

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1817.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The humble and unanimous Address of the Citizens of the County of the City of Waterford, assembled at their Town Hall, by public notice from the Mayor, pursuant to a requisition for that purpose.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Citizens of Waterford, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our most sincere congratulations on the failure of that outrageous and atrocious attempt which so lately endangered the sacred Person of your Royal Highness while returning from the important discharge of your Royal Highness's functions in the Imperial Parliament.

Impelled at once both by duty and inclination, permit us to tender the unfeigned assurance of our zeal and affection for your Royal Highness's Person and Government, and at the same time to express, in the most unqualified manner, our marked abhorrence of those dangerous and delusive doctrines, which, artfully propagated by designing agitators, would ultimately tend, if not promptly and vigorously resisted, to shake to its foundation the venerable fabric of our unrivalled and glorious Constitution.

Deeply sensible of the value and importance of that Constitution, and of the blessings of Divine Providence, in preserving the life of a Prince who has uniformly persevered in promoting the best interests of this great empire, and in whose Councils have been planned all those glorious achievements by which the Tyrant of the world has been humbled, we beg leave to convey to your Royal Highness our firm and unalterable determination to rally round the Throne, and uphold, with our lives and properties, the Government and Constitution, in defiance of foreign enemies and domestic traitors.

Corn. Bolton, Mayor, Chairman.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the undersigned Clergymen, Merchants, Bankers, and other Inhabitants of the City of Cork, and its Vicinity, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the late flagitious outrage meditated against your Royal Highness's sacred Person, when returning from opening the present Session of Parliament.

We lament to think that any man is to be found in the community so daring, or so deluded, as either of his own bad spirit, or as the instrument of disaffection, to attempt so treasonable and so atrocious an act; and we cannot but view it as resulting from that excitement of popular feeling which evil-minded persons have of late so laboured to produce, arousing in the lower orders a spirit of sedition and violence, by taking advantage of the distresses of the country.

Duly appreciating the many blessings which the people of this empire have enjoyed under the mild and beneficent sway of the illustrious House of Brunswick, we are convinced the great body of His Majesty's subjects are actuated by an unshaken devotion to your Royal Highness's Person and Family, and that there exists among them sufficient good sense as well as loyalty, successfully to resist the arts that are used to seduce them.

Impressed with these sentiments, we beg to be permitted to express a confident hope that your Royal Highness will omit no precaution for preserving the public peace, and that the measures of your Royal Highness's Government being founded on sound and wise principles, will aid the strong disposition of the people of this united empire to