Extract of a Dispatch from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. to Earl Bathurst, dated Head-Quarters, Montreal, September 30, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship the inclosed copy of a dispatch I have received from Lieutenant-General Drummond, reporting the result of a sortie made by the enemy, with a large proportion of his force from Fort Erie, on the 17th instant, in which the very superior numbers of the American army were at length repulsed with great loss, by the intrepid valour and determined bravery of the division of troops under the Lieutenant-General's command. A copy of Major-General De Watteville's report, and the return of killed, wounded, and missing on the occasion, are annexed; and although in this affair we have suffered a considerable loss, it will be satisfactory to your Lordship to learn that Lieutenant-General Drummond represents the conduct and spirit displayed by the officers and men engaged, as deserving of his highest commendation.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Drummond to Lieutenant-General Sir G. Prevost, Bart. dated Camp before Fort Erie, September 19, 1814.

MY letter to your Excellency of the 17th, gave a short account of the result of an attack made by the enemy on my batteries and position on that day. I have now the honour to transmit a copy of Major-General De Watteville's report, together with a return of killed, wounded, and missing on that occasion.

To the information which your Excellency will derive from those documents, I have to add, that as soon as the firing was heard I proceeded towards the advance, and found the troops had moved from camp, and the Royals and 89th had been pushed by Major-General De Watteville into the wood on the right towards No. 3 battery, and that the 82d was moving to the support of the batteries on the left. At this moment it was reported to me that the enemy had gained possession of batteries No. 2 and 3, and that our troops were falling back; a report which the approach of the fire confirmed (your Excellency will have in recollection that the whole line of operations lay in a thick wood); I immediately directed Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell to detach one wing of the 6th regiment to support the 82d, in an attack which I ordered to be made for the recovery of battery No. 2. I directed Major-General De Watteville to superintend this movement; Major-General Stovin took the direction of the troops and guns left in reserve. I threw forward the Glengarry light infantry into the wood in front of the centre, to check the advance of the enemy and support the troops retiring from that point; both these movements were executed to my entire satisfaction, and being combined with a judicious attack made by Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, with part of the 1st brigade, consisting of the 1st battalion of the Royal Scots, supported by the 89th; the enemy was every where driven back, and our batteries and entrenchments regained, not however before he had disabled the guns in No. 3 battery and exploded its magazine. The enemy did not again attempt to make a stand, but retreated in great disorder to the fort, and was followed by our troops to the glacis of the place.

To Major-General De Watteville's report I must refer your Excellency for the cause of the enemy's success in the first instance, viz. the overwhelming number of the enemy, to which we had only the King's and De Watteville's regiments to oppose. The spirit which the troops displayed in all the subsequent operations, deserves the highest commendations, and entitles them to my warmest approbation. I have only to regret that the scene of action (a thick wood) was so unfavourable to the display of the valuable qualities which are inherent in British troops. The charge made by the 82d regiment, under Major Proctor, and detachment of the 6th, under Major Taylor, led to the recovery of the battery No. 2, and very much decided the precipitate retrograde movement made by the enemy from the different points of our position, of which he had gained a short possession.

Major-General De Watteville reports most favourably of the steadiness evinced by the 1st battalion Royal Scots, under Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon (commanding 1st brigade), and the remains of the 2d battalion, 89th, under Captain Basden. I myself witnessed the good order and spirit with which the Glengarry light infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel Battersby, pushed into the wood, and by their superior fire drove back the enemy's light troops. Lieutenant-Colonel Pearson, Inspecting Field-Officer, accompanied this part of his demi-brigade, and I am sorry to say received a severe, though I hope not a dangerous wound. To Major-General De Watteville, who commanded in camp, and by whom the first directions were given and arrangements made, I am under great obligations for the judgment displayed by him, and for his zeal and exertions during the action. My acknowledgements are also due to Major-General Stovin, who arrived at my head-quarters a few hours before the attack, for the assistance I received from him. I cannot sufficiently appreciate the valuable assistance which I have received from Colonel Myers, Deputy Quarter-Master-General, and Lieutenant-Colonel Harvey, Deputy Adjutant-General, during the present service, and which have been of the more importance as, from my own state of health of late (in consequence of my wound), I have not been able to use those active exertions which I otherwise might. I avail myself of this opportunity of again expressing my sincere concern at the loss which this division of the army sustained, by the accident which deprived it of the services of Major-General Conran, from whose energy and ability much was justly to be expected.

To Major Gleg, Assistant Adjutant-General, and to Captains Chambers and Powell, Deputy Assistants Quarter-Master-General; to Captain Foster Military Secretary; Lieutenant-Colonel Hagerman, Provincial Aide-de-Camp; and to Lieutenant Nesfield, 89th regiment, Acting Aide-de-Camp; who have rendered me every assistance in their respective situations, my best acknowledgments are due; they are likewise due to Major D'Alton, Brigade-Major with the right division, for his uniform correctness, zeal and attention to his duty.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell, of the 6th regiment, I am also much indebted, as well in his capacity of commanding officer of that excellent corps, as in that of senior officer of the reserve of this division. Colonel Fischer, of De Watteville's regiment, and Lieutenant-Colonel Ogilvie, of the King's, are entitled to my thanks. The zeal and exertions of Major Phillof, commanding royal artillery; Captains Walker and Sabine, and the officers and men of that corps, have been unremitting, and merit every commendation. I have reason to be pleased with the activity and zeal which Major Lisle, and the officers and men of the squadron of the 19th light dragoons, have uniformly displayed.

The enemy, it is now ascertained, made the sortie with his whole force, which, including the militia volunteers by which he has lately been joined, could not consist of less than five thousand. About two hundred prisoners fell into our hands, and I cannot estimate the enemy's loss in killed and wounded, at less than that number.

The dreadful state of the roads and of the weather, it having poured with rain almost incessantly for the last ten days, renders every movement of ordnance or heavy stores exceedingly difficult. By great exertions the commanding artillery officer has succeeded in moving the battery guns and mortars, with their stores, &c. towards the Chippawa, to which place I mean to withdraw them for the present.

*Camp before Fort Erie,
September 19, 1814.*

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, that the enemy attacked, on the 17th in the afternoon at three o'clock, our position before Fort Erie, the second brigade, under Colonel Fischer, composed of the 8th, and De Watteville's regiments being on duty.

Under cover of a heavy fire of his artillery from Fort Erie, and much favoured by the nature of the ground, and also by the state of the weather, the rain falling in torrents at the moment of his approach, the enemy succeeded in turning the right of our line of picquets without being perceived, and with a very considerable force, attacked both the picquets, and support in their flank and rear; at the same time another of the enemy's columns attacked in front the picquets between No. 2 and No. 3 batteries, and having succeeded in penetrating by No. 4 picquet, part of his force turned to his left, and thereby surrounded our right, and got almost immediately possession of No. 3, battery. The enemy then directed his attacks with a very superior force towards No. 2, battery, but the obstinate resistance made by the picquets, under every possible disadvantage, delayed considerably his getting possession of No. 2 battery, in which however he at last succeeded.

As soon as the alarm was given, the 1st brigade, being next for support, composed of the Royal Scots, the 82d and 89th regiments, under Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, received orders to march forward; and also the light demi brigade, under Lieutenant-Colonel Pearson; the 6th regiment remaining in reserve, under Lieutenant-Colonel Campbell. From the Concession-Road, the Royal Scots with the 89th as support, moved by the New-Road, and met the enemy near the block-house, on the right of No. 3 battery, whom they engaged, and by their steady and intrepid conduct checked his further progress. The 82d regiment and three companies of the 6th regiment, were detached to the left, in order to support No. 1 and 2 batteries; the enemy having at that time possession of No. 2 battery, and still pushing forward seven companies of the 82d, under Major Proctor, and the three companies of the 6th, under Major Taylor, received directions to oppose the enemy's forces, and immediately charged them with the most intrepid bravery, driving them back across our intrenchments; and also from No. 2 battery, thereby preventing their destroying it, or damaging its guns in a considerable degree: Lieutenant-Colonel Pearson with the Glengarry light infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel Battersby, pushed forward by the centre road, attacked and carried with great gallantry the new intrenchment then in full possession of the enemy.

The enemy being thus repulsed at every point, was forced to retire with precipitation to their works, leaving prisoners and a number of the wounded in our hands. By five o'clock the entrenchments were again occupied, and the line of picquets established, as it had been previous to the enemy's attack.

I have the honour to inclose a return of casualties, and the report of the officer commanding the Royal Artillery, respecting the damage done to the ordnance and the batteries, during the time they were in the enemy's possession.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Major-General.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. to Earl Bathurst, dated Head-Quarters, Montreal, October 4, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship the inclosed extract of a letter I have just received from Lieutenant-General Drummond.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Drummond to His Excellency Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, dated District Head-Quarters, Falls of Niagara, September 24, 1814.

THE troops fell back at eight o'clock on the evening of the 21st to the position alluded to in my letter of that date, and bivouacked for the night under torrents of rain. Soon after daylight on the 22d the enemy discovered our movements, and pushed out his picquets posted on the plain opposite Black Rock, and immediately retreated, after exchanging a few shots, without attempting to molest them. Having waited until two o'clock, (as well for the purpose of giving battle to the enemy should he dare venture out, as of giving time for the movement of all incumbrances behind the Black Creek,) I ordered the troops to retire across Frenchman's Creek, and the bridge over that creek to be destroyed. A cavalry picquet was left to watch this bridge; and the troops then proceeded to take up their cantonments. The whole of the movements has this day been completed; and the troops are now in comfortable quarters, where it is my intention to give them a few days repose.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. to Earl Bathurst, dated Head-Quarters, Montreal, September 30, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship a copy of a letter I have received from Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall, by which it appears, that the attack upon his post, which in my dispatch of the 14th of August, I mentioned as having probably taken place on the 24th or 25th of July, was not made by the enemy until the 4th of August, and terminated in the manner which Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall had confidently anticipated.

The force employed in this expedition having quitted Lake Huron, I have reason to think no further attempt will be made this year in that quarter.

The gallantry, skill, and conduct manifested by Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall and his small garrison, in defending his post against such superior numbers, will not, I am certain, escape your Lordship's observation, or fail to procure for that Officer, the approbation of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent.

I have also to congratulate your Lordship upon the complete success which has attended the expedition to La Prairie du Chien, under Lieutenant-Colonel M'Kay. The inclosed copy from that active and enterprising Officer's dispatch to Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall, will shew your Lordship the extent of the advantages gained on this occasion, and the persevering zeal and courage with which they have been acquired.

SIR, Michilimackinac, August 14, 1814.

I have reported to Lieutenant-General Drummond the particulars of the attack made by the enemy on this post on the 4th instant. My situation was embarrassing. I knew that they could land upwards of one thousand men; and after manning the guns at the forts, I had only a disposable force of one hundred and forty to meet them, which I determined to do, in order as much as possible to encourage the Indians; and having the fullest confidence in the little detachment of the Royal Newfoundland regiment. The position I took up was excellent, but at an unavoidable and too great a distance from the forts, in each of which I was only able to leave twenty-five militiamen. There were likewise roads upon my flanks, every inch of which were known to the enemy, by means of the people formerly residents of this island, which were with them. I could not afford to detach a man to guard them.

My position was rather too extensive for such a handful of men. The ground was commanding, and in front clear as I could wish it. On both our flanks and rear a thick wood. My nearest wish was that the Indians would only prevent the enemy from gaining the woods upon our flanks, which would have forced them upon the open ground in our front. A natural breastwork protected my men from every shot, and I had told them that on the closer approach of the enemy, they were to pour in a volley and immediately charge; numerous as they were, all were fully confident of the result.

On the advance of the enemy, my 6-pounder and 3-pounder opened a heavy fire upon them, but not with the effect they should have had, being not well manned, and for want of an artillery officer, which would have been invaluable to us. They moved slowly and cautiously, declining to meet me on the open ground, but gradually gaining my left flank, which the Indians permitted, even in the woods, without firing a shot. I was even obliged to weaken my small front by detaching the Michigan fencibles to oppose a party of the enemy which were advancing to the woods on my right. I now received accounts from Major Crawford of the militia, that the enemy's two large ships had anchored in the rear of my left, and that troops were moving by a road in that direction towards the forts. I therefore immediately moved to place myself between them and the enemy, and took up a position effectually covering them, from whence collecting the greater part of the Indians who had retired, and taking with me Major Crawford and about fifty militia, I again advanced to support a party of the Fallsvine Indians, who with their gallant chief Thomas, had commenced a spirited attack upon the enemy, who in a short time lost their second in command and several other officers; seventeen of which we counted dead upon the field, besides what they carried off, and a considerable number wounded. The enemy retired in the utmost haste and confusion, followed by the troops, till they found shelter under the very powerful broadside of their ships, anchored within a few yards of the shore. They re-embarked that evening, and the vessels immediately hauled off.

I have, &c.

(Signed) R. M'DOUALL, Lieut.-Col.

Prairie du Chien, Fort McKay,
July 27, 1814.

SIR,

I have the honour to communicate to you that I arrived here on the 17th instant at twelve o'clock, my force amounting to six hundred and fifty men, of which one hundred and twenty were Michigan fencibles, Canadian volunteers, and officers of the Indian department; the remainder Indians.

I found that the enemy had a small fort situated on a height immediately behind the village, with two block houses, perfectly safe from Indians, and that they had six pieces of cannon and sixty or seventy effective men, officers included. That lying at anchor in the middle of the Mississippi, immediately in front of the fort, there was a very large gun boat called Governor Clark, gun boat No. 1, mounting fourteen pieces of cannon, some six, three, and a number of colorns, manned with seventy or eighty men with muskets, and measuring seventy feet keel; this floating block-house is so constructed that she can be rowed in any direction, the men on board being perfectly safe from small arms, while they can use their own to the greatest advantage.

At half past twelve o'clock, I sent Captain Anderson with a flag of truce to invite them to surrender, which they refused; my intention was not to have made an attack till next morning at day light, but it being impossible to controul the Indians, I ordered one gun to play upon the gun boat, which she did with a surprising good effect, for in the course of three hours, the time the action lasted, she fired eighty-six rounds, two-thirds of which went into the Governor Clark: they kept up a constant fire upon us, both from the boat and fort; we were an hour between two fires, having run our gun up within musket shot of the fort; from whence we beat the boat out of her station, she cut her cable and ran down the current, and sheltered under the island. We were obliged to desist, it being impossible with our little barges to attempt to board her, and our only gun in pursuit of her would have exposed our whole camp to the enemy, she therefore made her escape.

No. 16958.

On the 19th, finding there were only six rounds round shot remaining, including three of the enemy's we had picked up, the day was employed in making lead bullets for the guns and throwing up two breast-works, one within seven hundred yards, and the other within four hundred and fifty yards of the fort. At six in the evening, every thing being prepared, I marched to the first breast-work, from whence I intended to throw the six remaining rounds. At the moment the first ball was about being put into the cannon, a white flag was put out at the fort, and immediately an officer came down with a note and surrendered. It being too late I deferred making them deliver up their arms in form till morning, but immediately placed a strong guard in the fort, and took possession of the artillery. From the time of our landing, till they surrendered, the Indians kept up a constant, but perfectly useless fire upon the fort; the distances from where they fired was too great to do execution, even had the enemy been exposed to view.

I am happy to inform you that every man in the Michigan fencibles, Canadian volunteers, and officers in the Indian department, behaved as well as I could possibly wish, and though in the midst of a hot fire, not a man was even wounded, except three Indians, that is, one Puant, one Fallsvine, and one Scoux, all severely but not dangerously.

One lieutenant, 24th United States regiment, one militia captain, one militia lieutenant, 3 sergeants, three corporals, two musicians, fifty-three privates, one commissary, and one interpreter, have been made prisoners; one iron six-pounder mounted on a garrison carriage, one iron three-pounder on a field carriage, three swivels, sixty-one stand of arms, four swords, one field carriage for six-pounder, and a good deal of ammunition; twenty-eight barrels of pork, and forty-six barrels of flour; these are the principal articles found in the fort when surrendered.

I will now take the liberty to request your particular attention to Captains Boette and Anderson; the former for his activity in many instances, but particularly during the action. The action having commenced unexpectedly, he ran down from the upper end of the village with his company through the heat of the fire to receive orders, and before and since in being instrumental in preserving the citizens from being quite ruined by pillaging Indians; and the latter for his unwearied attention in keeping every thing in order during the rout, and his activity in following up the cannon during the action, and assisting in transporting the ammunition: Lieutenant Portier, of Captain Anderson's company; Lieutenants Graham and Brishois, of the Indian department; Captain Dean, of the Prairie du Chien militia; and Lieutenant Powell, of the Green Bay, all acted with courage and activity, so becoming Canadian militia or volunteers; the interpreters also behaved well, but particularly Mr. St. Germain, from the Saulte-St. Marie, and Mr. Renville, Saux Interpréter; they absolutely prevented their Indians committing any outrages in the plundering way. Commissary Honoré, who acted as Lieutenant in Captain Hollette's company, whose singular activity in saving and keeping an exact account of provisions, surprised me, and without which we must unavoidably have lost much of that essential article. The Michigan fencibles, who manned the gun, behaved with great courage, coolness, and regularity; as to the serjeant of artillery, too much cannot be said of him, for the fate of the day and our successes were to be attributed in a great measure to his courage and well managed firing.

Since writing the foregoing, a few Sanks have arrived from the Rapids, at the Roch River, with two Canadians, and bring the following information. On the 21st instant, six American barges, three of which were armed, were coming up and encamped in the Rapids, that in the course of the night, the party of Indians, having the four kegs of gun powder I sent from this on the 17th, reached them; the barges being camped at short distances from each other, they on the 22d early in the morning attacked the lowest, and killed about one hundred persons, took five pieces of cannon, burnt the barge, and the other barges seeing this disaster, and knowing there were British troops here, ran off; this is perhaps one of the most brilliant actions fought by Indians only since the commencement of the war.

I have, &c.

manding Michilimackinac.

Extract of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Sir George Prevost, Bart. to the Earl Bathurst, dated Cornwall, Upper Canada, October 7, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to transmit to your Lordship, the highly gratifying intelligence which I have this moment received, from Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall commanding at Michinac, of the capture, in the neighbourhood of St. Joseph's in the most gallant manner, by boarding, of the two American schooners which had been left on Lake Huron, for the purpose of blockading Michinac; and cutting off all supplies from that Island, and our other possessions on Lake Huron and Lake Superior.

Your Lordship will duly appreciate the perseverance and exertions of Lieutenant Worsley, of the Royal Navy, who after the enemy had destroyed the schooner Nancy, at the entrance of the Nottawasaga River, embarked in two batteaux, with Lieutenant Livingstone and seventeen seamen, and arrived at Michinac on the 31st of August, having on his passage across Lake Huron discovered the enemy's vessels near the Détour, and skillfully avoided capture. Lieutenant Worsley instantly suggested the possibility of a successful attack being made upon them; to which Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall promptly acceded.

These captures are of the highest importance to His Majesty's possessions on Lake Huron and on the Mississippi, as the vessels are admirably adapted for the navigation of that lake and Lake Michigan, and for conveying the supplies so much required.

As Lieutenant Worsley appears to have been most ably supported by the detachment of the Royal Newfoundland regiment, commanded by Lieutenant-Bulger, I beg leave to recommend that officer, as well as Lieutenant Worsley, of the Royal Navy, to the gracious consideration of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lieutenant-Colonel M'Douall to Lieutenant-General Drummond, dated Michilimackinac, September 9, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to inform you that some Indians, on their way from the Falls of St. Mary's, returned to me with the intelligence, that part of the enemy's squadron had on the 25th ultimo again made their appearance in the neighbourhood of St. Joseph's, likewise occupying the passage of the Détour, their intention being evidently to cut off our supplies, and prevent all communication with this garrison.

On the 31st I was joined by Lieutenant Worsley, of the Royal Navy, with seventeen seamen, who had passed in a canoe sufficiently near the enemy to ascertain them to be two schooner-rigged gun-boats of the largest class. On stating to me his opinion that they might be attacked with every prospect of success, particularly as they were at anchor nearly five leagues asunder, I immediately determined to furnish him with the requisite assistance.

I have now the satisfaction of reporting to you the complete success of the expedition; Lieutenant Worsley having returned to this place on the 7th instant, with his two prizes, consisting of the United States schooner Scorpion and Tygress, the former carrying a long 24 and a long 12 pounder, and the latter a long 24. They were commanded by Lieutenant Turner, of the American navy, and are very fine vessels.

SIR, Michilimackinac, September 7, 1814.

I have the honour to report to you the particulars of the capture of the United States schooners Scorpion and Tygress, by a detachment from this garrison under the command of Lieutenant Worsley of the royal navy and myself.

In obedience to your orders we left Michilimackinac on the evening of the 1st instant in four boats, one of which was manned by seamen under Lieutenant Worsley, the other by a detachment of the Royal Newfoundland regiment under myself.

Lieutenants Armstrong and Radenbush. We arrived near the Détour about sun-set on the following day, but nothing was attempted that night, as the enemy's position had not been correctly ascertained. The troops remained the whole of the 3d instant, concealed amongst the roads, and about six o'clock that evening embarked and began to move towards the enemy. We had to row about six miles, during which the most perfect order and silence reigned. The Indians which accompanied us from Mackinac were left about three miles in our rear; about nine o'clock at night we discerned the enemy and had approached to within one hundred yards of them before they hailed us; on receiving no answer, they opened a smart fire upon us both of musketry and from the 24-pounder; all opposition, however, was in vain, for in the course of five minutes the enemy's vessel was boarded and carried by Lieutenant Worsley and Lieutenant Armstrong on the starboard side, and my boat and Lieutenant Radenbush on the larboard. She proved to be the Tigress, commanded by Sailing-master Champlin, mounting one long 24-pounder, and with a complement of thirty men. The defence of this vessel did credit to her officers who were all severely wounded. She had three men wounded, and three missing, supposed to have been killed and thrown immediately overboard.

Our loss is two seamen killed, and several soldiers and seamen slightly wounded.

On the morning of the 4th instant, the prisoners were sent in a boat to Mackinac under a guard, and we prepared to attack the other schooner, which we understood was anchored fifteen miles further down; the position of the Tigress was not altered and, the better to carry on the deception, the American pendant was kept flying. On the 5th instant we discerned the enemy's schooner beating up to us, the soldiers I directed to keep below, or to lie down on the deck to avoid being seen, every thing succeeded to our wish, the enemy came to anchor about two miles from us in the night, and as the day dawned on the 6th instant, we slipped our cable and ran down under our jib and foresail; every thing was so well managed by Lieutenant Worsley that we were within ten yards of the enemy before they discovered us, it was then too late, for in the course of five minutes her deck was covered with our men, and the British flag hoisted over the American. She proved to be the Scorpion, commanded by Lieutenant Turner of the United States navy, carrying one long 24-pounder in her hold with a complement of thirty-two men. She had two men killed and two wounded. I inclose a return of our killed and wounded, and am happy to say that the latter are but slight.

To the admirable good conduct and management of Lieutenant Worsley, of the royal navy, the success is to be in a great measure attributed, but I must assure you, that every officer and man did his duty.

I have the honour to be, &c.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Brine, of His Majesty's Ship Medway, addressed to Vice-Admiral Tyler, and transmitted by that Officer, to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's ship Medway, at Sea, SIR, July 12, 1814.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, that cruising in the execution of your orders, I this day at seven A. M. fell in with and captured, after a chase of eleven hours, nearly on a wind, the United States brig of war Syren, commanded by Lieutenant N. J. Nicholson, who succeeded to the command by the death of her Captain (Parker) at sea. The Syren is pierced for 18 guns, had sixteen mounted, viz. two forty-two and twelve twenty-four-pounder carronades, with two long nine-pounders, and had a complement of one hundred and thirty seven men: all her guns, boats, anchors, cables, and spars, were thrown overboard during the pursuit. The Syren had received a most complete repair previous to her sailing, and is newly coppered.

I have, &c.

AUG. BRINE.

Vice-Admiral Tyler, Commander in Chief,

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Citizens of the City of Hereford, in Common Council assembled:

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Citizens of the ancient City of Hereford, in Common Council assembled, participating in the universal joy which pervades the nation, beg leave to offer our cordial congratulations on the present auspicious state of public affairs.

We congratulate your Royal Highness, ourselves, and the world, on the accomplishment of the principal objects of the war, particularly on the re-restoration of the legitimate and ancient authorities of Europe.

We reflect with pride and satisfaction that, under the favour of the Great Disposer of all Events, Europe is indebted for deliverance from the tyranny under which she has so long suffered, to the efforts and glorious example of this nation; to the firmness and perseverance with which your Royal Highness has adhered to the sound policy pursued by our much revered and beloved Sovereign; to the unshaken loyalty and patient fortitude of the people during times of unparalleled difficulties; and to the glorious achievements of British valour, which have raised the military character of the country to the summit of glory.

We beg leave to embrace this opportunity of renewing the assurance of our unfeigned regard to your Royal Highness, and attachment to our happy and excellent Constitution.

Given under our common seal, at the City of Hereford, the 4th day of August, in the year of our Lord 1814.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE-REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Bedford, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our unfeigned expressions of duty and attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, and to offer to your Royal Highness our heartfelt congratulations on the successful and glorious termination of the severe and arduous contest in which we have been so long engaged; an event which we must attribute, under the blessings of Divine Providence, to the wise and vigorous measures adopted by our revered Sovereign, your august father, and persevered in by your Royal Highness with equal wisdom and firmness—to the undaunted bravery, and transcendent abilities of His Majesty's Commanders by sea and land (to the very brilliant achievements of one of whom, it is impossible not particularly to allude)—to the faithful, valiant, and unremitted exertions of his fleets and armies, and to the great but cordial sacrifices and spirited co-operation of all his people.

We congratulate your Royal Highness upon that high satisfaction, which, as the Head and Regent of this great empire, you are so justly entitled to feel, in the reflection that you have not only asserted, protected, and secured the rights and honour of His Majesty's dominions, but that you have also contributed, in a very essential degree, by your example and support, to the honour, the interests, and the happiness of the whole civilized world. It is indeed to the justice which all Europe has done to your Royal Highness's conduct, that the nation owes the very remarkable opportunity which has so lately been afforded of expressing its high veneration and respect for those great and illustrious Sovereigns, together with those veteran and distinguished heroes by whom they were surrounded, to whose great personal intrepidity and vigorous, but yet temperate, and most magnanimous conduct, the merit and the glory of the late most important and splendid events must be chiefly attributed.

Nor can we, Sir, on this auspicious occasion, omit to congratulate your Royal Highness upon that great and proud day for England, when your Royal Highness, amidst the generous shouts and acclamations of tens of thousands of the people (which did no less honour to themselves than to the object to which they were addressing), accompanied to the metropolis, and conducted, as it were, to his throne the great and unfortunate Monarch, whom this country, forgetting all former jealousies and wrongs, had so long and so generously protected under its powerful ægis.

We feel that we should be wanting to our country, ourselves, and your Royal Highness, if we were to suffer circumstances of such magnitude and national interest to pass away in silence, if we were not eager to express our gratitude and admiration, by carrying our warmest congratulations to the foot of the throne, not only, inasmuch as those great events shed a brilliant lustre upon this our nation, which we trust will not be momentary, but as they tend to consolidate the peace and happiness of the nations of Europe, upon a more solid and permanent basis than was ever yet afforded.

To these our congratulations, we are further anxious to add an expression of the satisfaction with which we have learnt the gracious answer of your Royal Highness to the loyal Addresses of the two Houses of Parliament, "that they may rely upon the unremitting exertions of your Royal Highness to give effect to their views for the abolition of the slave trade."

We beg leave humbly to thank your Royal Highness for this gratifying and solemn pledge, and we rest assured that every measure will be taken by your Royal Highness for the universal discontinuance of that disgraceful and abominable traffic.

Stephen Thornton, High Sheriff of the County of Bedford.

[Presented by Mr. Stephen Thornton, accompanied by the Honourable Mr. Trevor, the Mover, and Lord Hampden.]
