His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

IT is ordered by His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, that the Parliament, which stands prorogued to Monday the fourth day of November next, be further prorogued to Thursday the second day of January next.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 3d of August 1816,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the twelfth day of February last, for prohibiting the exportation out of this kingdom, or carrying coastwise, gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, will expire on the thirteenth day of this instant August; and whereas it is judged expedient, that the said prohibition, so far as applies to the countries hereinafter named, should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the said thirteenth day of this instant August), presume to transport any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places, in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt-petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council." But it is His Royal Highness's pleasure, that nothing in this Order contained shall be construed to alter or repeal the Order in Council of the twentieth of May one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, for regulating the export of gunpowder and arms to the coast of Africa, under the conditions therein specified. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Whitehall, October 18, 1816.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, about four o'clock on Saturday morning the 13th instant, a fire broke out in a barn belonging to W. H. Whittington, Esq. at Broadwater, near Hitchin, Herts, which consumed the same, together with its contents, and sundry corn and hay ricks adjoining, and that there is every reason to believe that the same was wilfully and maliciously set on fire by some evil-disposed person or persons;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said felony, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually set fire to the said barn), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

Admiralty-Office, October 18, 1816.

Notice is hereby given, that a Session of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery, for the trial of offences committed on the High Seas

J. W. CROKER.

Trinity-House, London.

Notice is hereby given, that, on the 25th day of November next, the present Swape or Low Light, on the Spurn Point at the Mouth of the Humber, will be removed, and, in-lieu thereof, an oil light will be exhibited, with argand lamps and reflectors, in a lanthorn fixed on the top of a brick tower fifty feet in height, situate in the same line of direction as the present light, and forty-six feet to the south eastward of the said Swape or Low Light.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Edinburgh, October 12, 1816.

THE Commissioners of the Northern Light-Houses hereby give notice, that for the improvement of the Navigation of the Irish Channel, and Frith of Clyde, a Light-house is erected upon Corsewall Point, from which a light will be exhibited on the evening of Friday the 15th of November ensuing, and will thereafter continue to be lighted every night, from the going away of day-light in the evening, till the return of day-light in the morning.

The following is the Specification of the Position of the Light-house, and Appearance of the Light, by Mr. Stevenson, Engineer to the Commissioners :

Corsewall Point Light-house is situate in the county of Wigton, and district of Galloway, in north latitude 55. 1. and west longitude 5. 5. It bears by compass, from Milloar, on the western side of the channel leading into Loch Ryan, W. by S. distant about two miles; from Turnberry Point S. W. 21 miles; from the Craig of Ailsa S. S. W. 15 miles; from the Mull of Kintyre S. E. by S. 31 miles; from the Hulin, or Maiden Rocks, off the coast of Antrim, in Ireland, E. by S. 20 miles; from Copeland light-house, near the entrance of Belfast Loch, N. E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. 22 miles; and from Laggan Point, in Galloway, N. E. distant $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

The light will be from oil, with a reflecting and revolving apparatus. To distinguish it from the other lights upon this coast, it will be known to Mariners as a single revolving light, with colour, and will therefore exhibit, from the same light-room, a light of the natural appearance, alternating with a light tinged with a red colour. These lights will respectively attain their greatest strength, or most luminous effect, at the end of every two minutes. But in the course of each periodic revolution of the reflector-frame, both lights will become alternately fainter and more obscure; and to a distant observer be totally eclipsed for a short period.

The light-room at Corsewall is glazed all round, but the light will be hid from the marine by the high land near Laggan Point towards the south, and by Turnberry Point towards the north; and being elevated 112 feet above the medium level of the sea, its most luminous side may be seen like a star of the first magnitude, at the distance of five or six leagues, but the side tinged red, being more obscured by the colouring shades, will not be seen at so great a distance.

By order of the Commissioners of the Northern Light-houses. C. Cunningham, Secretary.
