ISPATCHES, of which the following are Copies and an Extract, have been received at this Office, from the Honourable Wm. Hill, His Majesty's Minister at Turin, and from Lieutenant-Colonel Leake, R. A.

Turin, July 2, 1815. My Lord, I HAVE the honour to inclose to your Lordship the copy of a dispatch received from Mr. Fielding, attached to the Head Quarters of the Piedmontese Contingent. I have the honour to be, &c.

WILLIAM HILL.

Viscount Casilereagh, K. G.

Head-Quarters, Aiguebelle, June 30, 1815. SIR,

I AM happy to inform you that the positions of Aiguebelle, Conflans and l'Hopital, were taken from the French the day before yesterday. The first being turned by the Cucheron and Chamoux, was abandoned after a slight resistance; the others were forced by the Austrians and Piedmontesc, under the command of Generals Trink and Arde. zera, at the point of the bayonet. The opposition at l'Hopital was very obstinate, the town being taken by the Allies three times by assault. The loss is stated to be considerable, but the return has not yet been received; seven Austrian and four Piedmontese officers, are said to be among the killed.

In consequence of the abdication of Buonaparte, an armistice was soon after proposed by the French and accepted by General Trink, by which it is agreed, that the enemy shall occupy Gregis, Tournoz and Gily, and the Allies, Conflans, l'Hopital and their dependencies, and that hostilities shall cease for forty-eight hours. Another armistice, however, has been concluded by General Frimont, who is close to Geneva, by which hostilities are suspended until midnight of the 2nd of July, the French giving up the position of the Loges, and the passage of the Rhone at Seissel. An armistice with General Bubna gives him possession of Mont Mellian.

The whole of General La Tour's artillery and infantry, acting in the Maurienne, is now assembled within a day's march of the head of the Austrian column, the troops having made very long marches from Turin with great cheerfulness. The cavalry is crossing Mount Cenis, and will be ready to join when we cross the Isere, on the resumption of hostilities.

I have the honour to be, &c.
G. FEILDING.

Extract of a Dispatch from Lieutenant-Colonel Leake to Viscount Castlereagh, dated Pontarlier, July 12, 1815.

AS a courier is now departing for the Prince de Talleyrand at Paris, I profit of the opportunity to inform your Lordsuip, that the Swiss forces, now amounting to twenty-one thousand, and daily increasing, still occupy the position from Mortean to Pontarlier, with light corps, advanced on their right and left towards St. Hypolite and Salins. The head quarters are still at Neuchatel.

An aid du camp, sent here from Marshal Jourdan, at Besancon, announced, yesterday, the submission of the garrison of that place to the King's orders, and requested, in consequence, a suspension of arms on the part of the Swiss army. General de Castella, Chief of the Swiss Staff, who is now here, gives me to understand, that the request will be granted, upon condition that a corps of the enemy, now at Salins, shall be removed, in order to allow the Swiss troops to move forward.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

Unto His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

> The humble and dutiful Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the noblemen, gentlemen, freeholders, justices of the peace, and commissioners of supply, of the county of Edinburgh, confidently rely on obtaining the gracious indulgence of Your Royal Highness while we present at the foot of the Throne our humble congratulations on that consummation of unexampled success and national glory with which it has pleased Almighty God to crown the magnanimity, the perseverance, and the wisdom of the Government of Your Royal Highness, the undeviating virtues of His Majesty's long and patriotic reign, and the fortitude, skill, courage, and loyalty of his people.

While, however, we exult in the glory of our country, we heartily sympathize with Your Royal Highness in the grateful reflection, that during the long period of a century which has now elapsed since Your Illustrious House was called to the throne of these realms, not only have the rights and liberties of the people been preserved inviolate, but have more and more been improved, strengthcaed, and secured, while at the same time the population, power and union of the empire have been augmented, consolidated and established. With thankfulness, also, do we recollect, that during the convulsions which shook the thrones of the Continental nations, the Monarchy of Great Britain found security in that enlightened freedom which dispelled those delusions that prompted to rash innovation, and led to the overthrow of civi-Ezed society itself; and which now, at the close of a period the most eventful in the history of mankind, has enabled Your Royal Highness to send to the assistance of Europe a British Army and a British General, who, by the achievements of a sin-gle battle, have driven from the throne of France that adventurous and unprincipled chief, who, having formed an army which had well nigh destroyed the independence of the Continent, had by their means usurped the supreme power of his own country, and who, after his dethronement, had again, by their treason, been raised a second time to the sovereignty of France, in breach of every thing hitherto held sacred among men.

The experience arising from this rebellion, we confidently trust will not be lost upon Your Royal Highness and His Majesty's august Allies, and while it is left for Your Royal Highness to replace the Powers of Europe on foundations more solid, extended and promising, than those adopted, or even contemplated, at the peace of Utrecht, we venture humbly to express our trust, that effectual provisions will be made for securing the nations of the Continent from the unspeakable evils arising from a military usurpation, with which they have lately been so formidably threatened; and we also do firmly rely, that the presumptuous hopes of the French army to give law to Europe, will, by the glorious efforts which have now crowned the perseverance, wisdom, energy, and magnanimity of Your Royal Highness, be for ever blasted, and that the independence and security of the other nations of the Continent will be established upon a foundation never to be shaken. We remain, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply and Heritors of the County of Edinburgh.

Signed, in our name and by our appointment,

Wm. Rae, Preses.

NEW STAMP DUTIES.

Stamp Office, London, July 20, 1815.

TOTICE is hereby given, that two Acts were passed in the late Session of Parliament, for repealing the Stamp Duties on Deeds, Law Proceedings, and other written or printed Instruments, and the Duties on Fire Insurances and on Legacies and Successions to personal Estate upon Intestacies, and also the Duties on Advertisements, Almanacks, Newspapers, Pamphlets, Gold and Silver Plate, Stage Coaches, and Licences for keeping Stage Coaches, now payable in Great Britain, and for granting new Daties in lieu thereof; and that the new Daties are to commence upon the 1st of September next; except the Duty on Fire Insurances, which is to commence on the 29th September; and the Duties on Stage Coaches and Stage Coach Liceness, which are to commence on the 5th September.

A very general increase of the present, duties is enacted; and some Instruments are subjected to ad valorem Duties which are not so at present, such as Deeds of Exchange and Partition, Leases, Setelements of Money and of Shares in the public Stocks or Fands, whether voluntary or upon Marriago, and Warrants of Attorney to confess Judgment, when given as a security for money instead of bonds or mortgages. And Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes at more than two months after date; or sixty days after sight, are charged with higher Duties than those payable at shorter perrods.

The new Duties are contained in Schedules, in which the instruments and things charged arc classed and alphabetically arranged, so as to afford a complete Table of Duties, in the most convenient and practical form, and to supersede any oc-easion for those compilations, published by private individuals, to which the profession of the law and the public have formerly found it convenient to resort. And as the Schedules will not admit of an abridgment that can be safely relied upon, the Commissioners recommend it to the profession and others not to trust to any thing else in matters of importance.

The Acts contain various provisions for securing the Duties, which are material to be attended to by those who wish to avoid penalties. And the provisions of former Acts are to be enforced, in regard to those Duties, concerning which no new provisions are enacted. With respect to the

it is to be observed, that not only formal Receipts, but all Notes and Memorandums, whether signed or not, which shall import any acknowledgment, that a sum of £2, or upwards, has been paid, settled, balanced, or otherwise discharged or satisfied, are liable to these Duties; and that all persons paying money are intitled to have stamped | due performance of the contract, that the said rate or duty shall commence and be | Receipts, at the expense of the persons receiving it, and on tendering a proper Stamp, may insist on having a Receipt written thereon, and on being paid for the Stamp; and that all persons refusing to give such Receipt and pay for the Stamp, as well as all persons giving a Receipt, or any such Note or Memorandum as aforesaid, without a Stamp, or upon a Stamp of insufficient value, will incur a penalty of ten pounds for every offence, which will be strictly enforced on every occasion.

By order of the Commissionets,

Wm. Kappen, Secretary.
