To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Rochester, beg leave under impressions of the deepest regret to offer our condolence to your Royal Highness, on the loss which your Royal Highness, your illustrious Family, and the United Kingdom, have recently sustained by the death of her late most gracious Majesty.

While we participate in common with all His Majesty's subjects in the affliction, which from circumstances of a personal nature more immediately affects your Royal Highness, we nevertheless feel that we should not do justice to the many eminent virtues which distinguished Her late Majesty, if we failed to express on this melancholy occasion the high estimation with which we regard them; and, sensible of the support which good principles derive from the practical observance of them in the conduct of the Great, the splendored example displayed by Her late Majesty during a long public life of more than half a century, we trust will continue to maintain its influence, and be productive of all those national advantages which result from moral and religious habits.

[Transmitted by the Dean of Rochester, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town-Clerk, of the ancient and loyal Borough and Corporation of New Windsor, in the County of Berks.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, Recorder, and Town Clerk, of the ancient and loyal Borough and Corporation of New Windsor, most respectfully approach your Royal Highness, to express the deep sense we entertain of the great loss we have sustained by the afflicting death of Her late Most Excellent Majesty, your beloved Mother, of blessed memory.

From the peculiar advantage of our local situation, it has been our envied lot for a long series of years, to have had reiterated opportunities of forming a just estimate of the many exalted virtues of Her late Majesty, in the combined characters of an affectionate Consort—a tender Parent—an indulgent Mistress—and a munificent Benefactress. We have witnessed boundless instances of the anxious solicitude, with which our late amiable Queen watched over the lamented situation of our beloved Monarch, and her high regard for the preservation of that dignity, purity, and decorum, which pervaded her general conduct; these virtues were exercised in an undeviating course of systematic piety, and unostentatious enjoyment; and presented examples of the most refined and resplendent nature for imitation, by all ranks of His Majesty's subjects.

We therefore with sensations of the sincerest regret, deplore the melancholy event, and with hearts full of sympathy, presume to unite our sorrows with those of your Royal Highness, under the consolatory assurance, that a merciful Providence will gradually tranquilize your Royal Highness's feelings, and, aided by religion, tend to alleviate the poignancy of your sufferings on this most trying occasion.

We beg to offer our most dutiful and respectful affection for your Royal Highness, and humbly implore the Almighty, that by the blessings of His Divine Mercy, your Royal Highness may long, very long, experience the uninterrupted enjoyment of every earthly dispensation.

Given, under the common seal of the Borough aforesaid, at the Guildhall, within the said Borough, the 4th day of December, in the year 1818, and in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty's reign.

[Transmitted by His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, Steward of the Borough, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's faithful subjects, the Mayor, Alderman, Bailiffs, and Common Council of the Borough of Liverpool, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere condolence upon the recent death of Her late Most Excellent Majesty Queen Charlotte.

During a long series of years, and in times the most arduous and eventful, the public character of Her Majesty, in the exalted station which she filled, has stood pre-eminent, and will ever be conspicuous in the page of history, nor do the private virtues of Her Majesty less demand our admiration; whether we contemplate that unsullied lustre which she imparted to the British Court, and that dignity of conduct which she uniformly displayed in the more extended circle of society; or whether we view her as the kind and indulgent Parent of a numerous and royal race, or as the faithful Consort and watchful Guardian of our venerable Monarch in his declining years.

To these our expressions of condolence we beg to add our assurances of attachment to His Majesty's person and Government, to your Royal Highness, and to every branch of your Royal Highness's illustrious House.

Given under our common seal the 2d day of December 1818.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Borough and Town of Weymouth and Melcombe Regis, in the county of Dorset.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of this Borough, beg permission to approach your Royal Highness with the most unfeigned sorrow to offer our condolence at the late distressing event which has occurred by the death of your royal mother, our late revered Queen, and to participate in the general loss which not only your Royal Highness and every branch of the Royal Family, but also the nation at large must feel on this melancholy occasion; a loss the more to be lamented from the many exalted virtues possessed by such an illustrious Queen, and particularly those which so much more eminently displayed themselves in Her Majesty's universally acknowledged conduct in that high station of life which Her Majesty was destined to fill, and which she maintained for so many years with the strictest honour to herself and to the dignity of the British empire, and which so much endeared her to her now disconsolate subjects.

We cannot but conceive that the shock must be more poignantly felt by your Royal Highness from the late loss your Royal Highness sustained by the ever to be regretted death of your royal daughter, but we most sincerely hope that your Royal Highness may not experience any ill effects from such a dire calamity, but that you may still enjoy the blessings of health, and that the hand of Divine Providence may protect and guide you through the arduous duties of the exalted station your Royal Highness at the present moment fills.

The humble Address of the Presbytery of Glasgow.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Glasgow, embrace the earliest opportunity of approaching your Royal Highness with expressions of our warmest affection and sincerest sympathy.

We lament with your Royal Highness the death of our illustrious Queen, adorned with so many virtues which endeared her to our venerable Sovereign, to all her family, and to the whole nation.

The principles which uniformly animated her in the discharge of her high and important duties, during a reign of more than half a century, which sustained her mind with such fortitude, meekness, and patience, under a severe and long protracted illness, have afforded an additional example of the excellence of the Christian Religion, which throughout all the interesting vicissitudes of a long life, she constantly professed and adorned.

We mourn the continued and afflicting malady of our most gracious and revered King, whose mind appears to have been occasionally solaced by the visits and attention of his beloved Consort. Our earnest prayer is, that Almighty God may mitigate his trouble, and yet give him health and comfort on earth; and that when he shall have fulfilled the designs of His Providence here, He may finally confer on him a crown of glory that fadeth not away.

That the Great Sovereign of the Universe, the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, may continue to prosper the United Kingdom, and maintain its peace under your administration; that He may long preserve and abundantly bless your Royal Highness; that Princes of your august House may sway the British sceptre to the latest posterity; and that after a long and prosperous administration of government on earth, you may obtain eternal life in Heaven, is the sincere and fervent prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most dutiful, most obedient, and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Glasgow.

Unto His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dumbarton.

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dumbarton, beg leave to offer our humble but heartfelt condolence on the death of your illustrious Mother, Her late Majesty Queen Charlotte. The many amiable and exemplary virtues displayed by Her Majesty, both in public and private life, have justly entitled her to the admiration and gratitude of a loyal people. Her affectionate attentions to our beloved Sovereign, during his lamented indisposition; her unceasing regards for the interest of religion and virtue; and the powerful efficacy of her example and public conduct in restraining every tendency to impropriety and immorality, gave additional lustre to the high station in which Her Majesty was placed.

That Almighty God may visit our beloved Sovereign with his Divine consolations; that the affectionate and feeling heart of your Royal Highness may be comforted under an affliction in which the whole nation participates; and that all the branches of the Royal Family may follow in the footsteps of their illustrious relative, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most faithful and affectionate subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Dumbarton.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Magistrates and Councillors of the Royal Burgh of Dumbarton.

May it please your Royal Highness,

IT is with feelings of deep regret, that we, His Majesty's most loyal and affectionate subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Royal Burgh of Dumbarton, approach your Royal Highness, to offer our heartfelt condolence on the lamented death of your Royal Mother, Her late Majesty Queen Charlotte.

The many virtues, which during her long and useful life, so eminently distinguished Her Majesty, rendered her truly deserving of the affection and gratitude of the British nation; and while we reflect on the exemplary manner in which she discharged every public and private duty, the undeviating correctness and propriety of her own conduct, the high regard she ever evinced for those virtues which tend to dignify even the most exalted station; and above all her unwearied attention to our beloved Sovereign, during his long and lamented indisposition. We most sincerely participate in the sorrows of your Royal Highness, for the loss which your Royal Highness and the country have sustained; and we trust, as the memory of Her Majesty will long be cherished, so the beneficial effects of her example will continue to be felt for many succeeding generations.

Signed, in name, in presence, and by appointment of the other Magistrates and Councillors, in Council assembled, at Dumbarton, the 4th December 1818 years,

The humble Address of the Presbytery of Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loving subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Ayr, met in Presbytery, beg leave to lay at the foot of the Throne the expression of our dutiful condolence on the death of your royal Mother, our late gracious Queen.

We sincerely regret the mournful event which has thus, by the unsearchable wisdom of the Almighty, deprived our revered Monarch in his utmost need of the soothing attentions of his faithful august Spouse, and the nation of a Queen whose example was so eminently calculated to support the interests of religion and morality. We at the same time deeply lament that under the cares of Government devolved on your royal person, the feelings of your Royal Highness both as a parent and a son have been so severely wounded in the course of one fatal twelvemonth.

That the Father of Mercies may sanctify these domestic calamities to your Royal Highness, to the whole of the Royal Family, and to the nation at large; and that your invaluable life may be long preserved a blessing to the State, are the earnest prayers of; may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most faithful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Grand Lodge of Scotland this day assembled, do most humbly approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of sincere condolence on the mournful event of the demise of her late most excellent Majesty.

In lamenting this national calamity, we recollect with grateful admiration the dignity and purity of her manners as a Queen, as a wife, and as a mother, during a period of nearly sixty years.

We remember with equal feelings of admiration, the affectionate and anxious concern which this illustrious Personage ever shewed for our beloved and revered Monarch, during his present melancholy affliction.

We must also never cease to recollect with how much piety and resignation her most excellent Majesty bore the most poignant distress, during a long and severe illness, an example which all must devoutly desire to have fortitude to follow in their hours of illness and suffering.

While we thus express our feelings of sorrow to your Royal Highness, it is some consolation to reflect that the memory of her most excellent Majesty as Queen of this country, and as Mother of an illustrious and distinguished family, must ever be associated with all that is high and valuable in the great practical moral duties both of public and private life.

The dutiful Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of Greenock.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of Greenock, in Council assembled, request permission, at this period, to offer the expression of our respectful condolence with your Royal Highness, and the rest of the Royal Family, on the late lamented demise of Her Majesty Queen Charlotte.

In common with all His Majesty's faithful subjects, we ever entertained a high sense of the virtues by which the character of His Majesty's late royal and illustrious Consort was so eminently distinguished. And Her Majesty's memory, we are persuaded, will descend to posterity as a great example of piety and virtue, in a situation where personal character goes far to influence the principles and conduct of a whole people.

We observed, with mingled respect and sympathy, the unremitting solicitude of your Royal Highness's filial affection towards Her Majesty during her late illness, and we are sure it will afford the greatest consolation to your Royal Highness when thinking of its mournful close.

We lament the continued indisposition of our revered Sovereign; and while His Majesty is precluded from the personal exercise of the regal functions, we pray that the Regency of your Royal Highness may be blessed of Divine Providence for the advantage of the empire.
