Admiralty-Office, August 12, 1815.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are copies and extracts, have been received at this Office, addressed by Admiral Lord Exmouth to John Wilson Croker, Esq.

His Majesty's Ship Boyne, Naples-Bay, May 25, 1815.

MY letter of the 12th instant will have informed their Lordships of my movements up to that date, and the arrangements I had made with Lord William Bentinck, and the forces from Sicily, to cooperate with the allied army upon Naples: In continuation I beg to acquaint you, for their Lordships further information, that I arrived off Civita-Vecchia on the evening of the 18th, where learning from Mr. Cook (who came from Rome expressly for the purpose) the rapid approach of the Austrians towards Naples, I continued my voyage, without delay, for that place.

I reached Naples on the 20th, finding the Tremendous and Alcmena at anchor close to the Mole, and the two line of battle ships hauled out alongside of them. On the 21st, in the morning, the marines were landed and took possession of the forts and castle of St. Elmo, and united with the civic guard, and kept the city in a state of tolerable tranquillity until the 23d, when the Austrian army made its public entry with Prince Leopold, and the next day the different forts were delivered over, and the marines embarked.

It is my intention to put the Government of King Ferdinand the Fourth, on his arrival, in immediate possession of the naval arsenal, with the Vesuvius of eighty guns, building at Castellamare, and also of all the gun-boats, stores, &c. in the arsenal of Naples, which I think are absolutely necessary for conducting the affairs of Government, until the pleasure of their Lordships shall be known.

The two ships of the line, Joachim and Capri, which were entirely abandoned to Captain Campbell by the late Government, I have ordered to proceed to Malta, manned and conducted by the Alcmena, there to wait their Lordships instructions.

Boyne, Genoa-Bay, July 3, 1815.

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, for their Lordships information, that I arrived at this anchorage this morning, with the ships named in the margin*, having previously landed the first division of the Austrian troops at Leghorn.

From the situation in which I find affairs on the coast of Provence, I have, in concert with Major-General Sir Hudson Lowe, come to the determination to proceed immediately to Marseilles, with about three thousand men of this garrison†, which embark with the assent of the Sardinian Government, at our request, and it is my intention to take the transports with the arms on board, to be employed as may be found advisable. I shall use every effort to afford all the assistance and co-operation in my power, to carry into effect the intentions of His Majesty's Government, as detailed * Boyne, Impregnable, Bombay, and Pilot.
