TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1817.

Carlton-House, March 6, 1817.

THIS day the Address of the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Westminster, expressing to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent their perfect attachment to His Royal Person and Government, and their heartfelt gratitude to Providence for the preservation of both from the recent attempts of conspiracy and treason, was presented by the Very Reverend Dr. Ireland, the Dean, attended by the Reverend Dr. Fynes, the Reverend Mr. Causton, the Reverend Mr. Allen, the Reverend Mr. Edwards, and the Reverend Mr. Blomberg, Prebendaries of Westminster.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, beg to approach your Royal Highness with the expression of our perfect attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and our heartfelt gratitude to Providence for the preservation of both, from the recent attempts of conspiracy and treason.

Feeling, as we do, the blessings so abundantly derived to this nation from our happy establishment in Church and State, we cannot sufficiently mark the abhorrence due to the disloyal spirit which has sought its overthrow; a spirit cowardly as it is insulting; prompt to crime, and shrinking only from the punishment of it.

But while we deplore these evils, we gratefully hail the benefit which Providence has produced from them: the momentary madness which sought the destruction of the executive authority in the Person of your Royal Highness, calls forth the more ardent expressions of our loyalty; a fresh impulse is given to our habitual feelings towards the Throne, and the attempts of the base and malignant are already lost in the growing love and fidelity of the nation at large.

Dated in our Chapter-House at Westminster, the 6th day of March, in the year of our Lord 1817.

John Ireland, Dean.

Carlton-House, March 5, 1817.

THIS day the Address of the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the three denominations, residing in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, expressing their abhorrence of the atrocious outrages committed against the sacred person of His Royal Highness, was presented by the following deputation: John Clayton, Ab. Rees, D.D. F. R. S. F. L. S. Soc. Amer. Phil. Soc. Thomas Morgan, John Rippon, D. D. Robt. Winter, D. D. Alex. Waugh, D. D. Thomas Rutledge, D. D. Thomas Belsham, John Pye Smith, D. D. Joseph Hughes, A. M. William Newman, Thomas Thomas, John Coates, George Ford, William Bengo Collyer, D. D. V. P. Phil. Soc. G. Burder, Jos. Barrett, J. Ivimey, and John Lane.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Protestant Dissenting Ministers of the three denominations, residing in and about the Cities of London and Westminster, beg permission to approach your Royal Highness, to express our abhorrence of the atrocious outrages committed against your Royal Highness, when exercising one of the most important functions of your elevated office.

As Ministers of the peaceable and beneficent Religion of our holy Redeemer, we feel ourselves bound publickly to declare our detestation of every act that tends to endanger the tranquillity of our country, the authority of the laws, and the stability of the Constitution: and we are solicitous to express to your Royal Highness our deep conviction, that to promote the knowledge and the sincere practice of that Religion, to the advancement and diffusion of which we have consecrated our lives, will ever be found the most efficacious means of preventing political disorder, and of promoting the peace and happiness of all classes of the Community, from the lowest to the most exalted.

His Majesty's Protestant Dissenting subjects were among the earliest, and have always been among the most faithful adherents to your Royal Highness's illustrious family. We are deeply sensible of the many blessings which our fathers and ourselves have enjoyed under the Princes of the House of Brunswick, and we fervently pray, that the future glories of your Royal Highness's Government, and that of your descendants, may be signalized by the uninterrupted enjoyment of rational liberty, pure religion, and universal happiness.

Signed on behalf of the general body, by the Deputation.

To which Address His Royal Highness was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :

"I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address. The sentiments which you have expressed on the late flagrant violation of the laws are highly satisfactory to me; and I rely with confidence on your earnest solicitude for the maintenance of the public tranquillity, and on your steady attachment to our invaluable Constitution."

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously :

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble, and dutiful Address, of the Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Edinburgh.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, for the County of Edinburgh, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, at this important juncture, and while we offer an assurance of our strong and unshaken attachment to our venerable Monarch, and to his illustrious House, we desire to testify our indignation and abhorrence at the late desperate and atrocious outrage offered to the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the discharge of one of the most important functions of royalty, the opening of the Sessions of the imperial Parliament.

In the criminal excesses which have in this and other instances been of late exhibited, we clearly perceive the effects of recent attempts by wicked and designing men, to mislead and corrupt the minds of the uninformed, and to induce them to seek, in acts of violence, and in wild and visionary measures, calculated for the overthrow of the Constitution, for that relief from present distress, which is alone to be obtained from the hand of time, aided by the wisdom and prudence of the constitutional guardians of the State.

While we view with detestation all such attempts, and pledge ourselves individually and collectively to discourage and repress them, we avail ourselves of this opportunity of testifying to your Royal Highness, our unalterable veneration for the Constitution of these kingdoms,—our dutiful regard for the Person of your Royal Highness, and our full and perfect confidence that in the wisdom and patriotism of the imperial Parliament, every measure may be looked for that can be calculated to promote the happiness and welfare of the nation.

Signed by the Presès of our meeting, in our presence, and by our authority, at Edinburgh, the 12th day of February 1817.

Buccleuch, Preses.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Trades of Leith, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the most affectionate sentiments of veneration and respect, and to offer our sincere congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the traitorous attack made upon your highly valuable life on your return from opening the present Session of Parliament.

We confess we are totally unable to express in adequate terms, the horror and indignation we feel at so daring and flagitious an outrage, committed while fulfilling the duties of the Crown and of our most excellent and admired Constitution.

We deeply lament that men exist inimical to the true interest of their country, and who, from motives best known to themselves, would (at a time the most peculiar and least experienced) by wild notions, attempt to delude the unwary into the snares of sedition and conspiracy, by alienating their affections from their King, Regent and Government.

We humbly entreat that your Royal Highness will be pleased to receive this our determined resolution to support our most gracious and venerable Sovereign, your Royal Highness's Person, Successors and Government, and that we will most strenuously exert ourselves to maintain the public peace of the realm.

Signed, by the unanimous desire of the Conventory of the Trades of Leith, and the seal thereof appended. John Tait, Convener

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the High Steward, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Montgomery, humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness, our utter detestation of the traitorous attack upon the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, during a constitutional solemnity, hailed by all true Britons with exultation and respect.

Indignant as we feel at the insult offered to the people of the united kingdom, in the illustrious representative of our venerable Sovereign, and condemning as we do, the seditious calumniators who prompted the disgraceful deed, we descend not to dwell on the invectives of traitors, but hasten to offer to your Royal Highness, the humble homage of our gratitude for your mild and fraternal sway; and to testify our admiration of the wisdom, the decision and success with which your Royal Highness hath wielded the powers of the empire, and by which you have so gloriously contributed to break the chains of Europe, and deliver her from the oppression and ignominy of the revolutionary yoke.

Attributing our share of that distress which pervades the world to its only adequate cause, the long and sanguinary war, which, originating in popular fanaticism and fomented by seditious arts, hath drained so many nations of their treasure and their blood; we justly and anxiously look up to the legislature for the timely suppression of those daring machinations which openly menace similar horrors to our native land; and then, under Divine Providence, we feel confident, that the wisdom and patriotism of your Royal Highness and both Houses of Parliament, combined with the enterprise, the loyalty and good sense of the great body of our fellow subjects, will speedily revive our national prosperity, restore our social peace and happiness, and render our country the envy, as it hath proved the shield of the civilized world.

Given under our common seal, this 22d day of February, in the 57th year of His Majesty's reign. By order of the Common Hall, Maurice Jones, Recorder.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Perth, in a General Meeting assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Perth, in a General Meeting assembled, beg leave to present to your Royal Highness our sincere and respectful congratulations on your providential escape from the audacious and treasonable outrage offered to the Person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the exercise of one of the most important public functions of your exalted office.

We view with indignation the attempts of the factious to excite and foment a spirit of disaffection and insubordination; by ascribing to blemishes in our Constitution, and errors in our Government, the visitations of Providence, and the inevitable consequences of that arduous, though successful, contest, in which we were engaged, for national independence, and the liberties of Europe.

Although such artful and insidious machinations, aided by the pressure of the times, may have deluded a small number of the ignorant and uneducated, we entertain the most confident belief, that an innumerable majority of all ranks are firmly attached, by loyalty, to their King, and too well appreciate the blessings they enjoy under our unparalleled Constitution, to be seduced by demagogical cal traitors, who, under the mask of reform, contemplate, in truth, the subversion of the State.

It is with peculiar satisfaction that we feel ourselves enabled, respectfully, to state to your Royal Highness, that severely as the stagnation of our commerce, and the pressure on the agricultural interest, have affected the labouring and manufacturing classes in this part of His Majesty's dominions, and much as that distress has been augmented by the high price of food, occasioned by the failure of the late crop, these distresses and privations have been submitted to with exemplary patience and resignation; the attachment to the Government of our country remains unshaken; and the relief afforded by the charitable and benevolent, has been received with becoming gratitude. For ourselves we will not now, by querulous impatience, forfeit the pledge so repeatedly given, that we would cheerfully bear our share of those burdets, which the prolonged, but unavoidable war in which we were engaged, rendered it imperious on the Legislature to impose.

We place the most implicit confidence in the benevolent designs of your Royal Highness, and in the wisdom of Parliament, to alleviate those burdens, as far as is consistent with the security and honour of the British Empire, by adopting a salutary and judicious economy in our public expenditure—and we, in this most public and solemn manner, do declare, that we are prepared to defend the Person and Government of our Sovereign, and your Royal Highness, and to protect the established Constitution of our country, at the peril of our lives and fortunes.

Signed by our Preses, in our name, and by our appointment, at Perth, the 17th day of February 1817. Gray, Preses.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Inhabitants of the Town of Bedford, beg leave to present to your Royal Highness our sincere and hearty congratulations on your providential escape from the late atrocious attack on your sacred Person when returning from the High Court of Parliament, after exercising one of the most august prerogatives of the kingly office, and discharging one of the most important duties of our invaluable Constitution.

We beg leave, on this occasion, to renew the assurances of our firm and devoted attachment to our gracious and venerable Sovereign, and to your Royal Highness's Person and Government; and to reprobate and condemn, in the strongest terms of abhorrence and indignation, this flagitious insult on the royal authority, as well as other disgraceful tumults, and outrageous proceedings, which have lately disturbed the Metropolis of the British empire; and, while we congratulate your Royal Highness on this happy escape from the danger with which you were threatened, we earnestly pray that the protecting hand of Divine Providence may continue to shield your Royal Highness from the secret designs of disaffection, and the open violence of treason or tumult; convinced, as we are, that our national happiness is inseparably connected with the preservation of Monarchy; and that the fabric of our glorious Constitution is endangered, whenever the Person of him who exercises the royal functions is treated with insult or violence.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Montgomery.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Montgomery, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with unfeigned sentiments of abhorrence, at the daring outrage offered to your Royal Highness, on your return from opening the session of Parliament; and, if any thing could add to our concern, it would be, that this atrocious insult should take place when your Royal Highness was in the exercise of so interesting a branch of the Sovereign power.

We beg leave also to repeat, upon this occasion, the veneration we entertain for the Person of His Majesty and His august House, and the warm attachment we feel towards the Constitution of the country, every part of which it is our earnest desire to uphold and defend; we further pray that Divine Providence may continue to preserve your Royal Highness, and that you may long live in the affections of your people.

The most humble and dutiful Address of the Protestant French and Dutch Churches in the City of London, established by King Edward the Sixth.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers, Elders, and Deacons of the Protestant French and Dutch Churches in the City of London, established by King Edward the Sixth, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with our most respectful and sincere congratulations on your Royal Highness's providential deliverance from the daring outrages lately offered to your Royal Person, on your return from the House of Parliament.

We reflect with equal indignation and horror on an attack of such an atrocious nature, and heartily thank God for this additional instance of his paternal care over these kingdoms; and we most earnestly pray that he will be pleased to continue to direct and prosper your Royal Highness's Government, and to protect and bless your Royal Person and Family.

We humbly beg leave to solicit the continuance of your Royal Highness's gracious favour and protection for our Churches, the most ancient foreign Protestant Churches in the United Kingdom.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Corporation, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Plymouth, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with renewed assurances of our unfeigned attachment to your Royal Highness's Person and Family, and to our excellent Constitution, as by law established.

It is with the deepest regret we have learned, that acts of violence and outrage have been committed, by evil-minded persons, in various parts of the kingdom, and especially within the metropolis; and we cannot sufficiently express our abhorrence and indignation at the daring outrage offered to the Person of your Royal Highness, in returning from the House of Parliament, on Tuesday the 28th day of January last, when in the exercise of the highest public duty of the State; but we sincerely trust, that the authors and perpetrators of so atrocious an offence, will be speedily discovered and brought to condign punishment.

Whilst, in common with His Majesty's loyal subjects, we participate in those feelings which must naturally be excited by the various difficulties and distresses under which the nation at large is at present labouring, we yet venture to indulge a hope, that most of these difficulties and distresses will prove of a temporary nature; and we rely with confidence, that the Ministers of your Royal Highness, aided by the wisdom of Parliament, will be enabled to devise such salutary measures as may, under Divine Providence, obtain a speedy return of the blessings and enjoyments attendant on peace, to all ranks and degrees of His Majesty's subjects.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Tregoney.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and principal Inhabitants of the ancient and loyal Borough of Tregoney, in the County of Cornwall, at the Guildhall assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, humbly to express our indignation and abhorrence at the daring outrages offered to your Royal Person on your return from opening the present Session of the Imperial Parliament, after discharging the Regal functions, in the name and on behalf of the venerated Monarch of these United Kingdoms.

We also beg leave to offer our congratulations to your Royal Highness, on your happy and providential escape from the hands of foul and atrocious assassins, and to assure you of our sincere attachment towards your sacred Person and the illustrious Family of our beloved Sovereign, and of our fixed determination, by every means in our power, to uphold the honour of His Majesty's Crown, and to preserve the lives, laws, and liberties of his faithful subjects.

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town-Council of the Royal Burgh of Dysart.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town-Council of the Royal Burgh of Dysart, in Council assembled, humbly approach your Royal Highness with unfeigned assurances of attachment and veneration.

Deeply sensible of the invaluable blessings enjoyed under the British Constitution, and the mild and paternal sway of the House of Brunswick, we view with abhorrence the late atrocious and disgraceful attempt against the august Person of your Royal Highness, when returning from the discharge of one of the most important functions of Royalty as Regent of this Empire; and we hail with peculiar satisfaction the announcement of the magnanimous and generous resolution of your Royal Highness, to sacrifice, at this period of serious embarrassment, so large a portion of your personal income to the exigencies of the State, which we confidently hope will have a most salutary influence.

That Almighty God, by whom Kings reign, may watch over and defend the Person of your Royal Highness, that your Royal Highness may long live in the affections of a virtuous and loyal people, and that the Constitution and laws of these realms may be preserved inviolate, is the earnest prayer of His Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Councilmen of the ancient Borough of Boston, in Common Hall assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and humbly to express our deep concern and indignation at the daring and traitorous attack lately made upon your Royal Person.

We contemplate, with the strongest feelings of abhorrence and alarm, those enormities which, if not repressed, must lead to the subversion of our civil liberty and our social peace. We view with infinite satisfaction the zeal and activity of the Legislature in passing such laws as may tend to secure to us a continuance of the inestimable privileges and blessings enjoyed by all good subjects in this great and free country.

We wish also thus publicly to declare our unshaken attachment to the Person of your Royal Highness, and solemnly pledge ourselves, by every means in our power, to support the just exercise of Government, by enforcing a submission to those laws and a regard for that invaluable Constitution which have so long been the admiration of the world.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the Borough of Lancaster, in Council assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express our indignation at the daring and outrageous attack upon the Person of your Royal Highness.

We deeply regret that wicked and designing men, taking the advantage of the dispensations of Providence, and (as we trust) the temporary distresses of the country, have, by seditious and inflammatory publications and speeches, excited the unthinking and unwary of our fellow subjects to riot and tumult, and whilst we deplore the conduct of these misguided persons, we earnestly entreat your Royal Highness will graciously be pleased to accept the assurance of our firm adherence to the Constitution of these realms, our loyal and dutiful attachment to the sacred Person of His Majesty and of your Royal Highness, and of our determination to support the constituted authorities in the administration of the laws, and to inculcate a spirit of order and subordination in the situation in which we are placed.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield, beg leave to address your Royal Highness, and to express our abhorrence and disgust at the daring and disgraceful outrages which were committed, on your Royal Highness's return from opening the Session of Parliament.

Sensible that the blessings to be derived from our excellent Constitution, can only be obtained by the personal safety of each of the three estates of the realm being held sacred and inviolable, and by their full and free enjoyment of their undoubted rights and privileges; we the more deeply lament that any persons should be found so ignorant, wicked and misguided as to attempt the perpetration of such flagitious acts, whilst your Royal Highness was in the exercise of the Sovereign authority.

We humbly congratulate your Royal Highness, that all attempts to injure the Person or disturb the peace of your Royal Highness and of the country have proved abortive, and are followed, as they ever will be, by the execrations of all His Majesty's loyal subjects.

To His Royal Highness George PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, High Steward, Recorder, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Saint Alban, in the County of Hertford, in Common Hall assembled, approach your Royal Highness with feelings of the deepest indignation and abhorrence at the late daring and traitorous attack upon your sacred Person, on your return from exercising one of the most important functions of the Legislature; and, while we congratulate your Royal Highness on your escape from the hands of exasperated and misguided persons, we bend with the profoundest sentiments of gratitude to the Almighty, that your Royal Highness is preserved to us, still to secure the blessings and protect the privileges of our happy Constitution.

If, in the open and more daring attack upon the Person of your Royal Highness, we discover sure indications of sedition and treason, it is lamentable to reflect, that these indications are not less discoverable in the very scandalous and contemptuous manner in which this outrage has been assiduously represented, both in speeches at public meetings and in public prints.

Leaving it, however, to the wisdom and decision of Parliament, duly to appreciate these atrocities, we confidently trust that such salutary and precautionary measures will be promptly adopted, as may best conduce to the ends of public justice, to the restoration of general tranquillity, and to the prevention of any recurrence of a similar outrage.

With these feelings and sentiments, we further desire to express to your Royal Highness, our firm and unalterable attachment to your Royal House and Person, our veneration for the Constitution under which we have long enjoyed so many blessings, and our determination to maintain the establishment in Church and State, and to support, with the utmost of our exertions, both with our lives and fortunes, the constituted authorities of our country.

[Presented by Mr. Bacon, Mayor.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the City of Lichfield, and of the Close of the Cathedral Church adjoining, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of most respectful attachment, and to express our utter abhorrence of the late atrocious attack upon your Royal Person, and of those nefarious artifices which have been so audaciously employed to subvert the loyalty of the people, and to deprive us of our invaluable Constitution.

With heartfelt admiration and gratitude we hail, at the same time, that generous resolution, by which your Royal Highness has been pleased to consign a great part of your private revenue, to relieve the present burthens of the people; and we confidently trust, that this illustrious example of true patriotism, cheerfully followed where it ought principally to operate, will unite His Majesty's subjects in such sentiments and exertions, as cannot fail, with the Divine blessing, to restore to the nation, already covered with glory under your Royal Highness's Government, its wealth, commerce and prosperity.

The humble Address of the Magistrates, Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Hundred of Blackburn, in the County Palatine of Lancaster.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the warmest expressions of detestation and abhorrence, which have been excited in our breasts by the late outrage committed upon your Royal Person, and of congratulation on your Royal Highness's providential escape from the meditated blow of a foul Assassin.

We behold, Sir, with the deepest regret, the alarming progress which seditious doctrines, and principles subversive of all legitimate Government, are daily making in this extensive and populous district, by the agency, public as well as private, of factious and wicked men; and we presume to express to your Royal Highness, as representing the first branch of the legislature, our firm assurance, that your zealous co-operation with the other high orders, constituting that august body, will not be wanting to the enactment of such laws, as in its wisdom may appear necessary for the coercion of these alarming and increasing evils.

For ourselves, Sir, we not only promise and engage in our different stations and capacities to discountenance and suppress, as far as our influence extends, the growing spirit of disaffection and revolt, but, should it break out (which God forbid) into open acts of treasonable aggression, we solemnly pledge ourselves to devote our lives and fortunes to the support of His Majesty's Government, as administered by your Royal Highness, and to the defence of the existing Constitution of our Country.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Commonalty, and the Inhabitants at large of the Town of Penzance.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Corporation, Aldermen, Commonalty, and Inhabitants of Penzance, beg leave with dutiful respect to express our grief and indignation at the late atrocious attack on your Royal Highness, when returning from the House of Parliament, where, in the name and on the behalf of our most gracious Sovereign, your Royal Highness had recommended in the strongest terms to the Lords and Commons there assembled, a particular attention to the general distress of His Majesty's subjects, occasioned by a protracted war, and an unfavourable harvest, that every possible relief might speedily be afforded them

We beg leave to express our steady loyalty and attachment to your Royal House and Person, our veneration of and respect to that Constitution under which, by the blessing of God, Britons have been permitted to be instrumental in giving peace and tranquillity to the world, and our firm resolution as Magistrates and as men to resist every attempt whether of craft or violence that may be directed against our civil liberty and our social peace.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Chancellor, Magistrates, and Freemen of Prestwick.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Chancellor, Magistrates, and Freemen of Prestwick, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with profound sentiments of duty and respect, to express our horror and indignation at the most daring and flagitious outrage offered to your Royal Person, at the moment of your return from the House of Parliament, personating our justly beloved Sovereign, in the performance of one of the most important functions of the realm.

With the deepest concern we have to deplore that any one should exist, capable of violence so atrocious, so disgraceful to human nature, so foreign to the British character, and we fervently hope, that the loyalty of the subjects of the United Empire, will vigorously manifest itself, to prevent a repetition of an outrage against the sacred Person of your Royal Highness.

We beg also to add, that nothing shall be wanting on our part, both as Magistrates and loyal subjects of Prestwick, to promote on all occasions the general tranquillity, to evince our steady and conscientious attachment to your Royal House and Person, and our determination to support the proper and just dignity of the British crown.

By desire of the meeting.

May it please your Royal Highness,

Prince Regent of these realms, to accept the unfeigned congratulations of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Leicester, convened on the providential escape of your Royal Highness from that most treasonable assault upon your Royal Highness's sacred Person, on returning from opening the Session of Parliament, in the name of our beloved Sovereign.

In addressing your Royal Highness on the late atrocious and traitorous assault, which we contemplate with the deepest abhorrence, we cannot but lament that there still exist active and designing factions, which, availing themselves of the present distressing times, are endeavouring, under the cloak of false patriotism, to undermine and overthrow that happy Constitution, which, by the blessing of Divine Providence, has been handed down to us by our forefathers, and under which, during the reign of the illustrious House of Brunswick, we have enjoyed many blessings, peculiarly our own. But at the same time that we have to lament that any persons should be found insensible to the privileges that we enjoy, it is with much pleasure that we have observed the efficacious and constitutional measures which the Ministers of your Royal Highness have adopted to counteract the designs of these desperate factions; and, by the blessing of the Almighty, we make no doubt but the good sense and spirit of all faithful subjects, now generally excited, will open the eyes of their deluded countrymen, to a full view of the treacherous means by which they have been misled, and recall them to a proper sense of their duty as subjects and citizens.

May it please your Royal Highness to accept this assurance of our readiness to defend the Constitution in all its branches, with our fortunes and with our lives.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble address of the Mayor, and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Liberties of Coleraine, unanimously approved of at a public meeting held at the Town Hall, on Monday the 24th day of February 1817.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Liberties of Coleraine, beg leave most humbly to approach your Royal Highness, to express the horror and indignation which we feel at the atrocious and daring attack made on your Royal Highness's Person when returning from one of the most important functions of the Crown; we at the same time most sincerely congratulate your Royal Highness on your providential escape from the danger to which you were exposed by the disgraceful designs of traitorous and wicked men, who we anxiously hope will meet the punishment they so justly deserve.

Deeply do we lament that desperate and factious men should delude the public mind, by falsely attributing to the corruption and misconduct of His Majesty's Ministers, and the defective state of the representation of the country, the difficulties under which we now labour; these persons endeavour to sow discontent among the labouring classes of the community, by calling meetings and haranguing them on imaginary errors in the Government, to excite hatred and contempt for every legitimate object of respect and veneration, and to propagate opinions tending to the subversion of all Government and the destruction of public credit.

We are fully sensible that this country has enjoyed under the Government of your Royal House the most important national blessings, and we therefore eagerly seize this occasion of assuring your Royal Highness of our firm and unalterable attachment to our Most Gracious and Venerable Sovereign, and to your Royal Highness's Person and Government, and of our determination to uphold to the utmost of our power that inestimable Constitution in Church and State, which has been handed down to us inviolate by our ancestors, and found from long experience to furnish the best means both of public and private happiness.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Magistrates, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Towns of Great and Little Bolton, and their vicinity, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of the most profound respect and dutiful loyalty.

We have been struck with horror at the late wicked and traitorous attempt upon your Royal Highness's life, and while we congratulate your Royal Highness, ourselves and the country, upon your providential escape, we return our most humble thanks to the protecting care of Almighty God, by which you have been preserved from the frantic designs of your enemies, and the enemies of all social order and Government.

We assure your Royal Highness that we utterly detest and abhor the scandalous arts which have been practised to inflame the minds of the lower orders of our fellow subjects, during the present depression of the commerce of this country, and we tender to your Royal Highness our public and solemn declaration, that we will endeavour by every constitutional means in our power to repress the revolutionary and anarchical principles which are now disseminated abroad, and to preserve the peace of the towns and neighbourhood in which we live.

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Parish of Portsea, in the County of Southampton.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Parish of Portsea, humbly beg to approach your Royal Highness, in order to express our indignation at the late disgraceful and traitorous assault on your sacred Person, on the return of your Royal Highness from exercising one of the most important prerogatives attached to your station as Regent of this United Kingdom.

We cannot but be devoutly thankful for the mercy of Divine Providence, that this most flagitious attempt has been defeated, and it is our earnest prayer that the same protecting hand may still shield your Royal Highness from every similar outrage of treason and disaffection.

We are fully sensible of the national blessings enjoyed under your august House, and impressed with the most grateful feelings of the deep interest manifested by your Royal Highness for the present sufferings of your people, and the noble sacrifice you have thence been induced to make, and we rely for the effectual alleviation of their distresses and the preservation of the public order and tranquillity from the traitorous designs of unprincipled men, on the energy of your counsels, and the firmness and wisdom of Parliament.

We eagerly seize the present occasion of renewing our most sincere professions of attachment to your Royal Person, and of expressing our determination to resist to the utmost of our power all attempts to injure or overthrow the beautiful and venerable fabric of the British Constitution.

The Address of the Presbytery of Dunkeld.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dunkeld, specially convened in consequence of recent circumstances, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the warmest feelings of attachment and respect, and to express our abhorrence at the outrageous and wicked assault made upon your Royal Person, at the opening of Parliament.

We sincerely congratulate your Royal Highness upon your providential deliverance from an attack by daring and wicked assassins, rendered if possible more disgraceful in having been made upon your sacred Person while in the discharge of one of the most important duties entrusted to your Royal Highness by the Constitution, acting in name and on behalf of an aged, afflicted, and ever to be revered Sovereign.

Impressed as we are with the strongest sentiments of respect to your Royal Person, and unalterable attachment to His Majesty's Government, we hear with the deepest astonishment and concern that there are some of His Majesty's subjects, (we trust they are very few), who entertain the wicked design of disturbing the peace of the country; and who would, under the specious pretence of reform, overturn the Constitution of Government in Church and State, which is most revered by those who best understand the principles upon which it is founded, and the blessings which under Divine Providence it is calculated to secure.

We are not insensible to the distresses which press with a heavy hand upon all classes of His Majesty's subjects, more especially upon those who depend on their daily labours for their daily bread. If there be some men who, themselves wicked and deluded, would delude the people into a belief that all their evils would be cured by a reform in the Commons House of Parliament, we have reason to think, from our intimate acquaintance with the people, that among us they are very few: and although unaccustomed to meddle with civil politicks, we think it our duty to raise our voice against the delusion. We look to the God of seasons for the return of plenty, and we trust, that when the nations of Europe shall have recovered from the waste and spoliations of war, the healing hand of time will furnish to all classes of His Majesty's subjects the employment and the reward of industry.

That Almighty God, who has heretofore disappointed the designs of the wicked, when aimed at the destruction of our venerable Sovereign, and lately at the Person of your Royal Highness, may continue his providential care over you, and direct all your counsels, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dunkeld.

Michael Stirling, Moderator.

Monseigneur,

LE Pasteur et les Anciens de l'Eglise Suisse, sentent trop les avantages dont eux et leurs Compatriotes jouissent sous le Gouvernement bienfaisant de Votre Altesse Royale, pour n'avoir pas été pénétrés d'horreur à l'ouïe de l'attentat affreux, dont elle a été l'objet dans l'exercice de ses Augustes fonctions.

C'est pour exprimer ces sentimens et pour presenter a Votre Altesse Royale l'hommage de leurs felicitations sur son heureuse delivrance, qu'ils osent approcher d'elle: ils reconnoissent, dans cette occasion, comme dans plusieurs autres la bonté de la Divine Providence dans le soin qu'elle prend de défendre sa Personne Royale contre ses ennemis extérieurs et domestiques; ils ne cesseront d'adresser leurs vœux à l'Être suprême, pour qu'il continue à verser sur elle ses benedictions les plus précieuses. Ils seront toujours prêts à joindre leurs foibles efforts à ceux des habitans de ces Royaumes pour le maintien d'une Constitution, qui doit être également chère à tous ceux qui vivent sous son heureuse influence.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of your ancient City of Lincoln, in Common Council assembled, actuated at all times by the most profound attachment to our venerable and most gracious Sovereign, and to your Royal Highness and your Family, feel it at this alarming crisis, an imperious duty to renew the expressions of those our unalterable sentiments. We have beheld with indignation and abhorrence the atrocious and treasonable attack lately made on the sacred Person of your Royal Highness, and at the very time when your Royal Highness was returning from your Parliament, after the performance of the most important functions of the Crown, and of the most constitutional duties towards the people. We humbly request your Royal Highness to accept our most sincere congratulations on this your most providential escape, and we acknowledge with unfeigned gratitude the goodness of the Almighty for the preservation of a life of such incalculable value to the people committed to your charge; and we cannot contemplate without the greatest horror, the dreadful and calamitous effects which must have fallen upon the kingdom, if this heinous attempt should have succeeded, and whilst we earnestly hope that the wicked authors and abettors of it may be detected, and receive from the outraged laws of the country, the punishment allotted to crimes of this magnitude, we earnestly offer up our prayers that your Royal Highness may ever be shielded by the same protecting Providence, if, to the disgrace of this kingdom, any other set of men can be found capable of so daring an atrocity. We beg to express our detestation of the conduct and principles of those evil-minded persons who have been so active in deluding the people, with specious, impracticable and destructive theories, which have already produced the most alarming excesses, and would, unless promptly and effectually resisted and subdued, lead to universal anarchy and confusion. Under a deep impression of these awful circumstances, we confidently rely on the wisdom and vigour of your Royal Highness's Counsels, and, as far as relates to ourselves, we most solemnly pledge ourselves to your Royal Highness and our country, that we will faithfully exercise every power that is legitimately confided to us, to uphold the legal authorities of the Realm, to preserve our excellent Constitution as by law established, to support the just rights of the Crown, and to evince our inviolable attachment to your Royal Highness's Person, Family, and Government.

The common seal of the Corporation of the City of Lincoln, was hereunto affixed, by an order of Common Council, the 20th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1817.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, Burgesses, and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Monmouth.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Council, Burgesses, and principal Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Monmouth, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and express our deep concern and indignation at the daring and traitorous attack lately made upon your sacred person, whilst in the exercise of the important functions which have devolved upon your Royal Highness, by reason of the lamented indisposition of your venerable and revered Father, our most excellent and beloved Monarch.

Most sincerely do we congratulate your Royal Highness upon your happy escape from the injury intended your Royal Person, and deeply do we lament that desperate and factious men should endeavour to delude the public mind, by falsely attributing to the corruption and misconduct of His Majesty's Ministers, and the defective state of the representation of the country, the difficulties under which we now labour, and to sow discontent amongst the labouring classes of the community, by calling meetings, and haranguing them on imaginary vices in the Government, under the specious pretence of petitioning for a reform in Parliament, and to excite hatred and contempt for every legitimate object of respect and veneration, and propagate opinions tending to the subversion of all Government, and the destruction of the credit, the maintenance and support of which, we consider indispensably necessary to ensure the happiness and well-being of the country. We solemnly declare that to the too successful efforts of such desperate and designing men, we consider that the riots and disturbances which have lately disgraced the metropolis and other parts of the Empire, and more especially that most audacious and treasonable outrage which we now deplore, are to be attributed. And we consider it our bounden duty to express to your Royal Highness our firm and unshaken attachment to our most Gracious King, his Person, and Government, to your Royal Highness, and every other branch of the illustrious House of Brunswick, and our fixed determination individually and collectively to defend, support, and uphold to the utmost of our abilities, the happy and enviable Constitution under which we live and hope to die.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of this United Kingdom.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Gentry, Clergy, Merchants, Manufacturers, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Birmingham, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with renewed sentiments of the most unalterable attachment to your Royal Highness and your illustrious House.

We, in common with the great body of His Majesty's subjects, have heard with the strongest feelings of indignation, of the treasonable outrage committed against your Royal Highness, and of the gross insult offered to the nation at large, by an attack made upon your Royal Highness's Person, whilst in the exercise of one of the most important functions of the Royal authority.

We willingly indulge the hope that this outrage, so repugnant to the nature of Englishmen, cannot be traced to any preconceived plan, but to the impetuous violence only of a deluded populace, whose feelings have been excited, and whose passions (already irritated by distress) have been stimulated to action by the base and insidious arts of a few factious and designing individuals in the metropolis:—and while we join with all His Majesty's loyal subjects in heartfelt expressions of thankfulness to Providence, for the protection afforded to your Royal Highness on this awful occasion, we entreat your Royal Highness to believe, that we shall ever reflect with abhorrence upon an act, which has inflicted so foul a stain upon the national character. And we solemnly declare our determination to support the just authority of your Royal Highness's Government, and to defend the Constitution of this great and free country, as it has been transmitted to us by our ancestors.

John Turner, High Bailiff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Hertford, humbly beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our horror and indignation at the treasonable outrage committed against your Royal Highness's Person, on your return from the exercise of the highest of your Royal Highness's public functions, in opening the Session of Parliament. That such an occasion should be chosen for so violent and outrageous an attack upon the Person of your Royal Highness, is no less the subject of our astonishment, than of our concern.

We feel it our duty to express our unalterable devotion to the Constitution of these Realms, and believing as we do that the Throne is the true and natural guardian of the rights and liberties of the subjects, so we conceive that nothing is more likely to awe the seditious and tumultuary designs of misguided individuals, and to check a lawless spirit of insubordination, than a prompt, united, and firm concurrence of all orders and degrees, in support of the just exercise of your Royal Highness's authoity, and of that Monarchy, which is so dear to us as an integral part of our glorious Constitution.

Deeply impressed with these sentiments, we have come forward to assure your Royal Highness of our fidelity and attachment to the House of Brunswick, and of our readiness when called upon to support our happy Constitution with our personal services, our property, and our lives.

Signed by the desire, and on the behalf the County Meeting, Daniel Giles, High Bailiff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of this United Kingdom.

The dutiful Address of the loyal Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Dudley, unanimously voted at a meeting held in pursuance of public notice.

May it please your Royal Highness,

Animated by faithful attachment to a virtuous, beloved and venerable Monarch, and to all the Royal branches of His Majesty's illustrious House, penetrated also by a deep sense of religious feeling, for one who is invested with the supreme authorities of the realm, we dutifully approach your Royal Highness with most cordial congratulations on happily escaping the recent imminent dangers which threatened your Royal Person, immediately after discharging a very important part of the Sovereign's duty; an event which we cannot contemplate but with mingled emotions of horror and joy, of horror at the daring and sanguinary aims of disaffected individuals, and of joy at the providential frustration of their diabolical designs.

That any other sentiment than that of concern for such atrocious wickedness, should occupy your Royal breast, is impossible, when the worthlessness of their character is considered, who, by inflammatory addresses to the ignorant and deluded, were its instigators and abettors; a worthlessness that has endeavoured to paralyse even the hand of charity, by disparaging the very means so munificently bestowed towards the relief of our suffering fellow creatures, and which had just been so humanely commended by your Royal Highness from the Throne.

Against the avowed objects, moreover, of these restless theorists, we beg leave also decidedly to protest, namely, universal suffrage, annual Parliaments, and, what they term a more equal representation of the people, and, at an alarming crisis, like the present, we feel ourselves imperatively called upon to make this explicit declaration, lest we should be numbered among those dangerous innovators, who, with wild and visionary plans of pretended reform, are disturbing the peace of the land; for, taught by an authority that is conclusive, to join inseparably in our minds, with a pious fear of the Divine Being, the honour that is due to the Sovereign whom He has set over us, we deem it right to stand aloof from these contemners of all laws, both sacred and human, and to rally round the Throne, which has thus, with wicked outrage, been assailed by them.

We therefore most dutifully assure your Royal Highness, that against every rude and rebellious attack in future, to guard the life of our supreme Magistrate, we are ready to risk our own.

Signed in the name and by the desire of the meeting.
Luke Bagker, Chairman.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Magistrates, Clergy and other Inhabitants of the County Palatine of Lancaster, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the expression of our warmest sentiments of indignation at the late atrocious outrage and insults offered to your Royal Person, whilst exercising, on behalf of our beloved Sovereign, one of the highest and most important functions of the royal prerogative.

We wish also to avail ourselves of this opportunity of publicly declaring our steady and unshaken attachment to your Royal House and Person, our utter detestation of all traitorous and seditious plots and conspiracies, and our fixed determination to support the honour and dignity of the Crown, and to defend, against every attack, the dearest interest of our country.

We repose the fullest confidence in the wisdom of your Royal Highness and of Parliament, for securing to us a continuance of the inestimable privileges and blessings enjoyed by all good subjects in this great and free country: on our parts your Royal Highness may rest assured that nothing shall be wanting in our several stations, to maintain the high character of loyalty which our country has hitherto held, and to enforce a dutiful submission to the laws, and a reverential regard for that form and constitution of Government, which have hitherto been the first boast of Britons, and the admiration and envy of the world.

We cannot sufficiently admire and appreciate at this season of general distress, that noble example of personal sacrifice which your Royal Highness has voluntarily made in aid of the exigencies of the State, and we trust that every retrenchment will be introduced into all the departments of Government, that may not be inconsistent with the high rank which our country holds amongst nations, and with the honour, dignity, security, and independence of the Empire.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of his Majesty's loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Householdors of the County of Monmouth.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders and Householdors of Monmouthshire, at a County meeting assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with renewed assurances of attachment to his Majesty's Person, Family and Government, but particularly at this time to express our abhorrence at the desperate assault recently committed on the Person of your Royal Highness, whilst in the exercise of one of the most important functions of royalty.

Whilst we feel the distresses which afflict the country, and look to the legislature for the adoption of such measures of reform as may meet the exigencies of the times and conduce to the happiness and welfare of the nation, we cannot but express our unqualified detestation of those scenes of tumult which have disgraced the metropolis, and our disavowal of every principle that would tend to subvert good order in the State.

To your Royal Highness we look as the guardian of your people's rights, and we pray that your Throne may be long placed on the firm basis of their affections.

Signed by the High Sheriff, on behalf of the meeting.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen and Assistants of the Town of Shrewsbury, in Common Council assembled, and other Inhabitants of the said Town and Neighbourhood, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with expressions of our unabated attachment to our beloved Sovereign, to your Royal Person, to the rest of your illustrious Family, and to our glorious Constitution: of our abhorrence and detestation of the daring wicked and atrocious attack made upon your Royal Highness, on your return from exercising in Parliament, the highest functions incident to your station as Chief Magistrate; and to congratulate your Royal Highness, on your providential escape from the infamous outrage; also to convey to your Royal Highness, the assurance of our determination to contribute our most zealous support, in maintaining the integrity of the British Constitution; being impressed with a thorough conviction, that the continuation of the just and equal balance of power, with which each branch of the legislature is invested, is the only defence of our civil and religious liberty:

The humble and dutiful Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Auchterarder.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers and Elders, of the Presbytery of Auchterarder, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, to express in the strongest terms our deep abhorrence of the atrocious insult, and treasonable attack upon your Royal Highness's Person and life, on your Royal Highness's return from the House of Lords, at the opening of the present Session of Parliament, and at the same time our cordial joy and congratulation for the providential escape of your Royal Highness, from such imminent peril.

While we hold it to be the duty and the wisdom of our station, to abstain from the strife of political opinion and contest, we deem it an imperious duty at the present moment in thus addressing your Royal Highness, to mark our sincere regret, and utter detestation of so dreadful a breach of our inestimable Constitution; and of the principle of the sacredness of the person of Majesty.

We observe with equal concern and indignation, the effects of the intrigues of unprincipled and designing men, who have insidiously seized on the period of unavoidable public distress, to excite the needy and the profligate to acts of sedition, and to propagate with a fatal zeal among the ignorant and unwary, that dangerous delusion of mind on subjects of policy and Government, which has been thus lately illustrated by the most audacious of crimes. We are indeed far from being insensible to the sufferings of the country, but trust their natural removal to the influence, under God, of a general peace, and to the wisdom of your Royal Highness's Counsels.

We beg leave to convey the assurance to your Royal Highness, that we fail not to impress upon our people, together with the other duties of a religious life, a dutiful submission to the laws, a love of public order, and a steady attachment to your Royal House, and that we with our people cease not to offer up prayers for the blessing of the King of Kings, upon our venerable and beloved Sovereign,—upon his Family,—upon his Government, and upon our Country.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, at Fowls Wester, this 13th day of February 1817.

The humble and loyal Address of the Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Glamorgan, in County Meeting assembled.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Glamorgan, beg leave to approach your Royal Person, with every sentiment of affection, respect and attachment, to express our indignation, abhorrence and detestation of the infamous abuse, daring attack and abominable outrage, offered to your sacred Person, and at the instant of your Royal Highness's return from Parliament, attending to the high duties of the Crown, and fulfilling your part of our excellent Constitution, and we are unable in terms sufficiently strong to express our deep concern, that there should be any person so dreadfully abandoned, as to bring into danger by such daring violence the safety of your Royal Person, and thereby the happiness of the whole country.

We beg leave to express the great satisfaction we feel, by the assurances of economy, expressed in your Royal Highness's speech to Parliament, and also our best thanks for the generous example your Royal Highness has set, by relinquishing so large a part of your income, an example worthy of imitation by the Ministers of the Crown, and which they have so early followed, and we trust that at this time of difficulty and distress, economy and retrenchment will be adopted by the higher orders of the community, and that agriculture, manufactures and commerce will again revive and flourish.

Scarcely had we hoped, after the termination of a long and necessary war, to enjoy internal repose, when to our sorrow and disappointment, dangerous and seditious meetings have been raised and daily increased, and we lament that the expences consequent upon the war, and the failure in our harvest should have afforded an opportunity to a designing and wicked faction, to poison the deluded minds of many, till a due sense of the blessings of the Constitution, under which we feel it our happiness to live, have been almost forgotten; but we confidently rely at this crisis on the wisdom of your Royal Highness's Government, and the authority of the Legislature, to apply such salutary measures as may defeat their machinations, insure the safety of your Royal Person and Government, the privileges of both Houses of Parliament, and thereby the welfare of the country.

It is therefore with most lively gratitude to the Almighty disposer of events, that we do with one heart and voice congratulate your Royal Highness, on your happy escape from such a traitorous attack, and we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, of our firm determination to support to the utmost of our power, your sacred Person and Government from all your enemies, and to maintain inviolate our glorious Constitution, as handed down to us by our forefathers, and as by law established.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Northampton, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of deep concern and regret, at the outrage lately offered to your Royal Highness's Person and authority, in your return from opening the Session of Parliament.

We lament that any person should be found, amongst our fellow subjects, capable of an act so atrocious; and we view with indignation the attempts of the disaffected, to take advantage of the distresses and embarrassments of the times for the accomplishment of the worst of purposes.

We feel and lament in common with our fellow subjects the existence of such distresses, but we are firmly convinced that they can only be removed by the gradual course of events, and a wise application of such measures as are within the limits of the Constitution.

Sincerely attached to your Royal Highness's Person and Family, and deeply impressed with the necessity of supporting the Sovereign authority of the realm, we trust that all classes of His Majesty's Subjects will unite in protecting it from outrage and insult, and shew their determination to support every branch of that invaluable Constitution under which we have so long flourished—a Constitution which has enabled us to surmount difficulties unexampled, and which we cannot but consider as affording the fairest prospect of transmitting unimpaired to our posterity, the blessings we have so long and so signally experienced.

We cannot conclude without returning our humble thanks to your Royal Highness, for the gracious communication you have been pleased to make to your Parliament, informing them that your Royal Highness has graciously been pleased to give up a part of your income for the general service of the State, humbly expressing our hopes that this example which has been set in so high a quarter, may be immediately followed by the adoption of measures of the most rigid economy and retrenchment in every department of the State, in conformity with your Royal Highness's gracious assurances, from the Throne.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Town and Borough of Ipswich, in Great Court assembled.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty, of the Town and Borough of Ipswich, impressed no less with sentiments of respect and attachment for your Royal Highness, than of veneration for our excellent Constitution, beg leave to present our sincere and heartfelt congratulations, on your Royal Highness's providential deliverance from the late desperate and atrocious outrage, which has been recently committed against your sacred Person, on your return from opening Parliament, in the exercise of the functions of our revered and venerated Monarch.

We cannot sufficiently express our utmost detestation and abhorrence of this most malignant attempt, upon a life so valuable and important to the whole realm, and we feel it to be an imperious duty we owe to your Royal Highness, and the illustrious House of Brunswick, to pledge ourselves individually and collectively, to support the glorious Constitution of our country as by law established.

WE, the Mayor and principal Inhabitants of the Island of Goree, in Africa, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the offers of our dutiful and most sincere congratulations on the recent auspicious Marriage of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales, with His Serene Highness Leopold George Frederic, Prince of Saxe-Cobourg.

We earnestly pray that this union may be productive of uninterrupted conjugal felicity, as well as of permanent benefit and prosperity to the United Kingdom.

That your Royal Highness may long live to witness and participate in the happiness of the Royal Pair, and that the illustrious House of Brunswick may continue to distant ages, to give ornament and stability to the British Throne, is the fervent wish and prayer of your Royal Highness's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned, who have requested our late much-regretted Commandant, Lieutenant-Colonel Chisholm, to transmit these assurances of our loyalty and attachment.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent was this day pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to confer the honour of Knighthood on Lieutenant-Colonel Robert Jones Allard Kemeys, of Ynisarwed, in the county of Glamorgan, and of Malpas, and Panteague, in the county of Monmouth.

Whitehall, March 7, 1817.

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent has been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to grant unto the Honourable Frederick William Aylmer, Post Captain in the Royal Navy, and Companion of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath, His Majesty's royal licence and permission, that he may accept and wear the cross of a Commander of the Royal Sicilian Order of St. Ferdinand and of Merit, with which His Majesty the King of the Two Sicilies hath been pleased to honour him, in testimony of the sense that Sovereign entertains of the highly distinguished gallantry displayed by him as Captain of His Majesty's ship Severn, at the memorable attack upon the town and shipping of Algiers, upon the 27th day of August last; provided nevertheless, that His Majesty's said licence and permission doth not authorise, and shall not be deemed or construed to authorise, the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining unto a Knight Bachelor of these realms:

And His Royal Highness the Prince Regent hath been further pleased to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

Whitehall, March 7, 1817.

HIS Royal Highness the Prince Regent hath been pleased, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, to grant unto William Gosset, Esq. Lieutenant-Colonel in the Corps of Royal Engineers, and Companion of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath, His Majesty's royal licence and permission, that he may accept and wear the cross of a Commander of the Royal Sicilian Military Order of Saint Ferdinand and of Merit, with which His Majesty the King of the Two Sicilies hath been pleased to honour him, in testimony of the high sense that Sovereign entertains of the distinguished intrepidity and able conduct displayed by the said Lieutenant-Colonel in the memorable attack upon the town and shipping of Algiers, upon the 27th day of August last; provided nevertheless, that His Majesty's said licence and permission doth not authorise, and shall not be deemed or construed to authorise, the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining unto a Knight Bachelor of these realms:

And His Royal Highness the Prince Regent hath been further pleased to command, that the said royal concession and declaration be registered in His Majesty's College of Arms.

TRIGONOMETRICAL SURVEY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

IT having been represented to the Master-General and Principal Officers of His Majesty's Ordnance, that certain mapsellers and others have, through inadvertence or otherwise, copied, reduced, or incorporated into other works and published, parts of the "Trigonometrical Survey of Great Britain," a work executed under the immediate orders of the said Master-General and Board, the said Master-General and Board have thought proper to direct, that public notice be given to all mapsellers and others, cautioning them against copying, reducing, or incorporating into other works and publishing, all or any part of the said "Trigonometrical Survey," or of the Ordnance maps which have been or may be engraven therefrom. "Every offender after this notice given, will be proceeded against according to the provisions of the Act of Parliament made for the protection of property of this kind."

By order of the Board,

R. H. Crew, Secretary.

The certificate of the Ascot-Heath plate must be signed by the Master of His Majesty's Buck Hounds, instead of the Lord-Lieutenant of the County.

N. B. The certificates, when properly signed, are payable at sight to the winner of the plate, (or to any other person, if indorsed by the winner,) at the Office of the Master of the Horse, in the King's-Mews, London; but, as according to the Receipt Act, the stamp is to be paid for by the person giving the receipt, it is expected that a half-crown one be brought with each certificate when presented for payment.

By order of His Grace the Duke of Montrose, Master of the Horse to His Majesty.

WILLIAM PARKER, Clerk of the Stables.

The King's-Mews, March 11, 1817.

THE Trustees acting under an indenture or deed of assignment, bearing date the 28th day of November last, hereby give notice, that in pursuance thereof a dividend of the Estate and effects of William Wainwright and Thomas Griffith Ansdell, who lately carried on the trade of Block-Makers at Liverpool, in the County of Lancaster, under the firm of Wainwright and Ansdell, and at Northwich, in the County of Chester, under the firm of Ansdell and Wainwright, will be paid at the Office of Messrs. Stokes and Lightfoot, No. 56, Harrington-Street, Liverpool, on the 31st day of March instant, and the following days, between the hours of Eleven and One o'Clock, to all such Creditors as shall, at that time, have executed the said deed; and that all the Creditors who do not, before that day execute the said deed, will be excluded the benefit of such dividend.

DEMERY AND ESSEQUIBO.

THE undersigned, in his capacity as Deputy First Marshal of the Honourable Court of Criminal and Civil Justice for the United Colony of Demery and Essequibo, advertises by these presents for the first, second, and third time, that he will, by virtue of certain sentences of said Honourable Court and the subsequent executions, expose and sell, at public execution sale, the following plantations, with all their cultivation, buildings, slaves, and further appurtenances, viz.

Firstly.—In the month of July 1817, the coffee plantation Anna Catharina, situated in Canal No. 1, in the River Demery; the property of J. A. Ottos.

Secondly.—In the month of July 1817, the sugar plantation Free and Easy, situated on the west bank of the River Demery; the property of the estate of James Bradford, deceased.

Thirdly.—In the month of September 1817, the coffee plantation Sophia, situated on the east coast of Demery; the property of the estate of F. Kroll, deceased.

Fourthly.—In the month of November 1817, the coffee plantation Middlesex and Beausejour, situated in the canal of No. 2; the property of the estate of R. L. Ashington, deceased.

Fifthly.—In the month of January 1819, the sugar plantation Land Canaan, situate on the east bank of the River Demery; the property of the estate of J. Vanden Paarderort, deceased.

The judicium of præ and concurrentia on the net proceeds of the above sales will be held by the said Honourable Court of Justice three months after the respective days of sale, for which reason all those that may pretend to have any right, title, or interest to the proceeds of said plantations, are herewith by him the undersigned, Deputy First Marshal of said Court of Justice, summoned to appear in person, or by their attorney, to lay their claims, in due form, before the Honourable Court of Justice of said United Colony of Demery and Essequibo at their respective Sessions in the following months, viz.—in August 1817, for plantations Anna Catharina and Free and Easy; in October 1817, for plantation Sophia; in December 1817, for plantations Middlesex and Beausejour; and in February 1818, for plantation Land Canaan; under a penalty of perpetuum sententium being granted against those Creditors who do not appear.

The inventories of the above stated plantations are daily to be seen at the Chambers of S. Steer, Esq. No. 5, Hare-Court, Inner-Temple, London.—Demery and Essequibo, the 19th December 1816. J. D. HALEY, Deputy First Marshal.
