

in the said county of Stafford, Esq. by Penelope, eldest sister and coheir of Clement Kynnersley, late of Sutton-Hall, in the county of Derby, and of Montague-Place, in the parish of St. Giles in the Fields, in the county of Middlesex, Esq. deceased, His Majesty's royal licence and authority, that, in compliance with the last will and testament of his maternal uncle the said Clement Kynnersley, Esq. he and his issue may assume and take the surname of Kynnersley, in addition to and after his present surname of Sneyd, and also bear the arms of Kynnersley quarterly with those of Sneyd; such arms being duly exemplified according to the laws of arms:

And also to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms, otherwise to be void and of none effect.

Crown-Office, May 9, 1815.

MEMBER returned to serve in this present PARLIAMENT.

Borough of Abberorough.

Granville Venables Vernon, of Great Russell-Street, in the county of Middlesex, Esq. in the room of Henry Gally Knight, Esq. who has accepted the Chiltern Hundreds.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

Unto His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

We, the Noblemen, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Perth, assembled at our Annual General Meeting, beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness the renewed declaration of our unabated reverence and unshaken loyalty to our Sovereign, and of our respect and attachment to your Royal Highness.

Twelve months only have elapsed, since we approached your Royal Highness with the homage of our congratulations, on the great events which, by terminating an arduous contest of more than twenty years, promised, in the peaceful prosperity of Europe, the reward of Britain for unshaken firmness and mighty exertion.

The moderation displayed by your Royal Highness, and the heroic Allies of His Majesty, in the hour of victory, encouraged the hope that the world would enjoy a long period of prosperous tranquillity. From France, in particular, which had been successively the prey of revolution, of anarchy, and of military despotism, and which was bound by so many ties of gratitude to her magnanimous deliverers, no interruption of the general harmony was to be apprehended.

Sovereign then is our disappointment to find, that the people of France, appalled by the desertion of an army, disqualified for the habits of peaceful life; and by the unexampled treachery of many of its leaders, have almost unresistingly permitted the scourge of nations to resume the Sovereign Authority in that country, and that to gratify the unprincipled soldiery, to whom he owes his elevation, we may have again to deplore scenes of carnage and devastation.

But to the vigorous Councils of your Royal Highness, and the cordial and decisive co-operation of His Majesty's Allies, we look with confidence for protection against the dangers with which we are threatened.

We know that your Royal Highness and His Majesty's Allies, wisely and sincerely disclaim every wish to impose a Government on France; but we know also, that till that country be freed from the overawing influence of military sway, the voice of the people cannot be heard, and we feel and avow that the rest of Europe have a right to require that the Government of France shall be in such hands as to give grounds for substantial confidence that the relations of peace and good faith shall be maintained.

We beg leave gratefully to thank your Royal Highness for the measures which you have already adopted on this emergency. We are aware that these measures cannot be followed up without a continuance of severe pressure on the finances of Great Britain; but we assure your Royal Highness, that fully appreciating the objects we have at stake, we are prepared to bear with fortitude our share of those burdens, which the policy of your Royal Highness's Government, and the wisdom of Parliament shall require.

Signed by our Preses, in our name, and by our appointment, at Perth, this 1st day of May, in the year 1815, Atholl.

[Transmitted by James Drummond, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT:

The humble and dutiful Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Peebles.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Peebles, humbly approach your Royal Highness with the expression of our sentiments on the present situation of public affairs.

Twelve months only have elapsed since we presented to your Royal Highness our cordial and exulting congratulations on the glorious events by which peace and happiness were restored to Europe after a tremendous conflict, terminating in the complete overthrow of the Usurper of the Throne of France. The violence, perfidy, and boundless ambition of that individual were the sole obstacles to the repose of the civilized world, and he was stript of his abused and tyrannical power. Spared, however, by the clemency of his conquerors, he has found means, by the aid of unparalleled treason, again to seat himself on that throne, from which, amidst the joyful acclamations of France, and of all Europe, he had been justly expelled.