By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS His Majesty, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing date the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and one, did, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, amongst other things, appoint and declare that, with the arms or ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, there should be borne, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom should be the same quarterings as were therein declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence thereon, therein before described; and that the arms or ensigns armorial aforesaid should be used thenceforth; as far as conveniently might be, on all occasions wherein His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial ought to be used: and whereas His Majesty having substituted to His antient title of Elector of the Holy Roman Empire, the title of King of Hanover, it is fit that an alteration should be made in His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, We have therefore thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to appoint and declare that, instead of the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet, as directed by His Majesty's Proclamation above mentioned, there shall henceforth be used and borne with the arms or ensigns armorial of His Majesty's said United Kingdom, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the Hanoverian royal crown; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom shall be the same quarterings as by His Majesty's said Proclamation were declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence, ensigned with the said Hanoverian royal crown, instead of the electoral bonnet: but, nevertheless, it is Our will and pleasure, that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Great Britain, and all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Great Britain; and that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Ireland, and all such gold and silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Ireland; and all such monies as shall have been coined for and issued in any of the dominions of the said United Kingdom, and declared by Our Proclamation to be current and lawful money of such dominions respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any part or parts thereof; and all monies which shall hereafter be coined and issued according to such Proclamation, shall continue to be lawful and current money of such dominions respectively, notwithstanding such change in His Majesty's arms or armorial bearings respectively as aforesaid, until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon; and all and every such monies as aforesaid shall be received and taken in payment in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, and in the dominions thereunto belonging, after the date of this Proclamation, in such manner and as of the like value and denomination as the same were received and taken before the date hereof: and it is also Our will and pleasure that the several dies and marks which have been used to denote the stamp duties, and all other stamps and marks and instruments, which before the issuing of this Proclamation shall have been in actual use for any public purpose, and in which His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any parts or part thereof respectively may be expressed, shall not, by reason of this Proclamation or any thing therein contained, be changed or altered, until the same may be conveniently so changed or altered, or until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereon; but that all such dies, stamps, marks, and instruments respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, used before this eighth day of June instant, or any parts or part of such arms or ensigns armorial, shall have the like force and effect, as the same had before the said eighth day of June instant.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Renfrew, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with every sentiment of veneration for the King, and of duty and respectful attachment towards your Royal Highness.

Deeply interested in every circumstance that can add to the happiness, both public and domestic, of your Royal Highness, and of your august family, we entreat your Royal Highness to accept of our warmest and most respectful congratulations on the marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte with His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg. From an union, which gives the fairest promises of felicity to the illustrious persons themselves, may your Royal Highness derive every blessing of domestic happiness, more gratifying to the heart and feelings, than all the splendour that surrounds your exalted situation.

Gratefully appreciating the many blessings and advantages we have enjoyed, the prosperity the British empire has attained under the reigns of your illustrious ancestors of the House of Brunswick, we feel still more particularly how much we owed to the personal energy of our revered King, and of your Royal Highness, during the late arduous contest, that quality so characteristic of your illustrious House, so congenial with the manly character of your people, which, in the hour of danger, was at once their glory and their security, has now become the subject of mutual congratulation to your Royal Highness and to them.

We entreat your Royal Highness graciously to accept this tribute of duty and affection to your person and family, on an occasion so interesting and so gratifying to the wishes of your faithful subjects, and to permit us to repeat the strongest assurances of our devoted loyalty and attachment.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Renfrew, the 2d day of July 1816, Glasgow, Preses.

We beg leave to renew the assurance of our attachment to His Majesty's Family and Government.

Signed and sealed in our name, and by our appointment, this 25th day of June, in the year 1816,

May your Serene Highness long live to partake of every blessing, and may your royal bride crown your wishes with a race of Princes inheriting your respective virtues, and transmitting your names with glory to the remotest ages.
