The many and endearing virtues which adorn Her Royal Highness's mind, cultivated by the tender assiduity, and guided by the eminent example of Her Royal Mother, could not fail to attract universal admiration; and we contemplate with peculiar pleasure the union of a Princess, endowed with qualities so truly amiable, with a Prince not less distinguished for his valour and noble accomplishments.

We earnestly hope, Madam, that this auspicious alliance may be crowned with every prosperity that can meet a parent's most sanguine wishes; and that your Majesty may long continue to witness its increasing felicity.

To His Serene Highness Frederick Joseph Louis Charles Augustus, Landgrave and Hereditary Prince of Hesse Hombourg.

Sir,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, have the highest satisfaction in paying our compliments of congratulation to your Serene Highness on your safe arrival in this kingdom, and on your auspicious nuptials with our illustrious and amiable Princess Elizabeth.

The dignity of your princely House, firmly attached to the interests of the Protestant cause, in every respect worthy of our esteem, together with your Serene Highness's military fame and noble endowments, afford us the happy presage that this illustrious union will be productive of the most perfect felicity, and long may your Serene Highness live to enjoy the blessings of this alliance.

THE following Addresses have been presented to Her Royal Highness the Princess Elizabeth and His Serene Highness the Prince of Hesse Hombourg; which Addresses they were pleased to receive very graciously:

To Her Royal Highness the Hereditary Princess of Hesse Hombourg.

Madam,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town-Clerk, of the Borough of New Windsor, in Common Council assembled, humbly entreat your Royal Highness to accept our most heartfelt congratulations on the nuptials of your Royal Highness with His Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Hombourg.

We beg to express our fervent hope, that this union with a Prince of such an exalted character, both public and private, may be conducive to your felicity, and produce every comfort which can be enjoyed in a connubial state.

We have long known and admired your Royal Highness's many amiable qualities, and witnessed, in numberless instances, the benevolence of your Royal Highness's disposition. Your Royal Highness's character stands pre-eminent as a warm patroness of the Arts, the tradesman's friend, and the protectress of the poor, whose welfare has ever been a subject of your Royal Highness's constant consideration; in a word, it was your Royal Highness's pride to shed your beneficent dispensations to all within the sphere of your knowledge, who were considered objects worthy of your Royal Highness's attention.

We most sincerely lament the great loss we shall experience in your Royal Highness's departure from this scene of your juvenile and more matured enjoyments. Your Royal Highness will, however, carry with you our warmest and most affectionate remembrances, although the moment of congratulation occasions the most heartfelt regrets.

We beg to express our ardent wishes and fervent prayers, that your Royal Highness may enjoy every comfort which virtues like yours cannot fail to create, and that every domestic tranquillity may attend this alliance.
Chas. Knight, Mayor.

To His Serene Highness the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Hombourg.

May it please your Serene Highness,

The Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town Clerk of the Borough of New Windsor, in Common Council assembled, beg to offer their congratulations to your Serene Highness on your marriage with Her Royal Highness the Princess Elizabeth.

In making a tender of this tribute of our respect to your Serene Highness, we are emboldened to express our confidence, that this happy union is the presage of every social comfort which can be derived from the connubial state, and that it cannot fail to be realized with your amiable consort, in whom is centered every exalted virtue and refined endowment.

We sincerely hope that your Serene Highness's nuptials may be the source of unceasing comfort in your retirement, after experiencing the toils and fatigues of active service during a protracted war, in which your Serene Highness bore so conspicuous a share, with the highest honour to your military fame, and the most important advantages to the common cause.
