[Notice is hereby given, that a Gazette will be published on Thursday.]

Westminster, February 24, 1817.

THIS day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Deputy Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorised by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, for declaring His Majesty's Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act for raising the sum of twenty-four millions by Exchequer bills, for the service of the year one thousand eight hundred and seventeen.

An Act to continue and extend the provisions of an Act, of the forty-ninth year of His present Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the island of Mauritius.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Merchants, Manufacturers, and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Halifax, humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our abhorrence of the wicked and treasonable attack made upon your Royal Highness, on your return from the House of Lords on Tuesday the 28th of January last.

Whilst we deeply lament this flagrant outrage, we acknowledge, Sir, the hand of Providence in your preservation; and we implore for your Royal Highness, and for this kingdom, a continuance of the same mighty protection.

In approaching your Royal Highness, we are anxious dutifully to express our firm conviction, that this great crime has not been the deed of one solitary assassin, but has had its source in a wicked and rebellious spirit, which is actively seeking to seduce the distressed, but good and loyal subjects of your revered father, from their allegiance, and from their veneration for those laws and that form of government, which for ages have been the glory of Britons, have at all times upheld their country in the first scale of nations, and have, at a late important crisis, rendered her the prop and stay of social order.

Therefore, Sir, we earnestly beseech you to adopt such measures as, restraining the disaffected, shall shield your royal person, and ensure the tranquillity and safety of the realm.

Hy. Wm. Coulthurst, D. D. Chairman.

Halifax, February 8, 1817.

[Transmitted by Dr. Coulthurst, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Bailiff, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Bewdley.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiff, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Bewdley, in the Guildhall assembled, having observed with indignation that factious men have taken advantage of the present distresses to excite among the lower orders discontent and rebellion, and having marked with horror the late atrocious attack on the life of your Royal Highness, while exercising the royal authority in behalf of your venerable and beloved father, dutifully approach your royal person to declare our hope, that the present distresses arise from temporary causes, and will soon pass away; to assure your Royal Highness, that we will resist to the uttermost all secret or open attempts to disturb the public peace, or to subvert our unrivalled Constitution; and especially to congratulate your Royal Highness on the late providential and happy escape from the daring and treasonable assault offered to your sacred person.

And while we return our thanks to Providence for the preservation of your Royal Highness, we add our earnest prayers, that the arm of God may continue to protect your Royal person, and shed the richest blessings on all your Royal House.

[Transmitted by — Wilsonn, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor and Burgesses, Gentlemen, and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Lymington and its Vicinity.

WE, the Mayor and Burgesses, Gentlemen, and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Lymington and its vicinity, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, impressed with sentiments of duty and attachment to the representative of our beloved Monarch.

The desperate and atrocious outrage which has been recently committed against your sacred person, when on your return from the opening of Parliament, we view as the excess of crime, the perpetration of which has excited within us emotions of horror and indignation; an act so disgraceful to the British character, and so appalling to the mild spirit of Christianity, we feel it our duty most solemnly to protest against.

We are deeply sensible of the distresses and embarrassments which pervade the empire at large, and which more particularly affect the lower orders of the community; but when we contemplate the many and invaluable blessings that are left to us, which we and all our families enjoy, our gratitude to the Divine Disposer of all things teaches us, as an imperious duty, individually to assist in endeavouring to alleviate their distresses, without evincing an unworthy despondency, without giving encouragement to discontent against the Rulers of the Nation (thereby fomenting the seeds of anarchy and tumult), and without repining with unmanly sentiments at temporary evils; which an enlightened policy we hope may shortly overcome.

We beg permission to add, that we shall ever most anxiously come forward to support the Constitution as by law established; to check as much as possible the artifices and bold measures of designing men, who, under specious and wicked pretences, would disturb the repose, the civil liberty, the peace, and happiness of the country.

Such our sentiments and determination, we humbly present to your Royal Highness; the effect of loyalty and attachment to your Royal House and Person; the effect also of a grateful remembrance, that, subject to the superintendence of Heaven; we live under the auspices of a mild and beneficent Government, the envy and the admiration of Europe.

Thomas Revitt, Mayor.
Town-Hall, Lymington, February 10, 1817.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the Shire of Ayr, called together this day by public advertisement from the Lord Lieutenant and Conveener of the County for that special purpose.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the above-described loyal and dutiful subjects of His Majesty, have learned with the utmost horror the traitorous attempt made against the sacred life of your Royal Highness, whilst in return from the fulfilment of the highest office of royal and constitutional authority on the meeting of Parliament, and there delivering a most gracious speech in person from the throne to the Lords and Commons in Parliament assembled.

Whilst we cannot but lament that such traitorous wretches do exist in this country, we most ardently hope and desire, that their crimes may be brought to light by the successful inquiry of those appointed by Parliament for that important investigation, and that the guilty may meet with that condign punishment which their crimes may merit.

With assurances of unshaken loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness's sacred Person and Government, we are, Sir, the dutiful and loyal subjects of His Majesty, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the shire of Ayr.

Signed by our Preses, in our presence, by our authority, at Ayr, this 12th day of February 1817.

John Hamilton, Preses.

[Transmitted by Sir Hew Dalrymple Hamilton, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble and dutiful address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace and Heritors of the County of Peebles.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace and Heritors of the County of Peebles, humbly approach your Royal Highness, to tender renewed assurances of the fervent attachment we bear our venerable Sovereign and his illustrious House, and in an especial manner, to express our horror and detestation of the late traitorous and execrable attempt upon the life of your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the session of your imperial Parliament.

Whilst we return sincere thanks to Almighty God, that he has been graciously pleased to preserve your Royal Highness to a loyal people, we trust, that the authors and abettors of an outrage, alike disgraceful to human nature, and foreign to our national character, shall be made to answer to the offended laws of their country.

We cannot sufficiently express our regret, at the excesses which an ignorant and misguided populace have committed in the metropolis, nor our detestation of the conduct of a few factious, wicked and designing individuals, who, by propagating delusion and disseminating sedition, have led others to the commission of such outrages, and finally of that act of treason, which excites our present just indignation.

We beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that, in spite of the wild and visionary ideas which are circulated elsewhere, one opinion, one feeling pervades all hearts in this part of the empire, the most devoted attachment to your Royal Highness's Person, Family and government, the most unlimited confidence in our national Parliament, and, above all, the most sincere veneration for that Constitution, which, the boast of our own and the envy of every other country, combines private security with public liberty; establishes a common bond of union among all ranks of society, and forms that firm basis, upon which our national glory, prosperity and happiness rest.

We trust, that your Royal Highness will believe that such are the opinions held by those of every class, who possess either virtue, talent, education or property, and that you will totally disregard those deluded or designing individuals, who insult His Majesty's faithful subjects, by presumptuously and falsely assuming a delegation to speak their sentiments.

We earnestly hope that your Royal Highness's valuable life will be long preserved, and that, after an honourable discharge of your high office, as Regent of these United Kingdoms, during the lamented indisposition of our revered Sovereign, your Royal Father, you will long wear, with undiminished glory, the British Crown, and be enabled to transmit our venerable Constitution, as by law established, to succeeding generations.

Signed in our name and by our appointment,
Elibank, Preses.

[Transmitted by the Right Honourable Lord Elibank,
and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the ancient Town of Stirling, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our extreme abhorrence of the very atrocious and treasonable attempt, which was lately made against your sacred Person, when returning from performing one of the most important functions of your station, as Regent of the empire.

We beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our unshaken loyalty, and that we shall ever consider any disrespect or violence offered to your Royal Person, as aimed at that venerable Constitution, under which, by the blessing of Providence, these lands have so long prospered.

We fervently pray, that the great Ruler of the universe may long preserve your Royal Highness, and that the sceptre of these realms may be swayed by the illustrious House of Brunswick, to the latest generations.

Signed in our names and by our appointment, and sealed at the Town House of Stirling, this 15th day of February 1817, and of His Majesty's reign the 57th year.

Thomas Littlejohn, Provost.

by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Burgesses and other Inhabitants of the Town of Sligo, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of abhorrence of the late wicked attack upon the Person of your Royal Highness, and to offer our sincere congratulations at your Royal Highness's happy escape.

Attached as we are and have ever been to our glorious Constitution, and viewing as we do the attempts of designing men to undermine it, and to introduce those principles which have deluged the world with blood, we conceive the present a fit opportunity to rally round the Throne, and we trust, that by your Royal Highness's just and vigorous administration of the laws, our Government, which, by its excellence and energy, has given repose to Europe, will prove, that it is capable of maintaining itself, of crushing the disaffected, and continuing the blessings of liberty and peace to His Majesty's subjects.

and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Newburgh, in Fife.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Magistrates and Town Council, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the most profound sentiments of duty and respect, to express our horror and indignation at the late most daring, wicked, and villainous outrage offered to your Royal Person, at the moment of your return from the House of Parliament, on the occasion of your Royal Highness's exercising the sacred duties of the Crown, and fulfilling, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, the very important performance of one of the estates of the realm.

With the deepest concern we have to deplore, that any one should be found within His Majesty's dominians capable of violence so traitorous, so disgraceful to human nature, so incompatible with the British character; and we most fervently hope, that the loyalty of the subjects of the United Empire will manifest itself to prevent a repetition of an attempt so base against the sacred Person of your Royal Highness.

We beg permission to add, that nothing shall be wanting, on our part, to promote, on all occasions, the general tranquillity, and to evince our steady loyalty and attachment to your Royal House and Person, and our determination to support the Crown and dignity of these realms.

Signed by the Chief Magistrate, in name and by appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council, John Adams, Esq. Chief Magistrate.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighborhood of Wakefield, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our feelings of horror and indignation at the late outrageous attack on the person of your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the present Session of Parliament.

We lament, with deep and serious concern, that any one should be found capable of such an atrocious act, so daringly wicked, so highly criminal, as to endanger the safety of your Royal Person, and thereby the security of public tranquillity, and the happiness of the whole country; and that at a time when your Royal Highness was exercising, in the name of our beloved Sovereign, one of the most important duties of the Crown.

To the Supreme Disposer of all Events, we lift up our hearts with fervent gratitude for your Royal Highness's providential escape, imploring his continual protection of your Person, and his blessing on your exertions for the public welfare; and animated with a just sense of the many invaluable blessings we enjoy under our present Government, we tender to your Royal Highness our strongest assurances of loyalty, our utter abhorrence of every attempt to subvert our excellent Constitution, and our solemn determination to maintain in our respective situations, general tranquillity and public order.

Feeling in common with our fellow subjects the pressure which the country at present sustains, and fully satisfied that a strict economy is imperiously called for in every branch of the public expenditure, we observe with peculiar gratitude and satisfaction, the noble example manifested by the extensive sacrifice, in your Royal Highness's personal income, towards the exigencies of the public weal, and we trust, that in the administration of every department of the State, your Royal Highness will cause such a system to be steadily pursued, as may reduce the expenditure of the country within the limits of its income, as speedily as may be consistent with the safety, honour, and welfare of the United Kingdom.

Dated, 17th of February 1847.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

SIR,

WE, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, and Livery of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham, approach your Royal Highness, to express our abhorrence of the atrocious violence directed against the person of your Royal Highness upon your return from opening the present Session of Parliament.

It is matter of national shame, that this outrage upon your Royal Highness, representing His Majesty, and discharging one of the highest functions of the Crown, should have been perpetrated.

In the universal sentiment of indignation which the disgraceful act has excited, we cordially participate; and we look with confidence to the exertions of the Magistracy, and to the existing laws of our country, for the discovery and punishment of the offenders.

Under the shield of those laws, and in the attachment of the people (an attachment just now heightened towards your Royal Highness, by the grateful communication to Parliament of your Royal Highness's gracious intention of sacrificing to the services of the State part of your private revenue), may the person and dignity of your Royal Highness ever find perfect safety and protection.

In the present anxious situation of public affairs, and when the evil spirit of misrepresentation is, we fear, with sinister purpose, attempting to confound the well-disposed with the violent, we seize the present opportunity of laying before your Royal Highness our sincere assurances of continued and firm adherence to the principles which established your illustrious House upon the Throne, of our unshaken affection for the British Constitution, and of our determination to unite at all times with our fellow subjects and fellow countrymen, in its defence and preservation.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall of Nottingham, this 12th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1847.

In the Mayoralty of William Wilson, Esquire,
H. Engfeld, Town Clerk.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. Lord Holland, and presented by Viscount St. Albans.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Dunfermline.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Dunfermline, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express the utter abhorrence and detestation we feel at the recent, daring, and most atrocious attack upon the Majesty of the Sovereign, in the Person of your Royal Highness.

This most detestable and horrid outrage appears the more extraordinary, when we consider the scrupulous regard to the laws and the Constitutional liberties of the kingdom, by which your Royal Highness's Government has ever been characterized, and the glorious results of those wise and energetic measures, adopted by your Royal Father, our venerable and beloved Sovereign, and followed up with the same persevering energy by your Royal Highness; and which under Providence, have been the means of destroying the most cruel and obnoxious tyranny that ever disgraced the page of history, of re-establishing upon a sure basis the tranquillity and happiness of Europe; and of raising the British name and the British Empire to the highest pitch of eminence and glory in the scale of nations, and justly crowning your Royal Highness with the glorious title of the Deliverer of Europe.

Such a daring and flagitious attempt on the sacred and invaluable life of your Royal Highness, can alone have proceeded from motives equally subversive of every sentiment of religion, and every principle of wise and good Government, as they are superlatively wicked and diabolical; and we do not hesitate to express our strong conviction, that this audacious attack has originated in those visionary, absurd, and impracticable principles and maxims of Government, so industriously disseminated throughout the United Kingdom by designing, restless, and disappointed demagogues, and so well calculated to unsettle and mislead the unthinking and unwary.

While we humbly beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our inviolable attachment to your Royal Person and Government, we confidently hope and trust, that the temporary commercial distress, at present felt throughout the kingdom, (naturally resulting from the return of peace, after a long, protracted, and destructive war,) added to the calamity of a scanty harvest, may through the blessing of Divine Providence, on the united wisdom of Parliament, and the prudent and energetic measures of your Royal Highness's Government, in due time be mitigated and ultimately removed; and the more dangerous designs of the disaffected, "more dangerous, because more destructive in their consequences to the peace and well being of society," effectually counteracted and repressed. And it is our earnest and fervent prayer that the same Merciful Providence, who hath preserved your Royal Highness from the hand of the assassin, may, through a long period of years, be your safeguard and protector, and continue to vouchsafe his efficacious blessing on the measures of your Royal Highness's Government.

Signed in name, in presence, and by appointment of the Council, and having the common seal of the Burgh hereto affixed, this 4th day of February 1817, by J. Wilson, Provost.

[Transmitted by General Campbell; and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, and Heritors of the County of Selkirk, met at Selkirk this 20th day of February 1817.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, and Heritors of the County of Selkirk, request permission humbly to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on the providential failure of the treasonable and atrocious attempt so lately made on your Royal Highness's most valuable life; and to express the deep abhorrence which we feel, that there should have occurred in this country, even an attempt to commit a crime, which, if perpetrated, would have inflicted so deep a stain on our national annals.

We would also take this opportunity of declaring the disgust with which we have contemplated the recent endeavours of factious and seditious men to take advantage of the public distress in order to inflame the minds of the people, and render them discontented with those admirable institutions, under the protection of which, we have enjoyed so much liberty and prosperity at home, and attained so high a rank among the neighbouring nations.

Be assured, Sir, that in this district, although we have felt with others the full pressure of the public distress, there have been no attempts to excite those disturbances, which aggravate, instead of lessening the evil. We know that that distress is the unavoidable result of our sudden transition from the vigorous prosecution of a sanguinary war, to a state of profound, and we humbly trust, secure and lasting peace. Looking forward then, with patient, but confident anticipation, to the full enjoyment of those blessings which have been so bravely won by the exertions of our country in a just and righteous cause, we have indulged in none of those ill-timed discussions, which we are sensible are only calculated to produce mischief, and to distract the attention of the Government from its more necessary and arduous duties.

The example which you, Sir, have set, in voluntarily sharing the sacrifices, which the state of the times has rendered requisite, we fully appreciate and accept as in earnest of the anxiety of your Royal Highness and of your Government, to alleviate by every practicable means the distresses of the nation. And be assured, Sir, that we yield to no part of His Majesty's Dominions, in willingness to submit cheerfully to our present temporary privations, and to lend our assistance when called upon to defend that valuable Constitution, which we have received with gratitude from our ancestors, and which we wish to transmit unimpaired to our descendants.

We fervently pray that it may please Providence long to preserve your Royal Highness, and to enable you to witness the success of your counsels in the increasing power and prosperity of the British Empire.

Alexander Prinel, Preses.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Capital Burgesses of the Town or Borough of Stamford, in the County of Lincoln.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Stamford, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our detestation and abhorrence of the late atrocious and treasonable attempt against the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, and we beg leave to offer our heartfelt congratulations upon your Royal Highness's providential escape.

Truly sensible of the great benefits enjoyed under our present happy Constitution, pre-eminent and unrivalled as it is amongst nations, we seize this opportunity of assuring your Royal Highness that though we feel the deepest concern at the endeavours of turbulent and disaffected men to disturb the tranquillity of these kingdoms, (enjoying the happy prospect of a durable peace) we have the firmest reliance upon the wisdom of your Royal Highness's Councils and Government, and we humbly offer to your Royal Highness our most zealous endeavours (as it is our duty) to concur with your Royal Highness's most gracious design in preserving and transmitting to posterity the inestimable blessings we enjoy.

Given at the Town Hall, under the common seal of the said Borough, this 17th day of February 1817.

Charles Heppenstall, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Marquis of Exeter, Recorder, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George, Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Burgesses, and Common Council of the ancient and loyal Corporation of Drogheda, assembled in Common Hall, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with this humble tender of the assurance of our grateful thanks to Divine Providence for the protection of your sacred Person from the assault of Treason, on the 28th of January.

Remote from those scenes of turbulence and systematic outrage, that have agitated some of the most populous towns of this great Empire, we have calmly and dispassionately, but not with apathy or unconcern, observed their progress.

Proud of that tranquillity which we enjoyed during the calamitous period of 1798, when rebellion raged through so great a portion of Ireland, and confident of every firmness and energy on the part of His Majesty's Government, we yet confess our apprehensions, when we see the progress of a system operating for the same professed purpose, which involved at that tremendous period so many thousands in ruin and destruction—a purpose “Parliamentary Reform,” so artfully calculated to mislead the uninformed, and to entrap and draw away from the very object of their admiration, the warm and zealous but theoretic extollers of our unrivalled Constitution.

We sensibly feel and see within our port and markets, and in our manufactures the pressure of the present times; we are conscious these ills arise from causes not for human wisdom to control; we meet them not with despondency, but with increased anxiety to discharge the duties of our various callings; yet when we look from thence and see the busy workers of treason, perverting, as it were, the dispensation of Providence, endeavouring to wean from every honest, loyal, feeling mind, weakened and distressed by poverty, and when we find them bursting into open acts of insult and aggression towards the Royal Person, we can no longer remain silent.

We deplore them, but we assure ourselves that the wisdom of your Royal Highness's Councils, aided by the moral good sense of the great body of the nation, will, under Providence, hold up this mighty country in that station of pride and envy to which its military glory, its persevering wisdom, and its venerable Constitution have raised it.

We again humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness the horror with which we view the late atrocious outrage attempted on your sacred Person, and to say with genuine pride, that that loyalty and attachment to the Royal Person, and to His Majesty's illustrious House, which have ever distinguished this ancient Corporation, were at no period more eminent than at the present.

In testimony whereof, we have caused our common seal to be hereunto affixed, this 11th day of February 1817.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and Earl of Chester.

May it please your Royal Highness,

We the inhabitants of His Majesty's ancient and loyal City of Chester, impressed with sentiments of unfeigned regard and affection to your Royal Highness, beg leave to offer you our sincerest congratulations on your late providential escape from the outrageous and treasonable attempt on your Royal Highness's life, on your return from the discharge of one of the most important duties attached to your royal station, the opening of the present Session of Parliament.

Attached as we are, both by duty and interest, to our unrivalled Constitution, and to that Royal House which has so long and so gloriously presided over it, we view with horror and indignation that ferocious and criminal act, the object of which was to take away the life of one so justly dear to us, and thereby to involve the country in anarchy and confusion.

Though we deeply lament that an attempt of so base and atrocious a nature should have stained the mind of an Englishman in any one instance, we nevertheless feel a conviction that the general character of our country, for generosity, manly integrity, and a patient endurance under severe pressure, remains unaltered and unimpeached, and that an outrage, suited only to the feelings and the practice of a cowardly assassin, could have been instigated only by the artful insinuations of wily and designing demagogues, and by untruths and mis-statements, calculated to disseminate discord and stir up rebellion.

Whilst therefore we deprecate the insidious attempts of factious and disaffected men, we implore your Royal Highness to adopt such energetic measures in Parliament as may tend completely to defeat their nefarious object, to add stability to the Throne, and visit with speedy and condign punishment the authors, abettors and perpetrators of the late and all similar acts of treason and rebellion.

Having thus tendered our assurances of inviolable attachment and duty to your Royal Highness and your august House, we have only to add our fervent prayers to Divine Providence, that he will be pleased as heretofore to guard and protect your Royal Highness from the arm of the assassin, that he will continue to guide your counsels for the good of the people of this land, and after having granted you a long reign over loyal, grateful and happy subjects, may at length confer upon you a crown of endless and unfading glory.

Thomas Francis, Mayor.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County of Clackmanan, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness's Person, to express the indignation and abhorrence with which we contemplate the late daring and flagitious outrage offered to the Person of your Royal Highness, while in the exercise of one of the most important functions of Royalty, the opening of the Sessions of the Imperial Parliament.

We humbly beg leave to convey to your Royal Highness our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the traitorous attack upon the Person of your Royal Highness; and we earnestly pray, that the perpetrators of an act so atrocious in itself, and so derogatory to the age and country in which it is our happiness to live, may be speedily delivered over to the hand of Justice.

We are not insensible to the difficulties and distress of the country, upon the one hand, or to the efforts which have recently been made, on the other, to disturb its internal peace and tranquillity.

To the deliberations and wisdom of Parliament we look with confidence for the adoption of such measures as may materially contribute to alleviate the pressure under which we labour: to the spirit of loyalty, and of unfeigned attachment to the Person of your Royal Highness, and of veneration for our excellent Constitution, which animate the great body of His Majesty's subjects, and in which we humbly participate, we look forward with becoming pride and satisfaction, as affording the most unequivocal pledge of our joint determination to protect, at any sacrifice, your Royal Highness's Person, and to preserve inviolate the established Law and Constitution of these realms.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Freemen and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Liskeard, in the County of Cornwall, beg leave humbly to address your Royal Highness, and dutifully to express our utmost abhorrence of the daring and atrocious attack upon the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, on the return of your Royal Highness from opening the present Session of Parliament.

We respectfully, and with unfeigned sentiments of joy, congratulate your Royal Highness on the providential failure of the audacious attempt, which we are unable to contemplate without extraordinary sensations of horror, and feelings of utter detestation, at an endeavour to accomplish a design so outrageous and criminal.

We avail ourselves of this occasion to assure your Royal Highness of our continued attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, under the protection of which we enjoy so many blessings; and further to assure your Royal Highness of our firm determination to support with our most strenuous exertions the inestimable Constitution under which we have the happiness to live.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and Liberty of Southwell, beg leave to declare, in the strongest terms, our abhorrence of the late treasonable attack on the Person of your Royal Highness by a deluded and ferocious mob, and at the same time most respectfully to offer our heartfelt congratulations on your fortunate escape from the intended outrage—an outrage rendered the more atrocious by being directed against your Royal Highness when returning from the exercise of one of the highest authorities with which you are invested, and indeed one of the most important functions of the Sovereign of a free people, the exercise of Royal power in the assembled Parliament of the British Empire.

While this ignorant and misguided multitude professed to seek nothing more than a reform in the Commons' House of Parliament, the violence of their proceedings made it evident that their designs extended to much more criminal and more dangerous objects—to nothing less than to destroy the freedom of the Legislature by overawing one of the three estates of the realm, and eventually to overthrow that political Constitution which an incalculable majority of the British people have learnt so justly to appreciate, and which we beg to assure your Royal Highness it is our determination, in conjunction with that majority, at every hazard, to maintain for ourselves, and to transmit unimpaired to our posterity.

[Transmitted by Rear Admiral Frank, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Peebles.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Peebles, feel ourselves called upon at the present conjuncture to unite with the great body of His Majesty's faithful subjects, in offering to your Royal Highness the homage of our duty and respect, and in giving public expression to those sentiments of attachment to your Person and Government with which we are at all times animated, and which recent events have served in a peculiar manner to call into anxious and lively exercise.

While we offer our heartfelt congratulations to your Royal Highness on your late happy and providential escape from the attempts of desperate and disloyal men—while we express our unfeigned abhorrence of the atrocious outrage offered to your Royal Person, we are deeply grieved to think, that one British heart should have been found traitorous enough to meditate a purpose so unnatural, and one British arm base enough to become the instrument of a crime so monstrous.

Connecting this attempt, as we cannot help doing, with the efforts which have of late been so industriously made by evil minded agitators in various parts of the United Kingdom, to bring the Government and Legislature, and Constitution of our country into hatred and contempt, to excite a spirit of discontent and disaffection among His Majesty's subjects, and by ascribing those distresses, which unfortunately at this moment but too generally prevail, to causes with which they have no possible connection, to give to the passions of the impatient, and the uninformed a false and dangerous direction; in these circumstances we hold it imperative on all good citizens to rally round the Constitution and the Throne, to express their public and decided detestation of those mischievous opinions which are propagated by designing demagogues, and of those lawless excesses that are committed by misguided multitudes, and to unite in counteracting the dangers with which both menace our civil liberties and our social peace, by evincing in their defence the same zeal which is employed for their destruction; by opposing the activity of loyalty to the activity of sedition.

It is with these impressions of our duties and our dangers that we now beg to approach your Royal Highness, with the humble expression of our dutiful regards, and to assure your Royal Highness that in our limited sphere we shall heartily unite with the friends of order and morality and good Government throughout the land, in promoting a spirit of loyalty to the Throne, of obedience to the laws, and of veneration for that best of Constitutions, which we were indeed unworthy to enjoy were we insensible to its value or backward to defend it.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, and the seal of the Burgh affixed hereto, at Peebles, the 17th day of February 1817.

James Ker, Provost.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs and Burgesses of Scarborough, in the County of York, in Common Council assembled, feel it our indispensable duty to express to your Royal Highness, our indignation and abhorrence at the late most atrocious outrages and insults offered to your Royal Person, at the moment of exercising, on the behalf of His Majesty, one of the most important duties of the Crown.

Nor are we less filled with astonishment and grief, that notwithstanding the terrible effects of revolutionary principles so forcibly exhibited in other nations, after the continued enjoyment of such great liberties and blessings by the subjects of this Empire, and with the many proofs of your Royal Highness's attention to the wants and interests of the people, there should have unfortunately existed within the bounds of His Majesty's dominions, even one individual so perverted in understanding, so ungrateful of heart, and so abandoned in crime, as to have raised the arm of treason against the Sovereign Authority of these Realms.

On the contrary view, whilst we are animated with the highest delight in reflecting, that crowds of His Majesty's faithful subjects are daily pressing towards the foot of the Throne to renew their pledges of loyalty and attachment, we also beg leave to tender to your Royal Highness the respectful homage of our affections and duty.

We confidently trust, that the wisdom and energy of Parliament, combined with the zeal of the great majority of the nation, will not only benevolently proceed in relieving, to the utmost practicable degree, every pressure of distress, but likewise will firmly maintain inviolate the British Constitution as by law established, and will discourage, reclaim or suppress all those delusive and wicked associations, whose object is to assail the loyalty of the people, to undermine every sacred and moral principle, and finally to deliver up this envied empire to the scourge of anarchy, rapine, and irretrievable misery.

We fervently pray that the favour of Heaven may long preserve your Royal Highness in health and happiness, and that the blessings of our unrivalled Constitution may, under the Government of the illustrious House of Brunswick, descend unimpaired to the latest ages.

Given under our common seal, this 15th day of February, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign. By order, John Travis, Common Clerk.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. C. Manners Sutton, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, whose names are hereunto subscribed, being loyal Inhabitants of the Town and neighbourhood of Nottingham, and dutiful subjects of our present gracious Sovereign, beg leave most respectfully to approach your Royal Highness, in order to express our utmost detestation of the outrage lately offered to the Person of your Royal Highness by a daring and unprincipled mob; an outrage rendered the more atrocious by being perpetrated on the return of your Royal Highness from the discharge of one of your most sacred duties, the exercise of the Sovereign authority in Parliament.

Your Royal Highness will permit us to embrace this opportunity to express our sense of the difficulties, brought by peculiar and unavoidable circumstances upon the country in general, and more especially our compassion for the distress which presses so heavily upon the labouring classes of the community; and while we feel the utmost reliance on the gracious assurance of your Royal Highness, that every practicable mode of public retrenchment and œconomy will be adopted, we at the same time avow our readiness to co-operate in every expedient for the alleviation of this distress, and desire thus publicly to proclaim our abhorrence of the artful and unjustifiable advantages taken of it, by factious demagogues, in various parts of the Empire, to seduce the less informed portion of our fellow subjects from their allegiance, and to incite them to tumult, sedition, and almost every species of criminal violence.

Lamenting the frequency, and deprecating the effects of the acts of these demagogues, of their inflammatory harangues, their seditious meetings, their licentious publications, and their delusive theories of Government on the minds of the misguided populace, we desire, in opposition to their efforts, to declare our unfeigned attachment to the illustrious House of Brunswick, and our determination collectively, and individually, to support to the utmost of our power, the Constitution, as by law established; to maintain the just authority, as well as the personal safety of your Royal Highness, and to resist every attempt of the disaffected and turbulent, to abridge the acknowledged prerogatives of the crown, or to disturb the legal rights of the people.

We beg leave to conclude the present address, by requesting your Royal Highness to accept our congratulations on your fortunate escape from the violence intended, and at the same time, our most cordial wishes, that whenever it shall please the Supreme Disposer of all events, to call our beloved Sovereign from a temporal to an eternal crown, your Royal Highness may enjoy a long, a glorious, and a happy reign, over a faithful, a virtuous, and an united people.

Nottingham, February 6, 1817.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of Irvine.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Irvine, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness at this important crisis, with renewed assurances of our sincere attachment to His Majesty, His Government, and your Royal Highness's person, and to present our heartfelt congratulations on your providential escape from the late infamous and traitorous attempt on your Royal Highness's life, and to express our horror and detestation of that execrable and flagitious design.

Feeling in common with our fellow subjects the distresses of our country, arising out of causes which human wisdom could not foresee, nor human power prevent, we deprecate all the efforts, made by traitorous and designing men, under the mask of relief from these distresses, to mislead some of the industrious and well-meaning subjects, to assist them in attempting to undermine our glorious and happy Constitution, by calling and holding meetings in our towns and villages, where sedition is promulgated by tutored speakers, and afterwards printed and circulated with the utmost avidity.

Given, in our name and by our appointment, and the seal of the Burgh affixed hereto, at Irvine, this 18th day of February 1817.

Eglinton, Provost.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Mayo.

We his Majesty's most loyal and attached subjects, beg leave in the most humble manner, to offer to your Royal Highness our heartfelt congratulations on your providential escape from the attacks which were directed by the disloyal against your person, on your return from excepting the royal functions in opening the session of Parliament.

We are most anxious to testify the abhorrence we feel of the principle that occasioned so gross an insult to be offered to your Royal Highness, and in the most earnest manner declare ourselves ready to rally round the throne, and make a willing sacrifice of our lives and fortunes in defence of your person and its dignities.

"We moreover beg your Royal Highness to believe that we are equally anxious to oppose and defeat the attempts which are now daily making by the malevolent to delude the unthinking multitude, and to overthrow that proud bulwark of real liberty, the British Constitution. We trust that the zeal of your Royal Highness's servants will enable the powerful arm of justice to fall heavy on the infamous authors of so foul a deed.

Owen O'Malley, High Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, High Steward, Recorder, and Freemen of the ancient Corporation of Kingston-upon-Thames, in the County of Surrey.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Bailiffs, High Steward, Recorder, and Freemen, of the very ancient and loyal Corporation of Kingston-upon-Thames, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our most earnest and heartfelt congratulations for the deliverance of your Royal Highness's sacred person from the unprincipled and outrageous attack of some misguided and evil-minded persons, collected together for the purpose of treating your Royal Highness with indignity.

In returning our grateful thanks to the Divine Providence, for the preservation of your Royal Highness, we at the same time humbly offer our prayers for the interest and welfare of your Royal Highness, which appears so closely connected with our own.

That your Royal Highness may long live, and always continue the guardian of a free, happy, and loyal people, ever zealous to defend your Royal person and Government from the evil designs of foreign and domestic enemies, is, and always will be, the warmest wish of our hearts.

Given under our common seal, in the Guildhall of our said town, the 18th day of February in the fifty-seventh year of the reign of His present Majesty, and in the year of our Lord 1817.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHERAS by an Act passed in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to provide for a new silver coinage, and to regulate the currency of the gold and silver coin of this realm," the Master and Worker of

His Majesty's Mint, in London, was authorised and empowered to coin, or cause to be coined, silver bullion into silver coins, consisting of crowns, half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, of the standard of eleven ounces and two penny weights of fine silver, and eighteen penny weights alloy to the pound troy, and in weight after the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy :

And whereas, in virtue of the powers so given, a coinage of half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, at the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy, and of the standard of fineness above-mentioned ; every such half-crown piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Georgius III. Dei Gratia," and the date of the year ; and for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield, surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," and the collar of the Garter, with the inscription "Britanniarum Rex Fid: Def:" with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece ; every such shilling and six penny piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Georgius III. D. G. Britt. Rex. F. D." and the date of the year, and for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece, has been completed and is now ready to be delivered for the use of his Majesty's subjects ; We have therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, thought fit to issue this Proclamation, and we do hereby ordain, declare and command, that the said pieces of silver money shall from and after the thirteenth day of this instant February, be current and lawful money of the Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and shall pass and be received as current and lawful money of the said Kingdom, that is to say, such half-crown pieces as of the value of two shillings and six pence ; such shilling pieces as of the value of one shilling ; and such six penny pieces as of the value of six pence, in all payments and transactions of money.

And We do hereby in further pursuance of the powers given to his Majesty by the said Act, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, further proclaim, ordain, declare and name the said thirteenth day of this instant February as the day from and after which so much and such parts of the Act made in the fourteenth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to prohibit the importation of light silver coin of this realm from foreign countries into Great Britain or Ireland, and to restrain the tender thereof beyond a certain sum," as enacts or provides or may be construed to enact or provide that any tender in silver coin of the realm shall be legal to the amount of twenty-five pounds, or a tender for any greater sum according to its value by weight. And also so much of any Act or Acts whereby the said last recited Act is continued, revived, or made perpetual, shall be repealed, and the same are by virtue of the said first recited Act, and this Our Proclamation, repealed accordingly.

And We do hereby in further pursuance of the powers given to His Majesty by virtue of the said first recited Act, in the name and on behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, proclaim, ordain, declare and name the said thirteenth day of February as the day from and after which no tender of payment of money made in the silver coin of this realm of any sum exceeding the sum of forty shillings at any one time shall be reputed a tender in law or allowed to be a legal tender within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, either by tale or weight of such silver coin, or otherwise howsoever.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twelfth day of February one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the twenty-eighth day of this instant month of January divers persons, riotously assembled and stationed in different places in the City of Westminster, proceeded to commit certain daring and highly criminal outrages, in gross violation of the public peace, to the actual danger of Our Royal Person, and to the interruption of Our passage to and from the Parliament; we therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, in pursuance of an address from the two Houses of Parliament, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates, and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the authors, actors, and abettors concerned in such outrages, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: And We do hereby promise, that any person or persons, other than those actually concerned in doing any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of the authors, actors, or abettors concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, may be apprehended and brought to justice, shall receive a reward of

to be paid on conviction of every such offender; which said sum of one thousand pounds the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly: And We do further promise, that any person or persons concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, other than such as were actually concerned in any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of such authors, actors, or abettors as aforesaid, shall be apprehended and brought to justice, shall, upon conviction of such offender or offenders, receive His Majesty's most gracious pardon.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twentieth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the sixth day of December last, a reward of five hundred pounds was, by and under our authority, offered for the apprehension of James Watson the younger, late of Hyde-street, Bloomsbury, surgeon, who then stood charged upon oath, on a violent suspicion of having wilfully and feloniously attempted to kill and murder Richard Platt, on Monday the second day of December last, by firing a loaded pistol at and desperately wounding the said Richard Platt: And whereas a bill of indictment has since been preferred and found by the Grand Jury of the City of London, against the said James Watson the younger, for the said offence: and whereas the promise of the said reward of five hundred pounds for the apprehension of the said James Watson the younger, was, by and under our authority renewed on the twenty-second day of January last; but the said James Watson has not yet been apprehended: And whereas the said James Watson the younger and Arthur Thistlewood, late of No. , Southampton-Buildings, Chancery-Lane, stand charged upon oath with high treason committed by them and sundry other persons, now in custody in the Tower of London; We, therefore in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: And We are hereby pleased to renew the said promise of a reward of so made on the said sixth day of December, and renewed on the said 22d day of January last, to be paid upon the said James Watson the younger being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby promise, to any person or persons who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, the said Arthur Thistlewood, the like sum of

FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS,

to be paid in like manner, upon the said Arthur Thistlewood being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby strictly charge and command all persons upon their allegiance, not to receive or harbour the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them: All persons offending herein will be thereby guilty of high treason: And We do hereby promise a like reward of

to any person who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, any person so receiving or harbouring the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them; to be paid upon the conviction of the person or persons so receiving or harbouring as aforesaid, which said several sums of five hundred pounds the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

The above-named James Watson is a Surgeon by profession, and has been employed in that capacity on board a Greenland ship: He is a young man, apparently about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, but is only twenty, dark hair, rather pale complexion, five feet five inches high, has a mark or mole with a few hairs on it, on his left cheek bone near the eye; the left eyelid rather dropping over the eye, very faint remains of small pox in his face, has rather a wide mouth, and shews his teeth, (which are very black) when he laughs; he sometimes wore a brown great coat, black under coat, black waistcoat, drub breeches and long gaiters, and at other times he wore a black coat and waistcoat, blue pantaloons, and Hessian boots; his appearance shabby genteel: he formerly lodged in Hyde-Street, Bloomsbury.

Arthur Thistlewood is about forty-five years of age, five feet eleven inches high, has a sallow complexion, long visage, dark hair (a little grey), small whiskers, dark hazel eyes, and arched eyebrows, a wide mouth, and a good set of teeth, has a scar under his right jaw, is slender made, walks very upright, and has much the appearance of a military man; was born in Lincolnshire, and apprenticed to an apothecary at Newark, and has been a lieutenant in the army; he usually wore a French grey coloured coat, buff waistcoat, grey coloured Wellington pantaloons, with Hessian boots under them, and at times a dark brown great coat.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 27th of January 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the twenty-eighth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for regulating the trade between the subjects of His Majesty's colonies and plantations in North America and in the West India Islands and the countries belonging to the United States of America, and between His Majesty's said subjects and the Foreign Islands in the West Indies," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty in Council, by Order or Orders to be issued and published from time to time, to authorise, or by Warrant or Warrants under His sign manual, to empower the Governor of Newfoundland for the time being, to authorise, in case of necessity, the importation into Newfoundland of bread, flour, Indian corn, and live stock, from any of the territories belonging to the said United States, for the supply of the inhabitants and fishermen of the Island of Newfoundland, for the then ensuing season only; provided always, that such bread, flour, Indian corn, and live stock, so authorised to be imported into the Island of Newfoundland, shall not be imported except in conformity to such rules, regulations, and restrictions as shall be specified in such Order or Orders, Warrant or Warrants respectively, and except by British subjects, and in British-built ships, owned by His Majesty's subjects, and navigated according to law:

And whereas it is expedient and necessary, that provision be made for fully supplying the inhabitants and fishermen of the Island of Newfoundland, for the ensuing season, with bread, flour, Indian corn, and live stock, His Royal Highness the Prince Regent doth thereupon, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, hereby order and declare, that for the supply of the inhabitants and fishermen of the Island of Licence to import bread, flour, Indian corn, and live stock, into the Island of Newfoundland.

AT the Court at Brighton, the 2d of January 1817,

PRESENT.

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the third day of August last, for prohibiting the exportation out of this kingdom, or carrying coastwise, gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, will expire on the thirteenth day of February next; and whereas it is judged expedient, that the said prohibition, so far as applies to the countries hereinafter named, should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the said thirteenth day of February next), presume to transport any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places, in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any.

sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt-petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council:" But it is His Royal Highness's pleasure, that nothing in this Order contained shall be construed to alter or repeal the Order in Council of the twentieth of May one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, for regulating the export of gunpowder and arms to the coast of Africa, under the conditions therein specified. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Breconshire, Tuesday, April 8, at Brecon.
Radnorshire, Monday, April 14, at Presteigne.

Downing-Street, February 13, 1817.

HIS Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to appoint Sir George Cooper, Knight, Recorder of Prince of Wales's Island, to be one of the Assistant Judges of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Madras.

Whitehall, February 25, 1817.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed Joseph Burrill, of Ripon, in the county of York, Gent. to be a Master Extraordinary in the High Court of Chancery.

Whitehall, February 22, 1817.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that on Thursday evening the 13th instant, the Rev. Mr. Longuet, on his return on horseback from Pangbourn, in the county of Berks, was barbarously murdered between the hours of eight and nine o'clock, on the Oxford road, about three miles from Reading; that his head was nearly severed from his body; that several dreadful gashes were inflicted on the scull, supposed to have been done with a sword; and that five stabs, apparently made by a bayonet, had penetrated the heart;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said atrocious murder, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually committed the same), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of TWO HUNDRED GUINEAS is hereby offered to any person (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof; or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders, or any of them, to conviction, or cause them or any of them so to be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid: such reward to be paid on application to William Andrews, jtm. Esq. Clerk to the Magistrates of the Reading Division.

Whitehall, February 12, 1817.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, on the evening of Tuesday the 21st of January last, a stack of wheat, belonging to Mr. John Jarvis, of Oadby, in the county of Leicester, and also a stack of wheat, belonging to Mr. John Varnham, of the same place, were maliciously set on fire by some evil-disposed person or persons;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said felonies, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually set fire to the said wheat stacks) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of THIRTY POUNDS is hereby offered by the Oadby Association to any person or persons (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders to conviction, or cause them, or any of them, so to be apprehended and convicted thereof; the said reward to be paid by John Iliffe, Treasurer of the Oadby Association for the Prosecution of Felons.

Exchequer Bill Office, February 25, 1817.

TO BE PAID OFF.

All Exchequer Bills dated in the Months of February and March 1816, viz. Vote of Credit 1815, £6,000,000, 55 Geo. 3. cap. 196; Supply 1816, £11,000,000, 56 Geo. 3. cap. 4.

THE Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury having given directions for paying off the principal of the above-mentioned Exchequer Bills, with the interest due thereon, at the Exchequer Bill Office in the Receipt of Exchequer, New Palace-Yard, Westminster, on Tuesday the 18th day of March next, attendance will be given daily (Sundays and holidays excepted) until, and including, Wednesday the 12th March, from ten o'clock in the morning till one in the afternoon, for the purpose of receiving the same. And, for the greater dispatch, the bearers of the said bills are desired to place each description of bills in separate lists (which are to be obtained at this Office), classing them in the order of their respective dates, such as are for the same amount being numerically arranged, and specifying the principal sums and interest due thereon, computed from, but excluding the days on which they are respectively dated, to the said 18th of March inclusive, when the interest will cease; and the said bearers, should they be acting as the agents of holders whose names are inserted in the bills, are previously to procure the endorsements of such holders; and the bearers are also indispensably required to indorse each bill with their usual signatures, and to write their names and residence at the bottom of each separate list; and they are moreover required to attend the Exchequer Bill Office for payment, and to receive the new bills, and give the receipts for the same.

If any of the holders of the aforesaid bills should be desirous of receiving payment of the principal and interest, previous to the said 18th day of March, they may be accommodated on computing the interest to the day on which they wish to be paid, and leaving the said bills for examination one day prior thereto.

Such persons as may be desirous of having new Exchequer Bills in whole or in part of payment of principal, upon marking new bills, and mentioning the amount at the bottom of their lists, delivered on or before Wednesday the 12th March, may be accommodated with new bills, payable to or order, carrying an interest of two pence halfpenny by the day, on every one hundred pounds, which said new bills will bear date the said 18th day of March, and will be delivered, together with the interest due in respect of the bills so desired to be exchanged, on Wednesday the 19th day of March and the following days.

The Exchequer Bills to be issued in exchange and made payable to or order, as abovementioned, may be either transferred by endorsement, or will be paid to the bearer if the blank shall not be filled up.

N.B. All Exchequer Bills dated prior to February 1816, have been advertised to be paid off, and the interest thereon has ceased.
