TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1815.

India-Board, Whitehall, Sept. 16, 1815.

A DISPATCH, dated Fort William, February 20, 1815, together with its inclosures, of which the following are extracts, have been received at the East-India House from the Vice-President in Council.

For a statement of the operations of the division of the army commanded by Colonel Ochterlony, from the 27th of November down to the close of December, we have the honour to refer your Honourable Court to a Dispatch from Mr. Secretary Adam, dated 10th of January.

The skill, judgment, perseverance and patience which have distinguished the conduct of Colonel Ochterlony in the arduous service in which he is employed, cannot fail to attract the particular notice of your Honourable Court. The exertions of that able Officer still continued to be directed against the enemy's supplies, and such of his new positions as might be found to be assailable.

Extract of a Letter from John Adam, Esq. Secretary to Government, to John Moreton, Esq. Acting Secretary to Government at the Presidency, dated Camp at Iheend, Feb. 10, 1815.

I AM directed to transmit to you, for the purpose of being laid before His Excellency the Vice-President in Council, the inclosed copy of a letter from the Adjutant-General, under date the 8th instant, inclosing copies of dispatches from Colonel Ochterlony, and containing a statement of the operations of the division of the army under that Officer's command subsequently to the 27th November, up to which date they are already known to the Vice-President in Council, from the communications which I had the honour to make to you from time to time. The general result of the operations detailed in the inclosed papers has also been communicated to His Excellency in Council, in my letter to your address of the 5th instant, inclosing Colonel Fagan's dispatch of 2d instant.

The Vice-President in Council will perceive with satisfaction the testimony borne by Lieutenant-Colonel Thomson to the troops under his command, composing the reserve of Colonel Ochterlony's division, in repulsing the determined attack made on their position by Unimer Sing, on the morning of the 29th December.

Although the movement of the reserve on the preceding day did not completely effect the accomplishment of the principal object in Colonel Ochterlony's contemplation, it has nevertheless, his Lordship conceives, been attended with considerable advantage, which, his Lordship is assured, Colonel Ochterlony will turn to the best account.

The Vice-President in Council will concur in the opinion entertained by the Governor-General, of the credit due to Colonel Ochterlony for the skill, judgment, perseverance and patience manifested by him under circumstances of extraordinary difficulty, and will anticipate the happiest results from the continued exertion of those qualities, seconded by the skill and bravery of the officers and troops under his command.

Extract of a Letter from the Adjutant-General to John Adam, Esq., dated Camp at Suffeedoon, February 8, 1815.

THE result of the first movement against the enemy's position, was briefly reported in Colonel Ochterlony's dispatch of the 29th ult.; forwarded to you on the 2d instant; I have now the honour to transmit the Colonel's more detailed report, dated the 31st ultimo, and its inclosures, from which the Governor-General will perceive, that although the movement has not realized the principal object proposed in making it, in consequence of the enemy having been enabled, by evacuating nearly all his stockades, to concentrate his whole force on one of the intended points of attack, it terminated in the repulse, with considerable loss, of a determined attack which a large part of his force made on Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson's position, sword in hand, on the morning of the 29th December. The conduct of the officers and troops engaged on this occasion, have merited and obtained the Commander in Chief's entire approbation.

In the plan of the attack, and in all measures and arrangements which could conduce to its success, Colonel Ochterlony evinced his usual judgment and ability.

Colonel Ochterlony's operations will continue to be directed against the enemy's supplies, and such of his new positions as may be found to be available.

Copy of a Letter from Major-General Sir David Ochterlony, K. C. B., to the Adjutant-General.

SIR,
ON the 27th I had the honour to report to you the arrival of the 2d battalion of the 7th Native Infantry and the eighteen-pounders in this camp.

Our position in view of the fort had compelled the enemy to bring their supplies from the eastward by circuitous routes, but my information led me to hope that the possession of three points in front of our right would entirely cut off their supplies from Billaspore, and generally from the interior. In consequence I directed Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson to march as soon as it was dark on the night of the 27th, and dislodge the enemy from the stockades they had erected on two of those points, and to occupy and maintain a third which they had neglected.

Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson had with him fourteen companies; two six-pounders and two howitzers of the mountain train, and a force of irregulars amounting to at least a thousand, but calculated at twelve hundred matchlocks. From the badness of the road, or rather foot-paths, and the great difficulties encountered, it was not till a late hour in the morning of the 28th that Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson reached the first point he was instructed to attack, and that was found so inaccessible, and so very much stronger than my information had given me reason to expect, that he very judiciously determined not to risk the chance of an instantaneous assault; but to make use of his artillery. His letter, which I have the honour to inclose, together with a copy of my instructions, details his proceedings from that date, and renders it only necessary for me to express my approbation of Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson's conduct, and entire satisfaction with that of the detachment in general.

It would, however, be unjust not to mention, that the reports I received from Lieutenant Lawtie, Engineer, of the very great labour and fatigue sustained with cheerfulness by the pioneers, induced me to express to Captain Baines, Lieutenant Armstrong, and their Officers, who set them the meritorious example, my particular thanks, and to send a pecuniary donation to the men.

Lieutenant Lawtie, with his accustomed zeal, accompanied the detachment, and on this as on every occasion, deserves my highest consideration; from him I have the honour to transmit a slight sketch of the ground and point of attack.

It remains only to add, that the enemy no sooner perceived the movement to the right, and contemplated its obvious object, than they evacuated all their stockades, but the two small redoubts immediately under the fort, and risked the attempt which Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson has detailed, and on its unsuccessful issue, retired to Mungbooka Dhar, where he is now assembled with his whole force, the right covered by the stockades which I had intended to attack, and their left resting on or towards the fort of Tarragush.

Apprehending that the enemy might venture a second, I directed Lieutenant-Colonel Lyons and the second battalion of the 7th, with two six-pounders, to reinforce Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson, in the hope of preventing it, or rendering it ineffectual. They have, however, remained stationary since their repulse.

I have, &c.
D. OCHTERLONY, Major-Gen.
Camp Nehr, Dec. 31, 1814.

Report from Lieutenant-Colonel Thompson to Major-General Ochterlony, inclosed in the preceding.

SIR,
AGREEABLY to your instructions, I have the honour to report, that after dusk on the evening of the 27th I commenced my march towards these heights with the light battalion and eight companies of the 2d battalion 3d regiment, native infantry, two six-pounders, and a mountain train of two light howitzers. Although the night was extremely favourable, the whole of the artillery did not reach the opposite side of the ridge of hills, about one coss below Deboo-kar, Jebba, until past eight o'clock in the morning of the 28th. I then advanced up the face of the hill with the light battalion and four companies of the 2d battalion 3d regiment, to gain possession of the ridge on my left, immediately opposite to the enemy's stone stockade; from this ridge, the stockade is about seven hundred yards, with four different heights intervening.

The enemy having come out so far as the nearest hill to the ridge, began to open a fire of matchlocks upon our party as they proceeded up the heights. On our gaining possession of a high part of the ridge, the enemy evacuated their position upon the opposite hill, and being instantaneously pursued by our troops, they fled successively over the whole of the hills between the ridge and their stockade, which appearing to me too strong to attempt without the assistance of our guns, I resolved to wait until the artillery came up.

The six-pounders opened upon the place about four o'clock P. M. and I was in hopes that as the wall appeared to be composed only of loose stones, it might have been laid open before dusk; but after firing for about an hour, from a distance of about five hundred yards, only a small part of the wall came down.

Having resolved to move the battery to a nearer distance the following morning, the pioneers were employed during the day in making fascines and gabions for that purpose.

About a quarter of an hour, however, before sun-rise the following morning (the 29th) the enemy came down in great numbers from the Mungoo-kar Dhar, with an apparent intention of forcing my position on the ridge, and also turning my left, so as to surround it. I am happy to add, that, in consequence of the warm reception they received from our troops they were soon obliged to retire with loss. Having now however every reason to believe that Mungoo-ka-Dhar had been strongly reinforced, I thought it advisable to throw up a slight entrenchment on my position on the ridge and first hill, which was effected about dusk.

During the night the enemy evacuated the stockade on Deboo-ka-Tibba which was immediately occupied by the picquets of the light battalion.

The stockade is situated on a steep rocky eminence, very difficult of access on all sides, but particularly so in front, where it is almost perpendicular. The wall is ten feet high on the outside, and four feet thick, composed of loose stones, extremely well built, and three sides of it are surrounded by a high bamboo fence, at the distance of two feet from the outside of the wall; within it is a Pucka Mhut.

The position of the enemy at Mungoo-ka-Dhar appears to be nearly two miles from my post, and the road to it very difficult, as well from unevenness as from ascent. I have also been informed that the enemy have thrown up stone breast works and other obstacles at different parts of the road.

I have the honour to inclose a correct return of our casualties, and those of the enemy from the best intelligence I have been able to procure, amount to one hundred and fifty killed, and about two hundred and fifty wounded. I had the pleasure yesterday to send in two prisoners from Deboo-ka-Tibba, and this day another, who was wounded in the affair of the 29th.

The conduct of the officers and men composing my detachment has been such as to merit my warmest approbation.

I have the honour to be, &c.
WILLIAM THOMPSON, Lieut.-Col.
Commanding the Reserve.

COPIES of letters and of their inclosures from Admiral Lord Exmouth, K. C. B., Commander in Chief of His Majesty's ships in the Mediterranean, addressed to John Wilson Croker, Esquire, Boyne, off Marseilles, August 2, 1815.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to transmit you, for their Lordships information, two letters lately received from Rear-Admiral Penrose and Captain Fahie, of the Malta, detailing the operations before Gaeta. It is thought that the Governor will not make a longer resistance, when he learns that Buonaparte has been made prisoner.

As the flotilla is not likely to be required in this quarter, I have instructed Colonel Robinson to return with it to its original station, and follow the orders they may have been under before, unless their services should be required at Elba or Gaeta.

I have the honour to be, &c.

A 2

His Majesty's Ship Mella, off Gaeta,

My Lord, July 15, 1815.

SINCE my last letter to your Lordship, of the 2d instant, we have twice communicated with the Governor of Gaeta, without any favourable result.

Having, on the 7th instant, acquainted him with Buonaparte's defeat, and sent him an official report of that event, which was transmitted to me for that purpose, by Rear-Admiral Penrose, he demanded permission to send an officer to the headquarters of the allied armies, to ascertain that fact, which was refused; and, to-day, he was summoned to surrender by the Austrian General commanding at Naples, which he rejected, declaring his determination to defend the place, to the last, and abide the course of Buonaparte's fortune.

Of late the desertions from the garrison have not been frequent, and we are assured that he has twelve hundred men, and provisions for four months.

The Austrian approaches have been continued with great perseverance, but under many difficulties, and the want of entrenching tools, which have been made for them on board the ships, as far as our iron would go. I have, however, the satisfaction to be assured, that their batteries will be ready to open at daylight on the 17th instant; and I to-day concerted with the General on the points which the flotilla are to act against; but when your Lordship learns that these batteries are only mounted with fourteen twenty-four pounders, sixteen twelve, and four mortars, you will not expect any decisive effect from their fire: our best hope, therefore, still rests on the chance of revolt in the garrison, when they learn the extent of the disasters which attended the enemy in France, and which we must contrive to send in to them.

Admiral Penrose, who is here, will decide on the force to be sent to your Lordship from this, after the proposed bombardment of three days ends.

I have the honour to be, &c.

WM. CHA. FAHIE.

To the Right Honourable Lord Exmouth,
K. C. B. Admiral of the Blue.

Queen, Gaeta Bay, July 18, 1815.

MY LORD,

I SEND Lieutenant Whitaker in the borrowed schooner Lafiano to inform your Lordship, that the second day of the three proposed by the Austrian General of a fire against Gaeta is nearly over, without any apparent effect leading to a close.

It is intended, as soon after to-morrow as possible, that the Berwick, with part of the flotilla, shall sail for Genoa, and I feel it my duty to inform your Lordship of this intention, that you may be enabled to send orders to meet her, should you think proper to change her destination.

This service at Gaeta has been attended with great labour; and the personal exertions of Captains Fahie, Brace, and Colonel Robinson, as well as all under their command, have been great and meritorious in the extreme.

At the close of this attack, Captain Fahie will inform your Lordships of the particulars and result of this blockade.

I mean to leave this place to-morrow night for Naples, Messina, and Malta, to complete stores and provisions, and expect to be at the latter place on or about the 2d of August.

I hope the parrow will sail with the last of the transports from Naples for Genoa in a day or two, and I understand that General Maitland, in the Sabrina, sails for Leghorn on Saturday.

I have the honour to be, &c.

C. V. PENROSE, Rear-Admiral.

Boyne, off Marseilles, Aug. 21, 1815.

SIR,

IN reference to my letter, written on the 21st instant, I have now the honour to forward you, for their Lordships' further information, Captain Fahie's report on the late attack on Gaeta.

I have conveyed my approbation and thanks to Captain Fahie and the officers and men under his orders, for the persevering zeal and gallantry displayed throughout the whole of this arduous service, and have only to regret that their exertions have not been attended with a more successful issue.

The operations against Gaeta are now turned into a blockade.

I have the honour to be, &c.

His Majesty's Ship Malta, before Gaeta,
July 23, 1815.

MY LORD,

I INFORMED your Lordship in my letter of the 15th instant, that the Austrian batteries would be ready on the 17th.

Having previously agreed with the Austrian General on the plan of attack on the part of the flotilla, they took their positions at three o'clock, and at day-light the firing commenced simultaneously; (the first gun from the batteries being the signal) and continued without intermission till past six, when the boats were drawn off to replenish their ammunition and refresh the men. At one o'clock the attack was renewed and continued till the expenditure of the ammunition obliged us to retire. This was speedily supplied, and the flotilla in readiness to return to their positions, when the Austrian fire ceased, and I soon after received a letter from the General acquainting me that his batteries had been nearly ruined; but that they would be restored and ready to renew their fire at three o'clock the next morning. The flotilla accordingly took their position in the night, and at the hour fixed, a heavy fire was recommenced on all sides, and only ceased on ours for the want of ammunition: at six o'clock we were soon in a state to return to our posts; but the Austrian batteries had been again knocked up, and it was now completely evident that they were too feeble to produce the desired effect, or to support for any time the superior fire which the enemy opposed to them from his commanding position. The General had, however, been ordered to persevere for three days; and we therefore agreed to make a final effort for that night. At eleven o'clock the attack was renewed, and continued till day-light. In all these attacks the enemy's fire from the sea-face of his works was completely silenced.

The conduct of the flotilla throughout the operations here, and particularly in the more recent and animating scenes, has been highly zealous and meritorious, and I must beg leave especially to express to your Lordship my approbation of the conduct of the Lieutenants of this ship and the Berwick, who for nearly two months (with the exception of a very few nights) have in their turn been under the fire of this powerful fortress; and I must gratefully ascribe it to the extraordinary interposition of Providence that I have the happiness of inclosing so small a list of casualties.

I have uniformly received from Captain Brace the most able and friendly assistance; and my best thanks are also due to Colonel Robinson for the cordiality and judgment with which he has carried into execution all my wishes with respect to the flotilla.

As the operations against this place are now turned into a blockade, I shall send the Berwick immediately to join your Lordship with all the gunboats of the Anglo-Sicilian flotilla; but Colonel Robinson finds it impossible to accompany them, for reasons which he will state.

I cannot deny myself the satisfaction of bearing my humble testimony to the energies displayed by the Austrian General, Baron Lauer, under all the difficulties he had to contend with, and to the persevering bravery with which his weak batteries were fought against treble their number, of guns pouring down on them; and it will be most gratifying to us, if your Lordship has the means of communicating these sentiments to the Commander in Chief of the Austrian army in Italy.

The destruction of Buonaparte's hopes and the restoration of His Majesty Louis the 18th have been communicated to the Governor of Gaeta; but he persists in his defence of the place; this conduct can only be the effect of despair; for it cannot be accounted for on any reasonable principle.

I forward herewith a report of killed and wounded.

I have the honour to be, &c.

WILLIAM CHARLES FAHIE.

To the Right Hon. Admiral Lord Exmouth, K. C. B. Commander in Chief

WM. CHS. FAHIE, Captain.

SIR, Boyne, at Sea, Sept. 2, 1815.

I HAVE the honour to forward you, for their Lordships' information, a letter addressed to me by Captain Fahie, of His Majesty's ship Malta, reporting the submission of the fortress of Gaeta, and the possession of it by the marines of the Malta, and by the allied troops, on the 8th ultimo. A copy of the terms of submission is herewith transmitted.

In bearing testimony of the judicious and persevering skill with which this arduous service has been conducted by Captain Fahie, and seconded by Captain Brace, of the Berwick, and the respective officers under his command, I cannot refrain from bringing to their Lordships' notice the merits of the first Lieutenants of the Malta and Berwick, who have been constantly under the fire of the enemy's batteries (in command of the gun-boats) for these last three months. They have both been represented to me as very deserving officers, and their gallant conduct, during the whole of the siege, has been so repeatedly marked with the commendations of their respective Captains, that I venture to express a hope their merit will find its reward in the favourable consideration of their Lordships.

The handsome encomiums by which the services of Lieutenant-Colonel Robinson are appreciated by Captain Fahie, leaves me nothing to add beyond assuring their Lordships, that the same favourable report has been made to me of the zealous exertions of that officer since his assuming the command of the flotilla.

I have the honour to be, &c.

EXMOUTH.

To John Wilson Croker, Esq.

&c. &c. &c.

His Majesty's Ship Malta, Gaeta Bay, August 9, 1815.

MY LORD,

IN my letter of the 2d instant, I expressed my intention of sending the next day to the Governor of Gaeta an account of Buonaparte's surrender, which having been done, I have now the pleasure to acquaint your Lordship, that it led to communications which terminated in the submission of that fortress yesterday. At six P. M. the Sea-gate was taken possession of by the marines of His Majesty's ship under my command; and the others by the Austrian and Sicilian troops; and this day the garrison marched out, and were disposed of according to the terms of submission (a copy of which is herewith transmitted); the four first articles having been dictated by his Sicilian Majesty. Inventories are taking; but as they will employ some time, I do not think it necessary to wait till they are finished, as Colonel Robinson, who is appointed on our part, will remain, and send a copy when completed. There are two hundred and twenty-seven pieces of ordnance; one hundred and fifty-two of which are mounted, and provisions remaining for near three months.

In acquainting your Lordship with the conclusion of this service, I cannot deny myself the satisfaction of again expressing my sense of the zealous assistance afforded to me by Captain Brace, while he continued under my orders, and Colonel Robinson, who did so to the last moment; and without meaning to attach more importance or merit to the operations in which we have been engaged, than they may be fairly considered to deserve, I yet venture to express my hope, that your Lordship will feel yourself at liberty to place them in such a light before my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, as may obtain their Lordships' favour and consideration, towards Colonel Robinson and the first Lieutenant of this ship, who is a most deserving officer.

I have the honour to be, &c.

WILLIAM CHARLES FAHIE.

To the Right Honourable Admiral Lord Exmouth, K. C. B., Commander in Chief, &c. &c. &c.

ARTICLES of SUBMISSION of the Fortress of Gaeta, which the undersigned have established in consequence of the Authorities given them.

Art. I. The Commandant, Mr. Begani, commanding the fortress of Gaeta, will surrender the said fortress to His Majesty Ferdinand the Fourth, King of the Two Sicilies, and all that it contains.

Art. II. His Majesty grants his pardon to Mr. Begani, but he will not admit him in his service. He will submit himself to the generosity of His Majesty respecting the necessary means (should he be in want) to undertake immediately to travel out of the kingdom.

Art. III. His Majesty grants to all Neapolitan officers and soldiers the same conditions which have been granted to his subjects in the capitulation of Capa Lanza.

Art. IV. The subjects of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria and those of His Majesty Louis the Eighteenth will remain at the disposal of their respective Sovereigns.

Art. V. The fortress will be surrendered to-morrow the 9th instant, at four o'clock P.M. The marine port gate, as well as that of the land, will be occupied to-day, at six o'clock, P.M. by the troops of the Allies, and this evening the Commissaries will begin to take charge of the magazines.

Art. VI. The garrison will march out to-morrow, the 9th instant, at four o'clock, P.M. by the land-gate, and will lay down their arms on the glacis. The officers will keep their swords. The standards and drums, as well as the musical instruments, will be left in the fortress.

Art. VII. The Neapolitan officers and soldiers will embark the same day at Castellone for Castel Voltorno, where they will find means of conveyance by transports to Capua, the place of their destination. The families and equipages of the said officers will be likewise embarked in the same day at the Mole for Castel Voltorno.

Art. VIII. The foreign officers and soldiers will embark the same day, the 9th instant, at Castellone, for Leghorn, where they are to wait for their destination from the Allied Powers. The said transports will be furnished at the expense of His Majesty.

Art. IX. Three separate stalls will be made of the foreign troops, as well as of the Neapolitans composing the garrison.

Art. X. The archives, plans, papers, projects, chests, magazines, provisions, ammunitions, artillery, fortifications, marine hospitals, and arsenals, will be delivered to-day to the Commissaries appointed for the same; separate inventories in triplicate will be made of such deliveries, during which no person will be allowed either to enter the city, or to come out from the same.

Art. XI. The commandant, M. Begani, and the Commissaries in charge of the fortress will be strictly responsible that the whole of the effects of Government property, as well as those of Murat, which may be there, should be delivered to the Commissaries of His Majesty.

Art. XII. The horses and carriages of Government property will be delivered to the Commissaries appointed for the same, as well as those belonging to the foreign officers. The Neapolitan superior officers will keep their horses.

Art. XIII. The civil and military functionaries will continue to do duty until further orders from His Majesty.

Art. XIV. The sick and wounded of the foreign troops will be treated with all hospitality; and they will receive their allowances up to their recovery.

Art. XV. Will be strongly recommended to the Allied Powers all those Roman, Tuscan, and Piedmontese officers and soldiers who have no other trade than that of the army.—In the mean time they will be embarked with their effects for Leghorn, where they will wait for their destination, as the other foreign officers.

Art. XVI. It will be allowed to the foreign officers to send to Capua a commissioner to take their effects, and to call for their families, left in that fortress.

Art. XVII. All the baggage of the military men will be examined by a commission of officers of the Allied troops; such examination will be made at the Marine gate at the time of the embarkation of the baggage. Such measure is taken in consequence of a report which has been spread, and believed, that Murat had left considerable sums of money in the Fortress. The object of all this, therefore, is to preserve the decorum of the besieged as well as of the besiegers entering into the fortress, and not to cause the least injury to the garrison.

Art. XVIII. His Majesty will be recommended to be pleased to grant a month's pay to all the foreign officers composing the garrison, to defray expenses of the passage, in the same manner as it was practised with the others.

Art. XIX. To be recommended to the generosity of His Majesty, the individuals of Gaeta and Burgo who have lost in the bombardment their houses, as well as those individuals who have lost on that occasion their parents, or any limb, whose loss would render them incapable to procure themselves a living.

Art. XX. No civil or military individual will be molested for the last political opinion.

Art. XXI. The ceased royal family, on quitting Gaeta, presented the Governor M. Begani with some carriages, which could not be embarked for want of conveyance. The said Governor offers them to His Majesty as a token of his perfect devotion.

Art. XXII. The present capitulation is guaranteed from His Majesty and the Allied Powers.

WILLIAM CHARLES FAHIE, commanding British Squadron before Gaeta.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The humble Address of His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Presbyterians in Ireland, distinguished by the name of Seceders, assembled in Cookstown, the 5th July 1815.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Presbyterians in Ireland, distinguished by the name of Seceders; beg leave to take the opportunity of our annual meeting to present to the throne of our venerable Sovereign assurances of continued loyalty, attachment, and confidence.

We feel, in common with all loyal subjects in the British empire, sentiments of deep regret for the protracted illness of your Royal Highness's august father, our beloved King.

But in offering our respectful homage to your Royal Highness, we cannot forbear congratulating your Royal Highness on the dignified attitude which the British nation occupies among the nations of Europe. We feel grateful to Almighty God, who has so conducted your Royal Highness's counsels, and so prospered His Majesty's arms, as to make them pre-eminently instrumental in defeating the plans and crushing the power of an ambitious, cunning, and perfidious adventurer, who had inflicted so many calamities on the neighbouring nations, and whose governing aim appeared to be the destruction of the liberty and prosperity of these countries committed to your Royal Highness's government and care.

May a Divine blessing descend on your Royal Highness's persons and family, and continue them to the latest ages on the British throne, the same zealous friends of religion and liberty they have ever been, and make them wise, powerful, and successful guardians of our happy Constitution, now the envy of other countries, and the model of all reformed Governments.

Signed, by order of the Synod;

John Lowry, Moderator.
