Unto His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the loyal and dutiful subjects of His Majesty, the Ministers of the Presbytery of Lauder, met at Lauder this 2d day of December 1817, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness and to express the deep sorrow and sincere sympathy which we feel in our hearts, on account of the great and grievous affliction with which it has pleased Providence to visit your Royal Highness and the nation, in the ever to be lamented deaths of Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales and Her Royal Infant.

In this season of sadness and sorrow, while we humble ourselves under that awful dispensation of a mysterious Providence, which, at one fatal stroke, has bereaved us and our country of our fondest hopes, and filled with all the bitterness of woe the hearts of a truly loyal and affectionate people; at the same time, without intruding into the deeper sorrows of a disconsolate father, of a once happy husband, but now a desolate widower, and of the other afflicted relatives of our dear departed Princess; we humbly offer our sincere and heartfelt condolence on this mournful occasion, and present our earnest prayers to Almighty God, that He may administer such consolations of His grace as alone can soothe and solace the soul of the mourner, and that He may continue to protect from danger, and to prolong the days of your Royal Highness, and to impart to you, in His goodness, every earthly and every heavenly blessing.

Signed, in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment,

David Wm. Gordon, Moderator.

But whilst in common with all our fellow subjects, we deeply deplore this great and unexpected loss, we at the same time bend with resigned submission to the chastening hand of the Almighty; always remembering, that every thing is in the power of Him who knows when to give and when to take away; and resting in the full assurance that she, to whom we looked forward with the fondest hopes as the future Monarch of these realms, and the upholder our Religion, Laws, and Liberties, now wears an Immortal Crown in the Regions of Eternal Bliss. And we pray that Providence, ever beneficent and gracious, will support your Royal Highness under this heavy dispensation, and by its healing power soothe your grief and enable you to continue and promote the honour and
