HENRY HOWARD-MOLYNEUX-HOWARD,
Deputy Earl Marshal.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, have been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, and Common Council of the City of Gloucester, in Council assembled, having witnessed another loss to your Royal House, again beg permission to offer our condolence on so mournful an event; inadequate indeed must all expressions of sorrow be upon such an occasion, but as sincere proofs of attachment to your Family, they may not be unacceptable to your Royal Highness.

Mankind have ever regarded filial piety with the highest esteem and reverence, nor is there any thing more honourable to our nature, more pleasing and affecting to behold, than those acts of affectionate kindness, those tears of tenderness and regret shed by a dutiful Son on the pillow of his departing Parent.

May the memory of your conduct to your Royal Mother—of that solicitude with which you soothed her long and painful progress to the tomb, be to you some consolation for her loss, and may you find another consolation in the generous sympathy and loyal attachment of a great people.

Deign then, Sir, to accept a repetition of our best wishes for your welfare and for that of the House of Brunswick; and, guided by those sacred principles which placed it on the Throne of these realms, may your Royal Highness long continue to protect the liberties, promote the happiness, and increase the glory of the British nation.

Given under our common seal, at the Tolsey, in the said City, the 10th day of December 1818.

[Transmitted by Lord Henry Howard-Molyneux-Howard, High Steward of the City, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs and Citizens of the City of Lichfield, beg leave respectfully to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our unfeigned sympathy and condolence on the lamented loss of Her Most Excellent Majesty, the illustrious Consort of our venerable Sovereign.

Feeling a lively interest in every event in your Royal House, we deeply deplore the afflicting calamity which has deprived your Royal Highness of a beloved Parent, and the nation of a high example of uniform decorum and moral virtue, that gave a lustre to the Court, greatly tended to improve the public morals, and justly entitled Her Majesty to universal respect and admiration.

James Palmer, W. G. Bird, Bailiffs; Stephen Simpson, Town Clerk.

[Transmitted by Thomas Jervis, Esq. High Steward of the City, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of the Antient City of Rochester, in the County of Kent, in Common Council assembled in the Guildhall of the said City, the 10th day of December 1818.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of the City of Rochester, in the County of Kent, most humbly approach your Royal Highness for the purpose of expressing our concern at the severe loss which your Royal Highness and the public have sustained by the death of our Most Gracious Queen.

The loss of so eminent a Member of the Royal Family and the state would at all times produce no slight effect upon the feelings of the nation; but when we consider the high tone of decorum which Her Majesty so usefully preserved—the dignity and value of her moral and religious character, and the long affectionate attachment which Her Majesty unalterably maintained towards the person of our lamented Sovereign, and to the rights and liberties of our country, we feel ourselves irresistibly impelled by sentiments of no common interest, to request your Royal Highness to accept this inadequate expression of our unavailing condolence and regret.

[Transmitted by J. B. Matthews, Esq. Mayor, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, and Citizens of the antient City of Worcester, approach your Royal Highness with undiminished feelings of loyalty and respect, and venture to offer to your Royal Highness our deep and sincere condolence upon the lamented death of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen. The painful duty which now devolves upon us is somewhat lightened, however, by the reflection, that Her Majesty's life had been extended to a lengthened period; and that her departure relieved her from those bodily sufferings necessarily attendant upon the disease which terminated Her Majesty's existence.

But, Sire! we, your reflecting and truly loyal subjects, have, in the midst of our heavy task, an alleviation of our sorrow afforded us in the gratifying recollection of the filial piety and affectionate care which has been displayed in your Royal Highness's solicitude during Her Majesty's protracted illness. The fatal blow could not, alas! be averted; but the couch of disease has been softened by the tender and affectionate offices of him who, by the endearing ties of consanguinity and nature, could best soothe the pillow of affliction. The enlightened mind of your Royal Highness needs not an excitement from us to impress upon its recollection all the satisfaction it must now receive from a recurrence to the feelings which animated it in the midst of heavy calamity, enabling your Royal Highness to surpass even your warmest energies in the performance of every social and moral duty.

Such has been your Royal Highness's conduct towards your beloved Mother, and our revered Queen, that your loyal subjects in this City have, with one voice (which must be the voice too of this happy country), to-day borne testimony to its sense of obligation to you, an obligation to you bursting from us with one accord, an obligation to be handed by us to posterity; the spontaneous effusion of your faithful subjects, breathing imperfectly, perhaps, in this address, the impressions and feelings of their grateful hearts.

Her Majesty held forth an illustrious example to her sex, which rendered the Court in which her virtues were conspicuous, the purest, perhaps, that the world had ever beheld, and that high example diffused its influence over the whole of the British empire; but we will not pretend to enlarge upon those virtues, which the page of history will record, but content ourselves with humbly beseeching your Royal Highness to accept our sincere condolences, and to assure your Royal Highness, that we subscribe ourselves, with devoted attachment, your Royal Highness's faithful and most dutiful subjects.

Given under our common seal, in the Council-Chamber of the said City, this 11th day of December 1818.

Humphry Chamberlain, Esq. Mayor; George Earl of Coventry, Recorder.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Coventry, Recorder of the City, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Worcester.

SIR,

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Worcester, most humbly and dutifully beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our heartfelt sorrow on the loss which the empire has sustained by the death of your Royal Mother, our late gracious and universally beloved and lamented Queen.

The exemplary life of Her Majesty, the severity of sufferings from which she is now happily released, and the reflection that your Royal Highness mitigated those sufferings during the whole of Her Majesty's protracted illness, by the most affectionate regard and unparalleled attentions, cannot but contribute to soothe the feelings of your Royal Highness under so heavy a deprivation. We will not trespass further than to entreat your Royal Highness to accept our sincere condolence, and to express our sense of the exalted virtues of our late Gracious Queen, and the sorrow we feel for the loss the nation has to deplore. We humbly pray that your Royal Highness's pious submission to the Divine Will, may enable you to bear this heavy affliction with fortitude, and to resume those arduous functions which have been so gloriously exercised in securing the honour of the British empire, and in effecting the deliverance of Europe.

With every loyal and dutiful sentiment, we subscribe ourselves your Royal Highness's attached and devoted servants.

Signed, on behalf the County Meeting,

Samuel Wall, High Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of the County of Somerset, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with the offering of our most sincere condolence, and to express our cordial sympathy in the heartfelt grief your Royal Highness must experience, in the lamented death of Her Majesty, your illustrious Parent.

Convinced of the inestimable benefits which result to society, from a prominent display of virtue and piety in exalted rank, we are anxious to render the tribute of respect to the memory of a Queen who so especially commanded the gratitude of all, for having upheld the best interests of domestic as well as of public life, by her inflexible firmness and powerful example.

We are truly sensible of the feelings which must severely press upon your Royal Highness, and we participate in the sorrows for departed worth and greatness, trusting, that your Royal Highness derives the purest consolation and comfort from the consciousness of the most exemplary discharge of every filial and princely duty.

We embrace this opportunity of expressing our attachment to our afflicted Sovereign and his Family; acknowledging with gratitude the solid advantages our forefathers and ourselves have enjoyed under the august House of Brunswick.

That your Royal Highness may long be spared to rule over a great and loyal people, is the sincere prayer of His Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects of the county of Somerset.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cardigan, in Public Meeting assembled, respectively take leave to offer our sincere and heartfelt condolence on the affliction with which your Royal Highness, under the Divine dispensation of an All-wise Providence, has been recently visited by the death of our late Most Gracious Queen.

While we deeply sympathize with your Royal Highness's feelings on the lamentable event, we are at a loss whether to admire most the constant and dutiful attentions displayed by your Royal Highness during the great and protracted sufferings of your august Mother, or the truly Christian and religious fortitude with which she endured them.

The unparalleled propriety and affection with which the duties of the Wife and the Mother were discharged, and the bright example of moral and religious rectitude which so eminently characterized Her late Majesty, during a period so eventful and long, will endure to the end of time in the recollection of the people of this great empire, at once a monument of her worth, and a model for their imitation.

That your Royal Highness, and every branch of your august Family may long enjoy the blessings and comforts of this life will be our constant prayer.

Signed, at the request, and on the behalf of the meeting. John Jones, Sheriff and Chairman.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Carnarvon.

May it please your Royal Highness,

SIR,

WE, His Majesty's loyal subjects of the County of Carnarvon, desire to profess our sentiments of condolence upon the melancholy event which has occurred in your illustrious Family. Her Majesty's mild and unassuming influence has been sincerely felt by this portion of the principality; a lustre has been shed upon the Court, an example offered to the people! Virtues, a boast to Britain and a guide to foreign states, will leave a name worthy of transmission to posterity, impressed on every mind that knows, on every heart that feels the genuine value of a British Queen. Filial piety, eminently displayed by your Royal Highness, will be a source of lasting comfort. May a life of happiness adorn your Royal Highness's administration of public affairs continues to be the prayer of your Royal Highness's affectionate and devoted servants.

Thomas Jones, Sheriff.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Address of the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the County of Cromarty.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and other Heritors of the County of Cromarty, most humbly presume to offer to your Royal Highness our sincerest condolence on the demise of Her late Majesty the Queen.

We, in common with the rest of His Majesty's subjects, have witnessed, with feelings of respectful admiration, the many virtues which adorned the conduct and character of Her late Majesty, and deplore as a great public calamity, the melancholy event which has deprived these kingdoms of a continuance of their exercise. We may venture to add, that the memory of Her late Majesty will long be cherished for the blessings diffused, and the example of excellence afforded, to every class of society by Her late Majesty.

We shall not presume to trespass longer on your Royal Highness's time than by our conviction, that amidst all the distress which the late mournful event has occasioned, your Royal Highness must have derived some consolation, at least, from the truly filial piety, and unremitting attention displayed by your Royal Highness, during the continuance of the deep affliction with which it pleased Divine Providence to visit Her late Majesty.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of His Majesty's loyal subjects the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Roxburgh.

Most Gracious Prince,

Most deeply do we lament that we should so soon be called upon again to address your Royal Highness with expressions of sorrow and condolence, in consequence of the late mournful event, with which it has pleased God to visit your Royal Highness and the nation at large.

The uniform propriety and dignity of Her late Majesty's public conduct, her faithful discharge of every parental and conjugal duty, will fix her memory in the hearts of a grateful people and transmit to posterity a pattern worthy of imitation in every condition of life.

While we deplore the national loss, we cannot but be gratified by many happy recollections which have occurred to us in reviewing Her Majesty's conduct and character. Her Majesty's unspotted life was crowned with honourable old age; her latter days were gladdened by the re-establishment of universal peace, and the revival of national prosperity. When laid on the bed of sickness, she experienced the most tender and assiduous attention from the dearest objects of her affection. She was enabled to maintain composure of mind, and exercise pious resignation under the severe and protracted anguish with which she was afflicted.

That your Royal Highness may, on this mournful occasion, feel that consolation which arises from the consciousness of having so eminently exhibited an example of filial affection and duty, and that your Royal Highness may long survive to be the successful guardian of the religion, liberty, and peace of the British empire, is the prayer of us His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, assembled at Jedburgh this 17th day of December 1818.

Lothian, President.

REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Burgesses of the Borough of Newport, in the Isle of Wight, in the County of Southampton, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our expressions of deep and unfeigned regret on the melancholy event which has deprived your Royal Highness of your august and illustrious Parent, whose memory must always be held dear by all His Majesty's loyal subjects, and whose example of every public and private virtue must ever remain a pattern of every female excellence.

In offering our tribute of condolence to your Royal Highness, permit us to add our sincere admiration of the filial piety and resignation shewn by your Royal Highness on this afflictive event, and humbly to hope that your Royal Highness may long continue to reign in the hearts and affections of a free and loyal people.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall of and within the said Borough, this 12th day of December 1818.

REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of New Romney, in the County of Kent, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to offer our condolence to your Royal Highness on the loss which your Royal Highness and your illustrious Family have sustained by the decease of Her late Most Gracious Majesty.

Impressed with a just value of the many and eminent virtues which graced your Royal Parent, we deeply sympathize in your Royal Highness's grief on this melancholy occasion, and earnestly pray that your Royal Highness may derive consolation in the reflection that the splendid example of piety and virtue displayed by Her late Majesty has secured the esteem and affection of all His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects.

Given under the seal of the Mayor, Jurats, and Commonalty of the Town and Port of New Romney, this 18th day of December in the year of our Lord 1818.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness

WE, the Aldermen, Common Council, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Ruthin, feelingly impressed with sentiments of the firmest loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness's person, sentiments too sincere to be disguised, and too deeply rooted, we trust, ever to be eradicated, humbly entreat your Royal Highness to accept the unfeigned expression of our condolence on the demise of our Most Gracious Queen, whose memory will be held in reverence and esteem so long as a brilliant pattern of virtue will claim our admiration and applause.

We beg leave respectfully to assure your Royal Highness that we have not been unconcerned spectators of that filial and continued attention so eminently displayed by your Royal Highness to Her late Majesty, during a long and protracted illness, thereby not only dispensing solace and comfort to your Royal Parent, but holding out a forcible example, worthy of the imitation of those who, in the various spheres of life, may be called upon to perform a duty which the finest feelings of our nature so strongly dictate. We should, however, but feebly testify the feelings by which we are actuated on the present occasion, did we not express our high admiration of those inestimable qualities which so conspicuously characterized the object of our condolence, by the assiduous, unwearied, and affectionate attention invariably displayed by Her late Majesty towards our Most Gracious and beloved Sovereign during an unexampled season of trial and affliction.

We cannot, in conclusion, refrain from cherishing an ardent hope, that Providence may continue to replenish your Royal Highness's mind with that fortitude and resignation which have materially contributed to alleviate and support it on so many and trying occasions, and that the same providential care may long, very long, preserve your Royal Highness's valuable life to a loyal, grateful, sympathizing people.

Signed, on behalf of the meeting,

Rob. Nicholls, Robt. Williams, Aldermen.

To His Royal Highness George Augustus,
PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and vicinity of Wakefield, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of sincere condolence, on the severe loss your Royal Highness has recently sustained by the lamented death of Her late Majesty, our Gracious Queen Charlotte.

For more than half a century has she been endeared to her Family by her affectionate tenderness, and to the nation by mild and dignified conduct. The termination therefore of so exemplary and valuable a life, though from the afflictive Dispensations of Providence for some time expected, must necessarily veil both your Royal Highness's illustrious Family, and the whole nation in the deepest sorrow.

With the expression of this heartfelt sorrow, we now dutifully approach your Royal Highness, assuring you of our ardent attachment to the illustrious House of Brunswick, and its establishment on the British Throne: we also offer up our warm and earnest prayers to the Supreme Disposer of all Events, that he would continue to extend to your Royal Highness his powerful protection, impart to you effectual consolation under your present grievous affliction, and long preserve you, to bless this United Kingdom, by your mild and beneficent superintendence over the affairs of a great, loyal, and affectionate people.

Thomas Johnson, Chairman.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Corporation, Clergy, Gentry, and others, the loyal Inhabitants of Pontefract, respectfully crave permission to lay at the foot of your Throne, this our humble mite of condolence and unaffected sympathy on the death of your Royal Highness's august Mother, our late Most Excellent Queen.

In the retrospect of unparalleled occurrences that have marked Her late Majesty's long, arduous, and eventful reign, gratitude for the distinguished blessings we have enjoyed under the fostering influence of her public life, is the first sentiment of our hearts. When the private and domestic virtues come under our review, they fail not to excite in us the most lively feelings of veneration and esteem. Sorrow and suffering have been largely dealt out to Her Majesty; and through the painful and protracted approaches of death, that religious fortitude and pious resignation to the Divine Will, which had uniformly governed her course in life, were fully exemplified; when an inscrutable Providence permitted the last scene to close.

To your Royal Highness's filial affection, devolved a sacred duty; from whence, by your tender, exemplary, and incessant attention, must flow a never failing source of satisfaction, under trials and afflictions so severe, while a paramount consolation, most gracious Prince, glows in the reflection. Those solemn scenes point to that better world, where the crown becomes immortal, and its most glorious appendages know no decay.

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and County of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and most dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and County of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, intreat your Royal Highness's permission humbly to place before the notice of your Royal Highness our expression of sincere condolence, and to deplore the demise of your Royal Highness's illustrious Mother, our late Gracious Queen, with sentiments of the deepest regret.

But we beg leave to observe to your Royal Highness, with the most profound respect, that as we have procured for ourselves in the depth of that general sorrow, in which Her Majesty's decease involved the British empire, some portion of relief, by adverting to the intrinsic excellence of Her late Majesty's character; so we are most earnest to hope that your Royal Highness may, in your present inexpressible affliction, be substantially consoled by your Royal Highness's recollection of the moral tenor of Her Majesty's life, and her habitual exercise of religion: and from the gratifying consciousness that all those reverential and affectionate offices, due to parents from filial piety, had been fulfilled by your Royal Highness with the most prompt and unabating diligence.

Sensible as we are how much Her Majesty was illustrated by every part of her conduct, as the purest and most eminent example of female virtue, it is our fervent prayer that the edifying influence of so good an example may descend to posterity, and conduce to the perpetual diffusion of those praiseworthy principles upon which the foundation rests of public and private happiness.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of Kingston-upon-Hull.

Most Gracious Prince,

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of Kingston-upon-Hull, presume to approach your Royal Highness with our most sincere condolence on the domestic affliction your Royal Highness has sustained by the death of Her late Majesty the Queen.

We cannot contemplate this event without recollecting the many peculiar excellencies which adorned her character; and the influence Her Majesty's example has had upon the religious and moral conduct of the people.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Heritors and other Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Kelso.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and affectionate subjects, the Heritors and other Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Kelso, deeply penetrated with the sorrowful event which leads our fellow subjects with condolence to the Throne, beg leave to express the sympathy we feel on this afflicting occasion.

Impressed with the warmest sentiments of veneration and gratitude towards Her deceased Majesty, who, during the long series of years that she blessed this country with her presence, gave the most ample demonstrations of her royal regard for piety and virtue, we pay this tribute of unaffected grief to the memory of a Queen, the Mother and the Friend of her people.

Whilst we submissively bow under the dispensation of Providence with which this land has been visited, we have abundant reason to acknowledge the goodness of Almighty God, for continuing, to this period, a life of such importance to the welfare of these kingdoms; enabling her subjects and children to be benefited by the bright example of her Christian graces and virtue, and the declining years and sorrows of our revered and beloved Sovereign cheered and alleviated by the care and affection of his illustrious Consort.

It has been a great source of consolation to us, also, to reflect that in addition to the blessed hope of an eternal reward promised to a well spent life, Her Majesty's sickness and dying moments were soothed and comforted by the pious and unceasing attention of your Royal Highness, and the other branches of her august Family.

That her illustrious descendants and relatives may, by Divine assistance, be sustained under their great and severe loss, and that the hearts of a free and loyal people, animated by gratitude for the enjoyment of so many blessings they have long experienced under the mild and paternal sway of the House of Brunswick, may make a due return, by a constant obedience to the laws, and by the most steady attachment and loyalty to His Majesty's Person and Government, is the fervent wish and prayer of the Heritors and other Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Kelso.

Signed, in our name and presence, and by our appointment, at Kelso, this 16th day of December 1818. Roxburghe.

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, Merchants, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Liverpool, entreat your Royal Highness's permission to offer our sincere condolence on the loss of Her late Most Gracious Majesty the Queen. Whilst we, in common with all His Majesty's subjects, participate in the grief which more immediately afflicts your Royal Highness and all the members of your august Family, we feel that we should not do justice to those virtues, which so eminently distinguished Her late Majesty, and which from her exalted station were the more calculated to influence the morals of the country, if we did not on this melancholy occasion express our sincere admiration of that illustrious example of female virtue which has for so long a period tended to the maintenance of moral and religious principles, so essential to our national prosperity and happiness.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Bishop and the Clergy of the Diocese of Gloucester.

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop and the Clergy of the Diocese of Gloucester, request permission to approach your Royal Highness with the expression of our unfeigned condolence upon the severe loss which your Royal Highness and the nation have sustained by the death of Her Majesty the Queen.

Deeply and cordially interested in all that can personally affect your Royal Highness and your august House, we should, under the impulse of such sentiments, have been most anxious to offer to your Royal Highness our humble share of sympathy in the anguish of separation from a Parent, who was no less endeared to her family by every valuable and amiable quality of domestic life, than by the ties of natural affection. But we feel in this case, and gladly obey, a still more direct claim of personal obligation, a still more urgent call for personal acknowledgments; and we seize this occasion of laying at the feet of your Royal Highness our feeble, but most sincere, tribute of grateful veneration for a character, which for more than half a century, by the silent but powerful influence of individual example, and by inflexible adherence to moral distinctions in the exercise of her controul over the intercourse of society, has pre-eminently contributed to raise and secure for this nation a greater assemblage of conjugal and maternal, of domestic and social virtue, than is perhaps to be found in any other country, under similar circumstances of extent and of trial. The nature of the benefit must be readily appreciated by every reflecting mind, and by every feeling heart. The amount can never be fully estimated in our times, nor, perhaps, till that day, when the moral history of individuals and of communities will be accurately and completely developed; and when conduct, like this which we have ventured to extol, will, if springing from religious principle, obtain, through Mercy, its just meed of approbation.

May the knowledge of this universal reverence and gratitude, and the recollection of these many virtues, soothe in due time the bitterness of filial regret; may your Royal Highness and every member of your illustrious Family receive those consolations, which religious prospects alone can supply; and may the whole body of His Majesty's subjects, especially that sex of which she was so bright an ornament, ever prove their remembrance of their departed Queen, by conformity to her views of moral rectitude, and by imitation of her example.

On behalf of himself and the Clergy of his Diocese, Henry, Bishop of Gloucester.

[Transmitted by Earl Bathurst, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of this United Kingdom.

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely.

SIR,

WE, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, humbly beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness the tribute of our sincere and heartfelt condolence on the lamented death of our Most Gracious Queen.

The exemplary practice of those numerous virtues which this country has witnessed for so long a series of years with admiration and gratitude, while it has been attended with the most beneficial effects to the community, cannot but greatly augment the deep and painful regret that we experience on so severe a loss, and must also, in no common degree, endear Her Majesty's memory to future generations.

While we thus participate in that sorrow which this melancholy event cannot fail to excite in your Royal Highness, we are at the same time deeply Impressed by that illustrious example of filial piety which has been exhibited by your Royal Highness on this distressing occasion; and we trust that the consciousness of having in so meritorious a manner discharged this important duty, will, with the aid derived from the principles of our holy Religion, afford your Royal Highness the best and only genuine consolation which so heavy a calamity can receive.

B. E. Ely

[Transmitted by the Bishop of Ely, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness with our most sincere condolence on the demise of Her late Most Gracious Majesty.

Such are the deep impressions made by eminent and well tried virtue, that, however long the blessing may have been indulged to us, however late in the course of nature may be its removal from us, the loss is still felt as premature.

One consolation, however, remains to us amidst so serious an affliction, Her Majesty's virtues are deeply treasured in the hearts of the religious and moral part of the nation; and she yet lives, and will live, in the remembrance and the imitation of her high and excellent example.

That your Royal Highness's life may be long spared to a nation, which has the satisfaction of seeing your virtues more and more developed on every great and trying occasion, is our sincere and earnest prayer.

Dated in our Chapter-House, at Westminster aforesaid, this 15th day of December, in the year of our Lord 1818, John Ireland, Dean.

[Transmitted by the Very Reverend John Ireland, Dean of Westminster, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, Inhabitants of the Town of Dudley beg leave, no less sincerely than humbly, to condole with your Royal Highness, on the recent mournful event which has deeply affected the generous heart of your Royal Highness, and cast a gloom over the loyal people, whom a favouring Providence has placed under the shadow of the British Throne. Accustomed to convey to that Throne the language of gratulation, on those memorable occasions which marked with glory the annals of the country, or which diffused gladness through your Royal House, we cannot suppress the voice of sorrow when affliction, visiting that House, demands our sympathetic concern. Especially to your Royal Highness is this Christian feeling due, whose filial piety (during the protracted illness of our beloved Sovereign and Her late Majesty) shining with conspicuous lustre, has furnished a bright example to every son and to every daughter in the empire, teaching them how to love and reverence those who gave them being.

May the evening-life of your Royal Highness's venerable Father be tranquil and happy! and, when the Crown of the Sire shall devolve to the Son, may he receive a Crown of Glory that fadeth not away.

Francis Downing, Mayor.

[Transmitted by Viscount Dudley and Ward, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of His Majesty's loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Proprietors of Land of the County of Kincairdine.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Proprietors of Land of the County of Kincairdine, in General Meeting assembled, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness to express our heartfelt sentiments of sympathy and condolence on the melancholy and much lamented event of the death of Her late Majesty, an event which has deprived the country of an exemplary Queen, her Family of an affectionate Wife and Mother, and mankind of an illustrious pattern of female propriety and virtue.

Amidst the deep feelings of sorrow which so great a loss has awakened throughout the nation, it is some consolation to think that the recollection of Her Majesty's virtues will long survive in the hearts of the people of this country, who, by cherishing her memory will perpetuate the salutary and most beneficial influence, which so high an example of moral excellence has spread from the centre to every extremity of the empire.

While we express our feelings of condolence on this afflicting occasion, we cannot refrain, at the same time, from declaring the strong sense which we, in common with the whole nation, entertain of the most exemplary conduct of your Royal Highness during Her Majesty's illness; conduct which displayed a splendid instance of filial piety, doing honour equally to both the Mother and the Son.

We humbly beg leave to avail ourselves of the present opportunity to renew our assurances of loyalty and attachment to your Royal Highness, and to the illustrious House of Brunswick.

Signed, in our name, and by our appointment, this 14th day of December 1818, by Robert William Duff, of Feteresso, Convener of the County, and Preses of the meeting.

Robert W. Duff, Preses.
