Genova, March 4.

THis Evening arrived here the Assistance Frigate, Sir Robert Robinson, from Legorne. The Great Hamburgher, Capt. Scot, the Paléstin, the Ann, the Restoration, the Ruby and the Dublin, are now under Sail. Here are arrived several French and Dutch Ships with Herrings.

Vienna, March 4. The Ministers of this Court seem of late to have been wholly taken up with the Affairs of Germany from which, it's feared the Advices that come from Hungary, will begin in some measure to divert them. For they write from thence, that a new League is concluded, between Count Teckley and the Prince of Transylvania; and that the latter has thereby obliged himself to enter again into Hungary, and to joyn with the Rebels, so to act separately, as shall be judged most advantageous. This welcome News is accompanied with an other from the Turkish Frontiers; viz. That the Turks are making great preparations, in order to the bringing a very considerable Army into the Field, and particularly, that they are providing a very great Train of Artillery. These Advices, will, without all doubt, hasten Count Caprara, the Emperors Ambassador to the Grand Signior, in his journey to Constantinople, who upon his arrival there, and his having seen the Grand Vizier, will be able to make a judgment of the intentions of that Court. The Cardinal of Hesse is dead, and by his death the Bishoprick of Passaw is become vacant, which it's believed the Emperor will give to Prince Wolfgang of Neuburg, the Emperress Brother. The Danish Envoye continues to have frequent Conferences with the Ministers here; but we do not hear that his Negotiation is as yet come to any issue.

Cologne, March 13. The Bishop of Strasburg who assisted in the Assembly of the States of this Archbishoprick at Bonne, is come back, and has given his Electoral Highness an Account of it's success, the said States having given his Electoral Highness a considerable Supply for the raising of the Troops he shall judge necessary to have on foot. The Levies that are making for the Service of this City will in a short time be finished, and then we shall have a good Garrison here, which, in case we are attacked, will be able to defend us, till our neighbors may come to our assistance. The two Deputies of Liege, that remain as yet here, are, as they say, expecting Orders to return home, for that there appears not at present any disposition here to accommodate Matters, so that they must wait for a more favourable Conjunction: but it's believed E. deavours will be used by those, that have hitherto laboured in this Affair, to prevent their departure.

Hamburg, March 13. Yesterday Mr. Skelton, Envoye Extraordinary from His Majesty of Great Britain to the Dukes of Lunenbourg, and other Princes of the Empire, and to the Hanse Towns, returned hither from Lubeck, where he had been to present his Credentials to that Senate; and in few days he intends to go and do the like at Bremen. From Halberstadt and Magdeburg we have an Account that the Plague was wholly ceased in those places, so that they hoped their neighbors would return to their Trade and Commerce with them. The Dukes of Zell and Hambour do both raise Men, to recruit the Forces they have already on foot; and when that is done, we are told, they intend to raise several new Regiments, especially if the Conferences at Francfort have not a good success, in which case, these Princes resolve to have each of them a good Army on foot, that so they may be in a condition to act for the Defence and Security of the Empire. From Stockholme they write, that the High Commissioners appointed by the King for the Examining and Judging the Misdemeanors committed by persons in publick Employments during his Minority, had pronounced above Fourscore Sentences, by which, as many persons are Fined in very great Sums, so that much Money will be thereby brought into the Kings Coffers.

Hague, March 17. The States of Holland are now againe together, having before them the Memorial lately presented by the French Ambassador, concerning the City of Luxemburg, upon which, there have been very long and serious Debates; the Towns not being all of the same mind; Amsterdam, Dorn, Delft, Horne and Enchuyesen do not altogether dislike the Proposition contained in the said Memorial; and we are told that other Towns, who at first seemed of a contrary opinion, do now joyn with these above-named. We have formerly told you, that Count Waldeck had been chosen by the Dyet at Ratibonie, to be General of the Army of the Empire; which we have now some reason to think he will not accept of, being unwilling to quit the Employments he has in the Service of this State. Mr. Ch. Sleigh, Envoye Extraordinary from His Majesty of Great Britain to this State, will now in few days have his Audience of the States-General.

Paris, March 18. The Proceſs of the Marquis de Termes is now depending before the Chamber of the Arsenal; the Gentleman of his Horse who was likewise accused, having been put to the Torture, constantly denied the Matters he was charged with, and is since dead. Monsieur de Lauzun, who was so many years a prisoner, seems returning to the Favour he was formerly in; the King has given him a very great sum of Money; and it's said, he is to be made a Duke.

Newmarket, March 12. This day the following Address was Presented, and very Graciously received by His Majesty.

To the Kings most Excellent Majesty.

The Humble Add. of the Arrill ry Company in Bristol.

IT is our Duty most Dread Sovereign, as we are a Society Regulated by Your Majesties Laws and Commission, on all occasions to express our Thankfulness for the same, and to acknowledge the admirable Conduct of Your Majesties most prudent Government, in Securing the Laws from violation, and Your Kingdoms in a flourishing Peace; Maugre all Attempts and Hellish Designs of Plitting Papists, and Covenanting Phanatics. Nor is it less our Duty to, Declare before God and the World; And we do Declare from the bottom of our Souls, our utter Abhorrence of all Covenants and Associations whatsoever, made against, or without Your Majesties Approbation especially that Treasonable one, seized in the Closet of the Earl of Shaftesbury; wherein the securing the Protestant Religion, and the Defence of Your Majesties Royal Person and Estate is made the Pretence: But the subversion of the Established Religion, and the final Deposition of Your Majesty and lawful Successors, is the real Design; and this to be performed, not by the major part of a Parliament, as in the late destructive Rebellion. But by dividing the whole power of Your Majesties Crown and Scepter, into the hands of the major part of the Members of both Houses, subscribing their Association (though dissolved) without regard to their Quality or Number. Your Majesties Guards (the Defence of Your Royal Person) are falsly stiled Mercenary Forces, and a terror to all the good People of the Land. Your Majesties Royal Brother is to be Excuted and Destroyed if he comes into England; and all who shall oppose that Rebellion, Accused, Hellish, and unpresidenced Association, are to be pursued to Destruction, though in Defence of Your Majesties Title. These and other the wicked, Villanous, and unwarrantable Designs contained in that Paper, are the Reasons we in all Duty do approach the Throne of Your Majesty, to lay this Request at Your Sacred Feet, Humbly requesting Your Majesties Gracious Acceptance of it. And we do further Declare, that we will with our joint and particular Interests, Assert and Defend the Rights and Prerogatives of Your Majesty, and lawful Successors, in opposition to all Unions and Societies made to the contrary. Nor can we think that man fit to be a Representative in Parliament, who will not disown such Associations. That Your Majesty may Outlive the Devices of Your Enemies, and grow greater in the Hearts of all Your Subjects, and Your Reign be long and Glorious, is the daily Prayer of

Your Majesties most Obedient Subjects.

Falmouth, March 9. Yesterday came in here the John and Elizabeth of Pool, William Peppel Master, a two Months from Maryland; the Master says, they have had there a very good crop of Tobacco this Season, and that he left that Colony in a very peaceable Conjunction.

Plymouth, March 10. Yesterday came in here His Majesties Ship the Tjger Prize, Capt. Elmore Commander with several Merchants Ships under his Command, bound for the Streights.

Portsmouth, March 11. On Friday the Phoenix weighed from St. Helens, and came to an Anchor at Spithead.

Yarmouth, March 10. His Royal Highness being come to an Anchor in one of His Majesties Yachts, in this Road; Our Bayliffs went immediately on Board, to pay their Duty to his Royal Highness, and to invite him to Dinner; his Royal Highness received them very kindly, and was pleased to accept of their Invitation: and being come ashore, was received with all the demonstrations of Respect the place was able to on the suddain to express. After Dinner (which was very Handsome and Noble, his Royal Highness parted from hence for Norwich, being attended out of Town by the Magistrates in their Habits, and by the High Sheriff of Norfolk, and the Gentlemen of the Neighborhood.

Norwich, March 11. Yesterday in the Evening his Royal Highness, attended by the High Sheriff of the County, and a great number of Gentlemen, arrived here from Yarmouth. At the Gate of the Town his Royal Highness was received by the Mayor and Aldermen in their Formalities, and conducted to the Town Hall (where a Noble Banquet was prepared for his Royal Highness) and from thence to the Bishops House. (the Streets being crowded with People and full of Bankers) where his Royal Highness lay. And this Morning his Royal Highness parted again for Newmarket, the Mayor, Aldermen, and all the Gentlemen of the Neighborhood, attending his Royal Highness three miles out of Town.

Newmarket, March 11. His Royal Highness is arrived here, having in his way between Farnmouth and this place, been attended by the Gentry of the Neighborhood, all along as he passed, and been received at Yarmouth and Norwich very much to his satisfaction. The Noblemen and Gentlemen that were here, went out several miles to meet his Royal Highness, who came hither about Six in the Evening, and was received by their Majesties with all the marks of Kindness and Affection.
