Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1817.

Admiralty-Office, September 24, 1817.

AN official notification has been received at this Office,

“ That, by order of the Russian Government, the Light-House erected in the year 1815, on Cape Lativanem, was, for the greater benefit of the navigation between Narva and Revel, to be removed to the Island of Rodscher, situated at the distance of nine nautical miles to the westward of the Isle of Hogland; the light to be at the height of sixty feet above the surface of the water, and, in imitation of the light at Lativanem, to appear and disappear, successively, in the space of  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a minute, which operation will make it distinguishable from all the other lights in the environs of Hogland. The new light at Rodscher to be exhibited from the 1st September 1817 (old style).”

JOHN BARROW.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

LIGHT-HOUSE ON MUTTON ISLAND, GALWAY BAY.

Ballast-Office, Dublin, September 18, 1817.

THE Corporation for preserving and improving the Port of Dublin, &c. give notice, that a Light-House has lately been erected on Mutton Island, Galway Bay, from which a light will be exhibited on the evening of Saturday the 25th of October next, and from thence continue lighted from sun-set to sun-rise.

Mutton Island, on which the Light-House is erected, is situate at the bottom of Galway Bay, distant from the town about half a mile. The light will be steady, and of a bright red colour.
