

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1817.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To his Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Oldham, in the County-Palatine of Lancaster, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to express our sorrowful regret at the melancholy dispensation which has deprived your Royal Highness of a dutiful and beloved daughter, and the nation of the object on which its best hopes were centred, in the lamented death of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales.

Our sorrows are much increased by this afflictive dispensation, by the reflection that the promising virtues of the late amiable Princess afforded a well-grounded expectation, that her life would have been a comfort to your Royal Highness, and a blessing to the nation she was destined one day to govern.

Deeply impressed with these sentiments, we beg to express our sincere condolence with your Royal Highness upon this melancholy occasion; and whilst we assure your Royal Highness of our increased attachment to your Royal Highness's august Person and Family, it is a source of alleviation to our minds to reflect, that your Royal Highness will derive that consolation in your affliction which is imparted by the sympathy of a loyal and affectionate nation.

Joseph Jones, jun. James Collinge, Constables of Oldham.

[Transmitted by Mr. Joseph Jones, jun. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth]

To His Royal Highness George Augustus Frederick Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Portsmouth, in the County of Southampton, beg permission to approach your Royal Highness with our respectful and sincere condolence in the severe and lamentable affliction into which your august House and the country at large have been so unexpectedly plunged, by the premature death of a Princess, whose virtuous character endeared her to all classes of the British people.

When we reflect on the brilliant example she displayed in domestic life, her amiable conduct as a wife, her innumerable charities, dispensed with an unsparing, though discriminating hand, we cannot but feel how heavy is the stroke on your Royal Highness in the loss of such a child, and on the nation who have been deprived of such a Princess; but though we are fully sensible so awful a visitation of Providence must be keenly felt by your Royal Highness, we hope and trust the Almighty Disposer of Events will, in His unbounded mercy, endue your Royal Highness with that fortitude and resignation from which alone real comfort can be expected.

Given under my hand and seal, in Common-Hall, this 25th day of November 1817.

James Carter, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Mayor, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Bailies and Trustees of the Towns of Port Glasgow and Newark.

WE, the Bailies and Trustees of the Towns of Port Glasgow and Newark, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our dutiful and sympathizing expressions of the most heartfelt sorrow for the late calamitous and quite unlooked for event, which Divine Providence has been pleased to inflict upon your Royal Highness and the nation, in the loss of your Royal Highness's much beloved daughter, the Princess Charlotte Augusta, wife of His Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe