Extract of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Cochrane, G. C. B. &c. to John Wilson Croker, Esq. dated on board His Majesty's Ship Tonnant, off Mobile Bay, the 14th February 1815.

IT being the intention of Major-General Lambert and myself to have attacked Mobile, and finding the entrance into the bay so guarded by Fort Boyer, as to render it unsafe to attempt forcing a passage with the smaller ships of war, the Major-General and myself thought it advisable to attack the fort by land; and on the 7th a detachment of ships, under the command of Captain Ricketts, of the Vengeur, effected a landing of the troops intended for this service about three miles to the eastward of the fort, which was immediately invested, and our trenches, in the course of forty-eight hours, pushed to within pistol-shot of the enemy's works.

The batteries being completed upon the 11th, the fort was summoned, when the officer commanding it, seeing the impossibility of effecting any good by further resistance, agreed to surrender upon the terms proposed to him by Major-General Lambert (a copy of the capitulation is inclosed), and on the following day the garrison, consisting of about three hundred and sixty-six soldiers of the enemy's 2d regiment of infantry and artillery, marched out and grounded their arms, and were embarked on board the ships of the squadron.

The fort was found to be in a complete state of repair, having twenty-two guns mounted, and being amply provided with ammunition. To Captain Ricketts, and to the Honourable Captain Spencer, who commanded the seamen landed with the army, I am indebted for their zeal and exertions in landing and transporting the cannon and supplies, by which the fort was so speedily reduced.

ARTICLES OF CAPITULATION agreed upon between Lieutenant-Colonel Lawrence and Major-General Lambert, for the Surrender of Fort Boyer, on Mobile-Point.

February 11, 1815.

Art. I. That the fort shall be surrendered to the army of His Britannic Majesty in its existing state as to the works, ordnance, ammunition, and every species of military store.

Art. II. That the garrison shall be considered as prisoners of war; the troops to march out with their colours flying and drums beating, and ground their arms on the glacis, the officers retaining their swords; and the whole to be embarked in such ships as the British naval Commander in Chief shall appoint.

Art. III. All private property to be respected.

Art. IV. That a communication shall be made of the same immediately to the commanding officer of the 7th military district of the United States, and every endeavour made to effect an early exchange of prisoners.

Art. V. That the garrison of the United States remain in the Fort, until twelve o'clock to-morrow, a British guard being put in possession of the inner gate at three o'clock to-day, the body of the guard remaining on the glacis; and that the British flag be hoisted at the same time; an officer of each service remaining at the head-quarters of each Commander, until the fulfilment of these articles.

Agreed, on the part of the Royal Navy, and commanding all His Majesty's loving subjects to take notice thereof, and to conform themselves thereunto accordingly.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION,

Declaring the Cessation of Arms, as well by Sea as Land, agreed upon between His Majesty and the United States of America, and enjoining the observance thereof.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS a Treaty of Peace and Amity, between His Majesty and the United States of America, was signed at Ghent on the twenty-fourth day of December last, by the Plenipotentiaries of His Majesty and the Plenipotentiaries of the United States: And whereas, for the putting an end to the calamities of war, as soon, and as far as may be possible, it hath been agreed between His Majesty and the said United States as follows; that is to say, that immediately after the ratifications of the said Treaty, friendship should be established between His Majesty and the said United States, by sea and land, in all parts of the world; and, in order to prevent all causes of complaint and dispute which might arise with respect to prizes that might be taken at sea after the said ratifications of the said Treaty, it has also been reciprocally agreed, that all vessels and effects which may be taken after the space of twelve days from the said ratifications, upon all parts of the coasts of North America from the latitude of twenty-three degrees north to the latitude of fifty degrees north, and as far eastward in the Atlantic Ocean as the thirty-sixth degree of west longitude from the meridian of Greenwich, shall be restored on each side; that the time shall be thirty days in all other parts of the Atlantic Ocean north of the Equinoctial Line or Equator, and the same time for the British and Irish Channels, for the Gulf of Mexico, and all parts of the West Indies; forty days for the North Seas, for the Baltic, and for all parts of the Mediterranean; sixty days for the Atlantic Ocean south of the Equator, as far as the latitude of the Cape of Good Hope; ninety days for every other part of the world south of the Equator; and one hundred and twenty days for all other parts of the world without exception: And whereas the ratifications of the said Treaty were exchanged on the seventeenth day of last month, from which day the several terms above-mentioned of twelve days, thirty days, forty days, sixty days, ninety days, and one hundred and twenty days, are to be computed;

now, in order that the several epochs fixed as aforesaid, between His Majesty and the said United States, should be generally known and observed; We have thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to notify the same to His Majesty's loving subjects; and We do hereby, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, strictly charge and command all His Majesty's Officers both at sea and land, and all other His Majesty's subjects whatsoever, that they forbear all acts of hostility, either by sea or land, against the United States of America, or the citizens thereof, under the penalty of incurring His Majesty's highest displeasure.
