SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1817.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Town Collector and his Assistants, the twelve Capital Burgesses and Commonalty, the Warden, Searchers, Assistants and Company of Cutlers, and the undersigned Gentry, Clergy, Merchants, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Sheffield, in the County of York.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Town Collector and his Assistants, the twelve Capital Burgesses and Commonalty, the Warden, Searchers, Assistants and Company of Cutlers, and the undersigned Gentry, Clergy, Merchants, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Sheffield, in the County of York, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our abhorrence and indignation at the daring outrage which has been offered to your Royal Highness on your return from opening the Session of Parliament.

Whilst we lament that any one should have been capable of so flagitious an act, deeply affecting the personal safety of your Royal Highness, and the honour and dignity of Parliament and of the whole British Nation, we most heartily congratulate your Royal Highness on the failure of so wicked an attempt, and are convinced that this gross violation of the laws will unite all His Majesty's faithful subjects in opposing the spirit of discontent and disaffection, fomented by ill-judging men, who, not estimating the great blessings of our enviable Constitution, endanger its very existence by wild theories and visionary schemes of reform.

Whilst we sympathise in the general distress which at present unhappily prevails, we feel deeply impressed with gratitude for the very honourable sacrifice which your Royal Highness has made from your Personal Income to its alleviation. This glorious example, so laudably followed by some of His Majesty's official servants, cannot but be highly gratifying to the nation at large: and we confidently rely on the wisdom of Parliament for the adoption of such measures as are best calculated to promote the permanent interests of the country, to preserve inviolate the public credit, and to maintain that high rank amongst the nations of Europe, to which, by the vigour and perseverance of your Royal Highness's Counsels, aided by the skill and valour of His Majesty's fleets and armies, the British Empire has been elevated.

With these sentiments we humbly beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that collectively and individually, we are resolved to stand forward in support and defence of the Throne and Constitution, and to maintain the respect due to the laws, and to your Royal Highness's Person and authority.

[Transmitted by J. Wheat, Esq. Town Clerk, delivered by Mr. Knowles, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dunfermline, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of the warmest attachment to your Person and Government.

It was with the deepest indignation and horror that we heard of the late atrocious attack upon your Royal Person, on your return from the exercise of the highest function of Government.

While we adore that gracious Providence which has protected your Royal Highness in the hour of danger, and offer our heartfelt congratulations on your escape from the late treasonable attempt of misguided and desperate men, we earnestly pray that your Royal Highness's life may long be preserved as a blessing to the British Empire.

As subjects of His Majesty's Government, and members of the established Church of Scotland, we pledge ourselves to use our utmost endeavours to impress upon the people under our charge, those feelings of attachment and veneration to your Royal Highness's family, and to that excellent Constitution under which we have enjoyed so many blessings civil and religious.

Under these impressions we trust that the authors and abettors of the late traitorous outrage shall be brought to deserved punishment, and that all who aim at the subversion of our admirable Constitution, shall have their counsels turned into foolishness.

That the God and Father of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, may bestow upon your Royal Highness every temporal and spiritual blessing; and that at last, through the merits and mediation of our Redeemer, you may receive a crown of glory which fadeth not away, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, your Royal Highness's, most devoted, and faithful servants and subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dunfermline

Signed in name, in presence and by appointment of the Presbytery of Dunfermline.

Alexander Thomson, Moderator.

Dunfermline, 26th February 1817.

[Transmitted by the Rev. Alex. Thomson, Moderator, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Inhabitants of the Borough of Totnes, beg leave to offer our warm congratulations to your Royal Highness on your happy escape from the late atrocious attack on your Royal Highness's Person. Attached to the principles of our invaluable Constitution, we cannot but view with just indignation such flagrant breaches of the public peace in an attack upon the Representative of our beloved Sovereign. This feeling of reprehension is one in which we are assured all classes of His Majesty's subjects must cordially participate. We regret that the state of the public mind is such, that we cannot permit this opportunity to elapse without mingling with our congratulations on your Royal Highness's personal safety, our earnest entreaties that your Royal Highness will be pleased to institute an immediate enquiry into the state of the nation—to reduce our enormous military establishments—to abolish all unnecessary places and sinecures—to enforce through every department of your Royal Highness's Government the most rigid economy in the application and expenditure of the public money—and, lastly, to recommend to your Royal Highness's Ministers their acquiescence in a constitutional reform in the representation of the people, thus allaying the irritation of the public mind, giving joy to all the really loyal friends of the Constitution, and securing your Royal Highness from a recurrence of the outrages we condemn.

[Transmitted by Lord Ebrington, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Comonalty of the City of Durham, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness the expression of our detestation of the daring and disgraceful outrage committed against your Royal Person, upon your return from exercising one of the most important functions of the Executive Government of this country, and the expression of our abhorrence of this gross violation of the law, by whomsoever perpetrated.

And, on this occasion, we humbly trust your Royal Highness will permit us to declare our firm declaration to support the Constitution and offended laws of this realm.

Given under our common seal, the 10th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1817.

Thos. Austin, Mayor.

[Presented by Mr. Allan.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Corporation, and other Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Great Torrington, in the County of Devon, and the Neighbourhood, most humbly approach your Royal Highness with feelings of the deepest indignation and abhorrence at the outrageous and treasonable assault made upon your Royal Highness in your return from the exercise of that Imperial office, most important to the welfare of the State, and to every class of His Majesty's subjects.

While we offer our hearty and sincere congratulations on your providential escape from this most daring and flagitious attempt, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our duty and loyalty to the King, and our zealous attachment to our happy Constitution, which we are determined, by every means in our power, to preserve pure and inviolate against all the attempts and encroachments of the designing and disaffected.

Guildhall, Great Torrington, 10th February 1817.

[Presented by Lord Rolle, the Recorder.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor and Inhabitants of the City of Exeter.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Inhabitants of the City of Exeter, in Guildhall assembled, most humbly approach your Royal Highness, with feelings of the deepest concern and indignation, at the desperate and treasonable attack which the atrocious fury of a lawless populace has dared to commit on the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, while returning from the exercise of that part of the Imperial functions, most important to the welfare of every class of His Majesty's people.

Your Royal Highness will deign to accept our sincerest congratulations at your providential escape from this flagitious attempt. We ardently assure your Royal Highness of our cordial attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, and of our fixed determination to maintain the established Constitution of this United Empire, against every encroachment of the designing and of the disaffected.

On the preservation and support of the Throne, its dignity and prerogatives, the security of our happy Constitution mainly depends; when that Throne is insulted by outrage, or endangered by anarchy, we feel it an indispensable duty eagerly to avow our decided resolution to repress, by every effort, disgraceful excesses, tending only to increase the pressure of a transitory distress, which we rely on the wisdom of Parliament to alleviate.

At the request, and on behalf of the assembled Inhabitants, Samuel White, Mayor.

[Presented by Mr. Courteney, accompanied by Lord Rolle, Mr. Newman, and Mr. T. Courteney.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Marlborough, humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our abhorrence at the most daring and atrocious outrage which has lately been committed against your Royal Person, on your Royal Highness's return from opening the Parliament; to offer our humble congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the dangers with which your Royal Highness was threatened, and to declare our loyalty and attachment to your Royal House and Person, and our determination to support, as far as in us lies, the Crown and dignity of these realms, and the glorious Constitution of the country, as by law established.

Nicholas Washbourn, Mayor.

[Presented by the Earl of Ailesbury.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom.

The humble address of the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Southmolton, in the County of Devon.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough and Parish of Southmolton, respectfully approach your Royal Highness, with our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Royal Highness's escape from the daring and flagitious attack of a lawless and tumultuous mob, committed on the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the discharge of that part of the imperial duty, which is of the first and greatest importance to the welfare of the State.

And whilst we pray that your Royal Highness would deign to accept these our congratulations, permit us also to express our deepest concern and indignation at this most atrocious attempt, and to assure your Royal Highness of our firm and sincere attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Family, declaring it to be our decided resolution, by our influence to inforce, and by our examples to promote a due obedience to the laws, anxious to maintain the principles of our glorious Constitution, by carefully guarding it against the encroachments of the designing, and by diligently suppressing the violence of the disaffected, fully convinced that the happiness of the people depends upon the stability of the Throne.

W. M. Stawell, Mayor.

[Presented by Earl Fortescue.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses and Inhabitants of Southampton and its neighbourhood, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, humbly to express our indignation and abhorrence at the late most atrocious and treasonable outrage offered to your Royal Person.

We cannot reflect without the utmost concern, that a crime so flagitious in the attempt and so dreadful, but for the protecting hand of Providence, in its consequences, should have originated in the evil dispositions of those who, for the furtherance of their own designs, have in a moment of temporary distress craftily misled the steps of the unwary, and studiously excited the passions of the wicked.

Deeply sensible of the dangers they threaten from the ruin they have shewn themselves prepared to work, and fully aware of their intentions, from what they have by their actions made known, we pray to God to turn their hearts, and most fervently hope that your Royal Highness will be long preserved to guard and protect His Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects.

C. A. Shirley, Mayor.

[Presented by the Right Honourable G. Rose and Arthur Atherley, Esq.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Gloucester, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with unaltered attachment and fidelity to our beloved Sovereign. We are anxious to express, with feelings of the deepest concern, our abhorrence of the late treasonable and daring attack, made by a deluded and infuriate populace, on the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the exercise in Parliament, of one of the most important of the Royal functions. We rejoice to offer our sincere congratulations on your providential escape from this outrage, equally disgraceful as atrocious, and to assure your Royal Highness of our fixed and unshaken attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government.

While we offer to the Throne of Heaven our daily supplications for the protection of your Royal Person, against the missive weapon of the multitude directed by day, or the clandestine treason that walketh in darkness, we beg to express our determination, in common with all the true lovers of our country, to maintain the honour of His Majesty's Crown, the tranquillity of the State, and the privileges of our invaluable Constitution, against every encroachment aimed against them by secret and designing conspiracy, or by open and violent rebellion.

[Presented by the Lord Chancellor.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty of the City of Coventry.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty of the City of Coventry, in Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our abhorrence and indignation at the late most flagitious attack made on your Royal Person, on your Royal Highness's return from Parliament.

We deeply lament that characters capable of so daring an act, should exist in a country which can boast of the mildest form of Government, and laws the admiration of the world—yielding protection to the poor equally with the rich—and under which the utmost liberty is enjoyed.

We humbly hope and trust that your Royal Highness will be graciously pleased to direct that measures the most energetic and effectual be adopted to discover and bring to justice the authors, aiders, and abettors of this most criminal outrage.

We humbly beg leave to avail ourselves of the present opportunity to renew our assurances to your Royal Highness of our devout attachment to our beloved Sovereign, your Royal Highness, and your august House, and to express to your Royal Highness our reverence for the admirable Constitution of our country, and our determination to do all in our power to support and preserve it entire.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto affixed our common seal this 7th day of February 1817.

S. Bew, Mayor,

[Presented by Mr. P. Moore, and Mr. J. Butterworth, Members for the City.]

To His Royal Highness George, Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry, Merchants, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Liverpool, whose names are hereunto subscribed, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with renewed assurances of our unfeigned attachment and respect.

We have contemplated with feelings of the utmost detestation and abhorrence the daring and traitorous attack made upon your Royal Highness's Person, on your return from the House of Peers in the exercise of, one of the highest prerogatives of the Crown, and we deem it the bounden duty of all those who are the friends of social order, and who venerate the establishments of their country, to carry to the foot of the Throne their firm determination to rally round it; and to use every exertion in its support.

We feel too forcibly the value of the many blessings which we have enjoyed under the paternal sway of the House of Brunswick, not to resist to the uttermost those wild and fanciful theories, which in another country, within the experience of our own times, raised upon the ruins of the Throne the dominion of terror, and which, if permitted to gain ground here, may lead to the most fatal and alarming consequences, may deluge England with the blood of her Citizens, and lay her hard-earned glories in the dust.

True to the principles of our admirable Constitution, it shall be our chief and earnest care to maintain its purity, to protect your Royal Highness's Person, and to uphold His Majesty's Government. And we humbly hope that the same Divine Providence which has hitherto preserved your Royal Highness, will vouchsafe for years yet to come, the continuance of a life so essential to the best interests of our country.

[Presented by the Rt. Hon. George Canning, and Lieutenant General Gascoyne.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Reading, in the County of Berks, in Common Hall, assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Reading, beg leave to approach the Throne, and to present our most fervent and heartfelt congratulations on the happy escape of your Royal Highness from the late malignant and traitorous attack on your Person. While we deeply lament that the present very heavy, though we trust temporary distresses of the country, have afforded a pretext for evil disposed persons to excite a spirit of disaffection and disorder in some of the lower orders of the community, we feel confident that the native good sense, and tried loyalty of the nation at large, will rally round your august Person and Government, in support of that glorious Constitution, which is at once the envy of all other nations, and the pride and boast of our own; and we pledge ourselves to exert our utmost endeavours for the attainment of this desirable purpose, by exhibiting in our own conduct, and encouraging in others, a due spirit of loyalty to the Throne, attachment to your Royal Person, and zeal for the prosperity of our Country.

Done under our common seal, the 10th Day of February 1817, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

W. B. Simonds, Mayor.

[Presented by Viscount Sidmouth, High Steward of Reading, accompanied by Sir John Simeon, Bart. one of the Representatives in Parliament for that Borough.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Bailiff, Aldermen and Common Council, with the Clergy, Gentry, Manufacturers, Traders, and other Inhabitants of this ancient and loyal Borough, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of unfeigned regard for your Royal Person, and of dutiful attachment to your illustrious Family.

Viewing as we do with the deepest horror, the atrocious, daring, and treasonable insults offered to your Royal Highness on a recent occasion, we seize with eagerness the earliest opportunity of expressing the strong regret we entertain, that persons should be found in this Isle of Freedom capable of so vile, disloyal, and traitorous an outrage.

And while we congratulate your Royal Highness upon the providential escape of your Royal Highness from so daring an attack, we feel called upon to pledge ourselves to support your Royal Highness in the just exercise of the supreme authority, and to repress every attempt, either of craft or of violence, to subvert that Constitution which has been the glory of Britain and the admiration of the world.

Signed on behalf the meeting,

John Roberts, High Bailiff.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address, of the undersigned Liverymen of the City of London.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Liverymen of the City of London, humbly approach your Royal Highness at this important crisis, to renew our assurance of attachment to His Majesty, and his illustrious House, and to testify our horror and utter detestation of the villainous and execrable attempt upon the life of your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the Session of the Imperial Parliament.

While in common with our fellow subjects, we feel in the most sensible manner the distresses which afflict the country, (but which, we trust, will be only of a temporary nature), we are convinced many of them result from the dispensations of Providence, whilst others may be justly attributed to the return of the nation, after a long season of warfare, to the desired state of peace.

We cannot, however, but recollect, that the late unusually protracted and expensive war, was an arduous struggle for national independence, preserved, through the blessing of Almighty God, on the exertions of His Majesty's Arms, by victories which achieved the freedom of the world, and raised the united kingdom beyond its former elevation in the scale of nations.

The page of history impresses on our minds, an indelible conviction of the pre-eminent excellence of the British Constitution, the best inheritance of Englishmen, the guardian of their rights and the security of their freedom. Our regard for this venerable fabric, makes us view with strong suspicion the crude projects of rash innovators, who, under the specious pretence of meliorating, would risk the safety of that well tried system of legislation, which for upwards of a century under the illustrious House of Brunswick, has been productive of more happiness and security to us, than were ever enjoyed by any nation in the annals of mankind: and we regard with apprehension and abhorrence attempts to mislead and corrupt the judgment of our fellow subjects, tending to outrage and tumult, by exciting sentiments of malignant hostility against the constituted authorities—menacing the destruction of all social order, and pregnant with consequences of the most alarming character.

We contemplate with admiration the manly fortitude of our ancestors, who, unawed by power, and unmoved by the clamours of faction, pursued in Parliament a steady course of wise deliberation and energetic action. We have equal reliance on the talent and virtue of their successors; and we refer now, with the fullest confidence, the state of our national representation to the knowledge and experience of the Legislature, assured that in its wisdom, it will adopt such measures as will conduce to the happiness and welfare of the nation.

Desirous of that tranquillity to which His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects are entitled under a Constitution so justly their boast, and anxious to strengthen the legal sources of protection by every means consistent with its principles, we again assure your Royal Highness of our veneration for that Constitution, our affectionate regard to the Person of your Royal Highness, our confidence in your Administration, and of our reliance on the patriotism and wisdom of the Imperial Parliament; assured that the present burthens of the people will be taken into the most serious consideration, and that every retrenchment of expenditure, which can be made for their alleviation, consistent with the safety of the State, and with the entire preservation of national faith, will be carried into effect.

To His Royal Highness George Augustus Frederick
Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

AT a time when nearly the whole mass of the people are anxiously pressing forward to offer the assurances of attachment and devotion to your Royal Highness, We, His Majesty's ever loyal and dutiful subjects, the United Society of Antient, Free and Accepted Masons of England, in Especial Grand Lodge assembled, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with our warmest and heartfelt congratulations on the very providential escape of your Royal Highness from the atrocious and wicked attack made against your sacred person, on returning from opening the present Session of Parliament.

Your Royal Highness, the Illustrious Grand Patron of our Order, to whom we are linked by an indissoluble chain of dutiful attachment, can duly appreciate the cordial and affectionate sentiments of Masons, when pouring forth the feelings of their hearts, on an attempt so wicked in itself, and so disgraceful to the name and character of Britons.

May the grand Architect of the Universe protect your Royal Highness's sacred Person with his all-powerful arm, and continue to preserve you to the anxious wishes of His Majesty's people.

Given in Grand Lodge, under the seal of Masonry, this 19th day of February 1817.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Essex; beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our concern and indignation at the daring outrages committed against your Royal Highness's Person, in your passage from Parliament, at the opening of the present Session, and to offer our humble congratulations on your Royal Highness's escape.

We have been taught by the laws and Constitution of our country to reverence the Throne, and to respect the person of our Sovereign, and of his immediate Representative, and we know how great is the importance of these principles to the welfare of every part of the community; we feel ourselves therefore to be injured, and our own interests, security, and happiness endangered by these lawless insults offered to your Royal Highness, and we should ill appreciate the value of a free and Parliamentary Government, (such as we have enjoyed under the auspices of your Royal House,) if we did not consider the occasion selected for this purpose as a high aggravation of its guilt.

To the principles of that Constitution, and to the Person, Family, and Government of our gracious and beloved Sovereign, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that we are firmly and steadily attached, and that it shall be our constant study to maintain inviolate, and to deliver down to our posterity those advantages, which, under that Constitution, have given to the British people its envied pre-eminence among all other nations.

By order, and on behalf of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Essex.

John Hall, High Sheriff.

Chelmsford, 24th February 1817.

compañied by the Right Hon. Lord Braybrooke, Lord Lieutenant, J. A. Houblon, Esq. Member for the County, Rev. A. Hatt, Chaplain, Lord Verulam, Vasey Sterry, Under Sheriff, T. B. Batard, Esq. Jonathan I. C. W. Bullock, I. R. Brassey, Nicolas Pearse.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Suffolk, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the most affectionate sentiments of veneration and respect, and to offer our sincere congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the traitorous attack made upon your highly valuable life; on your return from opening the present Session of Parliament. We are unable in adequate terms to express our horror and indignation at so daring and flagitious an outrage, committed at the moment of your Royal Highness's exercising the sacred duties of the Crown, and fulfilling your part of our most excellent Constitution. We entreat permission to assure your Royal Highness of our firm attachment to our venerable and gracious Sovereign, and to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, and that we will in our respective stations continue to exert ourselves in the suppression of all tumultuous and seditious proceedings, and in the maintenance of the public peace and tranquillity.

Signed at the request, and on behalf of the County.
Charles Blois, Sheriff of the County of Suffolk.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Masters, and Counsellors, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Totnes, in the County of Devon.

HUMBLY approach your Royal Highness to express the great horror and indignation with which we are impressed, by the outrage offered to your Royal Highness's sacred Person, on your Royal Highness's return from opening the Parliament.

We beg leave humbly to assure your Royal Highness of the heartfelt satisfaction which we, in common with all His Majesty's loyal subjects, feel, on your Royal Highness's most providential escape from so daring an assault, and to declare our inviolable attachment to our glorious Constitution, and that we are ready to the utmost of our power to defend it, and every branch of His Majesty's illustrious Family, against every attack either from foreign or domestic enemies.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the United Company of Merchants of England, trading to the East Indies, in General Court assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with expressions of our abhorrence of the late atrocious attempt on the Person of your Royal Highness, while discharging one of the most solemn functions of your High Office, as Regent of the Empire.

SIR,

We beg permission to assure your Royal Highness, of our unshaken loyalty and attachment, and that we shall ever regard violence or insult offered to your sacred Person, as aimed at the Constitution, the laws, and the best feelings of the country.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen, of the Corporation of Huntingdon, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to express our abhorrence and detestation of the daring and outrageous attack, which was directed against the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, on your return from Parliament, in the exercise of the functions of our revered Monarch.

Deeply sensible of the many inestimable blessings which we enjoy, we cannot but feel the greatest surprise and indignation, that there should have been found a single individual in His Majesty's Dominions lost to all sense of duty and allegiance to his Prince, and capable of violence so atrocious and so disgraceful to human nature.

We beg leave to congratulate your Royal Highness on your providential escape from the imminent danger to which you were exposed, and beg at the same time to offer our assurance of unalterable attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Family, and our firm determination to support by every means in our power your Royal Highness's Government, in the defence of our invaluable Constitution.

Given under the common seal of this Corporation, the 14th day of February 1817.

The humble address of the Minister, Churchwarden and select Vestrymen of the Parish of Saint Marylebone, in the County of Middlesex.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Minister, Churchwarden and select Vestrymen of the Parish of Saint Marylebone, (one of the most populous in His Majesty's dominions, containing upwards of seventy-five thousand inhabitants), beg leave with the most profound sentiments of dutiful respect to approach your Royal Highness, to express our detestation and abhorrence of the desperate and atrocious outrage committed against your Royal Person, on your return from the exercise of the functions of our revered Monarch, in opening the present session of Parliament.

We most humbly assure your Royal Highness of our devoted attachment to your Royal Person, and declare, that to the utmost of our power, we will promote obedience to the laws and allegiance to the Sovereign.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Brecon, in a County Meeting assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Brecon, humbly approach your Royal Highness, to express our detestation of the atrocious outrage offered to your Royal Highness, on your return from exercising one of the most important functions of your high office, as Regent of the United Kingdom, the opening of the session of Parliament.

We beg your Royal Highness, the representative of our venerable and most beloved Sovereign, to accept our assurances of loyalty, duty and attachment, and it shall, at all times, be our most anxious endeavour to preserve inviolate the laws and Constitution of the country, and to uphold and defend them against all attacks, to the utmost of our power and ability.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of Norwich.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of Norwich, in Common Council assembled, are anxious to renew to your Royal Highness, the most faithful assurance of our loyalty and affection, and to offer our fervent thanksgiving for your Royal Highness's providential deliverance from the atrocious and traitorous outrage on your Person, in the supreme exercise of the royal functions.

We cannot but attribute this scandalous dereliction of allegiance, this degrading alienation of British character, to the inflammatory declamations of the insidious agitators of annual Parliaments and universal suffrage; a wild and visionary theory, incompatible with the existence of our national welfare, and the preservation of our invaluable Constitution, but which might stimulate a desperate cabal to enthral Parliament, usurp the Government, and misrule the country.

We love and honour our Sovereign, and consider the constitutional prerogative of the Crown and the rights of the people to be inseparable, and these principles we will, to the utmost of our power, maintain, relying on the wisdom of Parliament and the energy of the Magistracy, to protect your Royal Highness from open and secret enemies.

We most devoutly pray, that your Royal Highness may long combine the enjoyment of private happiness with Sovereign dignity, and live in the hearts of a free, loyal and united people.

Unto His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, beg leave to express to your Royal Highness the indignation and abhorrence with which we have witnessed the late most wicked and atrocious attack that has been made upon the Person of your Royal Highness.

While we are impressed with sentiments of the deepest gratitude to Almighty God, whose ever-watchful Providence has interposed for the protection of your Royal Highness, we earnestly hope, that such measures will be adopted as may effectually guard against the repetition of an attempt so flagitious in its nature, and so disgraceful to our age and country.

We beg to assure your Royal Highness, that, at this awful crisis, when artful and designing men have endeavoured to aggravate the general distress, by the dissemination of doctrines of the most inflammatory and pernicious tendency, no exertions shall be wanting on our part, in the discharge of our respective functions, to inculcate such principles of loyalty to our Sovereign, attachment to your Royal Person, and obedience to the laws, as may best tend to promote the public tranquillity, and to secure to ourselves and our posterity, the uninterrupted possession of the blessings we enjoy under our admirable Constitution, both ecclesiastical and civil.

[Presented by the Bishop of Ely.]

TO His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop, Dean, Chancellor, Archdeacon, Prebendaries, and Clergy of the Diocese of Peterborough, most humbly approach your Royal Highness with expressions of grief and indignation, at the atrocious outrage recently committed against your sacred Person, whilst exercising the highest functions of Sovereign authority.

We abhor that wickedness, which, from the inevitable distresses of the times, seeks occasion to excite discontent and disaffection. We deplore that infatuation which, scorning the lessons of experience, still cherishes principles subversive at once of all true liberty, and of whatever else is dear in our venerable Constitution.

And while we inculcate on the minds of those committed to our charge a dutiful attachment to the Throne, a conscientious obedience to the laws, and an affectionate reverence for our ancient institutions, whether religious or civil, we shall never cease to pray, that, under the Divine Blessing, your Royal Highness may long be preserved to rule prosperously over a free, loyal, and united people.

The humble and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and principal or capital Burgesses of the ancient Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, and principal or capital Burgesses of the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, impressed with horror and indignation at the infamous and treasonable attack upon the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, which must fill the breasts of all good subjects with the utmost abhorrence and detestation, beg permission to approach your Royal Highness with the warmest congratulations that the mind can conceive or the heart feel, on the late miraculous escape of your Royal Highness from the attempts of wicked and designing men, who wish to endanger our glorious Constitution, by fruitless and transitory ideas of reform.

Hoping that the sacred Person of your Royal Highness may always be shielded by the Omnipotent Arm of an All-Ruling Providence, we trust the shafts of the wicked will ever fall harmless at your Royal Highness's feet; yet, as the continuance of life to the best of Princes is a blessing that every Englishman must pray for as a blessing to himself, we feel any attempt on the Person of such a Prince, as a poisoned arrow levelled at our own breasts: Therefore, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that we would at all times most cheerfully risk our lives in rallying round the Throne to secure that of your Royal Highness, and in defending the happy and glorious Constitution we now enjoy, whether from the secret attacks of a dark assassin, or that of a public and implacable foe.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT,

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Surrey, beg leave to approach the Throne with expressions of our constant and unalterable attachment to the persons of His Majesty and your Royal Highness, your Family and Government.

Impressed with a grateful sense of the manifold blessings, we in common with our fellow subjects of the United Empire, enjoy under the mild and paternal Government of your Royal Highness, acting for and on behalf of His Majesty, we are unable to express in adequate terms the horror and indignation we feel at the daring and traitorous outrage with which it has been attempted to assail the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, on your return from the Lords House of Parliament, from the exercise of the most solemn and important function, which by the law and Constitution of this Country, is placed in the hands of the Sovereign, as head of the Legislature of these realms.

Most deeply we deplore the spirit of discontent, with which it has been in the power of wicked and designing men to infect the minds of any portion of the lower orders of the people—a spirit to which we the more readily attribute the ferocious attempt upon the Person of your Royal Highness, from our persuasion, that while it professes the specious and delusive pretext of reform, it aims at the destruction of our laws, and the subversion of our civil and religious institutions; while with profound sentiments of gratitude to the Almighty, we approach your Royal Highness with our congratulations that he has vouchsafed your providential escape from the traitorous designs with which you have been encompassed.

We beg to renew the assurances of our attachment to your Royal Highness and to the Constitution as by law established, and of our determination to uphold your Royal Highness in the exercise of the high authorities with which you are invested: and we pray, that your Royal Highness's invaluable life may long be spared for the happiness of His Majesty's subjects, and the tranquillity and prosperity of these kingdoms.

Signed at the request, and on behalf of the County of Surrey, at a public meeting held at Epsom, the 14th day of February 1817.

with every feeling of respect towards your Royal Highness and your illustrious Family, and with the sincerest attachment to the Constitution of the United Kingdom over which you preside.

We deeply lament that a daring and atrocious outrage has been committed against the Person of your Royal Highness, whilst in the discharge of one of the most important and interesting functions annexed to the high office of Chief Magistrate of these realms.

With these sentiments we most respectfully repeat the assurance of our loyalty, attachment, and support.

The humble Address of the Aldermen, Bailiffs, Capital Burgesses, Burgesses and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Denbigh.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Aldermen, Bailiffs, Capital Burgesses, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Denbigh, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the most unfeigned assurances of our loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness's Person, and our respect and regard for the constituted authorities of the realm.

We have heard with indignation and regret of the outrageous attack which has lately been made upon your Royal Highness's Person, in returning from the exercise of the high functions entrusted to you as the Representative of your august and revered Father, and we sincerely hope, that the perpetrators of this atrocious and daring assault, may speedily receive the punishment due to so heinous a transgression of the laws.

At the same time permit us to assure your Royal Highness, that although the lower classes of the people in this district of the principality are labouring under distress in consequence of a late and defective harvest, and the great difficulty of procuring employment by the unexampled depreciation in the price of all kinds of farming stock, and the total stagnation in the sale of all kinds of Agricultural produce, yet they are universally loyal and steady in their allegiance to their Sovereign, and patiently awaiting an amelioration of their situation, through the merciful dispensations of Providence, as well as through the united wisdom of the legislature. We beg of your Royal Highness to accept our best wishes for an uninterrupted enjoyment of your health, and may your Royal Highness very long live in the affections and regard of a generous and loyal people.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen and Citizens of the ancient and loyal City of Worcester, in Common Hall assembled.

Who beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with feelings of deep concern at the late atrocious proceedings of wicked and evil minded people, who dared in violation of every principle worthy of or dear to a British heart, brutally to assault your Royal Highness, while in the exercise of the Sovereign duty in Parliament, and we beg leave respectfully to intreat your Royal Highness to believe that the impressions made upon our minds by such atrocious conduct, give place only to heartfelt gratitude to that merciful Providence by which the life of your Royal Highness was preserved, and a great and fearful calamity averted from the country; and we earnestly pray that your Royal Highness may long continue to reign in the hearts of a dutiful and loyal people, and fully to enjoy the happiness which must arise in the minds of a generous and noble Prince, from a sense of being enabled to preserve the prosperity and participate in the glory of a great and envied nation.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of the ancient and loyal City of Worcester, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Citizens of the City of Worcester, in Common Council assembled, humbly take leave to congratulate your Royal Highness on your late providential escape from a wicked and impious attempt upon the life of your Royal Highness, to express our utter detestation and abhorrence of an act so atrocious, and to testify our attachment to His Majesty and his illustrious family.

We feel in common with our fellow subjects the distresses which afflict our country; many are to be attributed to the sudden return of Peace, and many (for wise purposes to us unknown) to the dispensations of Providence.

We rely with the utmost confidence upon the wisdom of Parliament, that such measures will be adopted as shall tend to the improvement of our Trade and Manufactures, and to the lessening of the burthens of the people, by proper retrenchment in the expenditure of the public revenue.

We profess our firm attachment to the British Constitution, and though, like all other human institutions, it may have its defects, we view with alarm and suspicion the attempts of those who, under pretence of improving it would endanger the property and the happiness of His Majesty's subjects, and cause the destruction of a venerable fa-brick reared by the wisdom of ages, and which is the envy and admiration of surrounding nations.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City of Bristol, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our abhorrence and indignation at the daring outrages which were so audaciously offered to the Person of your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the present Session of Parliament, and to offer our most sincere and dutiful congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from this base and flagitious attack.

We lament, with the deepest concern, the depravity and wickedness of the instigators and promoters of these measures, as well as the folly and ignorance of those misguided persons who are so far deluded as to undervalue the privileges they enjoy under your Royal Highness's mild and paternal administration of His Majesty's Government.

We sincerely hope, that the authors and abettors of crimes so atrocious, will be speedily discovered and brought to condign punishment, and that others may be thereby deterred from all similar attempts.

That your Royal Highness may long, very long, continue in the enjoyment of health, peace and happiness, is the sincere wish and prayer of the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of this ancient and loyal city.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Comonalty of Merchant-Venturers of the City of Bristol, beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our warmest congratulations on your late providential escape from the atrocious and desperate attack made upon your Royal Highness's Person, on your return from opening the present Session of Parliament.

At a crisis when attempts are so daringly and industriously making, to corrupt the minds of the lower orders of the community, and to convert the present distresses of the country into an incitement to acts of open violence and rebellion, it becomes the duty of the loyal and well-disposed in every rank and station, to come forwards with a firm declaration of their principles, to express their abhorrence of such seditious and treasonable proceedings, and to pledge themselves to unite and rally round the throne, in defence of the laws, and for the preservation of the peace of the country.

Impressed with these opinions, and animated with sentiments of the most zealous attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, we hasten to assure your Royal Highness, that we shall devote our utmost vigilance and attention to detect, and, as far as in our power lies, to defeat the machinations of those factious and frantic demagogues who, by the aid of a deluded populace, and under the specious cry of reform, are endeavouring to foment a civil war, with a view to the destruction of the Constitution.

We are not insensible of the many difficulties and distresses under which the nation, in consequence of its great exertions during a war of unprecedented magnitude and duration, is at present labouring; but relying on the fortitude and energies of our fellow-countrymen, on the wisdom of your Royal Highness's Councils, and on the extensive resources of the empire, we trust they will not be of long duration; and we repose with confidence in the superintending care of Parliament, for the adoption of such measures as may be best calculated to relieve the pressure of the public embarrassments, by the restoration of new life and vigour to the agricultural and commercial interests of the country.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland,

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Wigan, anxious to testify our firm and unalterable attachment to our venerable Sovereign and his Illustrious House, beg leave most respectfully to approach your Royal Highness, with our most cordial congratulations on your providential escape from the imminent dangers, which recently threatened your Royal Person, whilst exercising one of the most important functions of the regal authority; and also to express our utmost detestation and abhorrence of so wicked and audacious an assault.

Fully sensible that the prosperity and happiness of this kingdom, must depend on the preservation of the much envied and glorious Constitution, which we have inherited from our forefathers, and under which we have enjoyed, and do still continue to enjoy so many blessings; we do hereby pledge ourselves, individually and collectively, to support the just authority of Government, and to resist every attempt which may be made by those designing and evil-minded men, whose artful and inflammatory speeches and writings are calculated to excite the worst passions of the people, and have caused insubordination and tumults in the Metropolis and in various parts of the kingdom, and by carefully preserving the wise institutions of our ancestors, to transmit them unimpaired and unsullied to posterity.

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, and Freeholders of the County of Devon, at a County Meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the offer of our sincere congratulations on your late escape, from the daring and traitorous attack made on your Royal Highness's sacred Person, on returning from the exercise of one of the most solemn and important functions of the British Constitution.

With sentiments of the deepest horror and indignation do we view this flagitious attempt, and with hearts full of gratitude to the Almighty do we acknowledge its providential failure.

Impressed with a due sense of the many privileges and advantages we enjoy under our happy Constitution, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness of our firm attachment to our venerable and gracious Sovereign, and to your Royal Highness, and that we will, in our respective stations, use our utmost exertions to support the laws, and preserve the tranquility of our country.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Ancient Incorporation of Maltmen, of Leith.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Master, Assistants, and Members of the Incorporation of Maltmen, of Leith, feel ourselves called upon at this crisis, to testify our strong attachment to His Majesty and his illustrious House, and to express our indignation and abhorrence of the late atrocious outrage offered to the Person of your Royal Highness, when in the exercise of the most important function of Royalty.

While we thus express our unshaken attachment to the Person of your Royal Highness, we deprecate all attempts of factious and turbulent men, to mislead the people by plans of reform, extravagant in themselves, and subversive of our glorious Constitution in Church and State.

In these sentiments we are the more confirmed, by the bright example lately exhibited by your Royal Highness, of your care over your people, and your desire to alleviate their unavoidable distresses, an example which must endear you to every subject of the Realm, and gives the assurance that every measure will be adopted by your Royal Highness and your Ministers, which can promote the real and permanent happiness of the people, and the stability and glory of the Empire.

The humble and loyal Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the County of Nairn, assembled in a special General Meeting at Nairn, on Tuesday the 18th day of February 1817.

May it please your Royal Highness,

IN approaching your Royal Highness, We, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the County of Nairn, beg to express our indignation, in common with every good and loyal subject, at the late flagrant and outrageous attack upon your Royal Highness's sacred person. We beg to offer our sincere congratulations on your Royal Highness's escape from the imminent peril to which your Royal Highness was then exposed; and trust that the measures adopted may vindicate the insulted majesty of the throne, and repress a spirit of daring disloyalty, so offensive to the Sovereign and dangerous to the State.

We beg to reiterate the expression of our devoted attachment to the House of Brunswick, and to those principles which placed that illustrious family on the throne of these realms; and to assure your Royal Highness, that in their maintenance, according to the glorious British Constitution, and in the preservation of public tranquillity and social order, your Royal Highness may ever rely on our steady support, and unalterable fidelity.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Inverness.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, your Royal Highness's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of your ancient Burgh of Inverness, humbly beg leave to approach your throne with hearts full of gratitude to Almighty God for His mercy to these realms, in shielding your Royal Highness from the base attack made on your sacred person the 28th ultimo, when exercising one of the highest functions of royalty, and for thus preserving a life so important to the maintenance of the British Constitution.

Impressed with feelings of sincere attachment to your Royal Highness, we avail ourselves of this opportunity of expressing our confidence, that the firmness of your Government, and the wisdom of Parliament will effectually overcome the difficulties with which the nation has to combat after so protracted a war, and appease the discontent which an unproductive harvest generally excites.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The loyal Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heretors, and Justices of Peace of the County of Inverness, in a general meeting assembled at Inverness, the 18th day of February 1817.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholds, Commissioners of Supply, other Heretors, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Inverness, humbly approach your Royal Highness, with the expression of our most sincere and heartfelt congratulations, on the preservation of your Royal Person, and sacred life, from a foul and unnatural treason.

We have seen with the deepest indignation those tumults which have so recently disgraced the capital, as too probably connected with the nefarious design against the person of your Royal Highness: we would in charity hope that men professing very different views are incapable of participation in guilt of so atrocious a nature, but we cannot acquit them of the folly and deep indiscretion of resorting, for such purposes as they avow, to an engine of so dangerous and intractable a nature, as an assembly of the lowest and most ignorant of the people,—an engine, which it is easy for them to set in motion, but which all past and present experience might teach them, they can neither direct in its course nor limit in its operation.

We feel, in common with all his Majesty's subjects, and in common with the people of other nations, that severe revulsion, which has attended the transition from twenty-five years of universal war, to profound and general peace, but we are disposed to view our present difficulties, not as the result of improvident and misapplied exertions, in a struggle, so often deprecated as unavailing, but, as a part of the price which we have paid for our own deliverance, from the dread of a foreign yoke, and for the general emancipation of Europe, from the most degrading despotism that ever oppressed mankind.

Impressed with these views, we feel assured, that no measures will be omitted on the part of the Ministers of your Royal Highness, which can tend to mitigate the general distress, and we entertain a well grounded confidence, that the same counsels, which have borne us in safety through the storm of war, will avert all dangers from the calm of peace.

Signed in name, and by appointment of the meeting, by Wm. Fraser Tytler, Preses.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom.

The humble Address of the Minister and Parishioners of Kenwyn and Kea.

At the moment when a prevailing indifference to rank or station, was noticed as a strong symptom of disloyalty; when Jacobinism was again at work; when multitudes were seduced by specious theories and schemes of reformation, and not only extravagant and pernicious doctrines had been widely disseminated, but (remote as we were from scenes of riot and confusion,) the murmurs of disaffection had reached our doors; we could not, with all the consciousness of fidelity, suppress our feelings of disgust and indignation, and on every occasion, we have been prompt to exert ourselves individually, with the view of discountenancing and repelling a spirit of insubordination and of faction, so disgraceful to the character and the fame of our country.

With such sentiments, it was impossible to resist the impulse that hath brought us together thus collectively, to address your Royal Highness on the late daring attack on your sacred person. It is true, we were disposed to suspend our address, awaiting the sanction of other parochial meetings; but disappointed in this expectation, we step forward, in the confidence, that the profession of loyalty can do no discredit to any community.

Whilst therefore, we deeply regret the circumstance, that any one should exist in these dominions capable of so atrocious an act, we are sure your Royal Highness will graciously accept our congratulations on your providential escape from an assassin and a traitor, if not from a treasonable conspiracy. The affectation of political knowledge is so much the passion of the day, and even those in the humbler walks of life are so forward in obtruding their politicks on the public, that it were inexcusable in these extensive parishes, the population of which amounts to more than eight thousand persons, to repose in silent acquiescence.

It is under this impression, that we presume so approach your Royal Highness, not to deprecate evils which the prudence of man were insufficient to avert; not to censure Government as the source of troubles and embarrassments, which Government has been solicitous to alleviate or remove; but to express our aversion in general, to systems of innovation and meetings unauthorised by the laws, and our abhorrence in particular, of an outrage which threatened the subversion of all social order; not that we affect to dismiss the subjects of dissatisfaction or complaint as chimeras existing only in the imaginations of the factious or seditious; there are indeed privations which, in common with others we feel; there are indeed burdens, to the pressure of which we are not insensible; but we have learnt to suffer hardships and to encounter difficulties, of which no human foresight could perceive the termination: whilst we have been so instructed, a generation has well nigh passed away: we have gone through a long and arduous war, with patience and perseverance, and we witnessed its unexpected conclusion with the triumph of Englishmen.

After the experience of so many years of gloom and uncertainty, it were unmanly now to give way to despondence, because we cannot at once devise a remedy for what, we are convinced, is but a temporary evil.

Penetrating then as we do, (without assuming to ourselves the credit of sagacity,) the secret views of those, who for the circulation of their revolutionary projects, have seized a period of national distress and alarm, as the crisis of popular imbecillity; we trust, we possess patriotism enough to withdraw our attention for awhile from selfish wants, combined with fancied grievances, to the actual perils of the State: we trust, that we shall never in the evil or the prosperous hour, so far undervalue the blessings of a political Constitution the most perfect in the world, as to hazard its existence, in the vain effort to correct its faults; and we trust that we shall cherish, undiminished by time or circumstances, our attachment to your Royal House, to our revered Sovereign, through whose length of days, paternal affection for his subjects, (more interesting from his exemplary piety,) was never seen to languish, and could have closed only with the extinction of memory, and to your Royal Highness, whose discretion in the choice of your Ministers, (paramount to all private considerations,) and whose benevolence, so often displayed in acts the most munificent, and now liberal beyond all former example, as it relinquishes habitual luxuries, and claims the gratitude of numerous families in its daily distributions, must exalt you in every reflecting mind, and endear you to every feeling heart; it is our peculiar pride indeed, that addressing you, with those of other counties, as the Regent Prince, we have a still nearer access to your Royal Highness, as the Duke of Cornwall, and we cannot with so animating a sense of the connexion between the faithful Cornish and their Dukes, but more earnestly and anxiously look to the results of those vigorous and decisive measures which we hope will expose to public shame, the perpetrators and abettors of the assault committed on your Royal Person, disperse all tumultuous assemblies, and annihilate every combination of unprincipled men, whose end and aim, (whatever their pretence may be,) is no other than the destruction of all that is good and great and venerable amongst us; that the Almighty will preserve you and every member of your Royal House, from secret conspiracies and from open violence, is the prayer of His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects.

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS George William Earl of Rothes was duly elected and returned to be one of the sixteen Peers of Scotland, to sit in the House of Peers in the present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and is since deceased; in order to the electing another Peer of Scotland to sit in his room, We do, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, issue forth this Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood-House, in Edinburgh, on Thursday the seventeenth day of April next, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose another Peer of Scotland, to sit and vote in the House of Peers of this present Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the room of the said George William Earl of Rothes, deceased, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall then be present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing, duly signed before witnesses, and both constituent and proxy being qualified according to law), and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting; and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the name of the Peer so elected, and sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into the High Court of Chancery of Great Britain. And We strictly charge and command that this Proclamation be duly published at the Market-Cross at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns in Scotland, twenty-five days, at least, before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed on such election.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to provide for a new silver coinage, and to regulate the currency of the gold and silver coin of this realm," the Master and Worker of His Majesty's Mint, in London, was authorised and empowered to coin, or cause to be coined, silver bullion into silver coins, consisting of crowns, half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, of the standard of eleven ounces and two penny weights of fine silver, and eighteen penny weights alloy to the pound troy, and in weight after the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy:

And whereas, in virtue of the powers so given, a coinage of half-crowns, shillings, and sixpences, at the rate of sixty-six shillings to the pound troy, and of the standard of fineness above-mentioned; every such half-crown piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Georgius III. Dei Gratia," and the date of the year; and for the reverse, the ensigns armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense," and the collar of the Garter, with the inscription "Britanniarum Rex Fid: Def:" with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece; every such shilling and six penny piece having for the obverse impression the head of His Majesty, with the inscription "Geor. III. D. G. Britt. Rex, F. D." and the date of the year, and for the reverse, the en-signs armorial of the United Kingdom, contained in a shield surrounded by the Garter, bearing the motto "Honi soit q mal y pense," with a newly invented graining on the edge of the piece, has been completed, part of which has been delivered for the use of His Majesty's subjects, and the remainder thereof is now ready to be delivered for the use of his Majesty's subjects; We have therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, thought fit to issue this Proclamation; and We do hereby ordain, declare, and command, that the said pieces of silver money shall, from and after the day of the date of this Our Proclamation, be current and lawful money of the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and shall pass and be received as current and lawful money of the said kingdom; that is to say, such half-crown pieces as of the value of two shillings and six pence; such shilling pieces as of the value of one shilling; and such six penny pieces as of the value of six pence, in all payments and transactions of money.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the first day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS an Act was passed in the fifty-sixth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to provide for a new silver coinage, and to regulate the currency of the gold and silver coin of this realm;" and whereas in pursuance of the said Act, great quantities of new silver coin have been delivered in exchange for old silver coin, current before the passing of the said Act, and further quantities are now ready to be delivered for the use of His Majesty's subjects, and it has been represented to us that some old silver coin may still remain in circulation, and we have thought it expedient that no such old silver coin of this realm should continue to be current in payment at any time after the date of this Proclamation; We have therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, thought fit to issue this Proclamation: and we do hereby ordain, declare, and command, that no piece or pieces of old silver coin of this realm, current at any time before the passing of the said Act, shall pass or be current in any payment whatsoever, within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, at any time after the date of this Proclamation: and We do hereby strictly prohibit and forbid all and every person or persons whomsoever, from and after the date of this Proclamation, to receive or utter in payment any piece or pieces of the said old silver coin: and We do hereby strictly require and command all His Majesty's loving subjects strictly to conform to the orders hereby given, and to the directions and regulations enacted and required by the said Act of Parliament with respect to the cutting, breaking, or defacing of all such pieces of the said old silver coin as shall be of less value than the denominations thereof shall respectively import: and We being desirous as much as in Us lies to give ease to His Majesty's subjects, and to prevent their sustaining any loss or inconvenience on account of the currency of old silver coin being prohibited as aforesaid, do hereby, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, authorise, command, and require the officers of His Majesty's Mint, for the space of three calendar months after the date of this Proclamation, to receive by tale only all such old silver coin of the realm, current at any time before the passing of the said Act, which shall be brought by any person or persons whomsoever into His Majesty's Mint, or to any place to be appointed for that purpose by the Master and Worker of His Majesty's Mint, and which shall be of or above the several weights following, that is to say, all crown pieces which shall be of or above the weight of eighteen pennyweights, four grains, troy; all half-crown pieces which shall be of or above the weight of nine penny weights, two grains, troy; all shillings which shall be of or above the weight of three pennyweights, fifteen grains, troy; and all sixpenny pieces which shall be of or above the weight of one pennyweight, nineteen grains, troy; and to deliver out of the said Mint to every person bringing in and delivering such old silver coins, a sum in new silver coins equal to the amount of the silver coins so brought by any such person or persons as aforesaid, according to the respective denominations of such silver coins.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the first day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the
Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the twenty-eighth day of this instant month of January divers persons, riotously assembled and stationed in different places in the City of Westminster, proceeded to commit certain daring and highly criminal outrages, in gross violation of the public peace, to the actual danger of Our Royal Person, and to the interruption of Our passage to and from the Parliament; we therefore, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, in pursuance of an address from the two Houses of Parliament, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates, and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the authors, actors, and abettors concerned in such outrages, in order that they may be dealt with according to law; And We do hereby promise, that any person or persons, other than those actually concerned in doing any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of the authors, actors, or abettors concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, may be apprehended and brought to justice, shall receive a reward of

to be paid on conviction of every such offender; which said sum of one thousand pounds the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly: And We do further promise, that any person or persons concerned in such outrages as aforesaid, other than such as were actually concerned in any act by which Our Royal Person was immediately endangered, who shall give information, so as that any of such authors, actors, or abettors as aforesaid, shall be apprehended and brought to justice, shall, upon conviction of such offender or offenders, receive His Majesty's most gracious pardon.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the twentieth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great

Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the
Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE, P. R.

WHEREAS on the sixth day of December last, a reward of five hundred pounds was, by and under our authority, offered for the apprehension of James Watson the younger, late of Hyde-street, Bloomsbury, surgeon, who then stood charged upon oath, on a violent suspicion of having wilfully and feloniously attempted to kill and murder Richard Platt, on Monday the second day of December last, by firing a loaded pistol at and desperately wounding the said Richard Platt: And whereas a bill of indictment has since been preferred and found by the Grand Jury of the City of London, against the said James Watson the younger, for the said offence: and whereas the promise of the said reward of five hundred pounds for the apprehension of the said James Watson the younger, was, by and under Our authority renewed on the twenty-second day of January last; but the said James Watson has not yet been apprehended: And whereas the said James Watson the younger and Arthur Thistlewood, late of No. , Southampton-Buildings, Chancery-Lane, stand charged upon oath with high treason committed by them and sundry other persons, now in custody in the Tower of London; We, therefore in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, do hereby enjoin all Magistrates and all other His Majesty's loving subjects, to use their utmost endeavours to discover and cause to be apprehended the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, in order that they may be dealt with according to law: And We are hereby pleased to renew the said promise of a reward of

so made on the said sixth day of December, and renewed on the said 22d day of January last, to be paid upon the said James Watson the younger being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby promise, to any person or persons who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, the said Arthur Thistlewood, the like sum of

FIVE HUNDRED POUNDS,

to be paid in like manner, upon the said Arthur Thistlewood being apprehended and lodged in any one of His Majesty's gaols: And We do hereby strictly charge and command all persons upon their allegiance, not to receive or harbour the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them: All persons offending herein will be thereby guilty of high treason: And We do hereby promise a like reward of

to any person who shall discover and apprehend, or cause to be discovered and apprehended, any person so receiving or harbouring the said James Watson and Arthur Thistlewood, or either of them; to be paid upon the conviction of the person or persons so receiving or harbouring as aforesaid, which said several sums of five hundred pounds the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury are hereby required and directed to pay accordingly.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

The above-named James Watson is a Surgeon by profession, and has been employed in that capacity on board a Greenland ship: He is a young man, apparently about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, but is only twenty, dark hair, rather pale complexion, five feet five inches high, has a mark or mole with a few hairs on it, on his left cheek bone near the eye, the left eyelid rather dropping over the eye, very faint remains of small pox in his face, has rather a wide mouth, and shews his teeth, (which are very black) when he laughs; he sometimes wore a brown great coat, black under coat, black waistcoat, drab breeches and long gaiters, and at other times he wore a black coat and waistcoat, blue pantaloons, and Hessian boots; his appearance shabby genteel: he formerly lodged in Hyde-Street, Bloomsbury.

Arthur Thistlewood is about forty-five years of age, five feet eleven inches high, has a sallow complexion, long visage, dark hair (a little grey), small whiskers, dark hazel eyes, and arched eyebrows, a wide mouth, and a good set of teeth, has a scar under his right jaw, is slender made, walks very upright, and has much the appearance of a military man; was born in Lincolnshire, and apprenticed to an apothecary at Newark, and has been a lieutenant in the army; he usually wore a French grey coloured coat, buff waistcoat, grey coloured Wellington pantaloons, with Hessian boots under them, and at times a dark brown great coat.

At the Court at Carlton-House, the 1st of March, 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the present session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to continue and extend the provisions of an Act, of the forty-ninth year of His present Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the Island of Mauritius;" His Majesty is authorised, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to give such directions, and make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from all islands, colonies, or places, and the territories and dependencies thereof, to His Majesty belonging or in His possession, in Africa, or Asia to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope (excepting only the possessions of the East India Company), as to His Majesty, in Council, shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing contained in an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of His Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled "An Act for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation," or in an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for preventing frauds, and regulating abuses in the plantation trade," or any other Act or Acts of Parliament now in force, relating to His Majesty's colonies and plantations, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, law, usage or custom to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding; and whereas on the night of the twenty-fifth of September last, a dreadful fire broke out in the town of Port Lewis, in the Island of Mauritius, which totally destroyed the chief part of that town, together with a great mass of provisions and merchandise intended for the consumption and trade of its inhabitants, whereby a great number of families were reduced to extreme indigence, and left without a home; in consequence of which dreadful calamity the Governor of the said Island found himself compelled to open the ports of the Island to foreign vessels, in order to afford the speediest relief of which the case would admit, and thereby to save His Majesty's subjects residing in that colony from the greatest extremity of distress; and whereas it is expedient that facilities should in consequence be granted to the trade of the Island of Mauritius, for a limited time, with the view of giving still further relief to its suffering inhabitants; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that all vessels, whether British or foreign vessels belonging to countries in amity with His Majesty, arriving at any port of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, within twelve months from the date of this present Order, from any country in amity with His Majesty, laden with any articles the growth, production, or manufacture of any such country, excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture, shall be permitted to enter and land their cargoes, and dispose of the same, in the said ports; provided always, that such articles, when imported in a foreign ship, shall pay a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above what may be payable upon similar goods when imported in a British ship.

And it is further ordered, that every such vessel, arriving as aforesaid, shall be permitted to export a cargo, consisting of any articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there; and that all such articles so exported in foreign vessels, shall in like manner be subject to a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above the duties (if any) which shall be payable on similar articles when exported from the Mauritius, or its dependencies, in British vessels.

It is, however, hereby further ordered and declared, that no foreign vessel, allowed by the terms of this Order to export a cargo from the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, shall be permitted to export such cargo to any of His Majesty's possessions. But that every British vessel which shall during the continuance of this present Order, have imported a cargo into any port of the said Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, either from the United Kingdom, or from any other place, shall be permitted to carry back a return cargo, consisting of the articles aforesaid, to any place whatever, either belonging to His Majesty, or to any state in amity with His Majesty. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Chetwynd.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

This day His Highness Prince Esterhazy, Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary from His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, had an audience of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, to deliver a letter from His Sovereign, offering His Imperial Majesty's sincere congratulations upon His Royal Highness's late escape from a most nefarious attack upon the person of His Royal Highness, and assuring him of the interest which His Imperial Majesty ever feels in the happiness and welfare of His Royal Highness; his Highness was introduced to the audience by Lord Viscount Castlereagh, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and conducted by Robert Chester, Esq. Assistant Master of the Ceremonies.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

This day His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to invest Lieutenant-General Sir Richard Jones, of the East India Company's service, with the ensigns of a Knight Commander of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath.

By command of the Prince Regent, Sir Richard Jones was conducted, with the usual reverences, to His Royal Highness, preceded by Sir George Nayler (the Officer of Arms attendant upon the Knights Commanders), bearing, upon a crimson velvet cushion, the star, ribband, and badge of the second class of the Order.

The sword of state was thereupon delivered to the Prince Regent, and Sir Richard Jones, kneeling, was knighted therewith, after which he had the honour to kiss His Royal Highness's hand.

Then His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence, Knight Grand Cross of the Order, having received from the Officer of Arms the ribband and badge of a Knight Commander, presented them to the Prince Regent, who was pleased to invest Sir Richard Jones with the same.

The Lieutenant-General, having again had the honour to kiss the Prince Regent's hand, and having received from His Royal Highness the star of a Knight Commander, retired.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was this day pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to confer the honour of Knighthood on Charles Phillips, Esq. Major-General of His Majesty's Forces.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was this day pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to confer the honour of Knighthood on Peter de Havilland, Esq. Bailiff of the Island of Guernsey.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was this day pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to confer the honour of Knighthood on Samuel Spicer, Esq. of Portsea.

Whitehall, February 28, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, taking into consideration the eminent services of the Right Honourable Edward Viscount and Baron Exmouth, and Baronet, Admiral of the Blue Squadron of His Majesty's Fleet, and Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath, rendered to His Majesty and the realm upon divers important occasions, during a life constantly and zealously devoted to his country, but, especially, the signal ability, energy, and valour manifested by him in the conduct of the operations of the fleet under his command against the city of Algiers, on the 27th day of August last, which were crowned with the most brilliant success, and of which the unconditional liberation of all Christian captives then within the territory of Algiers, and the renunciation by its Government of the barbarous practice of Christian slavery, were the glorious and happy results, His Royal Highness is desirous, as an additional testimony of the just sense which he entertains of such highly distinguished conduct and merits, that the same should be commemorated by certain honourable armorial augmentations allusive thereto, to be borne by the said Admiral Viscount Exmouth and by his descendants; His Royal Highness, therefore, has been pleased to give and grant His Majesty's royal licence and permission, that the said Admiral Viscount Exmouth and his descendants may bear the armorial distinctions following, that is to say, "Two civic wreaths and a lion passant guardant, and, on a chief, a circular fortified castle with triple battlements, and a ship moored abreast of a line of batteries;" with the motto "ALGIERS"; in allusion to the situation of His Majesty's ship the Queen Charlotte, bearing the flag of the said Admiral, at the moment of the attack upon the said city; and, for supporters, on the dexter side, "A lion guardant navally crowned, his paw resting upon a crescent;" and, on the sinister side, "A figure designed to represent a Christian slave, holding in his right hand a cross,

“ and, in his left, his fetters, broken, in allusion to his recent liberation;” the said supporters to be borne by the said Edward Viscount and Baron Exmouth, and by those to whom the said dignities shall descend in virtue of His Majesty's several letters patent of creation; provided these honourable armorial augmentations be first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, otherwise the said royal licence to be void and of none effect:

And His Royal Highness has further been pleased to order, that this especial mark of the royal favour be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Whitehall, March 7, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to grant unto Sir Charles Phillips, Knight, Major-General of His Majesty's Forces, His Majesty's royal licence and permission that he may accept and wear the Grand Cross of the Royal Sicilian Order of St. Januarius, with which His Majesty the King of the Two Sicilies hath been pleased to honour him, as a testimony of the high sense that Sovereign entertains of the distinguished services rendered by the said Major-General in the defence of Sicily, and in the expedition to the coast of Naples in 1815:

And His Royal Highness hath been further pleased to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Whitehall, February 28, 1817.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that, on the night of Sunday the 16th, or in the morning of Monday the 17th instant, some evil disposed person or persons maliciously set fire to a stack of hay, the property of James and John Forster, Esqrs. standing at Murrell-Hill, near the city of Carlisle, whereby the greater part of the said stock was burned or destroyed.

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said felony, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually set fire to the said stack of hay), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of FIFTY GUINEAS is hereby offered to any person (except as is before excepted), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders, or any of them, to conviction, or cause them, or any of them, so to be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid.

Whitehall, February 28, 1817.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that about eight o'clock in the evening of Thursday the 6th instant. Mr. Pennington, of London, Wine-Merchant, was stopped in his gig between Vauxhall Gardens, in the neighbourhood of Birmingham, and the village of Saltby, near that town, by some persons, by whom he was robbed and inhumanly murdered.

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said atrocious act, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually perpetrated the deed), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY GUINEAS is hereby offered to any person (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof, or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders, or any of them, to conviction, or cause them, or any of them, so to be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid.

Whitehall, February 22, 1817.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, that on Thursday evening the 13th instant, the Rev. Mr. Longuet, on his return on horseback from Pangbourn, in the county of Berks, was barbarously murdered between the hours of eight and nine o'clock, on the Oxford road, about three miles from Reading; that his head was nearly severed from his body; that several dreadful gashes were inflicted on the skull, supposed to have been done with a sword; and that five stabs, apparently made by a bayonet, had penetrated the heart;

His Royal Highness, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the said atrocious murder, is hereby pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to promise His Majesty's most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually committed the same), who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of TWO HUNDRED GUINEAS is hereby offered to any person (except as is before excepted) who shall discover his, her, or their accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof; or to any person or persons who shall apprehend and bring the said offenders, or any of them, to conviction, or cause them or any of them so to be apprehended and convicted as aforesaid: such reward to be paid on application to William Andrews, jun. Esq. Clerk to the Magistrates of the Reading Division.

WOOD, Mayor.

An Especial Court held on Shrove Tuesday, that is to say, the 18th day of February 1817, and in the fifty-seventh year of the reign of George the Third, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, &c.

THIS Court, pursuant to the directions of the Act of Parliament, made and passed the fifty-first year of the reign of His present Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for carrying into execution the several Acts for widening the entrance into the City of London, near Temple-Bar, and for making a more commodious street at Snow-Hill, and for raising money on the credit of the Orphans' Fund for those purposes and for extending the powers of the said Act;" and also of another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the fifty-second year of the reign of His present Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for increasing the fund for watching, lighting, cleansing, watering, and repairing Blackfriars-Bridge," doth order Mr. Chamberlain to pay off and discharge to the several and respective person or persons respectively entitled to receive the same, the principal sums of money, together with all interest due on the 18th day of August now next ensuing, upon the under-mentioned bonds, under the common seal of this City, and made payable to Richard Clark, Esquire, Chamberlain, his executors, administrators, or assigns, by indorsement; and this Court doth further order, that Mr. Chamberlain do also, in pursuance of the said Acts, give six months notice thereof in the London Gazette, and two or more daily papers published in the City of London or Westminster, and from thenceforth the interest or annuity, payable to the person or persons entitled to the same respectively, will cease and determine; and that he do further give notice in such advertisement, to the said person or persons so respectively entitled to the same, that if he, she, or they be minded to have the said principal sum or sums, together with such interest or annuity as shall have respectively become due on the same, paid to him, her, or them on any day before the said 18th day of August next, he, she, or they delivering at the Chamberlain's-Office, Guildhall, between the hours of ten in the morning and two in the afternoon, a declaration of such intention, and the day on which he, she, or they shall desire to receive the same, shall be paid the same respectively at the Chamberlain's-Office, between the hours aforesaid, within ten days after the delivery of such declaration in writing as aforesaid; and that from the day expressed in such declaration, all interest or annuity upon the said respective sums shall cease and determine, viz.

Eighty bonds, for one hundred pounds each, numbered one hundred and fifty-one to two hundred and thirty, both inclusive.

TEMPLE-BAR AND SNOW-HILL BONDS, 1811.

PURSUANT to an order of the Court of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of London, I do hereby give notice, that the principal sums of money, together with all interest due on the 18th of August next ensuing, upon the undermentioned bonds, under the common seal of this City, and made payable to me, my executors, administrators, or assigns (by indorsement), will be then paid off and discharged, at my Office at Guildhall, to the several and respective person or persons respectively entitled to receive the same, and that from thenceforth the interest on the said bonds will cease and determine; and I do hereby further give notice, that all and every person or persons possessed of the said bonds, or any of them, who shall be minded to receive the principal sums due on the same, or any of them, before the said 18th of August may and shall receive the same, together with all interest or proportionate annuity due in respect thereof respectively, on delivering a declaration, in writing, under his, her, or their respective hand or hands, at my said Office, between the hours of ten in the morning and two in the afternoon, expressing the day on which he, she, or they is, or are minded to receive the same, after the expiration of ten days from the delivery of such declaration as aforesaid, and that all interest or proportionate annuity on the said principal sums respectively will cease and determine from the day expressed in the said declaration, viz.

Eighty bonds, of one hundred pounds each, raised in pursuance of the Act of the fifty-first of His present Majesty, chap. 203, Nos. 151 to 230, both inclusive.

Richard Clark, Chamberlain.

Guildhall, March 1, 1817.

TRIGONOMETRICAL SURVEY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

IT having been represented to the Master-General and Principal Officers of His Majesty's Ordnance, that certain mapsellers and others have, through inadvertence or otherwise, copied, reduced, or incorporated into other works and published, parts of the "Trigonometrical Survey of Great Britain," a work executed under the immediate orders of the said Master-General and Board, the said Master-General and Board have thought proper to direct, that public notice be given to all mapsellers and others, cautioning them against copying, reducing, or incorporating into other works and publishing, all or any part of the said "Trigonometrical Survey," or of the Ordnance maps which have been or may be engraven therefrom. "Every offender after this notice given, will be proceeded against according to the provisions of the Act of Parliament made for the protection of property of this kind."

By order of the Board,

R. H. Crew, Secretary.

Office of Ordnance, 24th February 1817.

CONTRACT FOR THE CARRIAGE OF TIMBER.

Navy-Office, February 20, 1817.

THE Principal Officers and Commissioners of His Majesty's Navy do hereby give notice, that on Wednesday the 12th of March next, at one o'clock, they will be ready to treat with such persons as may be willing to contract for Conveying by land and water carriage, about 1177 loads of Oak Timber from Alice Holt Forest, in the county of Hants, to His Majesty's Yard at Deptford.

A form of the tender may be seen at this Office.
