Lord Chamberlain's-Office, April 5, 1817.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday the 17th instant, at two o'clock.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and unanimous Address of the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Waterford, assembled at Waterford by public Notice from the High Sheriff, pursuant to a Requisition for that Purpose.

May it please your Royal Highness,

PARTAKING of those ingenuous sentiments of attachment for that unrivalled Constitution, the blessings of which we enjoy, and over which your Royal Highness is so eminently calculated to preside, and exulting in those effusions of loyalty which pervade the addresses of our countrymen, we, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Waterford, solicit your Royal Highness's attention when we take leave to pronounce our unfeigned tribute of congratulation for the rescue of your Royal Person from the disgusting effects of treason. The affectionate respect of a loyal people for the best of Kings, deeply registered in the hearts of his subjects, and emanating from that freedom, the exclusive birth-right of British subjects, should have spread its shield to protect the Representative of a beloved Monarch. Active partizans, skilled in mischief, may momentarily impose on the heated imaginations of an impetuous and misguided rabble; but the energetic efforts of their Prince, happily distinguished in the advancement of the empire's prosperity, should alone have paralyzed and disarmed the disgraced perfidy.

Viewing then, with every sentiment of disgust and horror, the wanton depravity which dared to level its vengeance at your Royal Person, we venture, with enthusiasm, to declare our sincere adherence to your Royal Person, and undeviating zeal in support of that system which has raised the British Empire to so great and glorious a pre-eminence.

J. Alcock, High Sheriff of the County of Waterford.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the British Empire, &c. &c.

The humble and dutiful Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wexford, assembled at Spring Assizes 1817.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Wexford, with all respect and duty, presume to dedicate to your Royal Highness the earliest exercise of our functions, whilst, in accord with every true-hearted subject of your realm, we humbly offer our heartfelt congratulation on your happy escape from the late traitorous attempt against your Royal Highness's life—a life whose preservation we regard as identified not only with the glory and renown of the British empire, but also with the safety and existence of the British Constitution; fully persuaded that our happy and envied Constitution, and not your Royal Highness's person, was the remote object of that base attempt. We should consider ourselves alike unworthy of, and ungrateful for the blessings we enjoy under the mild and fostering sway of your illustrious House, if we did not feel a deep abhorrence of that atrocious and disgraceful deed. From foreign enemies, your glorious services towards an oppressed and enthralled world have justly redeemed you, Sir, and your domestic foes, few in number as they are contemptible in rank, shall, we trust, from such an atrocious attempt, be consigned to the execration of every loyal subject. And we solemnly pledge ourselves to devote our lives and fortunes to the maintenance of good order, the establishment of universal tranquillity, the support of your Illustrious House, and the stability of our happy and blessed Constitution. We cannot close this address without expressing our admiration of the splendid sacrifices lately made by your Royal Highness to relieve the distresses of the country, setting an example so glorious to His Majesty's subjects of the United Kingdom. That the Almighty in his distinguished favour towards the realm he has called you to rule, may long preserve your Royal Highness in health and happiness, and your favoured Empire in peace and prosperity, is the most ardent wish and fervent prayer of, May it please your Royal Highness, your sincerely dutiful, affectionate, and devoted servants.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Monaghan, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of the most profound respect.

We beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that no class of His Majesty's subjects have heard with greater horror and indignation than the Freeholders of this county, of the late daring and flagitious outrage offered to the person of your Royal Highness, on returning from the exercise of one of the most sacred functions of the sovereign authority.

And whilst with heartfelt satisfaction we congratulate your Royal Highness on the providential failure of so nefarious an attempt, we hasten to avow our firm rooted sentiments of loyalty to the Constitution of the country, and our affectionate and devoted attachment to the person and family of your Royal Highness.

George Forster, Sheriff for Monaghan.

March 29, 1817.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Presbytery of Irvine, met in Presbytery.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Irvine, embrace this the earliest opportunity of our meeting in Presbytery, to declare at this alarming crisis our devoted attachment to our beloved King, and to the Constitution of our country.

We beg leave also to express our abhorrence of the outrage which was offered to your sacred person, when returning from the exercise of the highest function of royal authority, and to offer our cordial congratulations to your Royal Highness on your providential escape.

With the deepest indignation, we have seen the base attempts of factious and designing men to corrupt the minds, and to destroy the allegiance of the lower orders of the community. Viewing these evils as arising from the industrious efforts which have been made to annihilate religious and moral principle, we beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that our unceasing exertions shall continue to be employed to promote the practical influence of our holy religion upon all the people committed to our charge; to discourage, by every means in our power, sedition and anarchy; and to impress upon our people the deepest sense of the invaluable privileges enjoyed under our happy Constitution.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment of the Presbytery of Irvine, at Irvine, this 25th day of March 1817 years, by John Thomson, Moderator, P. T.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Eglinton, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, the eighteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and seventeen, in the fifty-seventh year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

The above-named James Watson is a Surgeon by profession, and has been employed in that capacity on board a Greenland ship: He is a young man, apparently about twenty-three or twenty-four years of age, but is only twenty, dark hair, rather pale complexion, five feet five inches high, has a mark or mole with a few hairs on it, on his left cheek bone near the eye, the left eyelid rather dropping over the eye, very faint remains of small pox in his face, has rather a wide mouth, and shews his teeth, (which are very black) when he laughs; he sometimes wore a brown great coat, black under coat, black waistcoat, drab breeches and long gaiters, and at other times he wore a black coat and waistcoat, blue pantaloons, and Hessian boots; his appearance shabby genteel: he formerly lodged in Hyde-Street, Bloomsbury.

Arthur Thistlewood is about forty-five years of age, five feet eleven inches high, has a sallow complexion, long visage, dark hair (a little grey), small whiskers, dark hasle eyes, and arched eyebrows, a wide mouth, and a good set of teeth, has a scar under his right jaw, is slender made, walks very upright, and has much the appearance of a military man; was born in Lincolnshire, and apprenticed to an apothecary at Newark, and has been a lieutenant in the army; he usually wore a French grey coloured coat, buff waistcoat, grey coloured Wellington pantaloons, with Hessian boots under them, and at times a dark brown great coat.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 1st of March 1817,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the present session of Parliament, intituled "An Act to continue and extend the provisions of an Act, of the forty-ninth year of His present Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the Island of Mauritius;" His Majesty is authorised, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to give such directions, and make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from all islands, colonies, or places, and the territories and dependencies thereof, to His Majesty belonging or in His possession, in Africa, or Asia to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope (excepting only the possessions of the East India Company), as to His Majesty, in Council, shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing contained in an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of His Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled "An Act for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation," or in an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for preventing frauds, and regulating abuses in the plantation trade," or any other

Act or Acts of Parliament now in force, relating to His Majesty's colonies and plantations, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, law, usage or custom to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding: and whereas on the night of the twenty-fifth of September last, a dreadful fire broke out in the town of Port Lewis, in the Island of Mauritius, which totally destroyed the chief part of that town, together with a great mass of provisions and merchandise intended for the consumption and trade of its inhabitants, whereby a great number of families were reduced to extreme indigence, and left without a home; in consequence of which dreadful calamity the Governor of the said Island found himself compelled to open the ports of the Island to foreign vessels, in order to afford the speediest relief of which the case would admit, and thereby to save His Majesty's subjects residing in that colony from the greatest extremity of distress; and whereas it is expedient that facilities should in consequence be granted to the trade of the Island of Mauritius, for a limited time, with the view of giving still further relief to its suffering inhabitants; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that all vessels, whether British or foreign vessels belonging to countries in amity with His Majesty, arriving at any port of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, within twelve months from the date of this present Order, from any country in amity with His Majesty, laden with any articles the growth, production, or manufacture of any such country, excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture, shall be permitted to enter and land their cargoes, and dispose of the same, in the said ports; provided always, that such articles, when imported in a foreign ship, shall pay a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above what may be payable upon similar goods when imported in a British ship.

And it is further ordered, that every such vessel, arriving as aforesaid, shall be permitted to export a cargo, consisting of any articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there; and that all such articles so exported in foreign vessels, shall in like manner be subject to a duty of two per cent. ad valorem, over and above the duties (if any) which shall be payable on similar articles when exported from the Mauritius, or its dependencies, in British vessels.

It is, however, hereby further ordered and declared, that no foreign vessel, allowed by the terms of this Order to export a cargo from the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, shall be permitted to export such cargo to any of His Majesty's possessions. But that every British vessel which shall during the continuance of this present Order, have imported a cargo into any port of the said Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, either from the United Kingdom, or from any other place, shall be permitted to carry back a return cargo, consisting of the articles aforesaid, to any place whatever, either belonging to His Majesty, or to any state in amity with His Majesty. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

And whereas His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, acting in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, has been pleased to direct, that Letters Patent under the Great Seal, revoking the Letters Patent constituting and appointing the Transport Board, shall issue on the 25th of this month; and further, by His Order in Council, bearing date the 2d January last, to direct, that all the powers, authorities, and rights now vested in the said Commissioners should, from and after the date of the Letters Patent of revocation aforesaid, be transferred and committed to the Principal Officers and Commissioners of the Navy and the Commissioners of Victualling respectively, agreeably to the provisions of the above-recited Act:
