TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1817.

[Notice is hereby given, that a Gazette will be published on Thursday.]

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, January 25, 1817.

Notice is hereby given, that the Drawing-Room, intended to be held by Her Majesty at the Queen's Palace, on Thursday the 6th of February, is postponed to Thursday the 20th of February next.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, your Royal Highness's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Vyanders and Inhabitants of the Borough of Newport, in the County of Cornwall, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere congratulations on your happy escape from the late atrocious outrage on your sacred person, whilst returning from the discharge of those functions which the illness of our revered Monarch has imposed on you.

Against the act, and the licentious instigators of it, we are unable to express our indignation; but we take this opportunity to convey to your Royal Highness our fixed determination to support the public peace, and to discountenance those who would wish to disturb it.

Newport, February 7, 1817.

[Transmitted by Earl Percy, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, your Royal Highness's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Deputy Recorder, Aldermen, Minister, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Dunbeved, otherwise Launceston, in the County of Cornwall, humbly request permission to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere congratulations on the happy escape from the late most daring outrage offered to your sacred person.

We are unable to express our abhorrence of the villainous authors and abettors of it, and devoutly pray, that the Almighty will frustrate all their evil designs, and shield you with his divine protection; and we sincerely hope, that the measures adopted by your Royal Highness for the discovery of the offenders, will be the means of bringing them to condign punishment.

Dated 5th February 1817.

[Transmitted by Earl Percy, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Haddington, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere and hearty congratulations upon your escape from the late daring and treasonable outrage offered to your person on your return from opening Parliament. We cannot adequately express our concern, that there should be found persons in this country, favoured as it is beyond other nations, capable of committing so desperate and atrocious an outrage against the sacred person of your Royal Highness, and so daring a violation of the laws of the land. We beg leave to express our detestation and abhorrence of all riotous proceedings, and our determination to support that excellent form of government under which we live, and the just exercise of the authority of Government; and while we express our horror at the late outrage against the person of your Royal Highness, and our congratulations on your escape, we feel much gratified in assuring your Royal Highness of the peaceable behaviour and unabated loyalty of all ranks of His Majesty's subjects in this ancient burgh.

Signed in name, and by appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council of Haddington, in Common Council assembled, by John Martine, Provost.

[Transmitted by the Provost, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, the Chancellor, Rector, Principals, and Professors of the University of St. Andrew's, humbly present to your Royal Highness our sincere congratulations upon your providential escape from the danger to which your royal person was lately exposed, in returning from the exercise of a solemn function of the British Sovereign.

While we regard with the abhorrence of loyal subjects this outrage against a Prince, whose regency has tended to soften our regrets for the illness of our venerable King, and has so greatly added to the splendour and glories of his reign, we feel entire conviction, that it proceeded from men unworthy to bear the name and share the privileges of Britons; and we rejoice to think, that it will only serve to bring forth from every corner of the empire, demonstrations of the attachment borne to your Royal Highness by a people ready for every exertion in defence of the best of governments; and of the illustrious family whose safety is so interwoven with its existence.

Melville, Chancellor; John Cook, Rector.
St. Andrew's, 8th February 1817.

Unto His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Paisley, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with sincere expressions of deep abhorrence of the treasonable outrage offered to the person of your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the present session of Parliament; and to testify our unfeigned gratitude to Almighty God for your merciful preservation.

That the same good Providence which has watched over and guarded your Royal Highness from this atrocious attempt, may long preserve you as a blessing to the nation, and to the Protestant Church, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Paisley, met at Paisley this 5th day of February 1817 years.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, by John Ranken, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Moderator, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Conveener, Deacons of the fourteen incorporated Trades, and other ordinary and extraordinary Members of the Trades-House of the City of Glasgow, feel it to be our duty as loyal and faithful subjects to approach your Royal Highness, to express the deep abhorrence with which we view the late atrocious outrage attempted on the person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the discharge of the royal functions in Parliament.

Reflecting on the blessings we have so long enjoyed under the present reign, and on the calamitous consequences that would have resulted from the success of this horrid attempt, we feel grateful to Almighty God, that the wicked designs of the enemies of your Royal Highness have not been suffered to prevail.

Deeply sensible of the invaluable advantages we enjoy under our happy Constitution, and of the mild and parental administration of your illustrious House, we beg leave to renew the assurances of our unshaken loyalty and attachment to the government and person of your Royal Highness.

Signed and sealed, in name, presence, and by appointment, of the Members of the Trades-House of Glasgow, in their Hall assembled this 4th day of February 1817, Rob. Ferrie, Conveener.

[Transmitted by the Conveener, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the University of Glasgow.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Vice-Chancellor, Vice-Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University of Glasgow, in Senate assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to testify our utter abhorrence of the late traitorous attempt made on your Royal Highness's person, when, as Regent of the Kingdom, returning from opening the Parliament, in name and on behalf of His Majesty; and to express our congratulations on your providential escape from the danger to which your Royal Highness was then exposed.

When we contemplate the sad calamity which so atrocious a deed might have produced, we feel the most lively gratitude to Almighty God for the preservation of your Royal Highness; and while we lament the misrepresentations that have been made, and the delusions that have been practised by artful and designing persons, tending to excite a spirit of insubordination and violence among the lower orders of the people, we reflect with much satisfaction on the many signal blessings which, under your administration of the Government of these realms, we, in common with all His Majesty's subjects, continue to enjoy.

We eagerly embrace this opportunity to assure your Royal Highness, that it shall always be our earnest endeavour to train up the youth entrusted to our care, in principles of loyalty to the King, and in an inviolable attachment to our excellent Constitution of Government, both in Church and State.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment, of Senate, by William Taylor, Vice-Chancellor; Lockhart Muirhead, Vice-Rector.

Glasgow College, 4th February 1817.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Presbytery of Glasgow.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Glasgow, filled with indignation and sorrow at the late traitorous attempt on your Royal Highness's person, especially when in the discharge of your duty as Regent of the Kingdom at the opening of Parliament, beg leave to testify our abhorrence of the atrocious deed, and to renew our declaration of unalterable attachment to the Government of these realms, administered with such wisdom and fidelity by your Royal Highness.

Deeply lamenting the gross profligacy of those desperate and abandoned persons, who, deluded by artful and unprincipled men, have been hurried on to commit this daring outrage, we bless God for His gracious protection of your royal person, and, in common with all His Majesty's good and faithful subjects throughout the empire, we join in prayer to the Almighty, that he may continue to shield you in the hour of danger, and to preserve the valuable life of your Royal Highness as a public blessing to these lands.

Conscious of our sacred obligations as the guardians of religion, of virtue, and of reverence for law and government, to warn the people under our charge of their danger from the artifices of designing and turbulent men, who, by their fair but delusive speeches, are now working on the passions of the people, in order to produce insubordination and violence, we will not cease to caution our hearers against being seduced into their destructive measures, and will, through the Divine assistance, exert ourselves to cultivate in their minds piety towards Almighty God, loyalty to our King, and a steady attachment to that excellent Constitution, in Church and State, which has been uniformly maintained inviolate by the illustrious House of Hanover.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Clergy, Gentry, and Inhabitants of the Town of Croydon.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Clergy, Gentry, and Inhabitants of the Town of Croydon and its vicinity, beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of the sentiments of veneration and respect in which we hold your Royal Person. Impressed with a sense of horror and detestation at the atrocious and most daring assault on your Royal Highness, in your passage from Parliament, at the moment of your Royal Highness's exercising the sacred and highest function of your most important office, and fulfilling your part of our excellent Constitution.

It is therefore with sentiments of the most profound gratitude to the supreme disposer of all events, that we have to congratulate your Royal Highness on your providential escape from such daring and traitorous attacks, committed by men, whom we lament to say, were led on by the insidious appeals and false opinions, which have been most industriously propagated by those, who, in lieu of protecting the invaluable blessings we enjoy under our unrivalled Constitution, have by inflammatory addresses imposed upon the minds of the uninformed part of the community, and caused them to disturb the public tranquillity, under the specious but shallow pretext of introducing pretended reforms.

Impressed with sentiments of the highest veneration and respect for that Constitution and Government, under which this country has so long flourished, and animated with a desire to preserve the inestimable blessings which have been handed down to us by our forefathers, and detesting those principles of anarchy and confusion which have been the scourge of the world for the last twenty-five years, we are determined to watch with careful jealousy any attempt that may be made to disturb the public tranquillity, and to hold fast to the established Constitution. And we feel it not more our bounden duty, than our determination, to guard your Royal Highness's sacred Person and Government inviolate from all foreign and domestic enemies.

[Transmitted by Thomas Hewson, and Benjamin Watson, Esquires; and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom.

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Carnarvon, request permission to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of the most loyal attachment to your Person, and to express the horror which was excited in our minds, by the late atrocious attempt upon your sacred and invaluable life.

We deplore, with the deepest sorrow, that so considerable a number of His Majesty's subjects could, under any circumstances, be induced, by the deceitful misrepresentations of a few factious demagogues, so far to forget their duty and allegiance, as to lend their support and countenance to such wicked and nefarious designs as have been thus developed: and we cannot sufficiently express our gratitude to that good Providence, which has at once preserved your Royal Highness from injury, and discovered the malice and cruelty of your enemies. It has been discovered, we trust, to be defeated, and we are confident, that the nation in general, of whose loyal fidelity we have no doubt, will rally round your Royal Highness, as one man, in this hour of danger and dismay. For ourselves we beg leave to repeat to your Royal Highness the assurance of our most faithful attachment, of our utter detestation of all designs against your Royal Person and Government, and of our earnest endeavour to keep all within our influence steady in their duty to their King, their country, and their God; convinced that without a due regard to the principles of social subordination, society itself must be dissolved, and neither morals nor religion can long retain their power over the human mind.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the inhabitants of the City of Peterborough.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, of the ancient loyal Town and City of Peterborough, should deem ourselves extremely wanting in justice to our feelings, did we hesitate to embrace this early opportunity of approaching your Royal Highness with every mark of sincere respect and duty, and of testifying our utmost abhorrence of the recent infamous and daring attack committed upon the sacred person of your Royal Highness; and at the same time of expressing our heartfelt satisfaction at the providential escape which your Royal Highness has, happily for this kingdom, experienced, in the merciful preservation of your sacred person from the hands of infuriated and misguided men, whose violence and outrage menace the subversion of our happy Constitution, the glory of this sea-girt isle, and the beacon for other nations. It is a truth, unhappily confirmed by experience, that the greatest blessings are of all others the most liable to abuse, and perhaps there is not a more notorious proof of the justice of this remark, than those insidious machinations and open outrages with which the established order of Church and State is so injuriously invaded by the avowed enemies of both. And we humbly hope that the wisdom of Parliament will promptly interpose its high authority, by framing such judicious restrictive enactments, that may hereafter prove a safeguard against a recurrence of such almost unparalleled tumult and licentiousness, which have produced that diabolical assault upon the person of your Royal Highness, a deed, which has awakened in our bosoms the most lively indignation. We are fully sensible that the Throne is intimately connected with the Altar, and that neither can be assailed without endangering the whole fabric of the Constitution—their very existence is so interwoven and incorporated, they must stand or fall together. If the dangers which we deprecate are not imminent, at least they are alarming; and surely at no period in the annals of this country, were its loyal inhabitants more imperiously called upon, than at the present momentous crisis, to rally round the Throne, to uphold its just authority, to maintain unimpaired our glorious Constitution, and to suppress, by every legal means, and by the most prompt and efficient measures, every wicked attempt against the sacred person of your Royal Highness, and against the laws and liberty of these Realms.

We humbly entreat your Royal Highness to accept our sincere professions of dutiful attachment to your Royal Person, and our earnest wishes that the life of your Royal Highness may long be preserved ultimately to exult in the peace and prosperity of our country.

W. Strong, D. D. Chairman.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. William Elliot, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Newark, upon Trent, in the County of Nottingham, hasten to express to your Royal Highness our deep abhorrence and detestation of the recent atrocious assault upon your Royal Highness's Person, on your return from exercising one of the most important functions of our invaluable Constitution; and to renew to your Royal Highness the assurances of our firm and unshaken attachment to His Majesty, and your Royal Highness's Person and Family.

We rely with confidence upon the vigilance of the civil authorities to discover and punish, and upon the wisdom and vigour of Parliament, to provide, if necessary, further remedies against the principal actors in those lawless and disgraceful meetings, which have lately, under the specious pretext of promoting parliamentary reform, been assembled for the purpose of opening a field to the exertions of factious demagogues, whose concealed object is the destruction of all Government, and whose endeavours, instead of being directed to the relief of the distresses of the people, have for their object, to disseminate principles, calculated to excite and promote the most dangerous insubordination, and to destroy all peace, social order, and domestic happiness.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Bailiff, Justices, and Burgesses of the Town and Liberties of Wenlock, in the County of Salop.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, your Royal Highness's faithful, dutiful, and loyal subjects and servants, the Bailiff, Justices, and Burgesses of the very ancient and loyal Town and Liberties of Wenlock, now in Common Hall assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our unfeigned sentiments of attachment to your sacred Person, most heartily congratulating your Royal Highness upon your late providential escape, and to express our utter abhorrence, indignation, and detestation at all traitorous conspiracies, but more particularly at the daring outrage which has been so lately offered to your Royal Highness, upon your Royal Highness's return from opening the Session of Parliament, and how deeply we regret, that there should be any person found capable of so foul and flagitious an outrage. We beg moreover to declare to your Royal Highness, our entire satisfaction at your Royal Highness's Government and present Ministers, firmly convinced that they already have, and will make every retrenchment in the public expenditure, consistent with the dignity of the State, without sacrificing its honour, or endangering its interests. And finally, we beg leave to express our unalterable determination firmly and steadfastly to stand by, maintain, protect, and defend your Royal Highness's sacred Person and dignity, in all traitorous conspiracies, or attempts whatsoever, against any or either of them, to the last moment of our existence.

The Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of Greenock.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and most dutiful subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of Greenock, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness at this time, to express our unaltered affection and duty to the Person, Family, and Government of our revered Sovereign; and to convey to your Royal Highness our sentiments of unfeigned abhorrence and detestation of the late treasonable and outrageous violence which was offered to your Royal Highness, in returning from Parliament, after the discharge of the Royal authority at opening the Session.

The Magistrates and Council, in the present season of pressure and calamity, confide in the conduct of your Royal Highness's paternal Government, aided by the wisdom and co-operation of Parliament, for the adoption of such measures as shall appear to the legislature, on full consideration, best calculated to remove or alleviate the evils and distress existing in the country.

That the august family in the present sovereignty of the united kingdom, may long sway the sceptre of the realm, with increasing affection, over a free, united, and happy people, is the earnest prayer of the Corporation of Greenock.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,
WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the inhabitants of the ancient city of St. Andrews, beg leave to approach the Throne, with every sentiment of affection and profound respect, to present our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations, upon the providential escape of your Royal Highness from a late alarming danger.

We feel, in common with every loyal subject throughout the Empire, the utmost horror and indignation at the audacious attack made on your sacred person. We regard it as a peculiar disgrace to the times in which we live, that men should be found capable of an act of such daring atrocity; and we offer our devout acknowledgement to the God of Heaven for that guardian care which frustrated the purposes of traitorous assassins, and preserved a life so precious to Britons.

Grateful for the blessings which we have so long enjoyed, under the mild and paternal Government of our beloved and venerated Sovereign, and proud of the high pre-eminence in glory, to which by the steadiness and magnanimity of your Royal Highness's councils and conduct, our country has been raised, we view with astonishment and detestation, the attempts to disturb our internal tranquillity that are making in other parts of the kingdom, by factious and designing men, who take advantage of the temporary distresses of the community for the purpose of exciting a turbulent and seditious spirit, and of introducing those delusive theories and pernicious principles, which in our days have spread misery and desolation over a large portion of the earth.

While we rely with confidence on the firmness and vigour of your Royal Highness's administration and on the legislative wisdom of the country for the adoption of such measures as may be effectual for counteracting the designs of the seditious and disaffected and for securing the peace and happiness of the kingdom, we beg leave to convey to your Royal Highness the assurance of our inviolable attachment to your Person, and to your illustrious House, and of our determined resolution to exert our most strenuous efforts in the defence of social order, and in support of the Constitution in Church and State, as by law established—that Constitution which is the glory of our country and the admiration of the world, which we received as a rich inheritance from our fathers, and which we will teach our children to venerate and to maintain.

[Transmitted by the Provost of St. Andrews, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth:]

To His Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, heritors, householders, and other inhabitants of the town and parish of Kelso, do humbly beg leave to approach the Throne, for the purpose of expressing those sentiments of allegiance and fidelity to your Royal Person, and of profound attachment to the Constitution of our beloved country, which the circumstances of the present crisis seem imperiously to call for from all ranks of the people.

The late atrocious assault which was made on your Royal Person, when in the exercise of one of the most important duties of the Crown, intrusted to your Royal Highness, we contemplated with feelings of abhorrence, which we cannot find words adequately to describe. We hold the persons who were guilty of such a lawless outrage, not only as traitors to their lawful Prince, but as the most dangerous enemies to the liberties of the people, and unworthy of the name and privileges of Britons.

In proportion to the indignation with which this act of baseness affects our minds, is the gratitude with which our hearts are filled, to that over-ruling Providence which has mercifully defeated their odious devices, and delivered your Royal Highness in safety from the danger to which you were exposed.

In offering our most cordial congratulations to your Royal Highness on your happy deliverance, we beg permission to add, that we trust the several branches of the Legislature, the constitutional guardians of the public interest, will, by their wise, firm, and prudent measures, effectually repress the machinations of the disturbers of society: and while they protect the just rights of the Crown, will secure the genuine liberty, happiness, and tranquillity of the United Kingdom.

We have high satisfaction also in expressing our hope and belief that the mischievous and infatuated authors and abettors of this outrage, in itself so disgraceful to our Country, and even to the times in which we live, are few and insignificant, while the great mass of our population of every rank and degree, and especially in this part of the kingdom, are deeply sensible of the civil and religious blessings they enjoy, warmly attached to His Majesty's person and government, and willing to make every sacrifice which genuine patriotism and public duty may require.

That the Almighty Disposer of Events may sustain and comfort our venerable Sovereign, and bless every branch of his illustrious house; that he may ever protect your Royal Highness's person, and prosper your Government, and that the mild and paternal sway of Princes of the House of Brunswick may continue to be the happy inheritance of our land to late posterity; are the sincere and earnest prayers of His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, heritors, householders, and other inhabitants of the town and parish of Kelso.

Dated Kelso, February 8, 1817.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The Loyal and Dutiful Address of the Presbytery of Dumfries.

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dumfries, warmly attached to the happy Constitution of our Country, and to the illustrious House of Brunswick, under whose mild government we have long enjoyed the most distinguished blessings, feel ourselves called upon on the present occasion, to express to your Royal Highness our sentiments of dutiful respect and affection.

The open and atrocious attack lately made upon your Royal Highness, whilst returning from performing one of the most important and popular duties of your exalted office, has filled us with astonishment and indignation. We could not have conceived that such outrageous depravity could have been found in any subjects of this realm; and we cannot but ascribe it in a great measure to the instigation of certain wicked and desperate demagogues, who by their wilful misrepresentations of the causes of the present temporary distress, and by the wildest and most delusive theories of government, have misled and inflamed the minds of an ignorant multitude.

We are happy to assure your Royal Highness of the steady attachment and loyalty of the inhabitants of that district of the kingdom which is under our immediate inspection. Both from inclination and from a sense of duty, we will endeavour by all the means in our power to cherish and strengthen these sentiments, whilst we inculcate upon our people the great principles of religion and virtue.

Considering the safety and welfare of your Royal Highness, and of your illustrious House, as closely connected with the peace and prosperity of our country, we will make both the subjects of our frequent and earnest prayers unto Almighty God, and we trust, that by the Divine blessing both will long be preserved inviolate.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland,

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the City of Aberdeen, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and to express the feelings of detestation and abhorrence which have been excited in our minds, by the accounts of the late atrocious and treasonable assault made on your Royal Person, when returning from opening the present Session of Parliament.

We observe, with inexpressable concern, that attempts have been made, by a few unprincipled and designing men, to persuade the credulous and ignorant, that a remedy is to be found in measures which, if adopted, would lead to the subversion of the Constitution, and that to these attempts may be attributed the daring and atrocious outrage committed against the sacred person of your Royal Highness, which calls loudly for the interposition of the law.

We feel it to be our indispensable duty, on this occasion, to renew our professions of attachment and loyalty to His Majesty's Person and Government, and to pledge ourselves to use our utmost exertions in supporting the just exercise of the authority of Government, in maintaining our excellent Constitution, and in defeating every attempt made against our civil liberty and social peace.

That your Royal Highness may be protected from the machinations and plots of these wicked and designing men, and may be long preserved to continue those blessings to the nation which have been enjoyed for such a length of time under His Majesty's auspicious reign, is our most sincere and ardent prayer.

Signed in name and by appointment of the said Magistrates and City Council, in Council assembled, and the City seal hereto affixed, at Aberdeen, the 6th day of February, in the year 1817, by Alexander Fraser, Provost.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Lord Provost, Dean of Guild, Magistrates and Council of his ancient City of St. Andrews, in Common Hall assembled, beg leave most humbly to approach the Throne with the sincere expression of our most heartfelt sorrow and regret, that there should have existed any one person in this much favoured country, so daring as to have attacked, in such an atrocious manner, the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, at the moment you were returning from the dignified performance of one of the most august of the Royal functions, necessarily connected with our dearest and most sacred liberties.

While we express our detestation and horror at such a diabolical attempt, we would most fervently implore the Almighty to continue to your Royal Highness the sure protection of his all-powerful arm; at the same time we would most humbly, though confidently, venture to assure your Royal Highness, that the inhabitants of this ancient city continue at present, as they have heretofore done, quiet, orderly, and well affected to the Government of the House of Brunswick, and would one and all of them, in case of danger, rally round and support the Throne with their fortunes and lives.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Cupar, in Fife, North Britain, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our utter abhorrence at the wicked and daring outrage on the Person of your Royal Highness, in returning from Parliament, and also to declare our strongest indignation at the authors of such a vile and treasonable attempt, and our most earnest wish, that the perpetrators may be discovered and brought to condign punishment. Deeply impressed with these sentiments, we beg leave further to assure your Royal Highness of our sincere and firm attachment to our beloved Sovereign, and to the Person of your Royal Highness, and of our determined resolution at all times to support and defend the Laws and Constitution of our country. And we consider it our duty also to embrace this opportunity of expressing our detestation at the attempts which have been made by the disaffected to delude and mislead the populace, and by taking advantage of the distresses of the country, to excite in them a spirit of disaffection, sedition, and violence.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen, of Kingston-upon-Hull.

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen of the town of Kingston-upon-Hull, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with expressions of the deepest regret at the late treasonable attack made upon your Royal Highness's Person, on your return from the House of Parliament.

We cannot avoid perceiving, in this direct outrage on the Chief Magistrate of the realm, the dire consequences of the clamour raised by mischievous and designing men, for the purpose of involving the kingdom in anarchy and confusion,

We have the utmost confidence in the firmness of your Royal Highness. We rely on the good sense and loyalty of the nation: and we trust, that in the union of that firmness, good sense, and loyalty, we shall ever derive substantial protection against the dangerous and impracticable doctrines brought forward at the present period, for the sole purpose of increasing those difficulties which their supporters profess to deplore.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Members of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow, request leave to approach your Royal Highness, under the impression of those profound sentiments of grief and indignation, which could not fail to be excited in our minds by the late atrocious attempt upon your angust Person, while you were engaged in one of the most important functions entrusted to you by the Constitution, that of assembling Parliament, in the name and as the Representative of our revered Sovereign.

The perpetrators of such audacious and disgraceful outrage, we trust, will neither long escape detection, nor evade punishment.

In thus expressing our detestation of an enormous crime, we humbly congratulate your Royal Highness on your escape from danger, and we would be wanting to our own feelings, did we neglect the opportunity that now offers, of unanimously testifying, not only the unalterable reverence we entertain for the Constitution as by law established, but also the unabated confidence we continue to repose in the mild and truly legitimate sway of the House of Brunswick.

Signed by our Preses, in our name, and by your order, and the seal of the said Faculty appended hereto, at a pro re nata Meeting of Faculty, held at Glasgow, the 10th day of February 1817.

Robert Graham, Preses.

[Transmitted by the Lord Provost of Glasgow, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Carlton-House, February 17, 1817.

This day His Excellency the Baron Fagel, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the King of the Netherlands, Grand Duke of Luxembourg, had audience of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, to deliver a letter from the hand of His Sovereign, assuring His Royal Highness of the sincere joy with which His Majesty learnt that the atrocious act attempted upon the sacred person of His Royal Highness, had by Divine Providence failed of any fatal result, and expressing the lively interest which His Majesty takes in the preservation and happiness of His Royal Highness. His Excellency was introduced to the audience by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and conducted by Robert Chester, Esq. Assistant-Master of the Ceremonies.

Carlton-House, February 18, 1817.

This day His Excellency the Marquess D'Ossmond, Ambassador from His Most Christian Majesty, had an audience of the Prince Regent, to convey to His Royal Highness the most cordial congratulations of His Most Christian Majesty, upon His Royal Highness's escape from the late atrocious attack upon His person, and to express to His Royal Highness the warm interest which His Most Christian Majesty feels in the welfare of His Royal Highness. His Excellency was introduced to the audience by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and conducted by Robert Chester, Esq. Assistant-Master of the Ceremonies.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHereas by an Act passed in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to provide for a new silver coinage, and to regulate the currency of the gold and silver coin of this realm," the Master and Worker of His Majesty's Mint, in London, was authorised and empowered to coin, or cause to be coined, silver bullion into silver coins, consisting of crowns, half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, of the standard of eleven ounces and two penny weights of fine silver, and eighteen penny weights alloy to the pound troy, and in weight after the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy :

And whereas, in virtue of the powers so given, a coinage of half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, at the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy, and of the standard of fineness above-mentioned ; every such half-crown piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Georgius III. Dei Gratia," and the date of the year ; and for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield, surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," and the collar of the Garter, with the inscription "Britanniarum Rex Fid: Def:" with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece ; every such shilling and six penny piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Georgius III. D. G. Britt. Rex. F. D." and the date of the year, and for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece, has been completed and is now ready to be delivered for the use of his Majesty's subjects ; We have therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, thought fit to issue this Proclamation, and we do hereby ordain, declare and command, that the said pieces of silver money shall from and after the thirteenth day of this instant February, be current and lawful money of the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and shall pass and be received as current and lawful money of the said Kingdom, that is to say, such half-crown pieces as of the value of two shillings and six pence ; such shilling pieces as of the value of one shilling ; and such six penny pieces as of the value of six pence, in all payments and transactions of money.

And We do hereby in further pursuance of the powers given to his Majesty by the said Act, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, further proclaim, ordain, declare and name the said thirteenth day of this instant February as the day from and after which so much and such parts of the Act made in the fourteenth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prohibit the importation of light silver coin of this realm from foreign countries into Great Britain or Ireland, and to restrain the tender thereof beyond a certain sum," as enacts or provides or may be construed to enact or provide that any tender in silver coin of the realm shall be legal to the amount of twenty-five pounds, or a tender for any greater sum according to its value by weight. And also so much of any Act or Acts whereby the said last recited Act is continued, revived, or made perpetual, shall be repealed, and the same are by virtue of the said first recited Act, and this Our Proclamation, repealed accordingly.

And We do hereby in further pursuance of the powers given to His Majesty by virtue of the said first recited Act, in the name and on behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, proclaim, ordain, declare and name the said thirteenth day of February as the day from and after which no tender of payment of money made in the silver coin of this realm of any sum exceeding the sum of forty shillings at any one time shall be reputed a tender in law or allowed to be a legal tender within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, either by tale or weight of such silver coin, or otherwise howsoever.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twelfth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 1st of February 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board, a Memorial from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the twenty-seventh of last month, in the words following, viz.

WHEREAS by the Act of the fifty-sixth of His Majesty, cap. 104, intituled "An Act for the making more effectual provision for the prevention of smuggling, and rewarding officers and persons making seizures and capturing smuggling vessels; for licensing luggers employed in the North Sea fishery; and obliging exporters of excisable goods on drawback to give notice of shipment," it is provided, "that in case any ship or vessel liable to seizure or examination by that or any other Act of Parliament in force, shall not bring to on being required so to do, or being chased by any ship or vessel in His Majesty's Navy, having the proper pendant and ensign of His Majesty's ships hoisted, or by any ship or vessel employed in the prevention of smuggling, under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, or the Commissioners of the Customs or Excise, having a pendant and ensign hoisted, of such description as His Majesty by any Order in Council, or by His Royal Proclamation under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, shall from time to time in that behalf order and direct, it shall and may be lawful for the Captain, Master, or other person having the charge or command of such ship or vessel in His Majesty's Navy, or employed as aforesaid (first causing a gun to be fired as a signal), to shoot at or into such ship or vessel so liable as aforesaid;"

And whereas we think it expedient, that all such ships and vessels employed in the prevention of smuggling as aforesaid, under our authority, or that of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, or the Commissioners of the Customs or Excise, should be allowed to wear, instead of the pendant and jack appointed by the Royal Proclamations, bearing date the eighteenth December one thousand seven hundred and two, and the first January one thousand eight hundred and one, to be worn by ships and vessels employed by the Commissioners for Customs and Excise, a pendant and ensign of the following description, viz.

A pendant with a red field, having a regal crown described thereon, at the upper part next the mast; and for an ensign, a red jack, with a union jack in a canton at the upper corner thereof next the staff, and with a regal crown described in the centre of the red jack; we beg leave, with all humility, to recommend to your Royal Highness, that your Royal Highness would be graciously pleased, by your Order in Council, or by your Royal Proclamation under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to direct and appoint, that all such ships and vessels as are or may be employed in the prevention of smuggling, under our authority, or that of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, or the Commissioners of the Customs or Excise, shall be allowed to wear a pendant with a red field, having a regal crown described thereon, at the upper part next the mast; and for an ensign, a red jack, with a union jack in a canton at the upper corner thereof next the staff, and with a regal crown described in the centre of the red jack, instead of the pendant and ensign appointed by the Royal Proclamations, bearing date the eighteenth December one thousand seven hundred and two, and first January one thousand eight hundred and one, to be worn by ships and vessels employed for His Majesty's service by the Commissioners for Customs and Excise:

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent having taken the said Memorial into consideration, was pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed; and doth hereby direct and appoint, that all such ships and vessels as are or may be employed in the prevention of smuggling, under the authority of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, or that of the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury, or the Commissioners of the Customs or Excise, shall be allowed to wear a pendant with a red field, having a regal crown described thereon, at the upper part next the mast; and for an ensign, a red jack, with a union jack in a canton at the upper corner thereof next the staff, and with a regal crown described in the centre of the red jack, instead of the pendant and ensign appointed by the Royal Proclamations, bearing date the eighteenth December one thousand seven hundred and two, and first January one thousand eight hundred and one, to be worn by ships and vessels employed for His Majesty's service by the Commissioners for Customs and Excise:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

Jas. Buller.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 29th of January 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT,
His Royal Highness the Duke of York,
His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence,
His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester,
The Archbishop of Canterbury,
The Lord President,
The Lord Privy Seal,
The Lord Steward,
The Lord Chamberlain,
Marquess of Winchester,
Marquess Camden,
Earl of Macclesfield,

Earl of Mulgrave,
Viscount Melville,
Viscount Sidmouth,
Viscount Jocelyn,
Lord George Beresford,
Mr. Canning,
Mr. Bathurst,
Mr. Long,
Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the
Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the twenty-eighth day of this instant month of January divers persons, riotously assembled and stationed in different places in the City of Westminster, proceeded to commit certain daring and highly criminal outrages, in gross violation of the public peace, to the actual danger of Our Royal Person, and to the interruption of Our passage to and from the Parliament; we therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, in pursuance of an address from the two Houses of Parliament, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates, and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the authors, actors, and abettors concerned in such outrages, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: And We do hereby promise, that any person or persons, other than those actually concerned in doing any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of the authors, actors, or abettors concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, may be apprehended and brought to justice, shall receive a reward of

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS,

to be paid on conviction of every such offender; which said sum of one thousand pounds the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly: And We do further promise, that any person or persons concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, other than such as were actually concerned in any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of such authors, actors, or abettors as aforesaid, shall be apprehended and brought to justice, shall,
upon conviction of such offender or offenders, receive His Majesty's most gracious pardon.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twenty-ninth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the
Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the sixth day of December last, a reward of five hundred pounds was,
by and under our authority, offered for the apprehension of James Watson the younger, late of Hyde-street, Bloomsbury, surgeon, who then stood charged upon oath, on a violent suspicion of having wilfully and feloniously attempted to kill and murder Richard Platt, on Monday the second day of December last, by firing a loaded pistol, at and desperately wounding the said Richard Platt: And whereas a bill of indictment has since been preferred and found by the Grand Jury of the City of London, against the said James Watson the younger, for the said offence: and whereas the promise of the said reward of five hundred pounds for the apprehension of the said James Watson the younger, was, by and under our authority renewed on the twenty-second day of January last; but the said James Watson has not yet been apprehended: And whereas the said James Watson the younger and Arthur Thistlewood, late of No. , Southampton-Buildings, Chancery-Lane, stand charged upon oath with high treason committed by them and sundry other persons, now in custody in the Tower of London; We, therefore in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: And We are hereby pleased to renew the said promise of a reward of

FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS,

so made on the said sixth day of December, and renewed on the said 22d day of January last, to be paid upon the said James Watson the younger being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby promise, to any person or persons who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, the said Arthur Thistlewood, the like sum of

FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS,

to be paid in like manner, upon the said Arthur Thistlewood being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby strictly charge and command all persons upon their allegiance, not to receive or harbour the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them: All persons offending herein will be thereby guilty of high treason: And We do hereby promise a like reward of

to any person who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, any person so receiving or harbouring the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them; to be paid upon the conviction of the person or persons so receiving or harbouring as aforesaid, which said several sums of five hundred pounds the Lords

Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

The above-named James Watson is a Surgeon by profession, and has been employed in that capacity on board a Greenland ship: He is a young man, apparently about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, but is only twenty, dark hair, rather pale complexion, five feet five inches high, has a mark or mole with a few hairs on it, on his left cheek bone near the eye, the left eyelid rather dropping over the eye, very faint remains of small pox in his face, has rather a wide mouth, and shews his teeth, (which are very black) when he laughs; he sometimes wore a brown great coat, black under coat, black waistcoat, drab breeches and long gaiters, and at other times he wore a black coat and waistcoat, blue pantaloons, and Hessian boots; his appearance shabby genteel: he formerly lodged in Hyde-Street, Bloomsbury.

Arthur Thistlewood is about forty-five years of age, five feet eleven inches high, has a sallow complexion, long visage, dark hair (a little grey), small whiskers, dark hazel eyes, and arched eyebrows, a wide mouth, and a good set of teeth, has a scar under his right jaw, is slender made, walks very upright, and has much the appearance of a military man; was born in Lincolnshire, and apprenticed to an apothecary at Newark, and has been a lieutenant in the army; he usually wore a French grey coloured coat, buff waistcoat, grey coloured Wellington pantaloons, with Hessian boots under them, and at times a dark brown great coat.

MEMORANDUM.

Lieutenant-General Richard Jones, of the East India Company's Service, whose nomination to the honour of Knight Commander of the Bath, was announced in the Gazette of the 15th instant, ought to have been stated to belong to the Bombay List.

Whitehall, February 18, 1817.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Peter Williams, of Holywell, in the county of Flint, Gent. to be a Master Extraordinary in the High Court of Chancery.

Whitehall, February 12, 1817.

WHereas it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, on the evening of Tuesday the 21st of January last, a stack of wheat, belonging to Mr. John Jarvis, of Oadby, in the county of Leicester, and also a stack of wheat, belonging to Mr. John Varnham, of the same place, were maliciously set on fire by some evil-disposed person or persons;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said felonies, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually set fire to the said wheat stacks) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of THIRTY POUNDS is hereby offered by the Oadby Association to any person or persons (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders to conviction, or cause them, or any of them, so to be apprehended and convicted thereof; the said reward to be paid by John Iliffe, Treasurer of the Oadby Association for the Prosecution of Felons.

Whitehall, February 7, 1817.

WHereas it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, about one o'clock on the morning of the 31st of January last, the rick-yard of Mr. John Hoare, at Sutton Courtney, in the county of Berks, was discovered to be on fire, whereby two ricks of barley, and one rick of beans, were destroyed; and that there is every reason to believe the same was wilfully and maliciously set on fire by some evil-disposed person or persons unknown;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the person or persons concerned in the felony above-mentioned, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually set fire to the said ricks), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered by the County Fire-Office, to any person or persons (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the offender or offenders to conviction, or cause him, her, or them to be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid.

WHereas by a notice, bearing date the 8th day of November 1816, signed by me and served on the principal occupying tenants of the town and lands of Glasshouse, Boultry, and Clonfad, containing three hundred and ninety acres and two roods, profitable land, plantation measure, situate in the barony of Clonlisk, and King's county; I have demanded from them, and each of them, all rent, and arrears of rent and renewal fines, to which I am entitled and now due me out of said lands and premises, under a lease for lives, with covenant for perpetual renewal; and whereas I have met difficulty in discovering the actual tenant bound to pay said rent, arrear of rent and renewal fines, I hereby give notice to all whom it may concern (pursuant to the Statute in that case made and provided), of the aforesaid demand so made by me in manner aforesaid.—Dated this 12th day of December, in the year 1816. John Smith.

THE Creditors of Mr. Alexander Read, formerly of No. 1, George-Street, Portman-Square, in the County of Middlesex, Gentleman, but late a prisoner for debt in the King's Bench Prison, and who on the 13th day of April 1812, was discharged from his imprisonment by virtue of an Act of Parliament passed in the fifty-first year of the present King, are desired to meet his Assignees at the Office of Mr. Silver, No. 8, Symonds-Lane, Chancery-Lane, London, on Wednesday the 16th day of March next, at Six o'clock in the Evening precisely, to invest the said Assignees with full power and authority to make compositions with any person or persons, or Accountants to the said debtor, when a proposal of 1000l. for compromising the suit instituted by the said Assignees against the Executors of the late Alexander Read, Esq. (and who are also the testamentary guardians of the said Mr. Alexander Read), and others, defendants, for recovering the contingent legacy which, in the will of the said Alexander Read, deceased, is bequeathed in the words following:—"Article 6th. His education as a merchant, and stipulated time of servitude, being completed, I shall consider him as sufficiently qualified then to make his own way through the world without any patrimony or pecuniary aid; that shall, nevertheless, be held out to him under the circumstances which I shall here mention: having hitherto acted in such a manner as to leave doubts with me regarding his future conduct in life, I have resolved, that his receiving any further assistance from me shall depend upon the character he may acquire after he becomes independent; and, pursuant to this determination, I request that, if he reside in England, his Guardians there will endeavour to procure every possible information respecting it, during the first seven years of his independence, at the end of which he will be twenty-six years of age; and that should it be such as they shall think would merit my entire approbation, they will reward him with the sum of ten thousand pounds sterling (10,000l.) to be paid him upon his setting up in business, or entering into partnership with any established house, provided that his plan be approved of by them. In case he should settle in India, his guardians there will, in like manner, inform themselves particularly as to his character, and transmit their information to those in England, who will decide accordingly upon the point in question as already directed."—And also to empower the said Assignees to accept of the said sum of 1000l. or any other sum of money, for compromising the said suit so commenced by them, in lieu and full discharge of all the said debtor's right, title, and interest to the said legacy.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Creditors of James Blackburn, late of Downham-Market, in the County of Norfolk, Innkeeper and Farrier, who was lately discharged out of the custody of the Marshal of the King's Bench Prison, under an Act passed in the 53d year of His present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England," will meet at the House of Samuel Johnson, the Crown Inn, in Downham Market aforesaid, on Thursday the 27th of February instant, at Eleven of the Clock in the Forenoon, for the purpose of choosing an Assignee or Assignees of the estate and effects of the said James Blackburn. Dated this 10th day of February 1817.

THE Creditors of Paul Turnbull, formerly and late of North Shields, in the County of Northumberland, Grocer, Tea-Dealer, and Ship-Owner, afterwards a prisoner for debt in His Majesty's gaol of Morpeth, in and for the County of Northumberland, and who was discharged therefrom on or about the 11th day of June 1815, by virtue of an Act of Parliament passed in the 53d year of His present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in England," are requested to meet on Saturday the 16th day of March next, at the Office of Mr. John Tinley, Solicitor, in Dockway-Square, in the Parish of Tynemouth, in the County of Northumberland, at Eleven o'clock in the Forenoon, for the purpose of assenting to, or dissenting from the Assignee of the estate and effects of the said Paul Turnbull, selling and disposing of all or any part of the said Insolvent's real or personal estate and effects, by private contract or public auction; and also to the said Assignee commencing, prosecuting, or defending any suit or suits at law or in equity, for the recovery of any part of the said Insolvent's estate and effects; or to the compounding, submitting to arbitration, or otherwise agreeing any matter or thing relating thereto; and on other special affairs.

Erratum in the Gazette, of the 4th instant, in the advertisement for a meeting of the Creditors of Joseph Pobjoy, an Insolvent Debtor, for Saturday the 18th instant, read Tuesday the 13th instant.
