

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1816.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Burgesses, and Assistants of the Borough Town and Parish of Tiverton, in the County of Devon, beg leave humbly to congratulate your Royal Highness on the auspicious event of the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales with His Serene Highness the Prince of Saxe Cobourg. An union which we ardently hope and trust will increase the stability of the throne of these realms in the Protestant House of Brunswick, and insure at the same time, under the blessing of Divine Providence, the domestic happiness of Her Royal Highness and the illustrious Prince with whom she is united.

Given under the common seal of the said borough, the 14th day of June, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

J. Govett, jun. Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Harrowby, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and loyal Address of the Burgesses, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of the Town and County of Haverfordwest, in the Guildhall assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Burgesses, Clergy, Freeholders, and other Inhabitants, of the Town and County of Haverfordwest, in the Guildhall assembled, approach your Royal Highness, with real sentiments of affection, to offer our warmest congratulations to your Royal Highness on the recent and auspicious marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederick Prince of Cobourg.

We are persuaded that this most important union cannot be less grateful to the personal feelings of your Royal Highness, than important to the best interests of the British empire, when we consider that it presents the happy prospect of securing to the throne a succession of Princes professing the Protestant religion.

The virtues which so eminently distinguish the royal bride, and the amiable endowments of the Prince, afford a happy presage of seeing the Constitution, in Church and State, remain unaltered; and, in its reformed principles, descend to posterity as it now is, the pride and glory of the British nation.

This happy union has raised the voice of joy, and spread the bright flame of loyalty, equally strong, among His Majesty's liege subjects in these remote parts of your Royal Highness's principality, as among those who are nearer the seat of Government.

The inhabitants of Wales, ever dutiful and loyal, are anxious to avail themselves of the earliest opportunity to express their feelings to your Royal Highness upon this joyful event, and to unite with all parts of the empire in imploring the favour of Heaven upon the amiable and royal bride, and her illustrious consort.

John Edm. Philipps Langham, Mayor, Chairman.

[Transmitted by Lord Kensington, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Camelford-House, May 13, 1816.

MESSAGE of Congratulation from the House of Lords to Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta, and His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

Die Martis, 7^o Maij 1816.

Ordered, nemine dissentiente, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled,