SATURDAY, MARCH 13, 1819.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, March 6, 1819.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday the 18th instant, at two o'clock.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, have been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Dunfermline.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Dunfermline, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness to express our undeviating attachment to your Royal Person and Government; and humbly to offer to your Royal Highness our sincere sympathy and condolence on the recent distressing dispensation with which it hath pleased the Divine Providence to afflict your Royal Highness and your august House, by the lamented decease of Her late Majesty our Most Gracious Sovereign the Queen.

Endeared to every class of her subjects, by the experience of more than half a century sedulously employed in the exercise of every public and private virtue, in the most amiable and tried conjugal affection, and faithful adherence to her Royal Consort, our venerable and beloved Sovereign the King (whose continued indisposition we sincerely lament), thereby exhibiting a bright example of every domestic virtue; and in her public conduct during the unparalleled period she presided at the British Court, displaying the strictest attention to correctness of character, and the most determined regard to moral and religious principle and practice, with a marked disapprobation of its reverse; we cannot but deplore a bereavement, which must be keenly felt, not only by your Royal Highness and your illustrious House, but by the nation at large.

Your Royal Highness has the consolation to reflect that on the part of your Royal Highness no filial duty has been omitted, no mark of affectionate attention neglected during the severe sufferings it was the will of Providence your Royal Mother should endure; an example of pious duty, which cannot fail to heighten the esteem and affection with which your Royal Highness is universally regarded.

That your Royal Highness may long continue to reign in the hearts of His Majesty's subjects, and that the measures of your Royal Highness's Government may always be directed, so as to promote the best interests of the United Kingdom, is our most earnest prayer.

Signed, in name, by appointment, and in presence of the Town Council, this 5th day of December 1818, and having the common seal of the Burgh hereto affixed, by

B. Wilson, Provost

[Transmitted by John Campbell, Esquire, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of your Royal Burgh of Queensferry.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Queensferry, in Council assembled, being deeply impressed with the irreparable loss sustained by the death of Her Majesty the Queen, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne to express our sentiments of affliction in that calamitous event.

We cannot reflect on the many virtues which adorned Her late Majesty, without being truly sensible that the loss sustained by the nation is great indeed.

We most unfeignedly sympathise in the distress of your Royal Highness on this melancholly occasion, and most sincerely offer to your Royal Highness the humble assurance of our heartfelt and dutiful condolence.

That the administration of your Royal Highness's Government may continue to establish the Throne in the hearts of His Majesty's subjects, and that the descendants of your illustrious House, forming themselves upon your example, may sway the sceptre of these realms with justice and renown to the latest posterity, are the earnest prayers of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Queensferry.

Signed, in our name and by our appointment, at Queensferry, the 16th day of December 1818 years, and the common seal of the Burgh hereto affixed.

Campbell Innes, Chief-Magistrate.

[Transmitted by John Campbell, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Norfolk.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Norfolk, beg leave to express to your Royal Highness our sentiments of sincere condolence on the demise of Her late Majesty.

We feel assured that we speak the sentiments of this great body of the people of these kingdoms, when we declare to your Royal Highness our conviction that the example of Her late Majesty during a long reign, has had a very important influence upon the morals and society of this country. The pre-eminent situation in which she was placed by Providence, rendered her actions and deportment a matter of universal attention, but the power and authority of that station were never abused to the encouragement of vice or irreligion. Distinguished herself for integrity and rectitude of conduct, she uniformly wished that the Court over which she presided should be conspicuous amongst those of Europe for propriety and decorum.

In confirmation of the general opinion which attributes to Her late Majesty a faithful discharge of the practical duties of life, we may be permitted here to advert to various acts of unostentatious charity and benevolence. Those who were partakers of them, and those whose duties placed them near Her Royal Person, bear ample testimony of this most amiable part of her character. Other parts of her conduct has been, from the situation which Her Majesty filled, more open to the observation of the country. The warmth of connubial affection has never been diminished during the long period of more than fifty years; the same personal attention was exhibited towards a venerable consort in the hour of affliction, which was shewn to him in the day of youth, prosperity, and health. It must have been a source of great satisfaction to your revered Parent to witness, during her protracted sufferings, the various proofs of regard and affection on the part of your Royal Highness and your illustrious relatives: with the sorrows of filial piety we deeply sympathize; at the same time we venture to suggest to your Royal Highness that some consolation may be derived from reflecting that the influence, conduct, and example of Her late Majesty will be long remembered, and continue to command the respect and esteem of a grateful country.

[Transmitted by Lord Suffield, Lord Lieutenant of the County, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]
