Warsaw, Aug.

THere passes very little in these parts worth the communicating. The King of Poland continues at Jawarow, without any appearance of his sudden returning hither. The Turks are very quiet on our Frontiers, and we have great reason to hope that the Peace we have with them will remain undisturbed, for according to the best Advices we receive, the Turks, if they enter into a War, will turn their Arms towards Hungary. We have Letters from Moscow, which confirm that the Czar Iohn had caused his younger Brother Peter to be kill'd.

Venice, Aug. 3. Our last Letters from Rome informed us, that on the sixth instant, the Congregation, appointed by the Pope to consider of the differences between him and France, and to give their advice thereupon, were to meet, but that it was not known whether the intention of their meeting was to dispose things to an Accommodation or otherwise. There are advices from Constantinople, which speak as if there was more likelihood of a War then of a Prolongation of the Peace between the Grand Signior and the Emperor; and say, that the Grand Vizier had told Count Caprara the Imperial Minister, That the Grand Signior expected, if he Renewed the Peace, to have Javarin Gomorra, and Zahmar yielded to him by the Emperor, &c.

Genova, Aug. 12. The ninth Instant arrived here the Italian-Merchant, from Libonne, Spain, and Marseilles; and yesterday the Great Alexander, a Ship of 50 Guns, in two days from Legborne, to Lade for Spain. The Concord Sailed the eighth, for Legborne.

Berlin, Aug. 11. Here is an Envoy from the Kaim of Tartary, who in a day or two is to have his Audience of his Electoral Highness; we know not his business, but suppose it to be of no great moment. Our Elector is sending an Envoy to Sweden, and has already sent to several Princes of the Empire, to perswade them to accept of the French Proposals, and to make a firm and lasting Peace with that Crown, which his Electoral Highness thinks the more necessary at this time, because of the motions of the Turks in Hungary, and the ground there is to apprehend a War on that side. It was said, That his Electoral Highness intended to remove, with his whole Court, to Coningsberg in Prussia, but at present we hear no more of it.

Francfort, Aug. 21. The French Ministers are very active at the Courts of several Princes of Germany, to perswade them to accept of the Terms offered by his most Christian Majesty for the establishing a firm and lasting Peace between the Empire and the Crown of France; and at some they have had the success they desired. There are Letters from Vienna which say, That Count Mansfeldt's Journey for Spain has been put off for some time, and that the Emperor had ordered him to go for France, and to make some stay there, which gave occasion to believe that a Negotiation would be set on foot between the Emperor and the most Christian King. There is a Report likewise, That the French offer to part with Friburg, and Brisac, upon condition that what they have possessed themselves of since the Peace of Nimeguen, may be yielded to them, but what credit it deserves we cannot yet say.

Cologne, Aug. 21. The Baron d'Orsbeck, eldest Brother to the Elector of Trier, died suddenly on Saturday last at Kerlub, near Coblentz, which has extremely afflicted his Electoral Highness. We have advice by the way of Trier, That the Marquis de Lambert was going to quit, with the Troops under his Command, the Province of Luxemburg, but that it was not yet known whether the French would likewise quit Arlon and Marche. On Saturday last passed through Trier a French Courier, in his way to Francfort, who at Coblentz delivered a Letter from the French King to that Elector. Our Letters from Vienna continue to give an account of the ill posture of affairs in Hungary, where the Rebels encrease in strength, and promise themselves great assistances from the Turks.

Brussels, Aug. 24. His Excellency the Marquis de Grana is, as we told you in our last, gone to Mons, where he will dispatch the Spanish Courier, and on Thursday his Excellency will be at Aeth, and on Saturday back here. The next Week his Excellency goes again for Flanders, to change the Magistrates at Bruges, and having done that, will visit Ostend and Newport. We are told that in the late Review, made by his Excellencies order in the several Provinces, an account was taken of about 3500 Horse and Dragoons, and between thirteen, and fourteen thousand Foot, which his Excellency will encrease to a greater number, according as he is able to provide a Fond for their maintenance; and in the mean time, to ease the Country, his Excellency has Commanded all the Governors of Places not to receive any Presents from the Country people that live within the Precincts of their Garisons, which heretofore they have been used to make to the Governors, for keeping them from being troubled by their Soldiers. His Excellency has likewise declared, That he will change the Garisons every three Months, which the Officers are not at all pleased at. The affairs of Hungary go very ill.

Marseilles, Aug. 18. At Thoulon is arrived a French Tartane from the Coast of Barbary, which brings an account, that the Sieur du Quesne had batter'd a small Sea-port Town, called Sarselle, about 12 Leagues distant from Argiers, had with his Cannon quite demolished a Fort they had on the Seaside, and had burnt a small Algerine that was there in Port, and that the French lost in this action between 30 and 40 Men. It is also reported, That two days after, the Sieur du Quesne met with a Dutch Ship of about 40 Guns, bound for Argiers, with Powder, Shot, 20 Brass-guns, &c. and had seized her.

Paris, Aug. 26. There are Letters from the Sieur du Quesne, Lieutenant-General of our Kings Fleets, Daed the 27th past, before Argiers, which give an account, That on the 12th of July he sailed from Tboulon, with four Men of War, two Fireships, five Barks, and two Fluytes; That the 16th he arrived at Barcelona, the 17th at Majorca, and the 18th at Ivica, where 15 of the Kings Gallies joyned him; That the 19th he came to Anchor near the Isle of Formentera; That he parted from thence again the 20th, and arrived the day following on the Coast of Barbary, between Argiers and Sarselle; That the 22 he stood for Argiers, and the 23 came to an Anchor in the Bay, where he found six of the Kings Ships, and five Gallies, who arrived there five days before, under the Command of the Chevalier de Chateau-Renault; That in their way thither the Gallies took a Vessel, bound with Provisions from Alexandria to Argiers; That the same day the Sieur du Quesne arrived in the Bay of Argiers, a French Slave, who made his Escape, and Swam on Board, gave advice that a small Algerine Man of War, and a Bark was arrived at Sarselle, upon which the Sieur du Quesne resolved to go and burn them. For which purpose he sailed the 25th from the Bay of Argiers for Sarselle, which is a small Town, about threecore French Miles to the Westward of Argiers, situate on a Hill, and encompassed with a strong Tower, having two Towers towards the Sea, with 11 Pieces of Cannon Planted in each, besides four more Planted on a Point of Land. The Sieur du Quesne being come near, began to batter the place, and continued so to do till sun-set, making between five and six thousand Shot, which quite Demolished one of the Forts, dismounted all their Guns, save one or two, beat down many houses, and killed several persons ashore. In the night the Sieur du Quesne sent his Chalops to set Fire to the Algerine and the Bark, which they did, and Burnt them; after which, the Sieur du Quesne returned before Argiers, having lost about 20 Men in the Action. We have Letters from Constantinople of the 12th of June, which tell us, That the Sieur de Guibragues, our Kings Ambassador there, had finally composed the matter concerning the action at Scio, having made a present of Femels to the Grand Signior, and the French Merchants giving besides a considerable Sum of Money. According to our last advices from Turin, the Duke of Savoy had still his Fever, and was very ill.

Paris, Aug. 26. The Publick Rejoycings for the Birth of the Duke of Burgundy, do not yet cease. Yesterday being the Feast of St. Louis, the Watermen gave the Dauphin the Divertissement of an Ancient Game they have among them of Catching at the Goose; and at night there were very fine Fireworks on the Water before the Galleries of the Louvre, which were lightened by several Thousand Lamps, and made a very agreeable sight. The Dauphin saw these Divertissements from the Terraces of the Duke of Cregui's House, and was afterwards Entertained by the said Duke with a very Splendid Collation. Yesterday arrived here the Earl of Feversham and Mr. Grabam, sent by His Majesty of Great Britain and his Royal Highness, to Complement the most Christian King, the Dauphin, &c. upon the Birth of the Duke of Burgundy. The King is sending a very Rich Present to the Great Mogul.

We the Sheriff, and Justices of Peace upon the Bench, of the County of Nottingham, do unanimously Concur with the Grand Jury in this Address.
