

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1817.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, April 5, 1817.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday the 17th instant, at two o'clock.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects of the King's County, convened by the High Sheriff, most respectfully beg leave to offer our most hearty congratulations to your Royal Highness, on your late providential escape from the daring attempt against your person, when returning from the House of Parliament after the discharge of one of the most constitutional functions of the high and dignified office represented and sustained by your Royal Highness with so much splendour and glory to the United Kingdom; and we sincerely hope, that condign punishment may speedily make an impressive example of the atrocious offender.

In deprecating this licentious and outrageous conduct towards your Royal Highness, so disgraceful to the subjects of a free State, and so discordant to the feelings of the English character, we would willingly believe it to have been instigated by the secret machinations of revolutionary demagogues, in order to screen by the tumult the perpetrator of so foul a treason, aimed at the vitals of our Constitution.

In contemplating the distress which pervades, not only all ranks throughout His Majesty's dominions, but every State in Europe at large, and which has been very much aggravated by the inevitable injury universally felt by the agricultural interest in the late harvest, occasioned by the very unusual and long continued inclemency of the weather, we have chiefly to lament, that the dispensations of Providence should be so artfully perverted, and used so successfully as a pretext, to promote disaffection amongst the lower orders; but we rely with the most sanguine hopes on the parental solicitude of your Royal Highness, confidently expecting, that every suggestion which can tend to promote encouragement and relief to the community at large, and revive the drooping industry of the country, will emanate from the Councils of your Royal Highness.

Under this impression, and at a time so appropriate for public expressions of loyalty and attachment to our King and Constitution, we cannot omit to renew through your Royal Highness our repeated declarations of fealty and allegiance to your Royal Father, our most revered Sovereign, and his august Family, in support of their rights to the succession, crown, and dignity in these realms, as by law established.

Signed for the meeting, by unanimous desire,
Rich. Malone, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop, Chancellor, Archdeacons, Rural Deans, and Clergy of the Diocese of Chichester, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with assurances of most heartfelt attachment to the illustrious House of Brunswick, and of highest respect for your royal person; and while avowing, with the deepest emotions of horror, our detestation of the base insult and atrocious outrage offered to your Royal Highness, when returning from the discharge of one of the most dignified functions of the British Crown, we request permission further to assure your Royal Highness of our zeal and determination to promote, to the utmost of our abilities, amongst those intrusted to our pastoral care, a spirit of order and allegiance, of peaceable de-