No. 41, Sackville-Street.

MR. GRAY, begs leave to acquaint the Nobility, Gentry, and his Friends, that on account of his declining years and ill state of health, he has relinquished his concern, and entered into an agreement with Messrs. Joseph Delafons and Sons, to sell them his stock and houses, No. 41 and 42, in Sackville-Street, where he has for many years carried on the business of a Jeweller. In recommending Messrs. Delafons and Sons, as his successors, he takes permission to state, that having on account of their experience, ability, and integrity, as well as skill and superior workmanship in making the best articles as working jewellers, extensively employed them for a great number of years, he has much satisfaction in believing that any commands with which they may be honoured, will be executed so as to ensure approbation.

Deeply impressed with a sense of the confidence and kindness which have been extended towards him, and of which he will ever retain a grateful remembrance, he particularly requests that all accounts due to him be paid, and also all demands upon him sent to No. 41, Sackville-Street.

THOMAS GRAY.

Joseph Delafons and Sons, Successors to Mr. Thomas Gray, No. 41, Sackville-Street, Piccadilly, Jewellers, having added to the stock they have purchased of him a choice collection of jewellery, beg leave most respectfully to solicit a continuance of those favours which their predecessor has long been honoured with, and express their hopes that any commands they may receive will be executed with such punctuality and attention as to ensure approbation.
