NOTICE is hereby given, that His Royal Highness the Prince Regent will hold a Levee at Carlton-House, on Thursday next the 3d of June, at two o'clock.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 28th of May 1819,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

THIS day the Right Honourable Charles Grant was, by command of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, sworn of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, and took his place at the Board accordingly.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 28th of May 1819,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-seventh year of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to continue and extend the provisions of an Act of His present Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the "Island of Mauritius;" His Majesty is authorised, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to give such directions, and to make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from all islands, colonies, or places, and the territories and dependencies thereof, to His Majesty belonging or in His possession, in Africa, or Asia to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope (excepting only the possessions of the East India Company), as to His Majesty, in Council, shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing contained in an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of His Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled "An Act for the encouraging and increasing of shipping and navigation," or in an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for preventing frauds, and regulating abuses in the plantation trade," or any other Act or Acts of Parliament now in force, relating to His Majesty's colonies and plantations, or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, law, usage or custom to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the date of this present Order, British vessels arriving at any port of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, from any country in amity with His Majesty, laden with any articles of the growth, production, or manufacture of such country (excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture), shall be permitted to enter and land their cargoes, and dispose of the same in the said ports, subject to such duties as may be payable thereon :

And it is further ordered, that every such British vessel, arriving as aforesaid, shall be permitted to export to any such foreign country in amity with His Majesty, a cargo consisting of any articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there, on payment of such duties as may be payable thereon :

And it is hereby further ordered, that vessels belonging to the subjects of any foreign state in amity with His Majesty, which foreign state shall allow British vessels to carry on trade as aforesaid between the ports of such state and the Island of Mauritius, on the same terms as in vessels of such foreign state, shall be permitted in like manner to import into the ports of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, from any port of the country to which such vessel shall belong, any articles of the growth, production, or manufacture of such country (excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture), and to dispose of the same in the ports of the said Island and its dependencies, on payment of the same duties as shall be payable on the like articles when imported from such foreign port in British vessels; and that every such foreign vessel shall be permitted to export a cargo consisting of any articles of the growth, produce, or manufacture of the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there, on payment of the same duties as shall be payable on similar articles when exported to such foreign ports in British vessels :

It is, however, hereby further ordered and declared, that no foreign vessel, allowed by the terms of this Order to export a cargo from the Island of Mauritius, or its dependencies, shall be permitted to export such cargo to any of His Majesty's possessions, or to any other place than a port or place belonging to the state or power to which the vessel itself shall belong :

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

Jas. Buller.

AT the Court at Carlton-House, the 28th of May 1819,

PRESENT,

His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by the Order of His Royal Highness the Prince Regent in Council of the thirty-first of October last, for prohibiting the exportation of gunpowder, arms, or ammunition, to the places therein specified, will expire on the thirtieth day of this instant May; and whereas it is expedient, that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer; His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, doth, therefore, hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the thirtieth of this instant May), presume to transport any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gunpowder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa, or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of salt-petre, and to enforce the law for empowering His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His “ Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council:”

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain. Jas. Buller.

Whitehall, May 26, 1819.

THE following Addresses of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland having been transmitted by George Earl of Morton, Knight of the Most Ancient Order of the Thistle, His Majesty's Commissioner, to the Right Honourable Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been by him presented to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, which Addresses His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

May it please your Royal Highness,

THE very gracious letter with which your Royal Highness, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, has been pleased to honour this meeting of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, has been received with the respect and gratitude due to such a renewed proof of your Royal favour.

The assurance of your Royal Highness's paternal regard and disposition to support us in those measures by which we strive to promote the religious and moral improvement of the people under our charge, is a most powerful encouragement to persevere in the faithful discharge of our duty.— We receive your gracious approbation of our zeal for the advancement of religion and literature, as a gratifying recompence of our past labours, and feel your confidence in the success of our future exertions a motive for redoubling our diligence in time to come.

Bending in profound veneration to the Will of that Great Being, whose counsels are unsearchable, we sympathize deeply in the successive afflictions of your Royal House. In tendering the expression of our unfeigned condolence to your Royal Highness on the lamented death of Her Majesty the late Queen, we desire to remember, with gratitude to Heaven, how long she was spared for a blessing to these lands, and earnestly pray, that the excellent example which she set of genuine piety, domestic virtue, and enlightened zeal for the moral interests of the community, may never be forgotten.

The appointment of the Earl of Morton to represent His Majesty's person in this Assembly is to us a fresh token of your fatherly care and regard. The attachment of his noble ancestors to the liberties of their country and principles of the Church of Scotland, his own high and exemplary character, the dignified situations which he has filled, and his well known zeal for the maintenance of the British Constitution, render the choice which your Highness has made most acceptable to us, and induce us, from esteem, as well as a sense of duty, to receive him with all the respect and consideration due to the important office with which he is invested.

The assurance that your Royal Highness has not abandoned your wise and benevolent intention of affording aid for the supply of adequate places of worship for the religiously disposed inhabitants of those parishes, which from their extent and population stand in need of such assistance, confirms our reliance on the affectionate interest which your Royal Highness takes in the prosperity of our Church; and from the fulfilment of that intention (which we trust will not be long delayed), we anticipate the happiest consequences to a large portion of our fellow subjects.

The increase in the number of crimes to which your Royal Highness calls our attention, has not by any means escaped our notice. We trust and pray that the prevalence of this evil may be of short duration, and that the measures which your Royal Highness proposes to take for arresting its progress may be crowned by Divine Providence with complete success; and we pledge ourselves to your Royal Highness that before we separate we shall adopt every means in our power to co-operate with these measures.

We thankfully acknowledge the wisdom and watchful care of your Royal Highness in exhorting us to that most sacred and important branch of our duty, which consists in instructing the ignorant and reclaiming the obdurate, especially when suffering under the consequences of their crimes. Permit us to assure your Royal Highness that our best exertions, as a body, and as individuals, shall not be wanting to impress on every mind to which our influence extends, the necessity of religious principle as the foundation, and of respectful submission to the laws and institutions of their country, as the means of personal and social happiness.

It affords us the most lively pleasure that your Royal Highness has been pleased to recommend our continuing the watchful superintendance which we have been accustomed to exercise over the education of youth. The general diffusion of useful knowledge among the inferior orders of society has been long the pride and honour of Scotland, and our experience of its beneficial effects, determines us to employ every means in our power to extend the benefits of instruction to all classes of persons under our care, and we rejoice in the prospect of these benefits being more generally extended not only throughout the British empire but over the whole world.

We are animated in the discharge of these, and all other duties, by the repeated assurance which your Royal Highness has condescended to give of your steadfast purpose and determination to maintain inviolate the rights and privileges of our established Church. Attached by every principle of loyalty and feeling of gratitude to the Royal House of Brunswick, we rely, in perfect security, on the protection and countenance of a Prince of that illustrious line, who, in exciting us to our duty, shews that the faithful discharge of it is the surest recommendation to his favour.

That the Father of Mercies may vouchsafe to bless His Majesty the King with that heavenly support and consolation which He alone can bestow; that He may watch over the person, prolong the days, and bless the administration of your Royal Highness, that you may behold the increasing prosperity of a loyal and affectionate people, and be honoured as the instrument of Divine Providence for their good, and that after long ruling in righteousness and judgment, you may receive the recompence of a heavenly crown, are the prayers of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most faithful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of this General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed, in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

Duncan Macfarlan, Moderator.
Edinburgh, May 22, 1819.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders, met in this General Assembly of the Church of Scotland, embrace the opportunity afforded by the return of our annual meeting of conveying to your Royal Highness the renewed assurances of our respect and affection to His Majesty's Person and Family.

While we deeply deplore His Majesty's long seclusion, by a severe and protracted malady, from the personal exercise of the functions appropriate to that high station which he constitutionally holds in the Government of these realms, we offer to your Royal Highness the expressions of our respectful condolence on the great loss which your Royal Highness, the Royal Family, and the empire at large have sustained in the lamented death of Her late Majesty the Queen, who continued to share the affections of our beloved Sovereign, and to form the principal solace of his life for a long series of years. The amiable manner in which she discharged the various conjugal and maternal duties rendered Her Majesty's character a shining example to her sex throughout the empire; while her diffusive but unostentatious beneficence, a beneficence discovered to its full extent, chiefly by the regrets and tears of those who had been accustomed to partake of it, cannot fail to give to the memory of our late excellent Queen an endearing interest. That decided and conspicuous regard to the interests of religion and virtue, manifested both by her example and support, not only gave to the British Court a peculiar and dignified pre-eminence, but diffused its salutary influence in a widely extended sphere. These recollections must render it difficult to appreciate the full extent of the loss sustained by Her Majesty's death, and will dispose the wise and good long to cherish her memory with affectionate veneration. We are called by this dispensation of Providence to bow with submission before the Throne of the Almighty. It is our sincere and earnest prayer that in the recollection and imitation of the various excellencies that adorned the character of the late Queen, her illustrious descendants, and all ranks in the community, may express their respect for her memory, and find consolation under the irreparable loss occasioned by her death.

That it may please Almighty God, the Father of Mercies, to bless His Majesty, and impart to him all that consolation and relief of which his condition is susceptible; that the King of Kings may vouchsafe to your Royal Highness every blessing temporal and spiritual, and render your administration effectual, according to your Royal Highness's benevolent wishes, for promoting the virtue and happiness of your people, and the general prosperity of the empire; that He may distinguish by his favour all the members of the Royal Family, and that the Crown of these Realms may be transmitted in a succession of Princes of your Royal Highness's House to the latest generation, are the sincere and earnest prayers of, may it please your Royal Highness, His Majesty's most faithful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of this General Assembly of the Church of Scotland.

Signed, in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

Duncan Macfarlan, Moderator.
Edinburgh, May 22, 1819.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Earl Bathurst, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been presented by His Lordship to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The joint Address of His Excellency the Right Honourable George Earl of Dalhousie, Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief in and over His Majesty's Province of Nova Scotia and its Dependencies; of the Honourable His Majesty's Council, and the House of Assembly in their several legislative capacities now sitting at Halifax.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Lieutenant-Governor, Council, and House of Assembly, now convened in General Assembly, beg leave to approach your sacred Person with the deepest sense of the irreparable loss which the nation has sustained by the death of Her late Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, and we most sincerely condole with your Royal Highness and your illustrious Family on this melancholy occasion.

The scrupulous and conscientious manner in which your Royal Mother during her long reign fulfilled every public and private duty, was universally known and acknowledged by all descriptions of His Majesty's subjects throughout every part of the British empire, and the influence of her bright and virtuous example will be felt to the latest posterity.

The people of this province who have been distinguished by so many signal marks of especial favour and royal munificence, and who have, since the first settlement of the colony, experienced the continued support and encouragement of our good and venerable Sovereign, can never be so unmindful of their duty and obligations as not to retain the most lively impression of gratitude, and on all occasions to testify the warmest attachment to your Royal Highness and every branch of your illustrious Family, under whose mild and paternal government we have lived happy and free.

In this time of general mourning and distress, we receive great consolation when we reflect that it has pleased God to prolong Her Majesty's reign, until she had the happiness to see the British empire elevated to a height of glory and renown, such as no other nation ever attained, and with this she enjoyed the great additional blessing of seeing your Royal Highness, in His Majesty's name and on his behalf, by wisely and firmly pursuing his measures, finally accomplish the restoration of all nations to their just rights, and under the direction of Divine Providence establish a solid and universal peace throughout Europe.

While Her late Majesty was thus enjoying in this world the high reward of a long and exemplary life it pleased the Almighty to separate her from her people.

This awful event she met with pious resignation, leaving this life while surrounded with her children, and receiving from them every mark of the tenderest affection, accompanied to the last moment with the most dutiful and unwearied attention. These reflections we rest assured will afford to your Royal Highness real comfort and consolation.

His Majesty's people in this colony, after seeing the bonds of civil society shaken to the foundation, and almost all legitimate Governments overthrown, view with grateful hearts the restoration of good order, peace, and national prosperity, and we beg with all humility to add our earnest and faithful assurance to your Royal Highness, that we shall always preserve the truest sentiments of allegiance, fidelity, and affection to the sacred Person of His Majesty, and united in principles of loyal regard for every branch of the Royal Family, we will invariably persevere in the most dutiful attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

Dalhousie, Lieutenant-Governor, &c. &c.;
V. V. Blowers, President of the Council;
and S. B. Robie, Speaker of the Assembly

To His Royal Highness George Prince of Wales,
REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

The joint and humble Address of the Council and House of Assembly of the Province of New Brunswick, in General Assembly convened.

May it please your Royal Highness,

THE Council and House of Assembly of His Majesty's loyal and affectionate Province of New Brunswick, penetrated with the deepest sense of the loss which has been sustained in every part of His Majesty's extended dominions, by the death of the august Parent of your Royal Highness, our late Most Gracious Queen, beg leave most humbly and respectfully to lay at the feet of your Royal Highness the sincere expressions of their profound grief upon this most sorrowful occasion.

Selected at an early period of her life by our most venerable and beloved Sovereign to participate in the splendour of his Throne, and in the glories of his reign, Her Majesty at once evinced to the nation and to the world the wisdom of his choice, and by an example most eminently conspicuous for the display of all those qualities that endear and adorn the female character in public or private life, continued through a long and an invaluable reign, to reflect back upon her exalted situation, an ample portion of that renown which had been derived to her from her elevation to the Throne.

In addition to all the sources of affliction and regret with which this calamitous event has filled the minds of all His Majesty's faithful subjects, your Royal Highness must feel the poignant sensations of filial sorrow, which on this occasion excite the sincere sympathy and unaffected condolence of the Council and Assembly, who now beg leave most respectfully to solicit indulgence for their participation in the hallowed grief of your Royal Highness.

In the discharge of this mournful duty, it is a high source of consolation to the Council and Assembly to reflect that Her Majesty was so late called to the enjoyment of the rewards of a well spent life, that the united example and virtues which have distinguished the British diadem since the accession of the august Parents of your Royal Highness to the Throne of these realms, have stamped the moral character of the age in which we live; and there is so much reason to hope for a permanent continuance of the salutary influence of those blessings under the benign auspices of the Government of your Royal Highness.

the Council; W. Bots Ford, Speaker.

Fredericton, New Brunswick,
8th March 1819.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Inhabitants of Prince Edward Island, North America.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of Prince Edward Island, beg leave to express our deep condolence on the recent melancholy event which has taken place, the death of Her Majesty the Queen, whose inestimable character, and exalted virtues, have rendered her, if not a pattern of perfection to her sex, at least the best example which they can imitate, the remembrance of which must long remain engraven upon the hearts of all His Majesty's subjects.

We beseech your Royal Highness to accept our continued assurances of devotion and unalterable attachment to His Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

James Jackson, High Sheriff and Chairman.
Charlotte-Town, 27th March 1819.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the President and Most Illustrious Senate of the Ionian Islands.

WE, His Highness the President and the Most Illustrious Senate of the United States of the Ionian Islands, entreat your Royal Highness to deign to accept this testimony of our lively grief for the death of Her late Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and your august Mother.

This irreparable loss, which has befallen your Royal Highness, the Royal Family, and the whole British nation, and which will long be the cause of regret by every one of His Majesty's subjects, who feels in his breast one spark of loyalty, could not fail to excite the same affliction in the hearts of the Ionian people, attached in an indissoluble manner to the protecting Sovereign by the bonds of submission and gratitude.

These are the humble sentiments of the people happily placed under your protection, now assembled to discharge this tribute of respect and attachment towards the best of Princes.

Corfu, March 12, 1819.

To His Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The humble Address of the Legislative Assembly of the Ionian Islands.

May it please your Royal Highness,

At the opening of the Parliament of the United States of the Ionian Islands, the Legislative Assembly considers it its first and most sacred duty unanimously to express to your Royal Highness, our Protecting Sovereign, the deep sorrow of the devoted Ionian people on the occasion of the lamented death of the Queen Consort of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Connected with the British Throne by the most pleasing and indissoluble ties, we venture to lay this Address of Condolence at the feet of your Royal Highness; and we shall seek comfort in our affliction from the combination of those eminent virtues which will preserve the memory of this illustrious Queen for ever.

In the midst of our grief, however, we breathe the most fervent wishes for the health and prosperity of your Royal Highness, and all the Royal Family; we reverence the British Throne, its glory and its splendour are the object of our deepest solicitude; from it is derived our regeneration, and the constant progressive welfare of our country.

(Signed) Marino Veja, President of the Legislative Assembly.
