SATURDAY, AUGUST 14, 1819.

By His Royal Highness the PRINCE of WALES, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, in the Name and on the Behalf of His Majesty,

A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE. P. R.

WHEREAS in divers parts of Great Britain, meetings of large numbers of His Majesty's subjects have been held upon the requisition of persons who, or some of whom, have, together with others, by seditious and treasonable speeches addressed to the persons assembled, endeavoured to bring into hatred and contempt the Government and Constitution established in this realm, and particularly the Commons House of Parliament, and to excite disobedience to the laws and insurrection against His Majesty's authority:

And whereas it hath been represented unto Us, that at one of such meetings the persons there assembled, in gross violation of the law, did attempt to constitute and appoint, and did, as much as in them lay, constitute and appoint a person then nominated, to sit in their name and on their behalf in the Commons House of Parliament; and there is reason to believe that other meetings are about to be held for the like unlawful purpose:

And whereas many wicked and seditious writings have been printed, published, and industriously circulated, tending to promote the several purposes aforesaid, and to raise groundless jealousies and discontents in the minds of His Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects:

And whereas We have been further given to understand, that, with a view of the better enabling themselves to carry into effect the wicked purposes aforesaid, in some parts of the kingdom, men, clandestinely and unlawfully assembled, have practised military training and exercise:

And whereas the welfare and happiness of this Kingdom do, under Divine Providence, chiefly depend upon a due submission to the laws, a just reliance on the integrity and wisdom of Parliament, and a steady perseverance in that attachment to the Government and Constitution of the Realm, which has ever prevailed in the minds of the people thereof; and whereas there is nothing which We so earnestly wish as to preserve the public peace and prosperity, and to secure to all His Majesty's liege subjects the entire enjoyment of their rights and liberties:

We, therefore, being resolved to repress the wicked, seditious, and treasonable practices aforesaid, have thought fit, in the name and on the behalf of His Majesty, and by and with the advice of His Majesty's Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation, solemnly warning all His Majesty's liege subjects to guard against every attempt to overthrow the law, and to subvert the Government so happily established within this Realm, and to abstain from every measure inconsistent with the peace and good order of society, and earnestly exhorting them at all times, and to the utmost of their power, to avoid and discountenance all proceedings tending to produce the evil effects above described:

And We do strictly enjoin all His Majesty's loving subjects to forbear from the practice of all such military training and exercise as aforesaid, as they shall answer the contrary thereof at their peril.

And We do charge and command all Sheriffs, Justices of the Peace, Chief Magistrates of Cities, Boroughs, and Corporations, and all other Magistrates throughout Great Britain, that they do, within their respective jurisdictions, make diligent enquiry in order to discover and bring to justice the authors and printers of such wicked and seditious writings as aforesaid, and all who shall circulate the same; and that they do use their best endeavours to bring to justice all persons who have been or may be guilty of uttering seditious speeches and harangues, and all persons concerned in any riots or unlawful assemblies, which, on whatever pretext they may be grounded, are not only contrary to law but dangerous to the most important interests of the kingdom.

Given at the Court at Carlton-House, this thirtieth day of July one thousand eight hundred and nineteen, and in the fifty-ninth year of His Majesty's reign.

GOD save the KING.

Whereas, William Theodorus Van Immerseel, when living, Apothecary, who died in the Town of Antwerp, at his house, in Lombard-Street, section the third, No. 825, on the 27th day of September 1818, did, by his testament and last-will, received and taken by Mr. Francis Josephus Vandael, Notary Royal, in the presence of witnesses, in Antwerp aforesaid, on the 9th of September 1818, registered on the 29th of the same month, among other things dispose, in the Flemish language, as follows, by translation into English:

“ And now coming to the disposal of all and every one of my other goods and chattels, none excepted or reserved, on the whole of them, deducting all costs, incumbrances, and debts of my succession, I give them over, leave, and bequeath in full property to my brother Charles Van Immerseel, now absent, and on his default, or his being previously dead, to his children and progeny lawfully begotten by branches and representation, and in case of default or decease of my said brother without any lawful heir, in that case I give, leave, and bequeath, also in full property, one moiety of all my said goods and chattels to my nearest kindred and heirs, ab intestate, on the fatherly side, and the other moiety to my nearest kindred and heirs, ab intestate, on the motherly side respectively, by lineage and representation, meaning ad infinitum, as it is established in the civil code respecting the children and progeny of brothers and sisters succeeding, ab intestate, to their uncles and aunts, being willing of course that to the said representation such an extension may be given as it would have, should the heirs by me called in, be my brothers and sisters, or the children and progeny of my brothers and sisters, naming and instituting thus by these presents all the said called in, my only and universal heirs, being willing nevertheless and expressly meaning that before my above-named brother, Charles Van Immerseel, can be considered and reputed defaulting or pre-deceased without his having left children or lawful progeny, he and his progeny are to be called, as soon as possible, by my Executor, hereafter named, by means of three divers publications and proclamations, each within an interval of three months, to be placed and inserted respectively in one of the newspapers of Antwerp, Brussels, Ghent, and Amsterdam, as also in the Court and Government Gazettes, that is to say the principal ones of Paris, Vienna, London, Berlin, and Petersburg; after such publication being made, and my said brother, his children, and progeny not having presented themselves, and not having cleared their right of kindred within three months after the last publication and proclamation, then and this being the case, my said brother shall be held as defaulting or pre-deceased, without his having left any children or progeny, and of course my succession will fall to and be shared by my heirs ultimately called in, provided they and any of them will pertinently and sufficiently make known their right of kindred, to attain that end; I will and decree that my said Executor, within six months after the expiration of the three months next following the last publication and proclamation here above mentioned and decreed, will also call, by way of publication and expurgation in the form now used and practised, and by insertion in any of the Gazettes either of Antwerp, Brussels, Ghent, or Amsterdam, all such (my said brother, his children, and progeny excepted), as are here above by me ultimately called in and instituted my heirs, and who, as such, would then prefer any right to my succession:”
