwise, any gunpowder or salt petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any parts beyond the seas, or carrying the same coastwise, without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition:" But it is His Royal Highness's pleasure, that nothing in this Order contained shall prevent the exportation of any of the articles, specified in the Order in Council of the twentieth of May one thousand eight hundred and thirteen. WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the twenty-first day of January last, prohibiting, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, the transporting into any parts out of this kingdom of any pig iron, bar iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, cables, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sheet copper, or other naval stores, will expire upon the eighth day of August next; and whereas it is judged expedient for His Majesty's service, and the safety of this kingdom, that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer, except as to the article of sheet copper; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth therefore hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whosoever do, at any time for the space of six months from the said eighth day of August next, presume to transport into any parts out of this kingdom, any pig iron, bar iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, cables, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sailcloth or canvas, or other naval stores (sheet copper excepted), or do ship or lade any pig iron, bar iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, cables, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sailcloth or canvas, or other naval stores (sheet copper excepted), on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any parts beyond the seas, without leave or permission first being had and obtained from His Majesty or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring the forfeitures inflicted by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council;" But it is nevertheless His Royal Highness's pleasure, that nothing herein contained shall extend, or be construed to extend, to any of His Majesty's ships of war, or any other ships or vessels or boats in the service of His Majesty, or employed or freighted by His Majesty's Board of Ordnance, or by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy; nor to prevent any ship or vessel from taking or having on board such quantities of naval stores as may be necessary for the use of such ship or vessel during the course of her intended voyage, or by licence from the Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, or the Commissioners of the Admiralty for the time being; nor to the exportation of the said several articles to Ireland, or to His Majesty's yards or garrisons, or to His Majesty's colonies and plantations in America or the West Indies, or to Newfoundland, or to His Majesty's forts and settlements on the coast of Africa, or to the island of Saint Helena, or to the British settlements or factories in the East Indies; provided that, upon the exportation of any of the said articles for the purposes of trade to Ireland, or to His Majesty's yards and garrisons, or to His Majesty's colonies and plantations in America or the West Indies, or to the island of Newfoundland, or to His Majesty's forts and settlements on the coast of Africa, or to the island of Saint Helena, or to the British settlements or factories in the East Indies, the exporters of such articles do first make oath of the true destination of the same to the places for which they shall be entered outwards, before the entry of the same shall be made, and do give full and sufficient security by bond (except as hereinafter excepted), to the satisfaction of the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs, to carry the said articles to the places for which they are so entered outwards, and for the purposes specified, and none other; and such bond shall not be cancelled or delivered up, until proof be made to the satisfaction of the said Commissioners, by the production, within a time to be fixed by the said Commissioners and specified in the bond; of a certificate or certificates, in such form and manner as shall be directed by the said Commissioners, shewing that the said articles have been all duly landed at the places for which they were entered outwards. But it is His Royal Highness's pleasure, nevertheless, that the following articles, viz. bar iron, white and tairred rope, yellow or mill grease; tarpaulins for waggon covers, pitch, tar, and turpentine, shall be permitted to be exported, upon payment of the proper duties; without bond being entered into by the merchant exporter, to any of the British plantations in the West Indies, or to any of His Majesty's settlements in South America; provided the merchant exporter shall first verify, upon oath, that the articles so exported are intended for the use of a particular plantation or settlement, to be named in the entry outwards, and not for sale, and that the said plantation or settlement has not before been furnished with any supply of the said articles during the same season; and provided also that the exportation of the said articles shall in no case exceed the value of fifty pounds sterling for any given plantation or settlement, whether by one or more shipments, within the same season: and the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain. Chetwynd.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 30th of May 1814,

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 10th of August 1814,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

THIS day the Right Honourable William Stuges Bourne was, by command of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT of the United Empire of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Parish of Kirkcubright, in the County of Cumberland, with the most heartfelt pleasure and satisfaction congratulate your Royal Highness upon the event of the greatest of all blessing upon earth, the restoration of peace—a blessing which has been brought about principally by the wisdom and vigour of your Royal Highness's councils, by the intrepidity and bravery of your Generals, and by the exertions and persevering energy and fortitude of the whole nation.

But cheering as this prospect of a lasting and permanent tranquillity may appear to the reflecting mind, we have deeply to regret and deplore that part of the recent treaty with France, wherein no provision is made for the immediate abolition of the slave trade—a trade repugnant to every principle of religion, humanity, and of morality itself. And we cannot indeed suppress our fears, that the abolition, promised in the treaty stipulated, after the expiration of five years, will have to encounter most formidable obstacles, when that period shall have elapsed.

While we, Sire, your very loyal and dutiful subjects, express our sentiments, and which we believe to be the sentiments of the whole nation, on a subject that most nearly concerns the whole human race, may we be permitted to express to our Sovereign our firm and decided persuasion, that the exercise of peace will be still wanting, while every principle of humanity and justice is violated, so abhorrent to every pious every Christian feeling, against the innocent and unoffending millions of Africa.

We, therefore, do, with the most profound respect, and at the same time most earnestly beseech and implore your Royal Highness, to give instructions to your Minister, vested with full power, that he will use every exertion, in concert with the other stipulating Powers, at the approaching Congress at Vienna, to prevail upon France to give up that part of the treaty respecting the slave trade. But should he fail to effect the immediate abolition of such a horrid unchristian traffic—a traffic in human blood—a traffic abhorrent to that great Divine precept, that righteousness exalteth a nation, our prayer is, that it may be for the shortest possible period.

We have also further to implore, that in any future treaty or treaties, which your Royal Highness may have with any Power that carries on the slave trade, that you will use every effort for its entire and total abolition.

We most fervently pray that your Royal Highness's throne may be exalted in righteousness; that you may at all times be a terror to evil doers, and a rewarder of those that do well.—Dated this 28th day of July 1814.

[Transmitted by Henry Fawcett, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the County Palatine of Chester, beg to congratulate your Royal Highness upon the glorious termination of the war, and on the establishment of a safe and honourable peace. We have beheld with admiration the undaunted exertions of your Allies, and their moderation in victory. We pride ourselves, as Britons, on the splendid series of successful achievements which have raised the naval and military character of this nation to an unrivalled eminence, and have reflected so much credit on His Majesty's Ministers. But we cannot avoid lamenting that these same events, productive of such happy results in Europe, should have the effect of exposing millions of our fellow creatures in another quarter of the world to the unspeakable horrors of the slave trade. We had fondly persuaded ourselves, that the example and exertions of this country, seconded by the intrinsic merits of the cause, would have accomplished the abolition of that impious traffic for ever. It was our hope that France would have been eager to testify a pious gratitude for the late signal interposition of Providence, by allowing our unhappy brethren in Africa to rejoice in the general deliverance. We pretend not however to dictate to other nations what should be their rules of religion, morality, or justice, but we implore your Royal Highness to direct your Minister, at the ensuing Congress, to continue to be a fervent and zealous representative of the universal feeling of this country upon the subject, and by any possible sacrifices to rescue the civilized world from the guilt and infamy of a practice, which is disgraceful to man, and offensive to God, and which our laws have justly classed with the crimes of robbery and murder.

On behalf of the Meeting,

John Baskerville Glegg, Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Corporation, and Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Maldon, now assembled, humbly approach your Royal Highness with sincere congratulations on the re-establishment of peace with France.

When we reflect upon the series of years in which Europe has been afflicted with devastation and bloodshed, and during which period anarchy and injustice dreadfully triumphed, we contemplate the downfall of that gigantic tyranny which had thus oppressed so many nations, with adoring gratitude to Divine Providence, and with hearts deeply impressed with a sense of obligation to your Royal Highness.

We shall ever gratefully cherish in our recollection those exalted characters who, by their great abilities, unshaken constancy, and undaunted valour, exerted on most eventful and critical occasions, during the past arduous conflict, did, under the continued and energetic measures of your beloved and revered royal father, and preserved in by your Royal Highness, contribute to raise this nation to its present universally acknowledged state of eminence and glory; and did, by the joint efforts of our illustrious Allies, finally accomplish the blessings of peace to these kingdoms, and order, repose and security to the suffering nations of Europe.

And though in this brilliant and happy era we cannot but confess that we have seen with the deepest concern that the French government have not acceded to the immediate abolition of the slave trade (which traffic we view with horror and detestation), we have nevertheless the fullest confidence, that your Royal Highness will, in conjunction with our Allies, cause the best exertions to be made at the ensuing congress to effect this most important object.

We beg leave to take this opportunity of repeating our sentiments of sincere attachment to your royal father and to your Royal Highness, which we have upon former occasions so truly and sincerely professed.

Given under the seal of the Incorporation of the said Borough, and signed by the Chairman, at the request and on behalf of the Inhabitants, this 25th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1814, Charles Matthew, Chairman.

[Transmitted by Colonel Strutt and Benjamin Gaskell, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Leicester, in Common Hall assembled, presume to approach your Royal Highness with our heartfelt congratulations upon the attainment of a glorious and an honourable peace.

We have been content to bear with cheerfulness the burthens which a long and necessary war has imposed upon us, and we rejoice in its termination, because it has led to the establishment of those principles of legitimacy and subordination, which we trust, under Divine Providence, will restore afflicted Europe from the miseries of anarchy and despotism, and restore it to the blessings of a permanent and a prosperous peace. We are proud of the heroic and persevering exertions of this country, under your Royal Highness's government, exertions which have gained for your Royal Highness and the country the admiration and the gratitude of so many nations. We have much to admire in the wisdom of your Royal Highness's councils—in the pre-eminent excellence of your great Commanders, and in the undaunted courage and bravery of your fleets and armies, but, above all, moderation in victory forms a most noble trait in the conclusion of this great struggle.

We fervently pray that its fruit may be permanent peace to the world, and that your Royal Highness may reap the rich reward of a long and prosperous reign over a happy and united people.

Signed, by the unanimous order of a Common Hall, Tho. Burbidge, Town Clerk.

The Humble Address of the County of Flint.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the County of Flint, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with our heartfelt congratulations on the glorious and happy Peace which has been obtained under the auspicious councils of your Royal Highness.

While we acknowledge, in this instance especially, as in all the affairs of the world, the superintending hand of Almighty God, and acknowledge, with all humility and gratitude, the signal mercies which have been vouchsafed to this nation, and to the suffering nations of Europe, in the restoration of the blessings of peace, and the hopes of its permanency, we feel that our grateful thanks are due, at the same time, to your Royal Highness, for that steady perseverance in those principles of resistance to French aggression and domination, which, after above twenty years continuance, has been crowned by the deliverance of Spain and Portugal; and which, having set a great example to the nations of Europe, has, by cementing a grand alliance, unequalled in the history of the world in magnanimity, exertion and forbearance, at length been permitted to achieve that blessing of secure peace, towards which the Councils of our revered Sovereign were continually directed.

Never can we forget how highly we are indebted to the exertions of our gallant Navy, from the commencement of the arduous contest, as we cannot but feel aware, not only how essential its complete triumphs were to our internal prosperity, but likewise how necessary to enable our gallant Armies to go forth under their illustrious General, the great Captain of the age, to aspire to that proud pre-eminence of glory which they have reached.

Lastly, we cannot forbear to express our anxious hopes and prayers, that it may please God to continue such wisdom and prosperity to your Royal Highness's Councils, that the blessings obtained by such unexampled sacrifices of blood and treasure as we have made, may be most extensively and permanently enjoyed by all His Majesty's subjects, and that all hearts may be united in attachment to a Constitution which has been so principally instrumental in enabling this nation to contribute so supereminently as it has done, to the re-establishment of the independence of the nations of Europe, and the blessings of a permanent peace. Roger Ellis, Sheriff.

The Chancellor, then, by the command of the Prince Regent, declared to the Chapter that His Most Catholic Majesty Ferdinand the Seventh, King of Spain, had been elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

The Chancellor, thereupon, signified to the Chapter His Royal Highness's pleasure, in the name and on the behalf of the Sovereign, that a lineal descendant of the late Sovereign, King George the Second, may be, in virtue of the statute in that behalf, elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order.

The suffrages being collected by the Chancellor and by him presented to the Sovereign, his Lordship was commanded to declare, and did accordingly declare, that William Frederick Prince of Orange and Nassau, Prince Sovereign of the Netherlands, had been duly elected a Knight of the said Most Noble Order.

THE following Letter, from the Adjutant-General of the Forces in Bengal to the Secretary of the Supreme Government, with its inclosures, has been received by the Secret Committee of the East India Company, from His Excellency the Governor General in Council, in a dispatch, dated Fort William, the 8th February 1814.

To John Adam, Esq. Secretary to Government.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour, by direction of the Right Honourable the Commander in Chief, to transmit to you, in order to be laid before the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council, the inclosed copy of a dispatch, received from Lieutenant-Colonel Adams, commanding the troops in Rewah, under date the 5th instant, detailing the successful result of a very gallant and well planned attack on the Ghurree of Entouree, on the 4th instant, and accompanied by a return of the killed and wounded.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) G. H. FAGAN, Adj. Gen.

Adjutant-General's Office, Presidency of Fort William, 16 Dec. 1813.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Fagan, Adjutant General, Head-Quarters.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of His Excellency the Commander of the Forces, that having resolved to attempt to invest, and ultimately attack Surnaid Sing and his troops in the Ghurree of Entouree, I now proceed to detail the successful result of that enterprize.

I detached to Entouree, a distance of ten miles, at midnight on the 3d inst. the whole of the outline picquets, amounting to forty cavalry and three hundred and sixty infantry, under the command of Capt. Patrickson, 1st battalion 5th regiment Native Infantry, to effect this object, and followed myself, with the undermentioned details, at four A. M. the next morning, viz. horse artillery six-pounder brigade, under Captain Stark: division 5th regiment Native cavalry, under Major Clark; battering guns, two eighteen-pounders, with 100 rounds per gun; pioneer company; four light infantry companies, under Captain Lindsay; two grenadier companies from the 2d battalion 2d regiment, and 1st battalion 9th regiment Native Infantry.

I arrived at Entouree about eight, A. M. and found Captain Patrickson had completely succeeded in his enterprize, and occupied such judicious positions as precluded the possibility of the escape of Surnaid Sing and his troops. In conjunction with Captain Tickell, Field Engineer, I reconnoitred the Ghurree on every side, an object difficult to effect, the place being enveloped in smoke. Surnaid Sing, on retiring into his Ghurree, having set the whole of the villages around it on fire. Captain Tickell, as well as myself, was from this reconnoitre, induced to determine on making the breach, and assaulting the Ghurree, on the north east bastion, with the screens previously prepared. A battery was instantly erected for two eighteen-pounders, at the distance of three hundred and fifty yards from the fort, and the guns opened at twelve o'clock. Until this period the enemy had been making every preparation for resistance, by destroying choppers, felling trees, &c. but had offered no opposition to our work. When the guns opened, an irregular fire of matchlocks was commenced and continued, but with little effect, during the whole of the day.

As the walls of the Ghurree appeared of considerable strength, I took the precaution of sending to our camp at Suthence for an additional hundred rounds of shot; these arrived in sufficient time to enable our fire being carried on without intermission until five, P. M. when the breach was reported practicable. Every arrangement was previously made for the storm, which I directed to commence a few minutes before sunset; Captain Lindsay, 2d battalion 10th regiment Native Infantry, commanding the party destined to assault the breach, which consisted of two grenadier and three light infantry companies, with the pioneers, furnished with ladders. A second party, commanded by Captain Patrickson, at the same moment, moved to assault the gateway of the eastern face. This party was composed of one galloper, 5th regiment cavalry, two complete companies of infantry, and a party of pioneers with ladders. The cavalry were disposed, under the orders of Major Clark, on the several faces of the Ghurree, to cut off all retreat.

On these columns advancing, the enemy opened a heavy fire of matchlocks, and appeared resolved to maintain the place to the last extremity. Our troops rushed forward to the attack with the most undaunted bravery, and, after a severe conflict, succeeded in crossing the ditch, which was deep, narrow, and stockaded by babool trees, felled for the purpose. On gaining the foot of the breach, the enemy, instead of relaxing, increased their exertions. A conflict ensued, which, in duration and the intrepidity displayed, both by the assailants and the garrison, has never been equalled; our troops using every exertion to gain the place by escalade, as well as to carry the breach. Their efforts were not crowned with complete success until after a struggle of an hour and ten minutes, when the place was entered, and the garrison put to death, with few exceptions. Among the slain is Surnaid Sing himself. Upwards of one hundred dead bodies have been since counted in the interior of the fort.

Thus have the unparalleled exertions of the brave officers and men engaged in this assault, not only severely punished and amply revenged the treacherous attack of their fellow soldiers at Suthenee, in May last, but have, I trust, proved to the minds of the inhabitants of Rewah their erroneous impressions of their own superiority. I deeply regret these objects have not been obtained without loss on our part. No European officer has fallen; but in the list of wounded I am concerned to report Captain Lindsay, who so gallantly headed the main attack, Captain Meredith, and Ensign Malden, 1st battalion 9th regiment Native Infantry. I am, however, led to hope that their wounds will not be attended with serious consequences. I have the honour to inclose a return of our loss, which I conceive unusually small, when the obstinate defence of the Ghurree is considered, and the time the attack lasted.

I have now to perform a pleasing part of my duty in reporting, for his Excellency's information, the distinguished gallantry and persevering bravery so universally displayed by all ranks employed on this important occasion. To the Sepoys every encomium is due for their perseverance in continuing the attack with unabated ardour, under circumstances of peculiar difficulty, even after the heavy loss in officers sustained early in the attack. It is difficult to particularise individual merit where exertions are so equal, unless when situations of command or responsibility render them peculiarly conspicuous. Captain Lindsay, who commanded the main attack, is entitled to the highest encomiums for his steadiness in leading on the columns, and for his judicious arrangements, so well calculated to insure success.

To Captain Patrickson, who led the second column, and intended to distract the attention of the enemy, an object effectually accomplished by his active efforts to escalate the fort, every praise is due.

Lieutenant Todd, who commanded the pioneers, was distinguished in leading the troops to the breach; and the cool determined conduct he displayed in planting the ladders, and opening the road into the fort, by forcing the wicket on the northern curtain.

The professional ability of Captain Tickell, Field Engineer, has afforded me that advice and assistance in determining the point of attack, which must so eminently have contributed to the success of the assault.

To Captain Stark, who commanded the batteries, and the officers under his orders, I cannot bestow too great praise for their animated fire, and the skill with which it was directed.

The success attending the judicious arrangements adopted by Major Clarke, commanding the division of the 5th regiment cavalry, for cutting off and preventing the escape of the garrison, even after the three companies were withdrawn for the purpose of supporting the storming columns, entitles that officer's skill and exertions to every commendation.

In conclusion, I have great pleasure in reporting the high gratification I have received from the exertions of Captain Faithful, Major of Brigade, Lieutenant Roberts, of the 5th regiment cavalry; and Lieutenant Barrow, of the 10th regiment Native Infantry, from whose zeal and intelligence I derived great advantage in conducting the necessary arrangements on this important occasion.

I have the honour to be, &c.

COLONIAL DEPARTMENT.

Dawning-Street, August 10, 1814.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a copy, was this day received by Earl Bathurst from Lieutenant-General Sir John Cope Sherbrooke, K. B. commanding His Majesty's troops in the province of Nova Scotia.

Halifax, Nova Scotia,

July 19, 1814.

MR. LORD, SINCE the letter which I had the honour of addressing to your Lordship on the 9th instant, I have now the satisfaction of reporting that Moose Island was surrendered on the 11th to the forces under Captain Sir Thomas Hardy, and Lieutenant Colonel Pilkington, and that the whole of the islands in Passamaquaddy Bay are consequently in the British possession.

I have the honour herewith to transmit to your Lordship a copy of Lieutenant Colonel Pilkington's report to me hereupon, which incloses a copy of the summons, the terms of capitulation granted, &c. And I beg leave to represent to your Lordship, the praiseworthy zeal manifested by Lieutenant Colonel Pilkington, in volunteering his services to conduct this expedition, as well as the judicious arrangements which he made, contributing to its successful termination.

The Lieutenant-Colonel expresses himself under the greatest obligations to Sir Thomas Hardy, for the co-operation he met with from that able and meritorious officer, to whose conciliating conduct he attributes the cordial good understanding and unanimity, that prevailed between both branches of the service.

And he also speaks very highly of Captain Senhouse of His Majesty's Ship Martin, who superintended the disembarkation of the troops, and of all the naval officers, and the seamen who assisted therein.

Lieutenant-Colonel Pilkington gives much credit to Lieutenant-Colonel Herries, commanding the 102d regiment; to Captain Dunn, commanding the detachment of Royal Artillery, and to all the officers and troops under his command, for the zeal and steadiness which they displayed, while in the prospect of attacking the enemy's work on Moose Island.

Lieutenant-Colonel Nicolls of the Royal Engineers, whose local knowledge was considered likely to be essentially useful, as I have already informed your Lordship, accompanied the expedition; and to that officer Lieutenant-Colonel Pilkington acknowledges himself to be greatly indebted for the assistance which he afforded to the service.

Lieutenant Oates of the 64th regiment, one of my aides-de-camp, was also attached to this service, to be employed on the personal staff of Lieutenant Colonel Pilkington, who speaks in very favourable terms of the assistance he received from him, and particularly mentions the zeal and alacrity which he displayed.

As I considered it would be agreeable to your Lordship to be made acquainted as early as possible, that the islands in the Bay of Passamaquaddy were in our possession, I have deemed it expedient to send Lieutenant Oates, who will have the honour of delivering these dispatches, and at the same time of presenting to your Lordship the standard and colours of the enemy found in Fort Sullivan.

Lieutenant Oates having been nearly three years, my aide-de-camp, and having during the whole of that time, as well as on the present occasion, conducted himself very much to my satisfaction, I feel it but an act of justice to recommend him very strongly to your Lordship's protection, as a deserving officer.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. C. SHERBROOKE.

Earl Bathurst, &c. &c. &c.

Moose Island, Passamaquaddy Bay,

July 12, 1814.

SIR,

HAVING sailed from Halifax on the 5th instant, accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Nicolls of the Royal Engineers, and a detachment of the Royal Artillery under the command of Captain Dunn, I have the honour to acquaint your Excellency that we arrived at Shelburne, the place of rendezvous, on the evening of the 7th instant, where I found Captain Sir Thomas Hardy, in His Majesty's Ship Ramilies, with two transports, having on board the 102d regiment under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Herries, which had arrived the day before. I did not fail to lay before Sir Thomas Hardy my instructions, and to consult with him the best means of carrying them into execution.

As we concurred in opinion that the success of the enterprize with which we were entrusted would very materially depend upon our reaching the point of attack previous to the enemy being apprized of our intentions, that officer, with his accustomed alacrity and decision, directed the ships of war and transports to get under weigh early on the following morning; and we yesterday about three o'clock P. M. anchored near to the town of Eastport.

On our approach to this island, Lieutenant Oates (your Excellency's Aide-de-camp, whom you had permitted to accompany me on this service), was detached in a boat bearing a flag of truce, with a summons (copy of which is transmitted) addressed to the officer commanding, requiring that Moose Island should be surrendered to His Britannic Majesty. This proposal was not accepted; in consequence of which, the troops which were already in the boats, pulled off under the superintendence of Captain Senhouse of the Royal Navy, whose arrangements were so judicious as to insure a successful issue. But previous to reaching the shore the colours of the enemy on Fort Sullivan were hauled down: and on our landing, the capitulation was agreed to, of which the copy is inclosed.

We found in the Fort a detachment of the 40th regiment of American infantry, consisting of six officers, and about eighty men, under the command of Major Putnam, who surrendered themselves prisoners of war.

This Fort is situated on an eminence commanding the entrance to the anchorage, and within it is a blockhouse, and also four long eighteen pounders, one eighteen pound carronade, and four field pieces. The extent of the island is about four miles in length and two in breadth, and in a great state of cultivation. The militia amount to about two hundred and fifty, and the population is calculated at fifteen hundred.

We have also occupied Allens and Frederick Islands, so that the whole of the islands in this Bay are now subject to the British flag.

It is very satisfactory to me to add, that this service has been effected, without any loss or casualty among the troops employed in it.

To Captain Sir Thomas Hardy I consider myself under the greatest obligations; having experienced every possible co-operation, with an offer to disembark from his squadron, any proportion of seamen or marines which I considered necessary.

I beg to acknowledge my thanks to you in following your Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant Oates, to accompany me upon this service. He has been of great assistance to me, and will have the honour of delivering this dispatch. He has also in his possession the colours and standard found in Fort Sullivan.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) A. PILKINGTON,
Lieut.-Col. Deputy Adjutant General.

Lieut. Gen. Sir J. C. Sherbrook, K. B.

On board His Majesty's Ship Ramilies,
SIR, off Moose Island, July 11, 1814.

AS we are perfectly apprised of the weakness of the fort and garrison under your command, and your inability to defend Moose Island against the ships and troops of His Britannic Majesty placed under our directions, we are induced, from the humane consideration of avoiding the effusion of blood, and from a regard to you and the inhabitants of the island, to prevent, if in our power, the distresses and calamities which will befall them, in case of resistance. We, therefore, allow you five minutes, from the time this summons is delivered, to decide upon an answer.

In the event of your not agreeing to capitulate, on liberal terms, we shall deeply lament being compelled to resort to those coercive measures which may cause destruction to the town of Eastport, but which will ultimately insure us possession of the island.

(Signed) T. M. HARDY, Captain of His Majesty's ship Ramilies.

(Signed) A. PILKINGTON, Lieutenant-Colonel, commanding,

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Thomas Clarke, of Melton Mowbray, in the county of Leicester, Gent. to be a Master Extraordinary in the High Court of Chancery.

Whitehall, August 12, 1814.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, on the morning of Monday the 11th day of July last, between the hours of one and two o'clock, Elizabeth Noyce, late of the parish of Fawley, in the county of Southampton, widow, deceased, was found in a field of Mr. Covey's, in the said parish, but a very short distance from her own house, lying upon her side in a state of total insensibility, with her face covered with dirt, and her nostrils filled, apparently for the purpose of producing suffocation: and whereas about ten minutes after nine o'clock in the evening of Sunday the previous day, she was seen to go from her own house up the roadway which bounds Mr. Covey's field, having stated that she was going to a house at the other end of the village: and whereas the said Elizabeth Noyce lingered until Friday the 15th day of the same month of July, and then died, having during that period some short intervals of understanding, in the course of which she three times declared to a Magistrate, that she was knocked down by a violent blow in the back part of the head, which stunned her instantly; that she did not see the person who struck her, but that she heard him distinctly come out of Mr. Covey's field, over the gate, and walk behind her: and whereas there is no doubt but the said Elizabeth Noyce was barbarously and cruelly murdered, by being knocked down in the road, and afterwards dragged through the gateway and thrown down in the corner of the field where she was found; a stake of uncommon size being found near the gate the next morning:

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the actual perpetrator of this wicked murder, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any person or persons concerned therein (except the person who actually committed the said murder), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of TWO HUNDRED and FIFTY POUNDS is hereby offered by the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the parish of Fawley to any person (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and convict the said offenders, or any of them, or cause them, or any of them, so to be apprehended and convicted thereof; such reward to be paid on application to the said Churchwardens and Overseers, or either of them.

Parish of Langham, in the County of Norfolk.

Notice is hereby given, that application is intended to be made in the next session of Parliament, for an Act to divide and inclose the open and common fields, commons, commonable lands and waste grounds, within the manor and parish of Langham, in the county of Norfolk.
