By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS the Parliament stands prorogued to Thursday the second day of November next: And whereas by Our Order in Council of the nineteenth of this instant October, it was ordered, that the said Parliament should be prorogued on the said second day of November to Thursday the first day of February next; and that the Lord High Chancellor of that part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland called Great Britain, should prepare a Commission for proroguing the same accordingly: And whereas by Our Proclamation of the said nineteenth of this instant October, We did, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, publish and declare, that the said Parliament should, on the said first day of February next, be held and sit for the dispatch of divers urgent and important affairs: And whereas We, taking the premises into Our consideration, have, for divers reasons, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, ordered and declared, that the aforesaid Order in Council and Proclamation should be discharged and recalled, and that the said Parliament be prorogued from the said Thursday the second day of November to Wednesday the seventeenth day of January next; We do therefore hereby publish and declare, that the said Order in Council and Proclamation are discharged and recalled accordingly.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the thirty-first day of October one thousand eight hundred and fifteen, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

Unto His Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c.

The Address of the Provincial Synod of Glasgow and Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Synod of Glasgow and Ayr, met in Synod, beg leave to approach the throne with the cordial expression of our allegiance. With humble gratitude to Almighty God, we congratulate your Royal Highness on the glorious public events, which, since our last meeting, have crowned with decided success the steady wisdom of His Majesty's Councils, and the unrivalled valour of our armies, under the auspicious administration of your Royal Highness.

The ever-memorable victory of Waterloo, so distinguished for the exploits of British valour, and for the unprecedented spirit of active benevolence which it has excited among all ranks of His Majesty's subjects, will, we trust, be no less distinguished by its beneficial effects in restoring independence and legitimate government to the nations of Europe. In the spirit of love, so congenial to the native feelings of Britons, actuated by the faith of the Gospel, we hail with joy the prospect of permanent peace. It shall be our constant care to cherish, along with the dutiful sentiments of loyalty, all the other Christian virtues in the minds of that portion of His Majesty's people committed to our pastoral care.

That the Father of Mercies may soothe the personal affliction of our venerable and beloved Sovereign; that the God, by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, may protect and bless your Royal Highness; that he may direct and prosper His Majesty's Government under your auspices; and that Princes of your illustrious House may, to latest posterity, sway the sceptre of the United Kingdom, are the sincere and fervent prayers of,
