

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1819.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, have been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously :

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University and King's-College of Aberdeen.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University and King's-College of Aberdeen, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness on the present melancholy occasion to express our unfeigned sorrow at the severe loss which your Royal Highness, and the whole nation have sustained by the death of Her late Majesty the Queen, the illustrious Consort of our venerable Sovereign.

The eminent virtues and amiable qualities by which that illustrious Princess was distinguished have made her justly dear to the British nation; who will long fondly cherish the remembrance of the dignity with which she filled her highly elevated situation, and that exemplary conduct which for more than half a century tended in no ordinary degree to improve the morals of an admiring age.

While we humbly acquiesce in the appointments of Providence, we sincerely condole with your Royal Highness on this afflictive event which has removed from the nation the immediate influence of those virtues by which Her Majesty had so long and so effectually contributed to promote the public good.

That your Royal Highness on this mournful occasion may experience those consolations which religion never fails to afford, and which the pious fulfilment of every duty to a beloved Parent is so well calculated to bestow; and that your Royal Highness may live long in the hearts of a loyal, a virtuous, and a happy people, are the prayers of, may it please your Royal Highness, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal, and Professors of the University and King's-College of Aberdeen.

Gordon, Chancellor; Aberdeen, Rector; William Jack, Principal.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Aberdeen, K. T. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Unto His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, His Majesty most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of Lanarkshire, approach your Royal Highness with our sincere tribute of condolence on the much lamented death of Her august Majesty Queen Charlotte, your Royal Parent and our Most Gracious Queen.

When we contemplate the many blessings which in common with the rest of His Majesty's subjects have been enjoyed by us for the long period, during which Her Majesty filled her exalted station in these Realms, we cannot fail to attribute many of them to that virtuous and exemplary conduct which she uniformly supported—an example tending no less to the preservation of good morals than to the happiness of all ranks, while it contributed materially to the stability of the Throne. We beg leave, at the same time, humbly to express how sensibly we have been impressed by the eminent examples of filial duty and unremitting attentions displayed by your Royal Highness and the rest of the Royal Family, during Her Majesty's late protracted indisposition—attentions which must have proved not less soothing to the deceased, than they are honourable and consolatory to the living.

And while we thus offer our sincerest condolence on Her Majesty's death, we cannot omit sympathizing with the rest of the nation on the continued indisposition of our beloved Sovereign, and, at the same time, we beg to renew our assurance of our hearty attachment and unshaken loyalty to His Ma-