

SUPPLEMENT

TO

The London Gazette

Of TUESDAY the 13th of JUNE.

Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1815.

Foreign-Office, June 13, 1815.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received by Viscount Castlereagh, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, from Lord Burghersh, His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of Tuscany, dated

MY LORD, Naples, May 23, 1815.

PRINCE Leopold, of Sicily, greeted by the general applause of the people, made his entry into this city, at the head of the Austrian troops, on the 22d.

The passage of that Prince through his father's states to the capital, has been most gratifying. The inhabitants from considerable distances flocked to meet him, and, having reassumed the national cockade, brought him proofs of their attachment to his family, and their detestation of the rule they were escaping from, imposed upon them by conquest and maintained by force.

By the Convention transmitted to your Lordship in my last dispatch, the allied arms were to have been placed in possession of Naples on this day. The popular feeling had, however, so strongly manifested itself against the then existing Government, on the 20th and 21st, that Marshal Murat left the town in disguise, and his wife sought the security which had been assured her, on board a British man of war.

General Carrascosa sent to General Bianchi, requesting he would prevent the misfortunes with which the town was menaced, by entering it immediately; and Madame Murat, by the same request to Admiral Lord Exmouth, prevailed upon him to land a body of five hundred marines, to maintain tranquillity.

Marshal Murat appears to have been fully aware of the little support his usurped dominion, when menaced, would receive either from the army or the inhabitants of this kingdom: his children were already placed at Gaeta.

General Bianchi sent forward his cavalry, under Count Neipperg, on the evening of the 21st. It occupied this city during the night, and preserved it from disorder.

Prince Leopold has requested all the authorities of the kingdom, the Ministers of State, and the Officers of the army, to remain at their post to await the orders of the King.

Admiral Penrose sailed from hence to Melazzo, to bring His Majesty to His Capital. In a few days His Majesty's arrival may be expected.

Admiral Lord Exmouth arrived in the Bay of Naples on the 20th. The expedition from Sicily is arrived this morning.

Madame Maria will sail to-morrow on board of His Majesty's ship Tremendous towards Gaeta, to receive her children on board, and will then proceed to Trieste.

No disturbances of any serious nature have taken place. The enmity against such as are supposed from their employments to have been attached to the late Government is great, but the activity with which General Bianchi has carried assistance to the points where it might be required, has retained the country quiet.

I have the honour to be, &c.
(Signed) BERGHERSH.
