

SUPPLEMENT

TO

The London Gazette

Of TUESDAY the 4th of JULY.

Published by Authority.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 5, 1815.

Foreign-Office, July 5, 1815.

DISPACHES, of which the following are extracts, have been received at this Office.

Extract of a Dispatch from William A Court, Esq. His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the King of the Two Sicilies, to Viscount Castlereagh, dated Naples June 17, 1815.

I HAVE the satisfaction to inform your Lordship, that His Sicilian Majesty made this day His public entry into His capital, after an absence of nine years. The crowd that thronged the road all the way from Portici was immense, and nothing could exceed the enthusiasm of the people on the appearance of their legitimate Monarch. It was impossible to mistake the public feeling upon this occasion. The theatrical processions of Murat drew crowds, as I am told, of curious spectators, but curiosity was not the inducement here; in every countenance might be read the honest expression of heartfelt joy, at the return of a beloved and native Sovereign.

His Majesty was received, on His arrival at the Palace, by all the principal Nobility of the country, the great majority of whom appeared to partake of the enthusiasm which had been previously demonstrated by the lower classes. In fact, never was national joy so unequivocally and so universally displayed.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lord Burghersh to Viscount Castlereagh, dated Naples, June 17, 1815.

HAVING received the commands of His Majesty King Ferdinand IV. to attend Him from Portici, in His entry into His capital, I had this day the honour of being present with His Majesty, and of witnessing the enthusiasm with which He was received by His people. The King entered Naples at the head of His own troops, together with the Austrians and British, who defiled before Him on His arrival at His Palace.

The constant attachment the Neapolitan people are known to have ever borne their legitimate Sovereign, makes it unnecessary to detail to your Lordship their joy at His return. His Majesty re-assumes the Government of His country, beloved and respected by all classes of His subjects.
