TUESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1816.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 3d of August 1816,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the twelfth day of February last, for prohibiting the exportation out of this kingdom, or carrying coastwise, gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, will expire on the thirteenth day of this instant August; and whereas it is judged expedient, that the said prohibition, so far as applies to the countries hereinafter named, should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the said thirteenth day of this instant August), presume to transport any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places, in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt-petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council:" But it is His Royal Highness's pleasure, that nothing in this Order contained shall be construed to alter or repeal the Order in Council of the twentieth of May one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, for regulating the export of gunpowder and arms to the coast of Africa, under the conditions therein specified. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS His Majesty, by His Royal Proclamation, bearing date the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and one, did, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, amongst other things, appoint and declare that, with the arms or ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, there should be borne, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom should be the same quarterings as were therein declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence thereon, therein before described; and that the arms or ensigns armorial aforesaid should be used thenceforth, as far as conveniently might be, on all occasions wherein His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial ought to be used: and whereas His Majesty having substituted to His antient title of Elector of the Holy Roman Empire, the title of King of Hanover, it is fit that an alteration should be made in His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, We have therefore thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to appoint and declare that, instead of the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the electoral bonnet, as directed by His Majesty's Proclamation above mentioned, there shall henceforth be used and borne with the arms or ensigns armorial of His Majesty's said United Kingdom, on an escocheon of pretence, the arms of His Majesty's dominions in Germany, ensigned with the Hanoverian royal crown; and that the standard of the said United Kingdom shall be the same quarterings as by His Majesty's said Proclamation were declared to be the arms or ensigns armorial of the said United Kingdom, with the escocheon of pretence, ensigned with the said Hanoverian royal crown, instead of the electoral bonnet: but, nevertheless, it is Our will and pleasure, that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Great Britain, and all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Great Britain; and that all such gold, silver, and copper monies, as on the day before this eighth day of this instant June were current and lawful monies of Ireland, and all such gold and silver, and copper monies, as shall on or after this day be coined by Our authority with the like impressions, until Our will and pleasure shall be otherwise declared, shall be deemed and taken to be current and lawful monies of the said United Kingdom in Ireland; and all such monies as shall have been coined for and issued in any of the dominions of the said United Kingdom, and declared by Our Proclamation to be current and lawful money of such dominions respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any part or parts thereof; and all monies which shall hereafter be coined and issued according to such Proclamation, shall continue to be lawful and current money of such dominions respectively, notwithstanding such change in His Majesty's arms or armorial bearings respectively as aforesaid, until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereupon; and all and every such monies as aforesaid shall be received and taken in payment in Great Britain and Ireland respectively, and in the dominions thereunto belonging, after the date of this Proclamation, in such manner and as of the like value and denomination as the same were received and taken before the date hereof: and it is also Our will and pleasure that the several dies and marks which have been used to denote the stamp duties, and all other stamps and marks and instruments, which before the issuing of this Proclamation shall have been in actual use for any public purpose, and in which His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, or any parts or part thereof respectively may be expressed, shall not, by reason of this Proclamation or any thing therein contained, be changed or altered, until the same may be conveniently so changed or altered, or until Our pleasure shall be further declared thereon; but that all such dies, stamps, marks, and instruments respectively, bearing His Majesty's arms or ensigns armorial, used before this eighth day of June instant, or any parts or part of such arms or ensigns armorial, shall have the like force and effect, as the same had before the said eighth day of June instant.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighth day of June one thousand eight hundred and sixteen, in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

THE following Address has been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of all the Countries and Territories thereunto belonging.

The humble Address of the States of His Majesty's Island of Jersey.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's ever dutiful, loyal, and most ancient subjects, the States of the Island of Jersey, most humbly crave leave, for ourselves and our constituents, in uniting with the general joy, to offer to your Royal Highness our most cordial and sincere congratulations on the propitious nuptials of your august daughter, Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte, with His Serene Highness the illustrious Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

We felicitate ourselves on this auspicious alliance of your amiable royal daughter with a Prince eminently distinguished for his great personal merits, and of a House long attached to, and himself bred in, and of the Protestant religion.

The people of this island have long enjoyed the greatest blessings under the kind, mild, and protecting Government of the House of Brunswick, and we indulge in the sanguine and gratifying hopes, that this favourable, satisfactory, and promising union will be productive of a long line of Princes, who, following the traces of your Royal Highness, of our venerable Monarch, and of your royal ancestors, will ensure to us the continuation of our excellent religion, liberties, and happiness.

That the Almighty may be pleased to shower down his choicest blessings on your Royal Highness and on your august House; and that your Royal Highness may enjoy the pleasing satisfaction to see your grand children growing up under your royal care and directions; and that your Royal Highness's posterity may fill the throne of these realms to the end of time, in the same mild, just, and wise manner as has been done by His Majesty, by your Royal Highness, and by the Sovereigns of the Royal House of Hanover, is the unanimous, fervent, and sincere prayer of His Majesty's ever faithful subjects, the States of Jersey.

By order of the States,

Frs. Godfray, Greffier.

Jersey, 27th July 1816.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Chatham, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

THE following Address has been presented to Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta and His Serene Highness the Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg; which Address they were pleased to receive very graciously:

To Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte and His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg.

The humble Address of the States of His Majesty's Island of Jersey.

May it please your Royal and Serene Highnesses,

WE, His Majesty's ever dutiful, loyal, and most ancient subjects, the States of Jersey (the largest and most populous of those islands which were formerly part of the Duchy of Normandy, and which by the bravery and ardent zeal of their inhabitants have remained inviolably attached to the British Crown and Government), most humbly crave leave for ourselves and our constituents to express to your Royal and Serene Highnesses our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your auspicious marriage.

The inhabitants of this island have, in common with the rest of His Majesty's subjects, been long accustomed to enjoy the greatest blessings under the gentle and equitable sway of the House of Brunswick; they have in a special manner been highly favoured and protected for half a century by the kind and parental care of the best of Kings, their present most excellent Monarch; and since His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has held the reins of Government, he has graciously been pleased to continue to them the same benignant attention.

Impressed with a just sense of the splendid virtues which illustrate your Royal Highness, who has been bred under the directions and in the principles of those august personages, and penetrated with the most lively admiration of the eminent qualities which characterise your Serene Highness, we contemplate in your auspicious union the solid guarantee of the continuation of those advantages which have in a signal manner marked the mild, just, and wise Government of His Majesty, of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, and of the Sovereigns of the House of Brunswick; and joyfully do we see in it the security of the established Protestant religion, of our liberties, and of our happiness.

That your Royal and Serene Highnesses may long, very long, live in connubial concord and felicity; that the Great Ruler of the World may shower his choicest gifts upon your august persons; that if it shall please him to call your Royal Highness to the throne of your ancestors, he may be your guide and counsel; and that your Royal and Serene Highnesses may leave a numerous progeny of illustrious Princes, endowed with the same brilliant qualities which adorn yourselves, as pledges of the continued future greatness, glory, and prosperity of the British empire, is the prayer, the unanimous, earnest, and sincere prayer, of His Majesty's ever faithful subjects the States of Jersey.

By order of the States,

Frs. Godfray, Greffier.

ORDERS FOR PRIZE-MONEY.

Navy Pay-Office, London,
August 2, 1816.

WHereas a practice has prevailed, of licenced agents having induced seamen to go from London into parishes at the distance of more than six miles from this Office and Greenwich-Hospital, and there to make orders for prize-money, with a view to defeat the provision of the 45th section of the Act of Parliament, 54 Geo. 3. chap. 93, and the 4th section of the Act, 55 Geo. 3. chap. 60, intended to prevent frauds being practised on seamen, under which Acts all orders made beyond the aforesaid limits are required to be attested only by the Minister and Churchwardens of the parish where the grantor resides; notice is, therefore, hereby given, that all orders in which those provisions are not strictly attended to, must be invalid for prize or bounty-money; and on information being received at this Office of any improper practices in this respect, the Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy will give the necessary directions for recovering the penalties under the last mentioned Act.

John Smith, Paymaster.
