AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 8th of June 1816,

PRESENT,

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCE REGENT in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

This day the Right Honourable Edward Thornton was, by command of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

Carlton-House, May 28, 1816.

THIS day the Right Honourable Lord Grenville, Chancellor of the University of Oxford; Reverend Dr. Lee, President of Trinity College, Vice-Chancellor; Reverend Dr. Landon, Provost of Worcester College; Reverend Dr. Cole, Rector of Exeter College; Reverend Dr. Hughes, Principal of Jesus College; Reverend Dr. Hodson, Principal of Brazenose College; Sir Henry Hallford, Bart. M.D.; Sir C. Pegge, Kut. M.D. Regius Professor of Physic; Thomas D'Oyley, LL.D. Fellow of All Souls College; Joseph Phillimore, LL.D. Regius Professor of Civil Law; Reverend Charles Wrottesley, M.A. Fellow of All Souls College, Junior Proctor; Reverend Charles Lloyd, Student of Christ Church, Pro-Proctor; Clement Cartwright, M.A. Fellow of All Souls College; Reverend H. Cotton, M.A. Student of Christ Church; Griffith Wynne, M.A. of All Souls College; Reverend John Ball, M.A. Student of Christ Church, being the Delegates appointed by the University to attend on this occasion; accompanied by His Grace the Duke of Portland, His Grace the Archbishop of York, Marquesses of Buckingham, Salisbury, Carmarthen, and Titchfield, Earls Delaware and Temple, Bishop of London, Lord Kenyon, Right Honourable the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the Dean of Westminster, Right Honourable Sir William Scott, Right Honourable Sir John Nicholl, Mr. C. Williams Wynne, and several other Noblemen and Gentlemen who were educated at the University, waited upon His Royal Highness the Prince Regent to present to His Royal Highness the following Address; which Address was read by Lord Grenville, the Chancellor of the University:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, beg leave humbly to offer to your Royal Highness the expression of our heartfelt joy at the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales with a Protestant Prince, descended from an illustrious race, and distinguished by personal virtues worthy of that august Princess, who is the object of our dearest and proudest hopes.

When we reflect on the various blessings our country has derived from the mild and equitable rule of the House of Brunswick, we cannot but rejoice in an event, which, by tending to perpetuate the succession in that House, promises a continuance of the same blessings. We not only rejoice in it, as an event grateful to the paternal feelings of your Royal Highness, but we see in it also a pledge of our own happiness, an additional security to those civil rights and religious establishments, which we firmly believe to be, under Divine Providence, the foundation of all our greatness.

That the sceptre may never depart from your royal line, is our sincere and fervent prayer; and we are confident, that in this prayer we speak the wishes of all His Majesty's subjects. With them we unite in zealous and dutiful attachment to your Royal Highness, to whom we are more especially bound by repeated acts of munificence and kindness: and we hope, by the careful discharge of the trust committed to us, to prove that we are not undeserving of your Royal Highness's favour and protection.

Our constant purpose is to combine the pursuit of knowledge with the formation of that character; upon which the true glory of a kingdom must ever depend; and we are encouraged in the performance of this duty by the firm persuasion, that no offering can be more acceptable to a generous Prince, than the affection of a religious and enlightened people.

Given at our House of Convocation, the 17th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1816.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I return you my warmest thanks for this loyal and affectionate Address.

"It is with the utmost satisfaction that I receive your congratulations on an event, which, I trust, be found conducive to the best interests of this country, by affording additional security to its civil rights and religious establishments, which, under the favour of Divine Providence, are the foundation of its prosperity and power, and to the support of which I am persuaded that you will ever contribute both by your precepts and example. The University of Oxford may be assured of my invariable favour and protection."

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Essex, beg leave humbly and dutifully to express to your Royal Highness our congratulations upon the recent event of the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales with His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

When we consider the distinguished virtues attributed to the favoured Prince who has been selected to receive the hand of your Royal Highness's illustrious daughter, and the circumstances under which the union has taken place, we cannot but regard these auspicious nuptials as affording the brightest prospect of happiness to the Royal Pair, and of the most important and lasting benefits to the British Empire.

Nics. Pearce, High Sheriff of, and in behalf of the county of Essex.

[Delivered to Viscount Sidmouth by the High Sheriff of Essex, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our unfeigned congratulations on the auspicious event of the nuptials of your illustrious daughter, the Princess Charlotte Augusta, with His Serene Highness Leopold, George Frederick, Prince of Cobourg.

Firmly attached to the principles of our excellent Constitution, we sincerely rejoice in an union, affording the highest proof of your Royal Highness's paternal attention to the welfare and interests of His Majesty's subjects, and additional security for the happy continuance of the throne of these realms in the Protestant succession, with every prospect of public and domestic happiness.

[Delivered to Viscount Sidmouth by Major-General Sir George Anson, K. C. B. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council, of the Borough of King's-Lynn, in the County of Norfolk, in Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Person, and to tender our sincere congratulations on the interesting and important occasion of the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte with His Serene Highness Prince Leopold, Duke of Saxe Cobourg.

Zealously attached to your illustrious Family, the appointed Sovereigns of a free people, we regard with peculiar satisfaction, an event which affords to your Royal Highness the prospect of so much domestic enjoyment, and which cannot but highly contribute to the happiness of His Majesty's United Kingdom.

In this humble tribute of our dutiful allegiance, we rejoice in common with every subject of these realms; whilst we rely with confidence on the power and energy of virtuous patriotism to maintain inviolate the dignity and lustre of the Crown, and to transmit to the latest posterity the unimpaired blessings of our invaluable Constitution.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall, the 4th day of June, in the year of our Lord 1816.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Orford, Lord Walpole, and Sir Martin Browne Folkes, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Newport, in the Isle of Wight, in the County of Southampton, in Common Hall assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Newport, in the Isle of Wight, with the most sincere and heartfelt pleasure, offer our congratulations to your Royal Highness on the auspicious event of the marriage of your illustrious daughter, the Princess Charlotte.

Angusta, with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Prince of Cobourg of Saxe-Cobourg. Impressed, in our hearts, with His Majesty's loyal subjects, with sentiments of the warmest attachment to the House of Hanover—living in the full enjoyment of the blessings and liberties fostered and maintained by our Princes of that illustrious House—proud of the glorious pre-eminence to which our country has attained under the paternal sway of our renowned Sovereign—followed by the energies and wisdom of your Royal Highness's regency—participating in the universal prayer for the continuance of the sceptre of these realms in the descendants of such Princes—we cannot but contemplate with satisfaction an union so propitious, which, in every view, presents the brightest prospect of happiness to the illustrious pair, and to your Royal Highness, and the United Empire. We rejoice that the consort of our amiable Princess is of a renowned Protestant House; and it cannot but add to our gratification, that a descendant of the House of Saxony, under whose Princes the sun of the British Constitution first dawned, should be the chosen consort of the presumptive Heiress to the Crown of these dominions.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto affixed our common seal, this 7th day of June, in the 56th year of His Majesty's reign.

[Transmitted by Sir J. W. Holmes, Bart. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the Shire of Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, humbly beg leave to approach the throne with our warmest congratulations upon the auspicious event of the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales to His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe-Cobourg. It is with the greatest satisfaction we anticipate the most happy national consequences from this connection, which we ardently hope may tend to insure to these realms a long succession of Monarchs of that illustrious line, under which so much individual happiness and national prosperity have been enjoyed by those whom Providence has placed under its favoured sway; and whilst we lament the severe indisposition of our beloved Sovereign, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of the dutiful attachment of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the Shire of Ayr.

Signed, in our name, and by our appointment, at Ayr, this 5th day of June 1816, by

Sir Hen. Dalrymple, Hamilton, Bart. Preses

[Transmitted by Sir H. Dalrymple, Bart. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

THE following Address has been presented to Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta and His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe-Cobourg, which Address they were pleased to receive very graciously:

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta and His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Prince of Saxe-Cobourg.

The humble Address of the Mayor and Burgesses of the Borough of Devizes, in the County of Wilts, in Common Council assembled.

DEEPLY sensible of the invaluable blessings which have been enjoyed by these Realms, under the mild and auspicious Government of the House of Brunswick, every event which tends to perpetuate these blessings to posterity, is a subject of congratulation to His Majesty's loyal subjects. Impressed with these feelings, we, the Mayor and Burgesses of the Borough of Devizes, most joyfully offer our sincere congratulations on the recent marriage of your Royal and Serene Highnesses. That this auspicious union may prove a source of lasting felicity to yourselves and to every branch of the Royal Family, is our fervent prayer; and should it please Almighty Providence to call the presumptive heiress to the throne of this United Kingdom, as we look with confidence to the protection of our excellent Constitution, our laws and liberties, so we pray that the ardent loyalty, devoted attachment, and constitutional submission of a grateful people may increase that domestic comfort and happiness, which the illustrious and transcendent virtues of your Highnesses enable us to insure.

Given under our common seal, in the Common Chamber of the said Borough, the 24th day of June, in the 56th year of His Majesty's reign. Thomas Tyler, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Mayor of Devizes, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]
