

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1817.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Corporation and Principal Inhabitants of Harwich.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and Principal Inhabitants of the Ancient and Loyal Borough of Harwich, beg leave to approach the Throne, to offer to your Royal Highness the sincerest professions of our deep and earnest condolence upon an event, which must have inflicted upon the mind of your Royal Highness the most poignant feelings of parental anguish.

Greatly as we deplore the loss and untimely fate of that virtuous and amiable Princess, your illustrious Daughter, on whom this nation had long fixed its hopes, and ardently as we participate in the Father's grief; we yet hope that your Royal Highness, confiding in that Almighty Providence, by whose power alone King's rule and Empires are upheld, will receive consolation in the sympathies and affection of a generous, a loyal, and a sorrowing people.

Henry Deane, Mayor.
Harwich, 29th Nov. 1817.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. Nicholas Vansittart, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth].

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Masters and Counsellors, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Totnes, thus humbly address ourselves to your Royal Highness, to express our sincerest sorrow for the complicated calamity which has befallen your Royal

House and the nation at large, by the unexpected and untimely death of the Princess your daughter, and her Royal progeny.

Yet, while we offer our condolence on this mournful occasion, we cannot but derive some consolation from the recollection of the many virtues which distinguished Her Royal Highness, both in domestic and public life; as well as from that Princely fortitude which her august Parent has frequently displayed in seasons of filial solicitude and political danger.

Conscious of the blessings which we have long enjoyed under the paternal Government of the House of Brunswick, we feel particularly anxious at this crisis to renew our assurances of an inviolable attachment to your Royal Highness, together with our most ardent hopes and prayers, that the Crown of this United Kingdom may be transmitted, through the same illustrious line, to the remotest generations.

[Transmitted by Thomas P. Courtenay, Esq. M. P. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth].

Unto His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates and Council of the Burgh of Haddington, desire to join with our fellow subjects throughout the empire, in the expression of our sincere and heartfelt condolence, upon the late most calamitous event, with which it hath pleased the Almighty to visit your Royal Highness and the British Nation.

Attached as we are, by every tie of duty, gratitude and affection, to the Person and august family of our Sovereign, it is impossible that we should not largely participate in that universal sentiment of sorrow and regret, which has been excited by this most afflicting dispensation.

We know that, with all the distresses and adversities of this nation, the Father of his people has felt a parental sympathy. Shall not they, therefore, deeply feel that incurable wound, which has