

We esteem our country fortunate in the connection thus formed with a Prince, illustrious in descent, and high in reputation for solid talent and estimable endowments; and while we flatter ourselves with the hope of deriving from this auspicious marriage additional securities for our national happiness and welfare, we desire to offer our sincere and fervent wishes, that every connubial blessing may long be the lot of your Serene Highness and your Royal Consort.

Signed, by order of the meeting,

Wm. Smith, Chairman.

[Transmitted by Mr. William Smith, and presented by Sir Robert Gardiner.]

To which Addresses Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"We receive with great pleasure the Address of the Deputies of the several Congregations of Protestant Dissenters of the Three Denominations, in and about the Cities of London and Westminster; and are very sensible of their interest in our happiness."

To Her Royal Highness Charlotte of Wales and His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg of Saalfeld:

THE Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Montgomery, assembled at Welsh Pool this 8th of July 1816; at a meeting appointed by the High Sheriff, beg leave to offer your Highnesses our most cordial and hearty congratulations upon your auspicious alliance, from which so much benefit will be derived to the stability of our glorious Constitution, and so much felicity to your Royal and Serene Highnesses.

With all the warmth characteristic of our principality, we earnestly wish, as we really trust, that this union may be attended by increasing private happiness and public prosperity.

Signed at the desire, and on behalf, of the meeting,

Panton Corbett, Chairman.

[Transmitted by Mr. Lloyd, the High Sheriff of the County of Montgomery, and presented by Sir Robert Gardiner.]

To which Address Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

"We are very sensible of this mark of attention in the Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Montgomery. We receive their address and congratulations with the greatest pleasure."

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the City of Norwich.

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the City of Norwich, humbly beg leave to congratulate your Royal Highness on your union with the illustrious Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

We feel a peculiar pleasure in so doing, inasmuch as the august person whom your Royal Highness has made the sharer of your own felicity, is a Prince whom, of all others, the nation, looking to its own happiness, would have desired to have witnessed as your Royal Highness's choice. We look forward with the most heartfelt wishes for a long continuation of domestic happiness to your Royal Highness, and with the most perfect confidence of a result of the best blessings to our country from the union you have formed.

Done at a full Court of Mayoralty, held at the Guildhall of the said City, the 10th day of July 1816.
De Hague.

To His Serene Highness Prince Charles Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the City of Norwich.

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, Sheriffs, and Aldermen of the City of Norwich, do most sincerely participate in the national feeling at the happy and auspicious union of your Serene Highness with Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales. We rejoice to behold a Prince of your ancient and illustrious House naturalized in this free and happy country, whose origin is traced from Saxon ancestry; but we are still more gratified, by contemplating your Serene Highness's adopting British manners and British principles, and endearing yourself to all ranks by your popular and ingratiating deportment, thus proving yourself deserving a Princess so justly enthroned in the hearts and affections of a free, loyal, and generous people; and long may your Serene Highness, with your Royal Consort, live the example of dignified and domestic felicity to every family of the British empire.

Done at a full Court of Mayoralty, held at the Guildhall of the said City, the 10th day of July 1816.

[Transmitted by ——— Harvey, Esq. M.P. for Norwich, and presented by Sir Robert Gardiner.]

To which Addresses Her Royal Highness and His Serene Highness were pleased to return the following Answer:

We thank the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Norwich for their loyal and affectionate congratulations. We receive their Address with the greatest pleasure.

Carlton House, July 15, 1816.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, was this day pleased to confer the honour of Knighthood upon Robert Hall, Esq. Post-Captain in the Royal Navy, and Commodore on the Lakes of Canada, also Knight Commander of the Royal