SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1816.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Burgesses, and Assistants of the Borough Town and Parish of Tiverton, in the County of Devon, beg leave humbly to congratulate your Royal Highness on the auspicious event of the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales with His Serene Highness the Prince of Saxe Cobourg. An union which we ardently hope and trust will increase the stability of the throne of these realms in the Protestant House of Brunswick, and insure at the same time, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the domestic happiness of Her Royal Highness and the illustrious Prince with whom she is united.

Given under the common seal of the said borough, the 14th day of June, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

J. Govett, jun. Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Harrowby, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and loyal Address of the Burgesses, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of the Town and County of Haverfordwest, in the Guildhall assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Burgesses, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of the Town and County of Haverfordwest, in the Guildhall assembled, approach your Royal Highness, with real sentiments of affection, to offer our warmest congratulations to your Royal Highness on the recent and auspicious marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick Prince of Cobourg.

We are persuaded that this most important union cannot be less grateful to the personal feelings of your Royal Highness, than important to the best interests of the British empire, when we consider that it presents the happy prospect of securing to the throne a succession of Princes professing the Protestant religion.

The virtues which so eminently distinguish the royal bride, and the amiable endowments of the Prince, afford a happy presage of seeing the Constitution, in Church and State, remain unaltered; and, in its reformed principles, descend to posterity as it now is, the pride and glory of the British nation.

This happy union has raised the voice of joy, and spread the bright flame of loyalty, equally strong, among His Majesty's liege subjects in these remote parts of your Royal Highness's principality, as among those who are nearer the seat of Government.

The inhabitants of Wales, ever dutiful and loyal, are anxious to avail themselves of the earliest opportunity to express their feelings to your Royal Highness upon this joyful event, and to unite with all parts of the empire in imploring the favour of Heaven upon the amiable and royal bride, and her illustrious consort.

John Edm. Philipps Langham, Mayor, Chairman.

[Transmitted by Lord Kensington, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Camelford-House, May 13, 1816.

[Presented by the above Noblemen and Gentlemen accordingly.]

To which Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"We receive with great satisfaction this proof of the attention and regard of the House of Commons, and return them many thanks for their congratulations."

Answer of the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

Gentlemen,

"I rejoice at the share the House of Commons, take in my happiness, and am sensible of their attention in making me these congratulations. I am very much obliged to them for their good wishes, and thank them for the assurance of their friendship, which I shall always try to deserve."

THE following Addresses have been presented to Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta and His Serene Highness the Prince

Leopold of Saxe Cobourg, which Addresses, they were pleased to receive very graciously.

I HAVE the honour to address your Serene Highness, by the direction of the Mayor and Corporation of Southampton, who beg leave to congratulate your Serene Highness upon your marriage with Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta; and to acquaint your Serene Highness that the Mayor and Corporation, the Common Council assembled, have unanimously elected your Serene Highness an Honorary Burgess of their very ancient body, and in this return to you. Your Serene Highness's acceptance of this nomination will add a lustre to the annals of this town, already graced with the names of His Majesty and of your illustrious consort's Royal Father the Prince Regent, and also of nearly all the Royal Dukes, and will be highly esteemed as a proof of your Serene Highness's condescension and favour towards this Town and Corporation.

I beg leave to subscribe myself,

with the utmost respect,

Your Serene Highness's most obedient and devoted humble servant,

The Ridding Town Clerk,
His Serene Highness Leopold Duke of Saxe Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, &c. &c. &c.
Camelford House, London.

SIR: Camelford House, May 19, 1816.

I am commanded by the Prince Leopold to acknowledge the receipt of the address and congratulations of the Mayor and Corporation of Southampton on the happy event of His Serene Highness's marriage with Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta; and to express to the Mayor and Corporation of Southampton His Serene Highness's satisfaction in receiving this mark of their attention and regard; and I have the further in command to make known to the Mayor and Corporation of Southampton, His Serene Highness's pleasure in accepting their vote in Common Council assembled, and their election as Honorary Burgess of their very ancient body.

I have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servant,

Robert Gardiner,
To The Ridding Town Clerk, Southampton.

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Saxe Cobourg, and His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, &c.

WE, your Royal and Serene Highnesses most affectionate and devoted servants, the Mayor, High Steward, Recorder, Magistrates, and Approved Men, together with the other Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Guildford, in the County of Surrey, beg leave to offer to your Royal and Serene Highnesses our warmest and most sincere congratulations on your auspicious union, and to assure you that a union so calculated to ensure the domestic felicity of your Royal and Serene Highnesses, is in every new source of satisfactory relation to the English nation.

We rejoice in the opportunity afforded us of addressing a Prince for whom we entertain the highest and most profound regard and respect; to assure your Serene Highness how fully we participate in every happiness you can experience, and particularly in your union with so illustrious a British Princess.

May these nuptials, so pleasing to the nation, be productive of permanent felicity to your Royal and Serene Highnesses, and may you both live long in the esteem and affection of a free people.

Signed, by order and on behalf of the Mayor, &c.
Joseph Hockley, jun. Town Clerk.

[Presented by Lord Grenville and Mr. Serjeant Gifford.]

To which Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"Gentlemen,

"We return you our best thanks for your loyal address, and the expressions of attachment contained in it, which are very gratifying to us."

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Prince of Saxe-Cobourg of Saalfeld, and to Her Royal Highness Charlotte Augusta, Princess of Saxe-Cobourg.

WE, the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of New Salem, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to offer to your Highnesses our humble congratulations on the auspicious event of your marriage.

His Majesty's faithful subjects exult in every event which is calculated to augment the happiness of the Royal House; they pray that many blessings may be derived from these happy nuptials; that your Highnesses, in your exalted station, may long enjoy the affection of a loyal people, grateful to your Highnesses for displaying those virtues which render power amiable, and greatness illustrious; grateful for the benefits of your high example, and for the hopes of future blessings, which it will afford to us and to our posterity.

Given under our common seal, at the City of New Salem, the 8th day of May 1816.

[Presented by the Bishop of Salisbury, Earl of Pembroke, Viscount Falkstone, and Mr. Jerwoise.]

To which Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"Gentlemen,

"We receive your congratulations and assurances of regard with the sincerest pleasure, and it will always afford us happiness to remember them."

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, and Her Royal Highness Princess Charlotte of Wales.

WE, the Lord Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of the City of York, beg leave to approach your Highnesses with our heartfelt congratulations on your recent marriage. Attached to the family of our Sovereign by the freedom and honour which this nation has under them for successive generations enjoyed, an event, which we trust will perpetuate their race, cannot but inspire us with the liveliest pleasure; and that your union may be productive of equal happiness to yourselves, and of prosperity to the country, is our sincere and ardent wish.

That you, Madam, as a wife and a mother will prove a pattern to your sex, we are firmly convinced, and should hereafter the course of events call you to the Throne, we have no doubt you will steadily adhere to those principles of rational liberty, for the support of which your illustrious family was at first selected.

That you, Sir, have become a British subject and a resident in Britain, will we trust through life, be to you a source of happiness and of self congratulation; fully convinced of your excellent and virtuous qualities, the British people receive you amongst them with eagerness and delight; and we are well persuaded that a more ultimate knowledge and connection will hereafter cement and fix for ever that bond of attachment which now unites them to you.

That you may enjoy every happiness to which a proper and suitable marriage can give rise, is our ardent wish and sincere prayer.

John Daly, Mayor.

[Presented by the Honourable Mr. Dundas and Sir Mark Masterman Sykes, Bart.]

To which Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"Gentlemen,

"It affords us sincere pleasure to be assured of your regard, and we have the greatest satisfaction in receiving your Address and congratulations."

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld, &c.

THE Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town Clerk of the ancient and loyal Borough of New Windsor, in the County of Berks, in Common Council assembled, have great pleasure and satisfaction in offering their warmest congratulations to your Serene Highness on your safe arrival in this kingdom, and on your Serene Highness's most happy nuptials with the Princess Charlotte Augusta, the beloved daughter of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent.

We feel assured that the dignity of the birth of your illustrious bride, the presumptive heiress to the Throne of these realms, is equalled by the virtuous and amiable qualities of Her Royal Highness, and that the people of this country regard the graces and virtues which adorn Her Royal Highness, as the happy omen of continued blessings to the empire.

That your Serene Highness may long live to enjoy the blessings of conjugal felicity, and that your Royal Bride may realise your wishes with a race of Princes, resembling their illustrious parents in every public as well as private virtue, and transmit your names with undiminished glory to succeeding ages, is our sincere and ardent wish.

Given under the common seal of the Borough aforesaid, at the Guildhall within the same Borough, the 16th day of May, in the year 1816;
James Atkins, Mayor.

Answer.

"SIR, Camelford-House, May 25, 1816.

"I am commanded by their Royal and Serene Highnesses, the Prince Leopold and the Princess Charlotte, to acknowledge the receipt of the address of the Mayor, the Aldermen, the Bailiffs, Burgesses, the Recorder, and the Town-Clerk of the Borough of Windsor, in Common Council assembled, on the late happy event of their Royal and Serene Highnesses' marriage; and in begging you to communicate to the borough of Windsor the deep interest their Royal and Serene Highnesses must always feel in the attachment and the regard of that Corporation; I have it further in command to request you will make known the great pleasure their Royal and Serene Highnesses experience, in receiving the present Address, and the wishes of the borough of Windsor so earnestly expressed, for their mutual and continual happiness."

"I have the honour to be, &c.

"Robert Gardiner."

To James Atkins, Esq. Mayor of Windsor,
&c. &c. &c.

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta and His Serene Highness Prince Leopold George Frederick, of Saxe Cobourg.

WHATEVER occurrence can tend to render the throne of Great Britain permanent to the House of Brunswick, and that can insure to the people, to the latest period of time, the full enjoyment of their laws, rights, and liberties, must be a subject of sincere congratulation to every constituted body, as well as to every loyal Briton.

Convinced that the union of your Royal and Serene Highnesses must conduce to those momentous and desirable ends, we, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Bath, in Common Hall specially assembled, most joyfully hail the auspicious alliance. May it prove a source of uninterrupted felicity to yourselves, and to every branch of your illustrious Houses; and should the Almighty Disposer of human events call the presumptive heiress of the British throne to wield the royal sceptre, may your Royal Highness possess the affections of your subjects, and may they again experience glory and blessing from a female reign; whilst, from the virtues and wisdom of your august consort, you will enjoy those domestic comforts and that tranquillity which will effectually relieve the anxious cares ever attendant on superior station.

Given under the common seal of the said city, the 17th day of May, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

[Presented by Earl Camden, Lord John Thynne, and Colonel Palmer.]

To which Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"Gentlemen,

"We have the greatest pleasure in receiving your congratulations, and the assurances of regard and attachment that accompany them."

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Saxe Cobourg.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of Weymouth, and Melcombe Regis, beg that your Royal Highness would condescend to accept the humble, but most sincere tribute of our congratulations on your marriage with His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg. From every point of view, in which it can be considered, the people of the United Kingdom may cherish the happiest presages from this auspicious event: The intellectual accomplishments, the moral principles, and the amiable manners of your illustrious consort, acknowledged by the unanimous judgment of those who know him best, and by the report of universal fame, evince the wisdom of the choice which your Royal Highness has made.

But when we contemplate the character of the distinguished Princess, to whom he is now united, we are sure that we do not deceive ourselves, in the ardour of an overflowing zeal, into an unfounded anticipation of the most fortunate results from this connubial alliance. Your Royal Highness has honoured and gratified this town with your residence for two successive seasons; and therefore we are in some measure competent, from ocular evidence, to form an estimate of those talents, virtues, and graces, which have already opened with so bright a dawn. We have seen, with infinite delight, the Heiress of the British Throne adorning her high station with those exalted attainments of the mind, and those tender sensibilities of the heart, which endear her to every rank of life, and irresistibly attract the admiration of mankind. We have remarked the pre-eminent example which you have held out to us by your exact attention to those duties of religion, and by your unremitted exercise of that benevolence and charity, which are the choicest ornaments of a Christian, and the most splendid jewels of an earthly crown. We have felt the full impression of that dignified affability, and of that condescending goodness which uniformly characterized your deportment, towards all the inhabitants of this place.

This fair assemblage of various excellence, at such early years, has drawn the warmest affections of our hearts to the person of your Royal Highness. In the fervour of the unshaken loyalty, manifested by us, at all periods, to that august Family from which you are descended, we have reason to felicitate our country, and be grateful to the Giver of every Good Gift, that a young Princess, conspicuous for those endowments, which are the true glory of human nature, is destined to sway the sceptre of these realms. We rejoice in the prospect that, when our beloved Monarch, and your illustrious Father, shall have finished their course, though late, indeed, may that day arrive, you will, like them, be the defence and security of the Protestant cause, the support of the Constitution in Church and State; the Protectress of our religious and civil liberties, and the proud boast of this great and high spirited nation.

We offer up our earnest supplications, that God would be graciously pleased to shower down upon your Royal Highness, and your august husband, the most precious blessings of the conjugal life; and that, from this union, may spring a race of future Sovereigns, who, forming their principles and conduct on the model of their Progenitors, shall render this Country flourishing and happy under their mild and equitable Government.

Jas. Bower, Mayor.
[Presented by Lord Cranbourne and Mr. Westerton
[Mr. Stewart].]

To His Serene Highness Leopold Prince of Saxe Cobourg.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Weymouth, and Melcombe Regis, respectfully beg permission to offer your Serene Highness our warmest congratulations on your auspicious union with our gracious Princess Charlotte Augusta.

The long residence of Her Royal Highness at this highly favoured place, has afforded us peculiar opportunities of witnessing those amiable and endearing manners, those accomplishments and virtues, which she so eminently possesses.

In her, we are assured, you will find whatever can delight the soul and enchain the heart!

The trumpet of Fame has loudly sounded the heroic deeds of your Serene Highness, in the recent awful conflicts which have so happily given repose to Europe—they demand our esteem and gratitude: but, Sir, we have still more to admire in you, those other manly virtues and qualities of the heart, of which the general voice speaks so highly.

That your Serene Highness and your Royal Bride may long live in mutual bliss, is our unfeigned prayer.

Jas. Bower, Mayor.
[Presented by Lord Cranbourne and Mr. Westerton
[Mr. Stewart].]

To which address Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following answer:

"Gentlemen,
"You will be assured it affords us particular satisfaction to receive the addresses and congratulations from the Inhabitants of Weymouth; so long distinguished in their firm and continued loyalty; and we desire you will make known to the inhabitants of Weymouth, the pleasure we must always feel in the assurance of their regard and attachment."

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Saxe Cobourg.

Madam,
WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs and capital or principal Burgesses of the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness and to offer our heartfelt congratulations on the recent nuptials of your Royal Highness with His Serene Highness; the Prince of Cobourg.

We, Madam, have had peculiarly fortunate opportunities (and we acknowledge the favour with gratitude) of witnessing, during the seasons in which your Royal Highness has honoured this Borough and Town with your residence, the amiable virtues, polished manners, and good sense which cast such a lustre on your station.

The expectation, in which from this knowledge, we are glad to indulge, that the union hailed with such general joy, will be the source of much satisfaction to your Royal Highness, and of security for a continuance of those blessings in Church and State which these happy realms have hitherto enjoyed under the august house of Hanover, is very greatly strengthened by the high character universally admitted to be attached to your illustrious husband.

We shall therefore anxiously pray to Heaven, Madam, that a union so auspiciously entered into may be followed by all the good which we confidently expect from it, and that it may be marked by a progeny, the inheritors of their Royal parents virtues.

[Presented by Lord Cranbourne and Mr. Stewart.]

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Thuringuen, Prince of Cobourg, of Saalfeld.

Sir,
WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs and principal or capital Burgesses of the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, join most cordially with every class of His Majesty's subjects, in expressing our joy on the marriage of your Serene Highness with Her Royal Highness Princess Charlotte Augusta, presumptive heiress of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The high dignity and long respected character of the Princely House of Cobourg, and its attachment to the Protestant profession of the Christian Faith, and the eminent qualities of mind, and the acquirements for which your Serene Highness is distinguished, afford a well grounded expectation that this alliance will be productive of much happiness to yourself and to the Royal Family with which your Serene Highness is become united, and that His Majesty's subjects may rely on your protection and support on all occasions in which they can be given.

In Her Royal Highness your illustrious wife, we dare to vouch, from the acquaintance we have had with her amiable virtues and good sense whilst she has honoured our Borough and Town with her residence, that your Serene Highness will find every right disposition for domestic life, accompanied with a due consideration of the duties which her high station in this Country may require to be exercised.

May you both therefore, thus deserving, long live a blessing to each other, and a bright example in married life to the inhabitants of these realms.

[Presented by Lord Cranbourne and Mr. Stewart.]

To which address Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following answer:

You will be assured we feel the highest satisfaction in the congratulations of the Corporation of Weymouth; and we receive their addresses with the greatest pleasure.

[Presented by Lord Cranbourne and Mr. Stewart.]

To His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Duke of Saxe, Margrave of Meissen, Landgrave of Hungen, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld.

May it please your Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs and Common Council of the Borough of Liverpool, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Highness with our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Highness's auspicious union with Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta. From this event we anticipate, with the most perfect confidence, a continuance of the many blessings heretofore enjoyed under the benign Government of the Princes of the House of Brunswick, and a perfect security to the inhabitants of the United Kingdom of a transmission of the benefits of their invaluable constitution.

It is our ardent wish, that your Serene Highness and your Royal consort may experience from this union every possible felicity, and that it may bring additional comfort and happiness to every branch of the Royal Family.

Given under our common seal, this 15th day of May in the year of our Lord 1816.

Answer.

"Sir, Camelford-House, May 31, 1816.

"I am commanded by His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold to acknowledge the receipt of the address from the Borough of Liverpool, on the happy occasion of his marriage with Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte; and to request, that in making known His Serene Highness's pleasure in receiving their congratulations, you will express his attachment to the Country he is welcomed to, and his ardent and earnest interest in its name, its greatness, and ever continued prosperity.

I have the honour, &c.

Robert Gardiner."

William Barton, Esq. Mayor of Liverpool, &c. &c. &c.

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs and Common Council of the Borough of Liverpool, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our heartfelt congratulations on your Royal Highness's marriage with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick, Prince of Cobourg of Saalfeld.

From this alliance, so gratifying to our feelings and to those of every individual of the United Kingdom, we are induced to look forward with the most perfect confidence to the lasting enjoyment of those comforts which it has ever been the lot of British subjects to partake of under the reign of Princes of the House of Brunswick. And it is our anxious prayer, that your Royal Highness and the illustrious Prince (the object of your Royal Highness's choice) may enjoy uninterrupted happiness, and that that happiness may be extended to every branch of your Royal Highness's Family.

Given under our common seal, this 15th day of May in the year of our Lord 1816.

The respectful Address of the Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Liverpool.

May it please your Serene Highness,

WE, the Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Liverpool, respectfully desire permission to offer our sincere congratulations upon the arrival of your Serene Highness in this country; and especially upon the happy marriage of your Serene Highness with our beloved Princess, Her Royal Highness Charlotte Augusta.

Most cordially do we welcome your Serene Highness among us, and eagerly do we hasten to offer our service and duty to a Prince who has associated himself with us, by the closest and dearest ties, and who established a claim to our respectful affection from the moment when our august Princess distinguished him by her deliberate choice, selecting him as the partner of her high destiny and the guardian of her happiness.

That illustrious Princess with whom your Serene Highness is now indissolubly united, has unceasingly engaged our solicitude; and animated our hopes! She has secured the choicest and best of our most affectionate attachment, and we fully believe that her own happiness, and the prosperity of her Royal House will be advanced by this auspicious union, and we confidently expect that your Serene Highness, the welfare of your illustrious Consort, the descendant of Princes under whose sway we have become great, and by whose virtues we have been made happy.

Our beloved Princess, having fulfilled the wishes of an affectionate people, by that event which brings her before your Serene Highness, we earnestly pray that the best blessings of Heaven may rest upon this union; that increase of years may bring increase of enjoyments; that your Serene Highness and your august consort may long participate every endowment of domestic felicity, while you contribute to the welfare of a people prepared to love your Serene Highness, and anxious to testify the reality and extent of their attachment.

On behalf of the meeting,

Wm. Barton, Mayor, Chairman.
